

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY
SERIALS DEPT.
CHAPEL HILL, N. C.
8-31-49

The Daily Tar Heel

LOW
Our admissions policies—scored by two professors' committees—get a going-over from the Editor. See p. 2.

WEATHER
Fair and rather cold today with an expected high of 45.

VOLUME LXII NUMBER 110 Complete AP Photo and Wire Service CHAPEL HILL, N. C. TUESDAY, MARCH 2, 1954 Offices in Graham Memorial FOUR PAGES TODAY

AKPsi Set For Drive, Hits Snag

"Operation Textbook," sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity, has run into an unforeseen difficulty. Of the two books collected yesterday morning, fraternity officers report that only one remains.
The missing book was a social science text that was to be sent to Japan with all other books collected. Members of Alpha Kappa Psi said that removal of books from the collection tables could be of indirect help to the Communists.
"The Russians are sending texts to Japan; the only way we can give our side of the story is to send our own texts," they said.
Fraternity officers have indicated that any textbooks will be helpful.
Collection tables have been placed in the "Y" and in Lenoir Hall, and members will be glad to call at any dorm, sorority, or fraternity house to pick up collections of five or more books.
Organizations who would like for Alpha Kappa Psi to collect their books should call 9-9061.

CPU Session On Honors Plan Slated Sunday

A discussion is scheduled by the Carolina Political Union, Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the Grail Room, the topic of which will be the recognition, advancement and honoring of academically superior students.
This topic was among the recommendations set forth by the State of the University Conference.
It is felt that a program is lacking whereby superior students may exercise their abilities to their fullest capacity, thereby gaining more than they ordinarily would under the regular curricula.
Many departments have already instituted programs of recognition and encouragement such as "reading for honors," department honoraries, etc.
However, it was pointed out that more emphasis should be placed on financial aid to deserving students.

Phi To Debate 'Daily Worker' For Library

A bill providing that the University library subscribe to the Daily Worker will be debated by the Philanthropic Literary Society tonight at 8 o'clock in Phi Hall, New East.
The Daily Worker has never been taken by the University Library. It is the official Communist Party newspaper in the U.S.
Proponents of the bill will base their arguments on the principle that it is necessary to know the enemy in order to fight him.
They also contend that it will be valuable to have copies of this paper available for future reference.

Lanier To Be Candidate For Orange County Post

Edwin S. Lanier, the University's director of central records and Chapel Hill's mayor, has filed with the Orange County Elections Board as a candidate for county commissioner.
Lanier is the second person to announce his candidacy for the five seats at stake on the enlarged board. R. J. M. Hobbs, University professor of Business Administration who was elected to a two-year term in 1952, declared last week.
Lanier in a statement issued at the time of his filing said, "If elected it will be my policy to do everything I can, in co-operation with the other county officials, to help maintain for all of Orange County, good local government."

CAMPUS SEEN
Campus smelling like Cow College as plants get their spring dosage of fertilizer.
Man with package walking into Alpha Gamma Delta sorority house thinking it was the Phi Delt house.

Library Has Photo Exhibit All This Week

The University Library will have on display through Friday 75 photographs of Quebec, Canada, taken by George A. Driscoll, official photographer of Quebec, who has exhibited in the leading cities of North America and Europe.
Driscoll is an associate of the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain and of the Photographic Society of America.
His 25 years' experience in photographing the beauty of his native Quebec have brought him international recognition. Many of the photographs displayed have won awards.
The photographs are displayed in six cases on the first floor of the Library as well as in the Assembly-Exhibition Room on the ground floor.
Some of Driscoll's works were taken in the Ursuline Convent in Quebec. He captured the mood of the convent with effective contrasts of light and dark. One case in the exhibit is devoted to Rural Quebec.
His pictures of the Breton architecture and country people attempted to reveal the permanence and stolidity of the areas. Several snow scenes may be viewed. His snowshots were tinted pale blue to give the effect of coldness.
Driscoll is touring the United States with his exhibition. Most recent exhibitions of his work have been at the Boston Camera Club, at Haverhill, Mass., at the Boston Antineum and at Salem College in Winston-Salem.
From Chapel Hill he will go to Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla.
He will speak to the Chapel Hill Camera Club on March 2 and to classes in the University's Art Department.

Inter-Fraternity Council Elects New Officer Slate

New officers were elected for the Inter-Fraternity Council recently.
New officials are: President, Henry H. Isaacson, Zeta Beta Tau; vice-president, Ed McCurry, Pi Kappa Alpha; secretary, Bob Grimes, Sigma Nu; treasurer, Harrison Dunlop, Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Philological Club

The Philological Club will meet in the Faculty Lounge of the Morehead Building tonight at 7:30. Dr. Wallace E. Caldwell will present "The Problem of Minoan Writing."

On House Floor

Puerto Ricans Shoot Down Congressmen

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Bursts of pistol fire from a spectators' gallery cut down five members of Congress during a House session today. Two men and a woman—who shouted "Free Puerto Rico"—were seized by police as confusion swept the chamber.
At headquarters, police said the trio were members of the same Nationalist Independence Party in Puerto Rico as the two men who tried to assassinate President Truman in 1950.
The three rose up in a House gallery which is above and to the left of the speaker's rostrum, firing wildly perhaps as many as 25 or 30 shots.
The five lawmakers they hit among the 243 who were on the floor were Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich.), Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa), Clifford David (D-Tenn.), Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala.), and George H. Fallon (D-Md.).
Bentley and Jensen were hit in the body and were wounded seriously. The others received flesh wounds.
Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn.), a physician who gave first aid to Bentley, said a bullet struck Bentley's left side, below the heart, and went through to the right side.
At Casualty Hospital, physicians described Bentley's condition as serious but said he was "doing all right."
Jensen was struck in the left shoulder and there was concern at first that his spine had been injured. His physicians reported, however, that this appeared not to be the case. He was taken to Bethesda Naval Hospital.
Davis and Roberts were each hit in the lower leg. Fallon was struck in the fleshy, upper thigh, the bullet passing through.

Gen. Mark W. Clark Assumes Presidency Of Citadel College

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 1 (AP)—Gen. Mark Wayne Clark, former commander of U.N. forces in the Far East and commander of the Fifth Army in World War II, today assumed the presidency of the military college of South Carolina.
Clark, who succeeded Gen. Charles P. Summerall, was escorted to his office by Col. L. S. Lee-Tellier, acting president since Summerall's retirement last year, and Cadet Col. Herbert F. Rothschild, cadet regimental commander.
Clark retired last fall after 40 years' Army service.
Gov. James F. Byrnes telephoned his congratulations from Columbia. Byrnes' call was followed by a visit from Ernest F. Hollings, president of the Assn. of Citadel Men.
Clark told newsmen he would spend the first few weeks talking to "Boys who are in positions of responsibility," and being briefed on various affairs of the 112-year-old military institution.
The general will be formally inaugurated as 11th president of The Citadel March 19. Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens will be the principal speaker.
Gen. Summerall, 86-year-old World War I Army chief of staff, retired last July after serving as president since 1928.
Gen. Clark's most recent tour of duty was as commander of U.N. forces in the Far East, including Japan and Korea, during much of the heavy fighting in the Korean War.

Rainy, Snowy March Comes To North State

March came in like the proverbial lion yesterday as a cold front started moving over North Carolina yesterday after wind and rain had lashed the state Sunday afternoon and night.
Powerful winds (registered up to 60 mph at Raleigh-Durham Airport) and rain hit many isolated areas throughout the state late Sunday night and early yesterday morning.
Winds took the roof off a school building in Erwin and damaged other property there, at Durham, Godwin, and surrounding communities.
The mountainous western part of the state was hit by winds and snows up to six inches in some places. Snow flurries were recorded in Winston-Salem yesterday as an "unofficial tornado" was reported near Henderson.

RESCUE WORKERS FRANTICALLY scoop handfuls of gravel from around head of Toivi Kentalla, 43, after he was buried neck deep by a gravel pile slide at Sudbury, Ont., Canada (Feb. 26). Saved by inches from death by suffocation, Kentalla was able to manage a weak smile of encouragement for his rescuers.—AP Wirephoto.

Gen. Mark W. Clark Assumes Presidency Of Citadel College

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 1 (AP)—Gen. Mark Wayne Clark, former commander of U.N. forces in the Far East and commander of the Fifth Army in World War II, today assumed the presidency of the military college of South Carolina.
Clark, who succeeded Gen. Charles P. Summerall, was escorted to his office by Col. L. S. Lee-Tellier, acting president since Summerall's retirement last year, and Cadet Col. Herbert F. Rothschild, cadet regimental commander.
Clark retired last fall after 40 years' Army service.
Gov. James F. Byrnes telephoned his congratulations from Columbia. Byrnes' call was followed by a visit from Ernest F. Hollings, president of the Assn. of Citadel Men.
Clark told newsmen he would spend the first few weeks talking to "Boys who are in positions of responsibility," and being briefed on various affairs of the 112-year-old military institution.
The general will be formally inaugurated as 11th president of The Citadel March 19. Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens will be the principal speaker.
Gen. Summerall, 86-year-old World War I Army chief of staff, retired last July after serving as president since 1928.
Gen. Clark's most recent tour of duty was as commander of U.N. forces in the Far East, including Japan and Korea, during much of the heavy fighting in the Korean War.

Production Set For Play Done By UNC Unit

"Herod and Marianne," a Biblical play published by the University of North Carolina, will be produced March 22-26 in New York by the State Department, in cooperation with UNESCO and ANTA, in an effort to promote good-will among the United Nations.
The John Hall Players, having been asked to produce a play with a Biblical subject during the International Theater Month, chose "Herod and Marianne" by Friedrich Hebbel (1813-1863). The "University of North Carolina Studies in Germanic Languages and Literature" published an English translation of the play in 1950.
This publication, which is dedicated to the publication in the English language of the best in German literature, was founded at the University in 1949 by the late Professor Richard Jente. It is now edited by Professor F. E. Coenen of the German Department.

Faculty-Student Tea Will Be Given By Smith Dorm

Smith Dormitory is planning a Faculty Tea Thursday at 4:30 in the dormitory parlors.
Social chairman, Harriet Hill, announced that an estimated one hundred faculty members had been invited by the coeds.
Carr Dormitory entertained faculty members Sunday afternoon.
These teas are the first to be given this year by the women's dormitories in honor of the faculty and have been prompted by requests on the part of the students to have more informal faculty-student gatherings, commented Harriet Hill.

University Party

The University Party will meet tonight in Graham Memorial at 7:15. Members will nominate for all student Legislature seats. No other nominations will be held.

Playmakers Present 'Kiss Me Kate'

The Carolina Playmakers will present "Kiss Me Kate," Cole Porter's Broadway and movie musical hit, will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 in Memorial Hall.
It is the Playmakers' first Broadway musical since the 1951 production of "Of Thee I Sing." Directed by Prof. Samuel Selden, director of the Playmakers, this is the first North Carolina production of the comedy, which ran for several years on Broadway.
An important feature and one seldom given so much emphasis in these productions is dance and its accompanying music. This is the first time the Playmakers have used a complete orchestra in several years—an 18-piece musical comedy orchestra under the direction of Dr. Wilton Mason of the UNC Music Department, who has conducted Playmakers musicals for a number of years.
Dr. Mason, well known throughout the South as a teacher, as composer, conductor and musician, is a graduate of the Juillard School for Music. As a pianist he has appeared in concerts and recitals throughout the East and has been soloist with various orchestras. He has composed special music for many Playmakers productions and is co-author with Catherine McDonald of the popular original musical comedy, "Spring for Sure."
This play has the distinction being the only locally-written musical ever to be given a major production by the Playmakers, and was toured through the South in 1952. Mason's new one-act opera, "Kingdom Come," was given its world premiere during the past summer season in Boone by the Institute of Opera of the Extension Division of the University.
The orchestra and chorus which will provide music for "Kiss Me Kate" were hand-picked by Dr. Mason, and include music teachers as well as students. Members of the orchestra are:
Violins, Dorothy Alden, Jean Heard, Keith Mixer, and Burt Davis, all of Chapel Hill; Peggy Grainer, Carboro; and Lutz Mayer, Greensboro; cello, Mary Gray Clarke, Washington, D. C.; bass, Dan Swaim, Winston-Salem; trumpets, Hubert Hender-

TWO INTELLECTUAL GUNMEN make life interesting for a group of strolling players in the Carolina Playmakers' production of Cole Porter's musical comedy, "Kiss Me Kate," to be given Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. Shown here as the gunmen are Tommy Rezzuto, (left), Asheville, and William Hardy, Chapel Hill.

Provost Purks Will Talk At Di Inaugural Tonight

Dr. James Harris Purks Jr., provost of the Consolidated University, will be the guest speaker at the one hundred-sixtieth inauguration exercises of the Dialectic Senate tonight.
Senator Kenneth Penegar, Gastonia, will introduce Dr. Purks.

SP Nominates Legislators, Senior Officers

The Student Party last night decided on its nominations for student Legislature seats in four University districts, as well as officers for the senior class of '55.
The solons, in a two and a half hour meeting which 30 people attended, came up with nominees for Men's Dorm districts IV and V, Women's Dorms, and Town Men I.
In Dorm Men's district IV, Tom Bennett was elected to take the place of George Whiteside, who recently resigned. Bennett was also chosen as SP candidate for a Legislature seat from IV, along with Frank Warren, Tom Lambeth and Chuck Schapkoel.
Norwood Bryan, from Dorm Men's district V, was also picked to fill two Legislature seats—the one vacated by Brad Hall, plus the one for which the SP nominated him last night. Larry McElroy was also nominated from district V.
Before Bennett and Bryan take their temporary Legislature offices (which expire after spring elections), they must be approved by President Bob Gorham.
In Town Men district I, Don Huntington, Ed Best and Myron Conklin were nominated. In the Dorm Women's contest, Sonia Bergan, Kirby Carter and Anne Huffman were nominated.
Senior class officers nominated were:
Mac Morris, for president; George McKinney, for vice-president; Gerry Snider, for secretary; Donna Blair, for treasurer; and Barbara Stone, for social chairman.
Student Party Chairman Henry Lowet announced the following nominations will be considered at the party's meeting next Monday: President and vice-president of the Carolina Athletic Association, editor of the Yack, NSA coordinator, and Legislature seats from Dorm Men's district III, Town Men's districts II and III, and Town Women.

Production Set For Play Done By UNC Unit

"Herod and Marianne," a Biblical play published by the University of North Carolina, will be produced March 22-26 in New York by the State Department, in cooperation with UNESCO and ANTA, in an effort to promote good-will among the United Nations.
The John Hall Players, having been asked to produce a play with a Biblical subject during the International Theater Month, chose "Herod and Marianne" by Friedrich Hebbel (1813-1863). The "University of North Carolina Studies in Germanic Languages and Literature" published an English translation of the play in 1950.
This publication, which is dedicated to the publication in the English language of the best in German literature, was founded at the University in 1949 by the late Professor Richard Jente. It is now edited by Professor F. E. Coenen of the German Department.

Faculty-Student Tea Will Be Given By Smith Dorm

Smith Dormitory is planning a Faculty Tea Thursday at 4:30 in the dormitory parlors.
Social chairman, Harriet Hill, announced that an estimated one hundred faculty members had been invited by the coeds.
Carr Dormitory entertained faculty members Sunday afternoon.
These teas are the first to be given this year by the women's dormitories in honor of the faculty and have been prompted by requests on the part of the students to have more informal faculty-student gatherings, commented Harriet Hill.

University Party

The University Party will meet tonight in Graham Memorial at 7:15. Members will nominate for all student Legislature seats. No other nominations will be held.

WUNC

- 7 p.m.—The Children's Circle (NAEB).
- 7:30—Evening Music.
- 7:45—Review of the British Weeklies (BBC).
- 8:00—Humanities Lecture—Dr. A. G. Engstrom.
- 9:00—Concert Favorites.
- 9:30—American Adventure—"Grenade"
- 10:00—News and Weather.
- 10:05—Evening Masterwork.