Davis Serves As WC-TV Director

By BIFF ROBERTS
When WUNCTV, channel 4, brought David M. Davis to Greensboro from Washington, D. C. to serve as program director of the Woman's College studio, it found a man who possessed a rare combination of youth and experience. Those two factors were extremely important in the successful introduction of the University of North Carolina's educational television station during this past week.

turn 29 until March 23. A native of St. Charles, Ill., Dave received an AB in Music Education from Northwestern University and a M. S. degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Since his graduation from Northwestern in 1947, he has had vast experience in both radio and television—as a teacher, producer, director, and musician. His first job after college came with WFIL in Philadelphia where he directed several radio productions. He affiliated with WFIL-TV when that came on the air, becoming an associate director of the "Paul Whiteman Show" for ABC. He got a taste of educational television while at WFIL-TV as director of the station's "University of the Air" program in 1951. This experience helped him greatly in his job of production supervisor of Michigan State College television the following year. Moving to Washington he joined WMAL-TV as producer-director. After six short months he was promoted to senior producer of both WMAL and WMAL-TV, a job he held immediately before coming to WUNCTV.

But producing and directing have not been his only loves. While in Philadelphia he taught several radio, television, and music courses at Temple University. At Michigan State he conducted a graduate seminar in television production, and even in Washington he directed a "television workshop" at the WMAL studios. While at Northwestern he had played the trumpet and trombone in the University band and symphony orchestra. Since then he has arranged music and directed and produced musical presentations for the theatre as well as radio and television. This great versatility has been apparent in the short time since he joined the Woman's College studio staff. It was significant that his studio presented the first "live" program when WUNCTV came on the air last Saturday. The Greensboro presentation, "Prelude", a half-hour song and dance program, was well received throughout the State.

Scholarships Being Offered

Two national scholarships for college senior girls are being offered for 1955-56 by the Katharine Gibbs School. Each scholarship consists of full tuition ($620) for the secretarial training course, plus an additional cash award of $500, totaling $1,120. The winners may select any one of the four Gibbs schools for their training. The schools are located in Boston, Mass., New York, N. Y., Montclair, N. J. and Providence, R. I. Winners are chosen by the scholarship committee on the basis of college academic record, personal and character qualifications, financial need and potentialities for success in business.

Speaker Hospitalized

RALEIGH, Jan. 18 (AP)—House Speaker Larry Moore entered a hospital at Wilson over the weekend and is expected to be absent from the Legislature for "two or three days." Rep. Charles K. Bryant Jr., of Gaston reported he talked to Moore by phone late this Monday afternoon. He said Moore told him he had entered the hospital because he was "worked to a frazzle" after last week's sessions. About two years ago Moore was seriously ill with a stomach ulcer.

State To Get Awards From GE Co. Fund

RALEIGH, Jan. 18 (AP)—North Carolina State College's School of Engineering will again be among the institutions to share in the General Electric Co.'s Educational and Charitable Fund for 1955. Dr. J. H. Lampe, dean of engineering at the college, said today he had been officially notified of State's continued participation in the company's fellowship award program which will be doubled this year, with more than a quarter of a million dollars given in fellowships. The 74 fellowships to be granted compare with 31 worth $97,400 awarded last year. Each fellowship granted in 1955 will again be accompanied by a grant of $1,200 to the institu-

Costa Rica Rebel Leader Not A Revolutionary Says Couple

CHARLOTTE, Jan. 18 (AP)—Teodoro Picado Jr., leader of the rebel forces in Costa Rica's vest-pocket war, is known to a Charlotte couple as anything but a hot-headed revolutionary. They recall him instead as a handsome young businessman, perhaps dressed in a red plaid shirt and white trousers, leaning on the hood of a flashy Mercedes automobile he's trying to sell to a Managua customer. They describe him as no radical, but a calm, sensible person. Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Blackwood know the young rebel leader well. Blackwood worked for him in Central America from May, 1952, to August, 1953, and they have entertained him in their home here. The relationship began when Blackwood, a textile machinery dealer, sold an order to a Nicaraguan firm managed by Picado and went to Managua to put the machinery into operation. Picado had gone to Managua for political asylum after completing his education at West Point. In 1948 his father was ousted as Costa Rica's president and the family fled the country. Young Picado has a Mercedes dealership and an interest in a paint store in Managua in addition to working for the textile firm.

She pictures Picado as "colorful and gay, youthful, a lot of fun on a party, a wonderful dancer." She also remembers him as a family man with two young daughters and another child expected soon. His wife is from Los Angeles. Mrs. Blackwood says he plays chess well, drinks gallons of orange juice, likes native beer and imported liquors, and has told them he misses American football games since leaving this country.

Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong, who will return to the UNC campus on Feb. 10, is shown with his famous trumpet. Armstrong is being sponsored by Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. All proceeds from the concert will go to the March of Dimes. Tickets for the event, which will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. in Memorial Hall, are now on sale for $1.50. They are being sold in Y Court, Town & Campus, Carolina Theater, and the ATO House. Armstrong made his last appearance on this campus for the German Club dances last spring. His well-known variations on the jazz and blues themes were exceptionally well received at that time.

CIGARETTES

THEY'RE CLAMORING FOR THEM! Who? Students. What? Luckies. Coast to coast, dormitory to dormitory, college smokers prefer Luckies to all other brands, according to the greatest up-to-date college survey. Again, the No. 1 reason for Luckies' wide lead: Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. So enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike. But don't be like the man in the Droodle above, titled: Pickpocket acquiring Luckies. Make sure you have plenty of your own. Buy Luckies by the carton.
