Memorial Hospital Income Is Below Par, UNC Officials Say

RALEIGH, Nov. 14 (AP)—Officials of the University of North Carolina told the Advisory Budget Commission this week that income of the big North Carolina Memorial Hospital has not been up to expectations.

They told the commission the hospital's budget is being cut from $2,402,100 this year to $2,290,100 and indicated they might be back later with a request for money from the state's contingency and emergency fund to make both ends of the hospital budget meet. The budget for this year includes a state appropriation of $879,908.

concentrate so hard on the words, I forget what the man's saying."

It was hard to pin students down to what they thought about the UN. Since there is so much to it, it is almost impossible to absorb much in such a limited time, they said.

Bernard Theiling, a Carolina senior, said he wondered how large a part individual personality played in the shaping of UN policy. He thought it interesting that the delegates were so extraordinarily polite to each other, even when disagreeing. "I suppose the most impressive thing is about the building itself. I've never seen anything as inspiring and as beautiful."

Today the UN Student Seminar for 1953 will close with a breakfast. And Carolina students will take the long trail home.

But the modern new building on the banks of the East River has become for them, more than just another sightseeing must. As one said, "After you sit in there, and hear them all talking in different languages, but still understanding each other, you can't help thinking what a great step forward it is in the history of the world. And you feel closer to it, knowing that ultimately it holds the key to your own personal destiny."

Gov. Umstead told University officials that the state's contingency and emergency pocketbook already is pretty well depleted.

The big hospital will have a capacity of 408 beds when in full operation. It now has 240 of its beds activated but only 180 patients. It went into operation a year ago.

University officials said that in addition to fewer patients than expected it has had trouble in collecting some of its bills. Accounts receivable at the present time, including some patients still in the hospital, total $159,025. The Budget Commission authorized the hospital to hire a field collector to help collect the bills.

Yackety-Yack Announces Contest

The Yackety-Yack and Foister's Camera Store today announce a campus snapshot contest.

Everyone is eligible to enter, according to Max Ballinger, Yack Snapshot editor.

First prize is a Kodak Tourist Camera which features the flash Kodon shutter and Kodet lens.

Second prize is a Brownie Hawk-eye Camera, Flash Model, with the Kodalite Flashholder, flash guard and batteries. Flash lamps and film are included.

Third prize is a Kodak 127 Camera.

All prizes are courtesy of Foister's and are on display in the YMCA office.

Each picture is a separate entry and any number of entries may be made by an individual.

Each picture entered in the contest should have an original caption and one or more alternate captions printed on the reverse side below the entrant's name. The negative should be included if it is available.

Shots should be of any subject common to campus life—buildings, professors, students, canines, or squirrels for example. Pictures will not be judged on technical perfection, but on interest and originality of the picture and the caption.

The contest closes December 7, 1953. Winners will be announced on December 12. Entries may be left in the YMCA office or given to Max Ballinger. All entries become the property of the Yack and none can be returned.

It's the replaceable filter in Medico that makes the big difference. That little filter traps dangerous nicotine and tars, disagreeable juices and flakes.

That's why countless smokers, beginners and old timers alike, who never enjoyed the pleasures of a pipe, now enjoy the clean mild fragrance of Medico—the pioneer in filtered smoking.

YOU CAN'T GET A GIRL WITH A GULP

OR.. How do you know when your best foot's forward?

Once there was a Senior who was Shy. (Look, this is a story. It permits certain liberties with the truth.) He'd call up a Girl, stammer incoherently through the Preliminaries, gurgled helplessly through the Bicuspid, and hang up. Dateless. One day his room-mate took him in hand. "Herman, old buddy," he said, . . . and unfolded a Plan.

Next day the Big Girl on Campus got a Telegram. A terse message. Simply: "Will pick you up at eight P.M. Friday. Regards. Herman H. Clockenspiel." She was Intuckered and waiting when Herman sheepishly up the steps of her Sorority house.

"Are you Herman H. Clockenspiel?" she cooed. "Ulp," said Herman. "Ooooh," she said, taking his arm, "I just love Original, Masterful Men." Herman was on his way.

Now Herman has more dates than the Syrian Desert. Still makes 'em all by Telegram. No fool, this Herman.

When you've got a Date in mind—Whether it's with the Campus Queen, a Smith Siren or a Big Moment Back Home—a Telegram has the Man-of-the-world Approach that pleases. Equally effective, too, for birthdays, Mother's Day and Easter Messages, congratulations, or yaps to Pop for Cash, or to Sis to Airmail you The Baggy Sweater. Just call Western Union and see.
