Vayda, Lifson Get 22 Apiece

Yarborough Heads Tiger Pack With 13

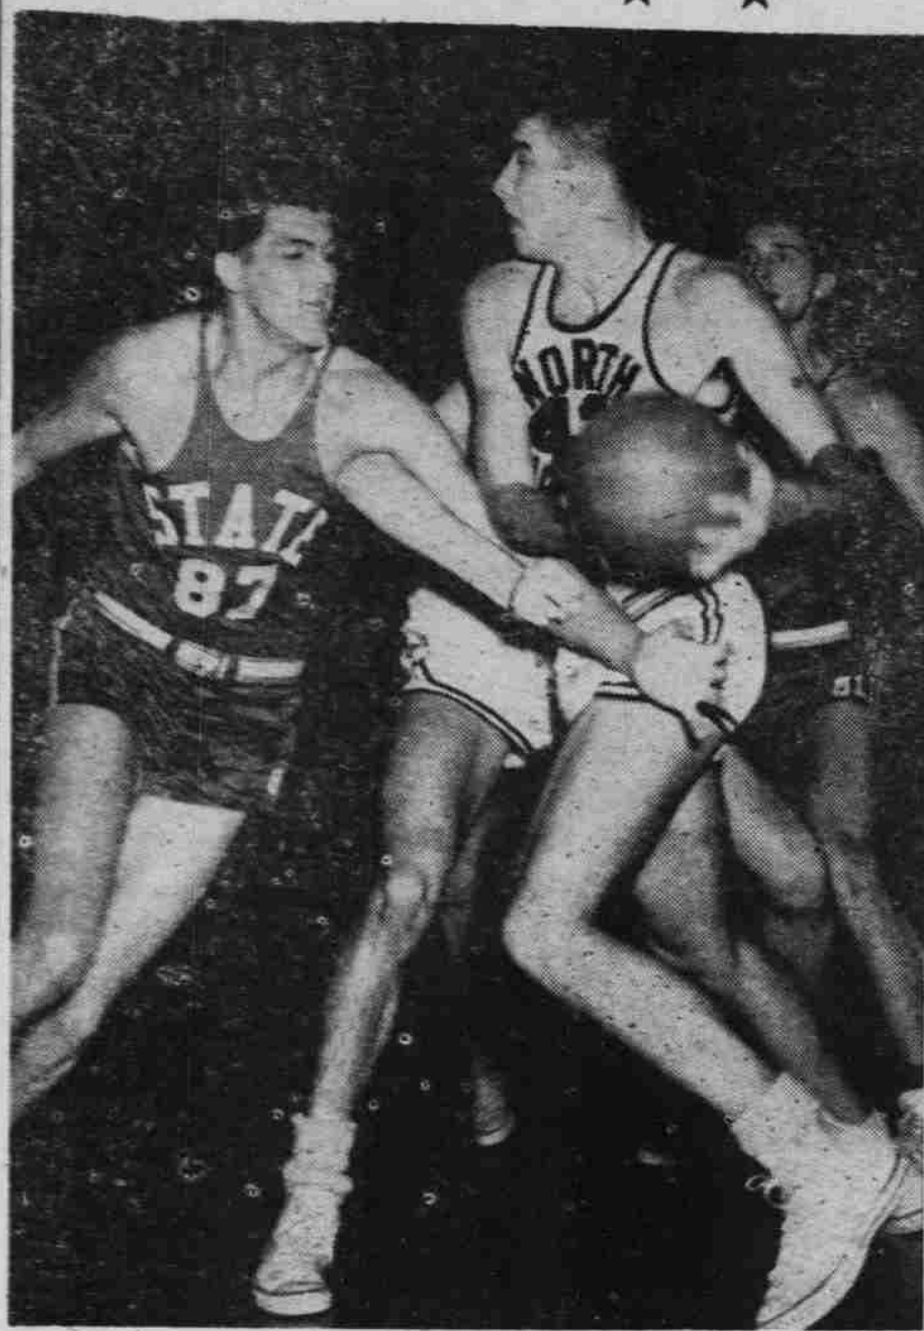

CLEMSON, S. C., Feb. 13 (AP)—North Carolina toppled Clemson, 72-56, in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game here tonight and gained undisputed fourth place in the conference with a 5-4 record.

The Tar Heels spurred ahead in the first quarter, 21-11, were held on even terms in the next two periods, then finished strong with a 24-17 advantage in the last quarter.

Jerry Vayda and Al Lifson each got 22 for the winners. Bill Yarborough played only the last 13 minutes for Clemson but accounted for 13 points. Ames Wells with 11 was the only other Tiger in double figures.

Clemson made only two field goals in the first quarter but rallied to cut the lead to four points once in the third quarter. The Tigers used a tight zone defense that slowed the Tar Heels' game.

A crowd of about 1,000 turned out.

All New York

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—In two years Frank McGuire will have an all-New York starting five at North Carolina. That's the prediction of Zander Hollander of the New York World-Telegram and Sun.

He writes that the Tar Heels have the inside track on Johnny Red Lee, Erasmus High cager "who has no peer in town." Hollander adds Lee is a crack student who has his choice of Ivy League schools but says he leans toward Chapel Hill.

The article comments that "McGuire is really lifting 'em off the sidewalks of New York." Another North Carolina-bound New Yorker, the story notes, is John Brennan, St. Augustine scoring ace, who graduates in June.

Hickey Blasts Present Day Free Throw Rule

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP)—Coach Ed Hickey, the little guy who guides St. Louis University and heads the National Assn. of Collegiate Basketball Coaches, today proposed revised foul penalties to replace the controversial "one-one" rule. Hickey also would erase the "three-minute" rule which awards two free throws for fouls committed in the closing 180 seconds of a game.

Hickey, whose Billikens meet DePaul here tonight, plans to submit his rule changes to the coaches next month.

The one-one rule has been the target of coach and fan critics since its inception last season. Designed to set a higher premium on personal fouls it gives the offended player a second try if he misses his first free throw during the first 37 minutes of a game.

Under Hickey's plan a reward would be given a player for sinking rather than missing his foul shot. Under some circumstances a player could make as many as three free throws on a foul in the Hickey plan.

First, Hickey would allow a player to remain in a game no matter how many personal fouls he committed. Under present rules a player retires after five personals.

The first three fouls committed by a player are termed "personal fouls" by Hickey. Subsequent fouls are "excessive personal fouls" and carry a higher penalty in the Hickey system.

After a "personal foul" the offender player would be allowed one free throw with no waiver provision at any time and the ball in play whether the shot is made or not. A "personal foul" against a player in the act of shooting would carry one free throw if the field goal attempt is unsuccessful.

No free throw provision was made by Hickey if the field goal is made.

Present rules allow a player fouled in the act of shooting one free throw if he makes the field goal, two if he misses.

A more severe penalty is charged against "excessive personal fouls" by Hickey. A player fouled while not in the act of shooting would receive one free throw and two additional free throws if successful on the first. The ball would be in play after the third try, whether made or missed.

'Annual' Indoor Games Has Already Provided For Records

The first annual Atlantic Coast Conference Indoor Games, scheduled at Carolina on Feb. 27, an event which in reality is merely a continuation of the classic Indoor Games held here annually since 1930, already has a set of records.

A revision was necessary, however, as a result of the switch to sponsorship by the new Atlantic Coast Conference. The ACC track committee has decided to eliminate records in the conference division held by contestants who were affiliated with schools not now in the new conference, retaining the others.

This means three changes, with new records in the 400-yd. run, the two-mile run and the pole vault.

The new 440 record is credited to Brown of Duke (1942) replacing the old mark of 50.3, established by Stu Johnson of VPI in 1952.

Fields of Maryland (1940) is now listed as the two-mile record holder at 9:34.5. Lumpkin of Richmond (1937) held the old record of 9:30.7.

The old pole vault record, 13' 3 1/4" held by Zimmerman of Tulane, is replaced by a 13' 1 1/2" mark, credited to Bob House of North Carolina (1951).

A better chance to establish new records in these four events looms in the forthcoming Indoor Games as a result of the switch-over and it now appears almost certain that the Atlantic Coast Conference Indoor records will be written in the first year.

While interest is keen in the conference division competition, some of the best talent and hot-

Because Advertising

... brings you news about better products you need
... tells you where to get what you want when you want it.
... makes lower prices possible through mass production and mass selling

Yet Picture How Little All This Costs

For instance, it costs less than 1/10¢ a quart to advertise the best-known brands of milk. Any other method of selling would cost the manufacturer more and therefore raise the price. Otherwise he wouldn't use advertising.
