WILHELM MENSCHING
... second reformation

Reform Topic Of Talk Tonight By Mensching

One of the foremost German Lutherans in international peace education will speak tonight at 7 o'clock at the University Methodist Church on "Needed: A Second Reformation."

Pastor Wilhelm Mensching, director of Friendship in Germany, where each year young people from all over the world work, study, and worship together for from two weeks to several months, is well known for his resistance against the Nazis.

In 1912, Pastor Mensching went as a missionary to Central Africa, where he was confined by the Belgians and the English from 1914 to 1916. In 1916 he was transferred to India where he studied the violent movement for home rule and the developing non-violent revolutionary methods of Gandhi. By 1920, when he returned to Germany, he had become a confirmed pacifist.

In 1931 he was active in the German branch of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, because of the development of the Nazi movement. In Germany during World War II, he wrote pamphlets and had them illegally published.

In 1945 he re-established the German Fellowship of Reconciliation, and once again travelled on behalf of peace. In 1947 he stopped his extensive travelling and speaking and concentrated on the development of Friendship House.

Pastor Mensching has written several books, including "The Fourth Continent" and "Colored and White." His latest book is "Jesus in the Political Events of His Time."

Nurses Will Be Models For Wednesday Shows

Several nursing and dental hygiene students will turn fashion models Wednesday night, for two shows at 7:15 and 8:30 in the Institute of Pharmacy Building.

Collections taken during the show will send representatives of Carolina's School of Nursing to the National Convention of the National Student Nurses Association in Chicago in April.

It's Springtime

You may not have realized it from where you were, but last night at 10:45 the ecliptic of the sun crossed the celestial equator at the vernal equinox. That was what happened way over at 123°21.9' east longitude, where the sun was shining straight up and down, but here in Chapel Hill it was the beginning of Spring, when men's fancies would continue turning to love and when spring fever would get blamed for everything from class cuts to marriage.

Panhell Group Will Sponsor All-Day Meet

Sorority Workshop Will Open Thursday In Carroll Auditorium

The Panhellenic Workshop is scheduled for Thursday in Carroll Hall auditorium.

Presiding at the Assembly will be Mrs. William Friday, Dean Katherine K. Carmichael will deliver the welcome, and Nancy Shaw, president of Pi Beta Phi, will give the purpose.

Judy King, president of Carolina's Panhell, will speak on "Panhellenic, National and Local," and Mrs. George Shepard, Mrs. Donald Stanford, Alice Chapman and Lou Ann Watkins will constitute the question panel.

"Sorority Housemother Relations" will be discussed by Isabel McLeod of the Dean of Women's Office. Sue Ambler, Emily Cook and Harriet Maynard will speak on "Sorority As A Trainer."

Joanne Murphy, Mary Helen Craine, Dottie Figel, Louise Coffee, and Barbara Beasley will provide information on "Rushing" to a question panel consisting of Judy King and Ann Flemming. The panel of recommendations is to consist of Carol Butts, Susan East, Nancy Whisonant, Bobbie Walker, Daphne Adams and Bev Blemker.

Following the workshop a banquet is to be held in the North Room of Lenoir Hall at 6:30 for $1.50 a plate.

Nancy Shaw is chairman of the Workshop and working with her are the following committees: registration, Penny Hartman, Connie Marple, Connie Carbaugh, Kendrick Townsend; banquet, Carol DuPlier, Emily Finch, Carol Nation; and publicity, Babbie Diorio.

Author Huxley Will Visit Duke

DURHAM, March 20 — Noted British writer Aldous Huxley will deliver a public lecture tomorrow night during a two-day visit to Duke University.

Huxley's address is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Woman's College Auditorium, East Campus. Prof. Jay B. Hubbell of the Duke English Department will introduce the writer.

His lecture, entitled "The Non-Verbal Humanities," will deal with the nature and limitations of literature and will consider methods of education on many levels. Huxley has for many years been interested in the work of Prof. J. B. Rhine and the Duke Parapsychology Laboratory. He plans to spend much of his time here visiting the laboratory and talking to members of its staff.

CAMPUS SEEN
Militant looking barbed-wire stretched around Graham Memorial to discourage "short-cutters."

Two coeds urging George, the campus collie, to follow them to class, but George obstinately refusing.

Cloudy, gloomy weather ushering in springtime to the Carolina campus.

Casanova Vote Set Tomorrow For All Coeds

Coeds will choose Carolina's Casanova candidate for a plush Hollywood weekend tomorrow night.

If Carolina's most illustrious lover can measure up to what Bob Hope terms the "paragon of Campus Casanovas" he will be awarded national title of America's Campus Casanova in a contest sponsored by Hope for his new picture "Casanova's Big Night."

Seven dormitories and fraternities have entered ten prospective winners from whom coeds will vote tomorrow night in house meetings: Harry Patton, Knox Jenkins and Don Gray, Everette Dorm; Wally O'Neal, Phi Kappa Sigma; Dick Citrini, Mangum Dorm; Jake Roundtree, Pi Kappa Alpha; Herb Callihan, Lambda Chi Alpha; Mel Brown and Bill Wheeler, Theta Chi; and Nick Bartis, Aycock Dorm.

Murray, Stilwell Will Be Peacock's Campaigners

Tom Peacock, independent candidate for the Daily Tar Heel editorship, yesterday named Nancy Murray and Jack Stilwell as co-managers for his campaign.

Miss Murray is a Raleigh senior and Stilwell is a senior from Charleston, S. C. Miss Murray's statement in regard to the campaign said, "I believe that Tom Peacock has the best interests of the coed in mind."

Peacock Backs UNC Caravan To Louisiana

Tom Peacock, independent candidate for Daily Tar Heel editorship, yesterday promised a campaign for a caravan to the Tulane football game, if elected.

"If elected editor," Peacock said, "I will work with the University Club and the president of our student body to give Carolina its finest trip yet."

The sports editor, who is running against doubly endorsed Charles Kuralt, said his goal would be "the biggest and best caravan weekend ever seen on this campus."

Segregation Is Topic Of Meet Opening Here

Will Begin Tomorrow With Movie; Dr. Boyd To Lead Discussions

A four-day Human Relations Institute for all students, sponsored jointly by the YMCA and YWCA, will open tomorrow night on the theme, "The Student and Segregation."

Dr. John Filley, assistant resident in psychiatry at N. C. Memorial Hospital, will be discussion leader following the Film Forum movie, "The Jackie Robinson Story," scheduled for 7 p.m. in Carroll Hall.

The Hibel Foundation, usual co-sponsor of forum movies, will join with the Y in holding this first session of the institute.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings students will meet in individual dorms, fraternity and sorority houses to exchange ideas on segregation principles and problems.

Dr. William M. Boyd, chairman of the Political Science Department at Atlanta University, will make two talks Thursday, the closing day.

At 4 p.m. he will conduct a discussion on "Looking Back—Race Relations in the Last 20 Years," at Gerrard Hall.

A faculty-student supper is planned at the Lutheran Church, at which Dr. Boyd will discuss the influence of the Negro vote in Southern elections.

The institute will close with Dr. Boyd's third talk, "Looking Ahead at Problems," which will take up effects of the Supreme Court's future ruling on segregation.

BEBE BAUMANN

NELL ELEY

DOTTIE FIGEL

Four Coeds Are Candidates For YWCA Presidency Post

Four coeds have been nominated for the post of YWCA president. Women students will elect one of them as head of the association in dorm and house meetings Tuesday night.

The four nominees are Bebe Baumann, Dottie Figel, Nell Eley, and Anne Huffman (not pictured). Miss Baumann is from Lakewood, Ohio. She attended Bradford Junior College, where she was active in the Christian Union. Since coming to Carolina she has served on the Human Relations Committee and the office forces of the YWCA. She was recently elected house manager of Delta Delta Sorority.

Miss Figel, from Indianapolis, Indiana, is a transfer from Stephens College where she was president of Burrall Cabinet and was on the Students' Religious Council. She is Chairman of the YWCA's Centennial Committee, a member of the Vespers Committee, and the rush captain of Pi Beta Phi.

Miss Eley, of Ahsokie, was president of the student body at Saint Mary's where she also worked on the student newspaper. She is now a member of the Human Relations committee of the YWCA and vice-president of Chi Omega sorority. Miss Huffman is from Catawba. She came to Carolina from Lenoir-Rhyne, where she worked for the Y and the college paper. She was a class officer and a member of a dramatic fraternity. She is serving as a member of the Di Senate here, and is a member of the Publications Board and the Publicity and Hospital Service committees of the YWCA. She is also running for the student Legislature.

Candidates for other YWCA offices are vice-president: Sonia Bergan, Kendrick Townsend, and Carol DuPlier; secretary: Ginny Agnew, Elsie Peterson, Ann Jones, Henrietta Bell, and Coe Brassell; treasurer: Joyce Sparger, Jackie Steed, Beverly Blemker, Emily Urquhart, and Allene Nash; membership chairman: Carol Webster, Louise Coffey, Ann May, and Ginger Curran; program chairman; Gladys Hatcher, Pat Sweeney, Bobbie Walker, and Jody Derry.

'Contributing To World' Is Trueblood's Formula

By Dell Hoyle
"Find a way to live so that at the end you won't have to look at yourself and admit that you've contributed nothing to the world," was the formula for life given by Dr. Elton Trueblood at a luncheon meeting yesterday.

Speaking to about 65 students, administration and faculty representatives, Dr. Trueblood wound up his two-day visit to Carolina with a talk on "The Religious Basis of Vocation."

Introduced by Bob Hyatt, YMCA vice-president, Dr. Trueblood discussed "the religious revival and the moral sag" which have developed concurrently in the United States.

"The solution," he said, "will be found in religion; however its chief expression should not be a Sunday religion, but in the routine weekday conduct of our homes and performance of our work."

"Many modern women who resent and belittle their roles as mothers and homemakers have never realized the glory of their responsibilities, and fail to put their work on a Christian level of vocation."

"The God of all the world has a plan for each of us, to which he is drawing us," Dr. Trueblood said. "If we recognize a sufficient motive, our work becomes noble."

"I want to know that I am doing more for the world than just keeping my body alive and getting a thrill or a kick from an existence of mere social activities."

"Your toil," he concluded, "is really the only thing you can give to the world—you can create things which would never have existed otherwise."

Dr. Trueblood, the new chief of religious policy for the U.S. Information Agency and professor of philosophy at Earlham College in Indiana, visited the campus under sponsorship of the University Sermons Committee of the YMCA and YWCA.

CPU Will Talk On Revision Of UN Charter

The Carolina Political Union will discuss the question of "United Nations Charter Revision" tonight at 8 o'clock in the Grail Room of Graham Memorial.

The faculty guests for the discussion will be Dr. Amry Vandebosch and Dr. John L. Chase, both of the University Political Science Department. Dr. Vandebosch is visiting professor from the University of Kentucky.

Joel Fleishman, chairman of the CPU, said yesterday, "The subject under scrutiny is one which has been raised many times during the past several months here on campus."

"Various proposals have come forth concerning the abolition or restriction of the Security Council veto power, the revision of the methods for dealing with aggression."

"Most recently, Senator Russell Long, in an address here, proposed a United Nations Charter revision to exclude the Soviet Union from participation unless that country demonstrated definite willingness for cooperation."

"All phases, both specific and general, will be dealt with in the discussion tonight."

Annual Gardner Award To Be Given Tomorrow

The sixth annual O. Max Gardner Award, "to that member of the faculty of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, who, during the year, has made the greatest contribution to the welfare of the human race," will be made at State College in Raleigh tomorrow night.

The presentation will be made at a banquet at 7 o'clock in Lazer Hall. A large number of faculty members and administrative officials from the three institutions are expected to attend.

Air Force Whips Navy 27-1, In Athletic Day

The Air Force soundly trounced the Naval ROTC Thursday, 27-1, in the first annual Athletic Competition Day.

Basketball events featured the competition, each game being worth 10 points each. The Air Force boys, piloted by Flo Worrell and Gene Nielson, whipped the NROTC eagles, 44-42. Bobby Payne was high scorer, leading the losers with 19 points.

Volleyball went to the Air Force in two straight games. Each point was a marathon. Captain George Smith, Barry Kalin, and Jerry Vayda led the fly-boys over the game Navy team, 21-10 and 21-18.

N.C. Future Teachers Choose Joan Leonard New Secretary

Joan Leonard, junior from Asheville, was elected state secretary of the Future Teachers of America, which convened Friday in Raleigh at the North Carolina Education Association meeting.

Carolina's student delegation at the event included Harry Phillips, senior from Greensboro, and Elizabeth Suddreth, senior from Raeford, who were presented as Mr. and Miss Student Teacher from the University.

Dean Guy B. Phillips of the School of Education spoke to a joint meeting of high school and college FTA groups Friday morning.

Dr. D. C. Tarbet, faculty adviser of the local chapter, also attended the convention. NCEA general sessions were held in Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, with the FTA meeting in the Ambassador Theater.

Miss Leonard, treasurer of the local FTA chapter, is the newly-elected Panhellenic representative for Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

The Student Party & Muntzing . . . Or Dean

The Student Party, when it nominates a vice-president tomorrow night, will pick either Charlie Dean or Manning Muntzing.

Neither of the prospective candidates will win in a walk. Muntzing, a sophomore from Moorefield, W. Va., is one of the prominent young SP members. He's treasurer of the party and active in Legislature.

Dean has been canvassing the older SP members for some days now seeking the nomination. He's a junior from Fugate Springs.

The Sound And The Purse Strings
The Muntzing wing of the party is somewhat less outspoken about the vice-presidency, but more outspoken on other things. The younger group last week clashed with the party veterans over the secretary nomination. Muntzing spearheaded a drive for Sonia Bergan. The older party men supported Gerry Snider.

When Miss Snider came out with 27 votes and Miss Bergan 22, Muntzing announced that party members who hadn't paid their dues couldn't vote. Party treasurer Muntzing had said earlier that all those "who have paid or intend to pay" might vote. So the older wing of the SP put its foot down. And Miss Snider won the nomination.

We're Not Betting On This One

When the SP gathers tomorrow night, though, we still wouldn't want to bet who'll get the nomination, Dean or Muntzing. It's anybody's race now. And when nominations start, it should be much more exciting than the presidential nominations of either party.

Card Board Names Five Officers For Next Year

Reno Bailey, freshman from Cliffside, has been elected president of the Card Board for the coming year, with Craig Horsman, freshman from Greensboro, as head artist.

Other officers chosen are George Heinz, Sparta junior, as secretary, Carol Moore, Currie junior, as office staff head, and Bradley Katz, Warsaw junior, as treasurer.

Horsman has asked all artists who have ideas for the State College game stunt tricks to get in touch with him at the Theta Chi house.
