Dr. Frank Advances Peace Program

WINSTON-SALEM, Jan. 3—A two-point program to promote universal permanent peace was advanced here tonight by Dr. Frank P. Graham, special mediator for the United Nations and former president of the University of North Carolina.

Addressing the annual dinner session of the Winston-Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Graham advocated:

1. "Universal enforceable disarmament to prevent the suicide of peoples and their civilization, and

2. "Wisely planned and enlarged technical assistance and economic development programs coordinated with the U. N. programs in harnessing technical skills, dynamic enterprise and thermonuclear power toward the more productive, freer, fairer and peaceful life of all people in all lands."

Dr. Graham, who also served in the United States Senate, said that the year 1955 "is highly charged with both peril and hope for the people of the United States and the people of the world."

He called for mass movements of the people "in both hemispheres in their religious communions and their farm, labor, business, educational, professional, civic, women's organizations and all other associations, forums and assemblies of the common life in behalf of national and worldwide concentration of the people on the moral imperatives of peace."

Dr. Graham said that the road ahead for the American people "is not back to self-defeating national isolation, nor down the road to preventive war which would be the third World War but up the difficult road of the United Nations in the desperate struggle and patient work for freedom and peace."

"Though freedom is now crushed by monstrous totalitarian tyrannies in many lands the truth

David Huntley took his A. B. degree here in 1953. He is a native of Lenoir and is now teaching art at Limestone College in Gaffney, S. C.

He was awarded a North Carolina Federation of Women's Club Scholarship prize in 1951, and has exhibited in the Pennsylvania Academy Club of Fine Arts 149th Exhibit, the Virginia Interment 11th Exhibition, Fifteen Young Southeast Artists at Gainesville, Fla., and in the North Carolina Artists Exhibitions. Orange County's exhibit panels for the North Carolina State Fair, 1954, were painted by Huntley.

eloped ground," he said, "the American President's Atoms for Peace" Plan, adopted by the U. N. General Assembly of 60 nations without one dissenting vote, may be implemented in an International Atomic Agency.

"There is wide talk in high and lowly places of the necessity of the people of all nations, colors, races, religions and ideologies to find ways and means to continue to live on man's only home on this earth."

The year 1955, he said, is "the

The two winners will illustrate the two winning college fiction contest stories and will receive $500 dollars each. Honorable mentions will be awarded five other artists and photostatic copies of their work will be kept on file for possible future assignments commissioned by Mademoiselle. Names of the winners will be announced in the August, 1955 issue.

Judges for the contest will be Bradbury Thompson, Art Director of Mademoiselle; Thomas B. Hess, Executive Editor of "Art News", and Miss Mildred Constantine, Associate Curator of Graphic Design at the Museum of Modern Art.

Entries should be sent to The Art Contest, Mademoiselle, 575 Madison Avenue, New York 22, N. Y. Each piece of material must be clearly marked with the contestant's name, age, home address, school address and school year. An 8½" by 11" manila envelope, self-addressed and stamped, should be enclosed with all entries.

He pointed out that for the first time in more than a score of years there is no real war anywhere in the world. "On well dev-

Solons Gathering

RALEIGH, Jan. 3 (AP)—As lawmakers converged on Raleigh for the start of the 1955 Legislature Wednesday, a group of dry leaders called on Governor Hodges today urging him to throw his weight behind a statewide liquor referendum.

The Governor said he told the group, representing the Allied Church League, that he would tell how he stands on the question of a statewide liquor vote in his biennial message to the Legislature. He is expected to deliver his message at a joint Senate-House session at 11:30 a.m. Thursday.

appointed year for the first decennial meeting of the U. N. General Assembly to consider the calling of Charter Review Conference.

"The year 1955 is the year appointed by the World Federation of all the national associations for the United Nations to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. Many millions of people in their chapels, churches, cathedrals, temples, synagogues and mosques pray for the peace of nations and the brotherhood of people.

"While there is still time to turn the perils and the despair of the engulfing night of our generation into the action of the people and the hope of another morning for all the children of men, the peoples of the world, with hydrogen bombs connected with the earth's time clock, cannot lag in the organization of the yearnings of the people, and mass movements from people to people across boundaries and even curtains in gathering power for freedom and peace."
