

WEATHER
Partly cloudy and continued hot with 87 high. Yesterday's high, 87; low, 65.

The Daily Tar Heel

VOLUME LXII NUMBER 181

Complete Photo and Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1954

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES TODAY

RULING
The editor asks for rule clarification. See page 2.

James To Talk In Gerrard Hall At 8

Joshua S. James, candidate for the office of state treasurer, will speak tonight in the last of the University YDC's "Meet the Candidates" program.

JOSHUA S. JAMES
... meet the candidate

New Filmstrips On Exhibition At Planetarium

A method of automatic continuous showing of filmstrips has been devised by technicians of the Morehead Planetarium and it is now, through the cooperation of Life magazine, presenting "Giotto's Life of Christ" in one of the Planetarium exhibition cases.

This is believed to be the first time that color film strips have been projected continuously and automatically.

"Giotto's Life of Christ" will be followed by two other film strips of beautiful color reproductions of the popular Life magazine features, "The Earth is Born" and "The Miracle of the Sea."

Pete Mullis and Doc White chukking through "Over Sixteen" in the Treatment Room at Woollen Gym.

B-V-P's activities team moving wooden bench to traffic island in front of post office, sitting down, and observing flow on Franklin Street.

Orientation Fall Plans Announced

The Orientation Week program for fall was announced yesterday by Chairman Rollie Tillman.

Orientation Week will begin Friday, Sept. 10, with a welcoming session for freshmen and counselors in Memorial Hall. There will be meetings for freshmen with advisers and counselors later on Friday. That evening they will meet in Memorial Hall again for a welcoming address from the Administration and the showing of the film, "In the Name of Freedom." Saturday is taken up with entrance tests and campus tours.

On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 12, the annual chancellor's reception will be held for all new students in front of Graham Memorial. The next week, Monday through Wednesday will be devoted to registration, physical examinations, and group meetings with Orientation counselors, the freshman picnic, and coed open houses.

Monday, Sept. 13, there will be a special student government meeting in Memorial Hall for new students. At that time the honor system will be explained to freshmen and new women students.

The Coed Ball is scheduled for Friday night, Sept. 17, and Graham Memorial Day is Sept. 18. The latter will feature special displays, a tour of the building, and an introduction to the activities and offices there.

Students who are chosen as Orientation counselors will have two meetings to discuss this program and to talk over some of the problems the counselors face. These meetings are tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, May 4, and May 11. At that time the new edition of the counselors' manual (See ORIENTATION, page 4)

THESE ARE THE LEADERS IN THE Leadership-Fellowship program concluding today for student government officers. The affair will be highlighted by a banquet tonight to which all student government officers have been invited. Left to right in the picture are Mary Kit Myers, Marilyn Habel, leadership chairman Nancy Horne, Judy King, and Carolyn Johnson.—R. B. Henley photo.

70 Coeds Get Advisory Jobs In Orientation

Women's Orientation Council Chairman Luanne Thornton announced 70 coeds as counselors yesterday. They are:

Ann Pooley, Jackie McCarthy, Mary Ann Hayes, Joyce Carter, Elsie Broom, Joan Chapman, Trudy Leefer, Ruth Yount, Lucia Traxel, Caroline Davis, Sandra Wax, Natalie Kooker.

Emily Urquhart, Babs Whittington, Marion Linder, Sara Alice Jackson, Henrietta Bell, Betsy Goodwin, Nancy Whisnant, Marsha Poague, Marilyn Zager, Monica Justice.

Gladys Hatcher, Carol Nation, Sonia Bergan, Eve Roebuck, Ginna Timberlake, Zeff Pappas, Margaret Neiter, Liz Lynn, Joyce Sparger, Joanne Tannehill.

Lorraine Yancey, Ginger Currin, Jane Edwards, Barbara Ann McRee, Ann Huffman, Nancy Julian, Alex Thacker, Mary Gant Lewis, Ann Jones.

Louise Coffey, Virginia Anne Green, Lee Strickland, Jean Rayburn, Myra Davis, Carol Webster, Emily Finch, Kendrick Townsend, Phyllis Ogburn, Lucia Johnson.

Susan Fink, Judy Jackson, Lou (See COEDS NAMED, page 4)

NEW QUARTERLY EDITOR JIM DUNN ANDEX-EDITOR CHARLOTTE DAVIS
... more appeal for the other 94%

New Quarterly Editor, Jim Dunn, Wants More Humor In Magazine

The new editor of the Carolina Quarterly plans to turn next year's literary magazine to the lighter side. He is Jim Dunn, sophomore English major from Charleston, S. C., whose appointment was announced yesterday.

"I am eager to see if we can't make the Quarterly appealing to a larger percentage of the campus," he said. "Right now it is a magazine that interests only certain types of people. For too many students it is very heavy and dull to wade through."

The new editor, replacing Charlotte Davis, plans to change the type of poetry and non-fiction to have a sense of humor and make the spirit of the magazine a more lively one. His first issue will come out next fall.

The faculty board of the Quarterly, consisting of Phillips Russell, Dr. Harry Russell, Miss Jesse Rheder, and Dr. Hugh Holman, notified Dunn Monday that he had been chosen for the job.

He has been a member of the Quarterly staff for the past two years, working on the fiction board last year, and this year serving as book review editor. Dunn is also present editor of the Corn Cobb, Cobb Dormitory's weekly publication.

While in prep school in Concord, Massachusetts he edited the Middlesex school magazine and was its yearbook editor. Last summer he spent three months in New York working for the Readers' Digest Magazine in the condensed book department. For the two previous summers he was a counselor in a Massachusetts boys' camp, where he was in charge of the camp newspaper.

Dunn has had a fiction story published in the Quarterly and another will appear in next month's issue. The second will concern the trials of education of a prep schooler.

He says that his writing interests came partly because of his mother, who writes for the Ladies' Home Journal and has worked for the New Yorker and Harper's Bazaar magazines.

Dunn would like for those interested in working for the Quarterly next year to see him in the afternoon in the Quarterly office, Graham Memorial. He emphasized that work is not confined to those qualified in writing.

SP Names Fleishman Chairman; Reid, Fink, Harrington Elected

Bennett, Dean, Long, Cook Get Other Jobs

The Student Party named Joel Fleishman as its new chairman at a meeting in Graham Memorial Monday night.

Fleishman is a Junior from Fayetteville majoring in history. He is a member of the student Legislature, and chairman of the Carolina Forum and the Carolina Political Union.

Dave Reid of Asheville was named vice-chairman. Reid is a junior majoring in history.

Sue Fink, a Chapel Hill sophomore, was named party secretary. Bob Harrington, freshman from Greensboro was elected to the party treasurer post.

Tom Bennett, Charlie Dean, Ray Long, and Amy Cook were elected to fill SP advisory board offices. Bill Formyduvall was named sergeant-at-arms.

Yack Asks Beach Photos For Next Year's Annual

Going to the beach? The 1955 Yackety-Yack can use your snapshots of individuals or groups playing and having fun at the beach (or anywhere), the editors said yesterday.

Snapshots may be left at Graham Memorial Office or mailed to the Yackety-Yack, Chapel Hill.

Needed: 250 Pints

Last Day For Blood

The Red Cross bloodmobile ends a two-day stay at Graham Memorial today and officials yesterday expressed disappointment over the first day's donation of 150 pints.

They hoped that today's turnout would push the drive to the goal of 400 pints. "It's a painless procedure which takes only 30 minutes," Co-Chairman Frank Plott said. "We hope students will respond as graciously as they have in past years."

The specifications for giving blood provide that the donor be in good health, if under 21 years of age present parents' consent, and have not given blood within the past six months. Appointments may be made today at Graham Memorial. The hours are from 11 o'clock this morning until 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The blood will be shipped in refrigerated trucks from here to the regional blood bank in Charlotte. If the whole blood is not used in 21 days it will be made into plasma. The blood is given to hospital patients at no charge to the patient.

Last fall the campus donated 633 pints during the bloodmobile visit. A good part of the donation was the collective effort of Air Force and Navy ROTC units here.

Senatorial Candidate Wingfield Drops In For Question, Answer

By CHUCK HAUSER

A candidate for the United States Senate, in his shirtsleeves and bubbling with energy, popped into The Daily Tar Heel office yesterday to ask a question, make a challenge, and expound a creed.

The question: Why hadn't the candidate, Alvin Wingfield Jr., been invited to speak in Chapel Hill by the Young Democrats as have his opponents, incumbent Senator Alton Lennon and the favored challenger, former Governor W. Kerr Scott?

The challenge: If he is invited to speak here, Wingfield, erstwhile typewriter salesman, radio commentator, and accomplished amateur linguist, said he will be glad to answer "extemporaneously, in German, any questions asked me in German." In Russian, the candidate said, he would have to have the questions written out beforehand, since he is not quite so apt at translating that language off the cuff.

The creed: When you're running for political office, don't pull any punches. Wingfield didn't pull any yesterday.

He made himself comfortable in the wooden office chair. He looked natty in a gray silk tie and a thin white monogrammed shirt. When he started to talk, it was with a convincing ring and a smooth resonance usually heard in the voice of an experienced orator.

He discussed several things he doesn't like: Socialism, Kerr Scott, and Alton Lennon. Wingfield's definition of socialism is "any decision on the use of capital goods by the government." His definition of Kerr Scott is "a clear case of the things I oppose." Lennon? "A clear case of nothing."

What was Wingfield's position on American intervention in Indochina? "The American Congress should pass a resolution that unless the Chinese Communist forces are withdrawn from Indochina within (See WINGFIELD, page 4)

JOEL FLEISHMAN
... to head SP

Old Well Sets Rites Thursday

The Order of the Old Well will hold its annual initiation tomorrow afternoon.

Approximately 70 students are to be initiated into the six-year-old honorary society. The initiates are to meet at the Old Well at 3 p.m. and go from there to Gerard Hall for the ceremonies.

Pete Ivey Will Speak At Banquet

New Officers Gather In Lenoir Hall At 6 For Editor's Speech

A. G. (Pete) Ivey, associate editor of the Winston-Salem Sentinel and an alumnus of the University, will address the annual student government banquet tonight at 6 o'clock in Lenoir Hall. Ivey's topic is unannounced.

He is a native of Rocky Mount and graduated from the University in 1935. While here he was editor of the Carolina Buccaneer, famous forerunner of the present-day Tarantula humor magazine. Ivey also was a member of the Golden Elece, highest men's honorary organization. In 1936 and 1937 he was director of Graham Memorial.

After his graduation, Ivey was editorial assistant on the Alumni Review, official UNC alumni publication. In 1951 he won a Nieman Fellowship for study at Harvard. Tonight's banquet will mark the end of the three-day intensive training program held for new student government officers. The affair will cost diners $1 a plate. Inauguration of student government officers will take place tomorrow night at the Legislature's meeting.

The banquet, an annual event, two years ago was christened the Frank Porter Graham Student Government Banquet in honor of the former University president for the help and encouragement he gave student government.

Any student interested, whether or not a campus officeholder, may sit in for the dinner—after paying the $1 charge—and Ivey's speech. For the speech alone there is no charge.

Press Entries Due By May 6 To Be Eligible

Entries in the Press Club's forthcoming competition for outstanding writing must be in by May 6, awards chairman Clint Andrews said yesterday.

Writers on The Daily Tar Heel staff and members of the School of Journalism may submit entries, Andrews said.

Subscriptions to Time magazine and certificates of achievement will be awarded to outstanding writers of news stories, sports, editorials, and features. One person may submit no more than three entries in each category. Entries must be in the printed form of the articles, pasted on white sheets of paper with the entrants name written on the back. Name of the paper publishing the article and publication date must also be given.

Entries must be turned in to Andrews at 16 Old West or to Bynum Hall, secretary Mrs. Mark Scroggs by May 6.

Fairy Antics, Spirits Part Of May Play

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" of spirits and fairy antics will set the theme for the annual May Day pageant Sunday afternoon at 2:30 on the side lawn of McIver Dormitory.

Presented in honor of the May court, the pageant will feature original choreography by Mary Helen Crain, co-chairman of May Day with Judy King.

The cast of characters are Dan Reid of Raleigh, Puck; Nancy Murray of Raleigh, the Fairy Queen; Martha Boyle, Alton, Ill., the Peaseblossom; Jan Carter of Washington, the Cobweb; Gene Overbeck of Fayetteville, the First Greenseed; Joan Brown, Coral Gables, Fla., the Second Greenseed, and Connie Carbaugh, Roanoke, Va., the Moth.