Carolina professors may possibly have a real treat in store for them this week. Since this marks the official end of sorority rush, and fraternity rush has yet to get underway, it may be that reluctant students will, for a change, be prepared when those pop quizzes and uncalled for questions roll their way. And even more surprising to the once optimistic teachers will be the fact that a few of their female students may manage to stay awake throughout an entire class!

The exhaustion of the coed members of Carolina's population, coupled with the nervous tension resulting from last Saturday's sudden switch to "Big Orange," points to a quiet, relaxing weekend ahead. A few brave souls, possibly several from the Kappa Sig house, will disregard distance and follow the home team to New Orleans, but the majority of Hillians will take time out to recuperate and to fortify themselves for oncoming seiges of bigger and better weekends.

New sorority pledges seem to be in the spotlight this week, and after two weeks' work to secure them, why shouldn't they be? ADPi's honored their pledge class last night with a picnic at Dean and Mrs. Guy Phillip's home. The Ranch House was the scene for a Pi Phi banquet last night, an aftermath of Wednesday night's formal pledging ceremonies. KD's held an informal party Tuesday night to welcome their new pledges, and Tri Delta converted their house to a 1920 spak-asy, to carry out the theme of their flapper party.

Kappa Sig's and Chi O's will join forces Friday night to honor the sorority's new pledges. A tacky party, to be held at the schoolhouse, will be in order. And on schedule for Tri Delta's next week is a Tuesday night party with the Phi Gamma.

Brother Bill Pittman will be host Saturday night at a Phi Delta party in Sanford. And at the Chi Phi house, plans are underway for an old-fashioned hay-ride, a novelty in this age of machines and motors.

Leaving town Saturday night will be the Pi Lam's. Brothers and dates will make the Plantation Club in Greensboro their party headquarters. And Lambda Chi's will journey in the opposite direction, to the Saddle Club for a Saturday night party. Deke's are out of seclusion for a change, and they plan to spread their weekend parties over a wide area. A large part of the chapter will leave Saturday for Clarksville, Va., and a weekend of waterskiing and the like. Those remaining in this part of the country will party Saturday night at the Saddle Club.

Congratulations are in order for the new initiates of the 13 Club, popular social organization on campus. The twenty new members went through rigorous initiation ceremonies at Saturday's football game, well-fortified by the pre-game party. New members at Noel Sullivan, ATO; Bob Shelley, Jack Moore, and George Rains, Deke; King McGee and Charlie Bowles, KA; Bozy Tart and Knox Jenkins, Kappa Sig; Freddy Byrum, Francis Wicks, and Joe Towe, Phi Gamma; Herb Gorham, PiKA; Jim Patton, Alex Galloway and Charlie Causey, SAE; Claude Plumlee and Toy Gregory, Sigma Chi; Donnie Van Loan, Runyan Tyler, and Brant Snavely, Zeta. New officers of the society are Joe Mavretic, Jake Rountree, and Bill Moss.

IDC Vital---Weaver

"The position of the Inter-dormitory Council in student affairs is second to none," said Dean of Student Affairs Fred Weaver to the 250 nominees running for the various dormitory offices who were assembled in Gerrard Hall, as he urged every candidate to support the goals of the IDC.

"Without the support of the Interdormitory Council, there is little that can be done to improve student affairs," Weaver continued, "and the IDC needs your support in order to continue to go forward in its efforts to provide the dormitories with an effective social program and to promote a wholesome fraternal relationship."

The meeting was called to order by Manning Muntzing, IDC president. Muntzing stated that he was pleased with the energetic support and the seriousness that dormitory residents have given to the elections for officers. He further stated that many plans have been made to provide each dormitory with the kind of entertainment and recreation program it needs and wants, and the success or failure of these plans depends upon the interest and efforts of every dormitory resident.

Weaver cited the past achievements of the IDC since its formation in 1935. He stated that because of the Interdormitory Council dormitories now have social rooms, tiled floors, new plumbing facilities, book shelves in each room, dormitory managers and advisors and a host of other achievements that were effected through the hard work of IDC leaders. Weaver also stated that many outstanding campus leaders have won distinction by working on the IDC, and he urged each man there to grasp the opportunities open to him, whether they win or lose in the elections, to help bring about further dormitory improvements.

Need A Maid Of Cotton

The search is on once again to find King Cotton's official representative—the Maid of Cotton—to spread the Southland's good will throughout some 40 cities in the United States, Canada, and Europe.

The two-day contest, to be held January 3 and 4 in Memphis, Tenn., will determine which Cotton Belt beauty will serve the cotton industry as its 1955 fashion and good will ambassador on a six-month international tour. The contest will consist of personal interviews, photographs, luncheons, a dinner-dance, and a public appearance at Ellis Auditorium in Memphis.

Shortly after the contest, the winner will fly to New York to spend a month in preparation for the tour. She will be outfitted in a beautiful, all-cotton wardrobe by 40 of the nation's leading designers.

The tour begins officially in early February, and it will carry the Maid of Cotton to the Pacific Northwest states, Vancouver, B. C., as well as European and American cities.

The 1955 Maid of Cotton will be the seventeenth Cotton Belt girl to represent the industry on the annual tour sponsored by the National Cotton Council, the Memphis Cotton Carnival, and the Cotton Exchanges of Memphis, New York, and New Orleans.

Entry blanks, which may be obtained from the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 18, Memphis, Tenn., must be completed and returned by December 1. They must be accompanied by two photographs, one a head and shoulders portrait, and the other a full length photograph.
