Opening lead: Five of hearts

In my last column it was shown how two experts, indeed, two Life Masters, attempted to "psyche" their opponents out of a vulnerable game contract. Today's hand was also played in the same Polio Fund tournament here and is another example of the defensive technique used by experts in an attempt to keep opponents out of the proper contract by "psyching."

West's opening bid of one spade is not in keeping with this department's requirements for a "psyche." And as it turned out, the "psyche" rather than acting as a stumbling block against the opponents, actually helped them get to the contract.

Normally it would be somewhat difficult for North-South to arrive at the sound six diamond contract without interference bidding. It would be so because North is not in a position to see what is actually a beautiful fit with his partner's holding. However, South with such tremendous playing strength should take the bit in his teeth and bid six diamonds in spite of whatever protests North might conjure as to the likelihood of a complete misfit.

As you can see by the bidding it did not work that way. South was forced to improvise a bid over two spades. He was afraid to double for fear it would be passed out and the penalties, if any might not be sufficient to compensate for a vulnerable game, if not slam. Consequently a bid of 2 NT was used which hoped to show partner the "high card strength" of that opening bid. This bid is also used by better players as a "take out double," and forces partner to bid his best suit (expecting the ones that have been bid by the opponents). North's three heart bid is normal, but after partner's forward and strength showing bid of four diamonds, North is in a position to evaluate the situation more so than South. North knows that there are no spade or club losers, there can be but one heart loser since South must hold a top honor in that suit for his bid of 2 NT, and South must have a solid diamond suit in order to bid them freely on the four level. Surely a slam is quite easy to visualize over that bidding structure and only blind, pessimistic (yes, both) North would fail to bid six diamonds.

An opening lead of West's fourth heart was made and won by declarer's ace. A small club was trumped in dummy and a diamond return finessed. South then trumped another small club and exited with dummy's last diamond to again finesse. The ace of diamonds was played, extracting the remaining trump. After playing the ace and king of clubs the queen fell and declarer can then claim the remaining tricks.

Winners of Monday night's duplicate tournament were: Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Wolf, first; Harry Smith, Jr. and John Beshara, second; Mrs. Harry Smith, Jr. and Mrs. J. M. Pinney, third; and Felix Asby and John Kelton, fourth.

Lattner Cops Heisman, Maxwell Grid Awards
PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1—(AP)—Notre Dame's Johnny Lattner, triple-threat halfback, today won college football's top two individual awards for 1953—the Heisman and Maxwell trophies.

In winning the Maxwell Memorial Award, Lattner became the first player in the club's 17-year history to be named twice. The Irish star copped the award last year, and he'll be back for the annual dinner Jan. 12 to be feted again.

Lattner, on the Associated Press All-America last year and a cinch to repeat again, received 1,850 votes in the Heisman Award voting to beat out Paul Giel of Minnesota.

NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, with President Eisenhower's blessings, yesterday lashed out vigorously at Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's criticism of the administration's foreign policies. Dulles opened his weekly news conference with a prepared statement clearly designed as an answer to the attack McCarthy made last week on a nationwide radio-TV broadcast.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) said yesterday that as a result of the Harry Dexter White case the Democrats "will be eating 'warmed over spy' for a good time to come." He aimed the remark at Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic National chairman, and Clayton Fritchey, deputy chairman, who have been assailing Republican handling of disclosures about White's promotion in the Truman administration.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Russia's Andrei Vishinsky branded U. S. charges of Red atrocities in Korea a "flagrantly concocted falsification." The fiery Soviet delegate told the 60-nation U. N. General Assembly that charges detailed yesterday by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of the U. S. were brought out to "dynamite" peace negotiations in Korea.
