

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER

Fair and slightly warmer today with an expected high of 62. Yesterday's high, 58; low, 32.

VOLUME LXII NUMBER 59

Complete AP Photo and Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1953

Complete AP Photo and Wire Service

FOUR PAGES TODAY

Machines For Dorms Scheduled

IDC Slates Snack, Cigarette Vendors

"Additional vending machines will be placed in the dormitories according to the tastes of the residents," Interdormitory Council President Walt Gurley announced last night in a meeting of the dormitory group.

Gurley's announcement, flanked by a signed statement to the IDC by Student Government President Bob Gorham, was, as Gurley said, "the culmination of long-time efforts of the IDC . . . and Student Body President Bob Gorham."

Gorham said in his statement, "This has been a project that has interested me greatly this year. I feel that Student Government has made a step forward in securing vending machines for dormitories."

"I was very pleased to work with Walt Gurley and the IDC in securing this service for students. Now that we have cleared the way for the machines, the matter will be handled by the IDC as to where to place them and what kind to get."

Gurley suggested one cigarette machine be placed in each dorm, along with a machine dispensing crackers, candy and chewing gum. Two or three soft drink machines should also be installed, he said, depending on the space available.

The IDC president added that the machines would be installed "without placing any in social rooms. The IDC is on record as opposed to commercializing them with machines," he stated.

Gurley asked dorm representatives to find out at their individual dorm meetings what type drinks are preferred, if the residents want cigarette and cracker-type machines and if the vendors can be installed outside social rooms and without blocking the halls.

Summing up the IDC's action on the vending machines, Gurley said, "The addition of other products for dorm consumption has been the desire of residents for several years, and the IDC is pleased that its endeavor of the past years has proven fruitful to the advantage of the students."

Senior Rings For Sale By Grail In Lobby Today

Senior class rings will be sold by Walt Gurley, chairman of the Grail Ring Committee, in the lobby of the Y from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. today.

Lee Blackwell, representative of the L. G. Balfour Co., will be on hand to write special orders and handle repairs.

PRETTY DOLLY McCormick, sole witness to the slaying of insurance adjuster Andrew Kmeic last November 21, points to a police "mug" shot of ex-convict Anthony Barr. She positively identified him as the man who killed the insurance adjuster after forcing her to drive the car as Kmeic pleaded for his life with Barr in the back seat. Police have started an intensive search for Barr in the Los Angeles area, believing he is still in the area.—NEA Telephoto.

Hopeful campus politicians practicing campaign approach on each other in Graham Memorial's preview of the approaching fall elections.

Squirrel biting canine attacker in battle behind Hill Hall but finally losing life as three other dogs hem him in.

Service Group Sets Tuesday As Rush Date

Rho Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will begin its rush program Tuesday night at 7:15 in the downstairs social room of the Lutheran Church.

The purpose of this open meeting is to gather together those who may desire to be prospective pledges and who are interested in learning more about the APO service program.

Membership in APO does not in any way preclude affiliation with other fraternal groups.

Alpha Phi Omega is composed of university and college students who have a desire to render service to the student body, the community and to the nation by being participating citizens, fraternity officials said.

Literary Mag To Go On Sale

The fall issue of the "Carolina Quarterly," campus literary magazine, will be on sale tomorrow morning in the Y Court at the new student rate of 35c a copy.

Staff members are delivering subscribers' copies to the dorms. The magazine is an all-student issue, with the exception of some poetry.

Editor Charlotte Davis commented, "We have made some changes this year in an attempt to make the magazine younger and more like the students who shape it. We hope it will be well received."

Honorary Debaters Take Five

Tap Fleishman, Jordan, Kuralt, Lowet, Forester

Amphoterthen, impromptu honorary debating society, completed the initiation of five new members yesterday afternoon at 4:44.

The new members are Charles Kuralt, Martin Jordan, Joel Fleishman, Henry Lowet and Gordon Forester.

Amphoterthen, which was the second highest honorary society in 1912, now has a membership of thirteen.

The society, founded forty years ago by Dr. J. G. de R. Hamilton, Walter Stokes and A. L. M. Wiggins, bases its membership on the ability of the student to express himself extemporaneously on any topic.

The Amphoterthen meets every Wednesday at 4:44 and impromptu discussion begins one minute after the chairman announces the topic.

The society has only one officer, and by means of the rotating chair, that of secretary-treasurer, man system a new chairman serves each week.

Old members of the society are Gerald Parker, Ken Penegar, Phin Horton, Edward Gross, Osborne Ayscue, Ken Myers, Wade Matthews and Gene Cook.

Green and gold ribbons will be worn by the total membership today in recognition of the initiation of the new members.

Former members of this honorary society are Dr. Albert Coates, Dean E. L. Mackie, Gordon Gray, Chancellor House and William Poteat, assistant professor of philosophy.

UNC Board Of Trustees Meets Today In Raleigh

The University Board of Trustees will meet today at 11 o'clock in the hall of the House, Raleigh.

Monogram Club

There will be a very important meeting of the Monogram Club Thursday night, December 3, at 7:15.

Law Frat's Annual Mock Trial Concerns Ken Keller's 'Death'

Ken Keller, star halfback of the Tar Heels all season, unexpectedly "died" of an overdose of anesthesia Saturday, following admittance to the hospital where he was taken with injuries received in the Duke game.

Now don't get excited. Ken's really okay. But his "death," which has evoked suspicion, will make him the prime figure in the annual mock trial to be staged December 11 by the Phi Alpha Delta law fraternity.

The local police and the State Bureau of Investigation are asking a lot of questions around the hospital and particularly interrogating the nurses who had close contact with the deceased immediately prior to his death. No report has been disclosed yet.

Any information concerning what any of Keller's attendants have said concerning the death of Carolina's Beloved should be brought to the attention of the local authorities at once.

Last year the mock trial staged by the law students concerned the "poisoning" of Carman Nahm, Women's Council president. Yack beauty Virginia Wilson was indicted for her "murder" and brought to trial.

SUAB Films To Present 'A Star Is Born' Tonight

SUAB film series will present "A Star Is Born," tonight in Carroll Hall.

This film, produced in 1937, was America's first experiment in technical film production.

The movie stars Fredric March and Academy Award winning Janet Gaynor.

Women Candidates

The Independent Coeds are giving a tea for all women candidates tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in Alderman Dorm.

SOVIET DELEGATE to the United Nations, Andrei Vishinsky, checks his notes during the meeting of the United Nations General Assembly in New York. Vishinsky is scheduled to go before the General Assembly to reply to documented U. S. charges of Communist atrocities in Korea.—NEA Telephoto.

Four Students Tried In Court

Four Carolina students appeared in Chapel Hill Recorder's Court before Judge W. S. Stewart this week.

Charles Causey, Eugene M. Clark, and Ben West, all charged with public display of beer, were found guilty and charged with court costs.

Charles H. Hambright, charged with driving while intoxicated, had his case amended to read reckless driving. He was fined $100 and court costs and charged not to operate a vehicle in Chapel Hill for a period of six months.

Benefit Bingo

Student Wives are sponsoring a benefit bingo tomorrow night at 7:30 at Victory Village Community Center. Price is 10 cents per card.

Coordination Council

The Campus Coordination Council will meet today at 4 o'clock in Roland Parker 2, Graham Memorial. Discussion will be on plans for a campus leadership training program. All organization representatives should be present.

Compulsory Health Insurance For N. C. Is Opposed By Phi

The Philanthropic Assembly went on record this week as opposed to compulsory health insurance for North Carolina. The bill to establish such insurance was voted down by the group amid cries of "socialism!" despite a sturdy defense by former student body president Ham Horton.

Horton pointed out to the Assembly that the state already has certain compulsory insurance. All motorists, by law, must have accident liability insurance. Nobody Horton argued, calls that socialism.

Compulsory health insurance, the small but vocal group in favor of the bill argued, is no more socialistic than are the public schools.

Bob Gorham Censures SP As Trying To Claim Credit

By Richard Creed

President Bob Gorham yesterday blasted the Student Party for trying to "claim credit" for setting up a student-faculty evaluation system which he himself has been working on "since the 10th of November."

"This is the last straw," he said. "The Student Party is trying to gain political glory once again by introducing another piece of superfluous legislation."

The Student Party three weeks ago introduced a bill calling for the establishing of a system whereby students could evaluate their instructors and give suggestions for improvements to department heads.

"I'm going to veto that bill if it passes," said Gorham.

"Manning Muntzing (SP) has accused me of doing nothing along the lines of faculty rating. Well, I haven't been running around seeking publicity on the matter; I have been earnestly working with the mechanics of the matter," said Gorham.

Muntzing, who introduced the bill, yesterday said that Gorham had done nothing so far about setting up evaluation, and that if Gorham didn't do it, he wanted to see the Legislature do it.

Muntzing said yesterday, "I still say that Gorham has done nothing about setting up an evaluation system. It seems that his committee (to look into the possibility of setting up the system) has contacted only one administrative official, Mr. French of the administration office. What he has to do with evaluation, I have no idea."

"What we need around this campus is more serious efforts in student government rather than so many publicity seekers such as Manning Muntzing," said Gorham. "This is the second time the SP, this year, has introduced a piece of careless legislation (the other one being the public relations bill which I was forced to veto because a similar project was already underway)."

"I sincerely hope that the Student Party will give more thought to the betterment of student life here at Carolina and less to personal political glory," said Gorham. "Gorham's committee to set up

President Charges Student Party Of Trying To Gain 'Political Glory'; SP Disagrees

The evaluation program is made up of Harrison Dunlop, Jackie Brooks, Tom Fesperman, Rick Coker, and is headed by Ed McCurry. "They have been working hard on the project," said Gorham.

"I've contacted Dean Lyons and have had a long conversation with him about evaluation," Muntzing said "These are the people who should be contacted and not Mr. French."

"As for my being a publicity seeker, if it's going to take publicity to get this thing done, then I am a publicity seeker," said Muntzing. "Bob Gorham has had three months to work on this and did very little until the bill was introduced in legislature, and he decided he had better make a few attempts at doing something," he continued. "If he's going to go ahead and do it, I say full speed ahead; if not, I want to see the Legislature to do it."

The Legislature will act on the SP bill tonight.

UP-SP Struggle Is Possibility As Legislature Meets Tonight

The University Party and the Student Party will probably lock horns in Legislature tonight over who will get credit for setting up a student faculty evaluation program, if and when it is set up.

President Bob Gorham declared yesterday that he would veto the SP-sponsored bill now before legislature dealing with evaluation, if it passes.

Although both parties have vowed that they don't care who does it so long as it gets done, the SP has adopted the creation of a program as a major plank in its fall elections platform. The bill to create a legislative committee to set up the evaluation program was introduced by Manning Muntzing (SP) in the last legislative session.

Meanwhile, Gorham has said that he now has a committee in the process of setting up evaluation, and that he was working on it at the time the SP-sponsored bill was introduced.

Gorham pointed out that he vetoed a SP bill earlier this year because it attempted to do something which his administration had already done, namely, to set up a public relations committee to promote student interest in student government. He said that the evaluation bill was similarly "superfluous legislation."

He indicated also that if the bill passes, he will nevertheless continue his plans to set up the program, even though a legislative committee may be doing the same thing.

The bill introduced by Joel Fleishman (SP) to require that athletes maintain a minimum scholastic average as high as that required of participants in student government will not be considered tonight.

The bill is presently under study by the Ways and Means Committee and will come up for consideration next week.

Student government participants are now required to maintain an overall C average on at least 27 semester hours for two semesters preceding their participation. Athletes are required to have made half C's on 21 semester hours for two semesters preceding their athletic participation.

The bill would not require athletes to make a minimum grade of C on every course taken. It would require that they maintain an overall average of one quality point, or C.

Debate Board To Pick Squad For NY Meet

The Debate Council this afternoon will hold the first of a three round qualifying tournament to decide which two of the five debate squads will represent Carolina in a tournament at New York University on Dec. 11-12.

One affirmative and one negative team will be chosen on the qualifying tournament and will attend the Fourth Annual Hall of Fame forensic tournament in New York.

Those participating in the qualifying rounds are Beverly Webb and Wade Matthews, Davie Lieberman and Dave Burrows, John Black and Dave Tannenbaum for the affirmative; Al Levine and Ken Myers, John Moore and Bill Moore for the negative.

On the way to the New York tournament the group plans to stop in Washington for a round of debate with the Philodemic Debating Society of Georgetown University.

'Hamlet' Is Set By NC College

The North Carolina College Players will present William Shakespeare's epic tragedy, "Hamlet," tonight in the Duke Auditorium at 8:15.

The role of Hamlet will be played by Robert Cheek, who has played Hamlet in previous productions of "The Philadelpheia Story" and "Othello."

Cheek is regarded as one of the most promising young Shakespearean actors in collegiate drama circles.

Myrtle Peele will portray Ophelia and Claudius, King of Denmark will be played by Ivan Dixon.

But Newcomer Nancy Hanes 'Loves It'

Y Is 'Crazy Place,' Secretary Says

By Jennie Lynn

An elderly man came into the Y office the other day, a pressed jacket and fresh tie over his arm. "Where can I take a shower?" he asked.

He was very perplexed when Nancy Hanes, new Y secretary, explained that there were no shower facilities and suggested that he go to the gym. "No, I want to have a shower here," he said.

After a month and a half behind the Y desk, Nancy says, "This is a crazy place to work in . . . and I love it."

The room in which she answers the phone, keeps records, and sells Y directories is filled all day. Students bring cups of coffee and doughnuts in before classes. They settle down to read hometown papers or finish writing the last paragraph of an English theme.

"I straighten the room early every morning. By noon the floor is cluttered with books, the chairs are filled with coats and cameras that people don't want to fool with all day," she says. Nancy fixes the rides-wanted bulletin board and keeps articles found by students. A boy handed her a card before Thanksgiving, that read: "Wanted: ride to Carrboro. Will share expenses and help drive."

When someone gives her an article that he has found, Nancy asks the finder for his name and address. "Lots of boys just sit around regularly, waiting for me to ask a girl's name and phone number," she says. "And many of them boldly ask if I know a girl who doesn't have a date for the weekend."

Her two telephones bring questions about dates of campus events, what time parades begin, when Easter is going to be this year.

One lady called last week, talked fifteen minutes about a room she wanted to rent, through the Y's cooperation. She told Nancy that it was a great expense for her to rent the room: clean hand towels, 4c a day, bath towels 7c and sheets 10c daily, "and I have to pipe heat into the room, and supply hot water, you know . . . but I want to let someone have the room, you understand . . . as a public service."

dents rush in the room to find out where their Sam or Betty is. A mother asked Nancy, "Where is Sam right now? Well, if he's probably at the movies, which one?"

Nancy loves people, F. Scott Fitzgerald, dancing and ping pong. She is an attractive brunette from Charlotte and graduated from Guilford College in Greensboro, where she majored in English.

Her immediate goal is to fill a miniature paper Royal typewriter bank sitting on her desk. "I ask people for money, giving most any excuse. I have told them that the one that puts the most in will win the bank. When I have enough, I hope to buy an IBM electric typewriter."