

AD Pi, Law School Win Winter Sports Carnival Honors

RALPH CASEY

Casey Unhappy About Last Year's Swimmers

By John Hussey
Straight-faced swimming coach Ralph Casey was somewhat unhappy about the showing of his team during the past season. The team was the worst one in the past five years of Carolina swimming seasons.

Casey, who never has too much to say about his teams, was especially quiet about this one. "We just didn't do very well. Maybe next year it will be better. We'll have the same boys back."

If coaches Ed Smyke (Emory), Bump Gabrieson (Georgia), Fred Lanoux (Ga. Tech) or some of the other Southern swimming mentors could hear what Casey said, they would probably either die laughing or tear their hair out. The team over which the Carolina coach was lamenting had a record of nine wins and two losses and was generally regarded as one of the top two teams in the South!

This may not be good for Carolina, since this year was the first time that a Tar Heel team lost a dual meet in five seasons—the loss putting an end to 45 consecutive dual meet victories which had been accumulated by swimming teams over the past seasons. But it is still nothing to cry about.

The swimming team of 1953, back in the days of the quarter system, went undefeated in twelve dual meets, took eight out of thirteen first places in the Southern Conference Meet, and placed fifth in the NCAA, higher than any other Southern team has ever reached before. But from this team Casey lost six men—three of them All-Americans and all of them SC champions. Among these were Buddy Baerckle, sixth backstroke in the nation and current record

They were given large gold trophies for their winning efforts and many outstanding performers received individual awards for being victorious in their respective events.

Linda Clement and Al Mebane took top honors in the foul shooting department, and Walter Noneman captured the "bait-casting" event. Ann Carlton and Retchie Smith emerged as the leading winners in the carnival games while Donna Blair was another individual winner as she took the "tether ball" title.

Pi Phi and Pi Kap Phi finished second in team results with 42 points. Alpha Gamma Delta and Alexander took third place with 38 points and Spencer-Zeta Psi finished fourth with 35. Smith and Kap Psi had 34 to take fifth position while McIver and Theta Chi was close behind with 33.
