

News From Victory Village:

Free Village Telephones Are Discussed

By DAN WALLACE
AL TAYLOR, senior in geology, living at 217 Jackson Circle, will represent Victory Village as candidate for the Student Legislature in the Nov. 16 elections.
NOMINATED by the Student

Party last Monday night, Taylor will advocate further benefits and improvements for the Village such as were received a year ago under Student Party auspices with the furnishings and improvements in the recreation center.

TONIGHT at 7:15 bridge instruction will begin at the recreation center with 23 players. There is a charge of 50 cents per lesson. John Beshara, former bridge instructor at Graham Memorial, will be the instructor.

inconvenience of distance for many, (2) it was a pay phone, (3) students in the dorms had free public phones. On this basis, a motion was passed by the board to request three free public phones from the University. A committee of two was selected to see the proper officials.

AT THE TIME of this writing, J. S. Bennett, director of operations, had been approached and he said that the cost for the dormitory phones were taken out of the dorm rents, and that the reason the Village had free public phones in the past dated back to the formation of the Village when private phones were unobtainable. He suggested that if the use of the single pay phone—to be determined by the amount of money collected—warranted, other pay phones could be installed. Bennett would not commit himself on whether or not the Village could have free public phones. He suggested that the request be taken to Assistant Comptroller and Business Manager C. E. Teague.

TEAGUE, who was instrumental in the formation of the Village and who is proud of its existence and the continual improvements being made, said that he was not in such direct contact with the Village as was Bennett, and stated that he would have to confer with him before a decision on the public phone situation could be reached.

TELEVISION will be available to Villagers every night under a new ruling passed by the Village board of directors. Volunteers will be responsible for this service on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday nights when the regular caretakers are off duty. On these three nights, the rec center is available for group meetings—as a service and as a means of additional revenue.

UNDER THE new ruling, groups under 75 must use the meeting room next to the main lounge, and groups over this number may use the lounge. In any event, television viewing will be available either in the main lounge or the meeting room every night. TELEVISION volunteers to date are Barbara Wilson for Monday nights and Nancy Ragland for Thursday nights.
