

Brennan Leads UNC Frosh To Upset Over Marines, 93-83

Pete Gets 26, Cunningham 25 As Tar Babies Win 13th Game

Parris Island's Richie Regan Held to Eight; Former Pro Star Savage Meshes 24 for Losers

By BERNIE WEISS

Pete Brennan, Bob Cunningham and Tom Kearns all scored better than 20 points last night as the Carolina freshmen won their 14th game in 14 starts, upsetting the strong Parris Island Marines, 93-83, in Woollen Gym.

All-American Richie Regan, the Marines' high scoring guard, was held to eight points in the rough affair.

Brennan tallied 26 as the now Quigg-less Tar Babies continued to rack up on another winning streak. Cunningham put 25 points through the hoops, 17 on foul shots, and Kearns put in 20.

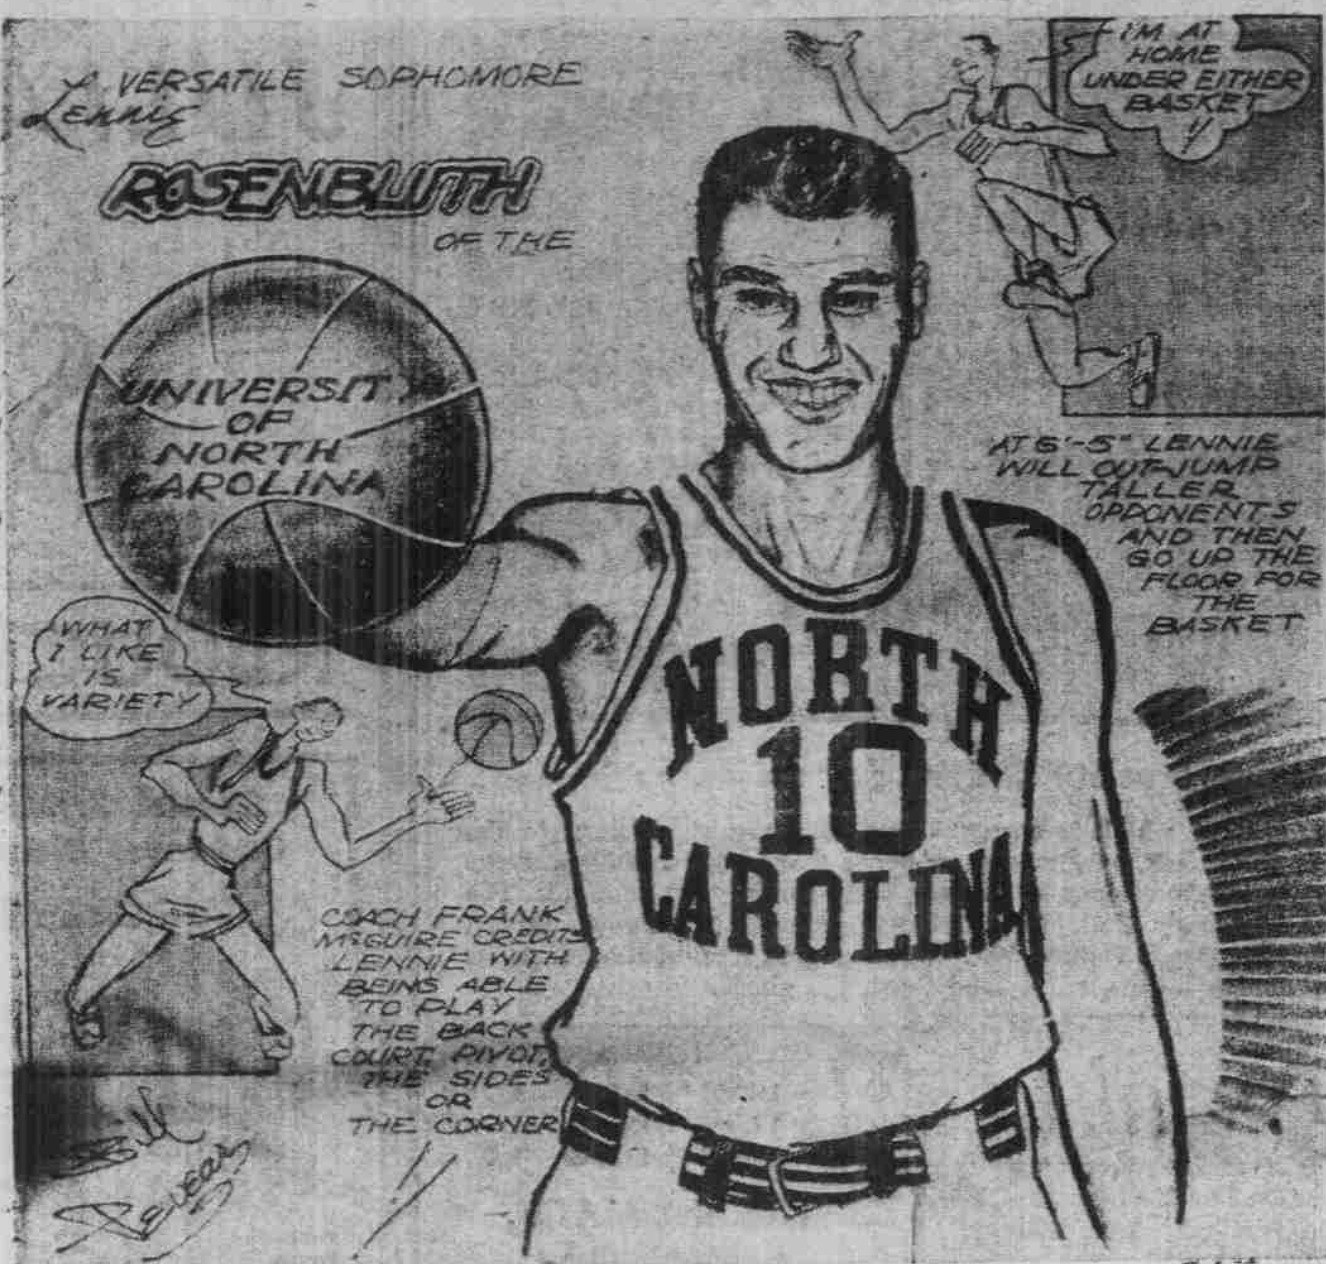

Brennan shared scoring honors with Parris Island's Jim Haverder, who also had 26. Don Savage, formerly with the Syracuse Nationals, was second highest for the losers with 24.

The Tar Babies ran up an early lead thanks to their accuracy from the foul line and Parris Island's inaccuracy from the floor. At half-time Carolina led, 49-44, even though the Marines had narrowed the margin to one point with less than five minutes left before intermission.

In the second half, Brennan and Kearns managed to keep Carolina out front despite the rough and tumble, fancy-passing game of Parris Island. After Regan, who was the play-maker of the team, and Savage fouled out, the Marines fell farther and farther behind.

Charlie Adams played an excellent floor game for the Tar Babies. The close-cut (some were nearly bald) Marines came into the game heavily favored. They have lost only three games of 24, suffering other losses to Belmont Abbey and Quantico.

The game was the first half of a sports double-header in the Woollen Gym. The gymnastics, Illinois gymnasts, 45-35, squad defeated the University of

Carolina Puts Leadership On Line Friday

Leadership of the Atlantic Coast Conference will be at stake here tomorrow night when North Carolina plays host to Duke.

The Tar Heels of Coach Frank McGuire are currently perched all alone on top of the conference standings with a record of seven victories and only one loss, but the Blue Devils are just a game back at 6-2. A Duke victory Friday would leave both clubs with 7-2 ACC records.

North Carolina has bumped off Clemson and South Carolina twice, N. C. State, Virginia and Wake Forest for its seven victories, with a 10-point loss to Maryland the only sore spot on the record.

Coach Hal Bradley's charges have whipped Clemson and South Carolina twice, and Maryland and Virginia, but have dropped games to Maryland and N. C. State. But while the conference lead is one matter to be decided, the matter of Duke avenging an earlier season loss to the Tar Heels in the Dixie Classic is another. North Carolina downed the Blue Devils in the Christmas holiday affair, 65-52. However, the game does not count in the official ACC standings.

Carolina students are reminded that today is the last day for the exchange of student pass-book tickets for game tickets.

Although his squad took the first meeting of the season between the two teams, Tar Heel Coach Frank McGuire is regarding Friday's match as the "big test" to see which of the two contestants is the best.

"When we played Duke in the Dixie Classic," McGuire said, "both of the teams were kind of 'let down' after the previous day's action. We had been nosed out by N. C. State after we had moved into a lead near the end of the game and Duke had lost a tough six-point game to Minnesota. I think this will be the big test to see what the two teams can do against each other."

While the Duke Blue Devils will be out to "avenge" themselves against the Carolina varsity, the tables are exactly reversed with the UNC frosh, who will be out to even things up with the Duke freshmen. Duke's Blue Imps handed the Carolina frosh the only defeat they have suffered in 13 outings.

The frosh prelim will get under way at 6:30 p.m., with the varsity clash slated for 8:15.

Gymnasts Top Illini, 45-35

By BOB DILLARD
In the second event of last night's sports double-header at Woollen Gymnasium, the Carolina gymnastics squad rang up its second win of the season against two losses, by downing the University of Illinois, 45-35.

The Tar Heels appeared well on the road to victory in the early part of the match. At the end of three events, the Carolina squad led 30-18, but the Fighting Illini lived up to their names, and pulled to within four points, with one event, tumbling, left to go. A last-minute first place, snatched from the Illini team by Pete Brumley, put the match on ice for the Tar Heel squad.

Biff Howard drew praise from Coach Bill Meade, turning in his "best performance of the year," to capture first place in the horizontal bar event.

Other first place winners for Carolina were Gordon Hudson and Howard (tie) parallel bar, Hudson again, sidehorse, and Brumley in the tumbling.

The Summary:
Side Horse: 1-Hudson (Car)
Tate (Ill), 249 (tie); 3-Brumley (Car).

Horizontal Bar: 1-Howard (Car), 256; 2-Horne (Ill) 254; 3M-uzyczko (Ill) 235.

Drake's Marks Accepted As U. S. Official

Phil Drake, a 6-4 University of North Carolina swimmer from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., found himself holding two United States pool records today following their official acceptance.

Drake, only a sophomore, completed his record-breaking times last year in going the 100-yard course butterfly in 58.2 and the long course butterfly in 60.2.

The official acceptance of the 19-year-old's marks came as welcome news as the North Carolina peolmen prepared to meet the University of Michigan team here today in Bowman-Gray Pool.

The Michigan squad, Tar Heel Coach Ralph Casey has warned his squad, is one of the best on the North Carolina schedule. Michigan boasts two 1952 Olympic team members and five boys of All-American rating.

Bumpy, holder of the world record in the 400 yard individual medley at 5:29, captained the touring midwest squad.

PHENOM AS FROSH

As a member of the University of North Carolina freshman team, Lennie Rosenbluth, the school's soph basketball stand-out, accumulated 627 points for an average of 26.1 per game.

an open and shut case of pure Guinness!

COLUMBIA PICTURES presents ALEC GUINNESS Comedy star of "Man in the White Suit" and "Captain's Paradise" THE DETECTIVE Based on the FATHER BROWN Stories by G. K. CHESTERTON Adapted by Thelma Schnee co-starring JOAN GREENWOOD · PETER FINCH with CECIL PARKER as 'The Bishop' and BERNARD LEE Screen Play by THELMA SCHNEE and ROBERT HAMER Produced by PAUL F. MOSS - Associate Producer - VIVIAN A. COX Directed by ROBERT HAMER - A FACET PRODUCTION THURSDAY FRIDAY SATURDAY Varsity

Dick Levin's
Combo-Orchestra
16 FLEMING RD.
8-0268

TAR HEEL CAB
8464
To One And All
We Appreciate Every Call

SPORTSWRITERS NEEDED
The sports department of The Daily Tar Heel needs sportswriters. Any persons, girls included to cover girls' sports, who are interested may report to Sports Editor Bernie Weiss on the second floor of Graham Memorial between 4 and 6 o'clock any afternoon.

BUY USED TEXTS AND SAVE MONEY AT THE INTIMATE BOOKSHOP

Food For Thought at HARRY'S

Tankmen Swim Michigan Tonight

By BOB COLBERT

The varsity swimmers take on Michigan at 8 o'clock tonight in the indoor pool after defeating the University of Georgia at Athens, Ga., on Monday, 48-36.

The Michigan team, which swam N. C. State last night, will bring to Chapel Hill some of the nation's top swimmers. Four members of the team competed in the last Olympics. Captain Bumpy Jones in the 300 yard individual medley and the 200 yard breaststroke; Jack and Bert Wardrop, British National champions, in the backstroke and free style races; and Ron Gora in the 220 and 440 yard events.

Jack Wardrop, 220 yard NCAA champion, is regarded by many as one of the most versatile swimmers of all time. He holds no less than four British titles and is regarded as almost a cinch to make the Olympic team in 1956.

GEORGIA FALLS
The Tar Heels are now sporting a 5-1 record after defeating Georgia. The 300-yard medley relay team of Charlie Krepp, Phil Drake and Dick Baker, ACC recordholders, set a new pool record of 2:49.6. Krepp just missed the backstroke record held by former Olympic swimmer Alan Stack by seven-tenths of a second, swimming the event in 2:11.9.

The bright spot in the Georgia lineup was Hal Stolz. Stolz swam what is believed to be the best time in the nation in the 200 yard breaststroke event in 2:26.9.

The summary of the Georgia meet:

- 300 medley relay: UNC (Krepp, Drake, Baker), 2:49.6.
- 220 Freestyle: Holmes (UNC), Higgins (UNC), Eberhart (G), 2:21.4.
- 50 Freestyle: Gentry (G), Shannon (UNC), Gill (UNC), :24.0.
- 150 Individual Medley: Drake (UNC), Arnold (G), Terry (G), 1:37.8.
- 3-meter Diving: Boyd (G), Hall (G), Hussey (UNC), 210.0 pts.
- 100 Freestyle: Baker (UNC), Gentry (G), Holmes (UNC), :53.0.
- 200 Backstroke: Krepp (UNC), Linker (UNC), Terry (G), 2:11.9.
- 200 Breaststroke: Stolz (G)

Shannon (UNC), Arnold (G), 5:05.6.
2:26.9. 400 Freestyle Relay: Georgia
440 Freestyle: Drake (UNC), (Eberhart, Gentry, Arnold, Stolz)
Higgins (UNC), Dumbroff (G), 3:50.2.

On Campus with Max Shulman
(Author of "Barefoot Boy with Cheek," etc.)

A GUIDE FOR THE DATELESS

With the cost of dating rising higher and higher (seems the only pleasure that costs the same these days is Philip Morris), it is no wonder that so many of us men are turning to discuss throwing. Naturally, we would prefer nuzzling warm coeds to flinging cold discs, but who's got that kind of money? Prices being what they are, the average man today has a simple choice: dating or eating.

Unless the average man happens to be Finster Sigafoos.

Let me tell you how Finster Sigafoos, a man no smarter, no richer, than you or I, solved his dating problem. Finster came to college with the normal ambition of any average man: he wanted to find the prettiest coed on campus and make her his. He looked long and carefully, and at last he found her—a tall job named Kretchma Inskip, with hair like beaten gold.

He asked her for a date. She accepted. He appeared at her sorority house that night, smiling, eager, and carrying a bouquet of modestly priced flowers.

"Now then," said Kretchma, tossing the sleazy flora to a pledge, "where are we going tonight?"

Finster was a man short on cash, but long on ideas. He had prepared several attractive plans for this evening. "How would you like to go out to the Ag campus and see the milking machine?" he asked.

"Ick," she replied.

"Well then, how about running over to the dental school to fool with the drills?"

"Bah," she replied.

"Well, what would you like to do?" he asked.

"Come," said she, "to a funny little place I know just outside of town."

And away they went.

The place was Millionaires Roost, a simple country inn made of solid ivory. It was filled with beautiful ladies in backless gowns, handsome men in dickies. Waiters scurried about bearing costly eats on flaming swords. Original Rembrandts adorned the walls. Philip Morris trays adorned the cigarette girls. Chained to each table was a gypsy violinist.

Finster and Kretchma were seated. "I," said Kretchma to the waiter, "will start with shrimps remoulade. Then I will have lobster and capon in madeira sauce with asparagus spears. For dessert I will have loads of out-of-season fruit."

"And you, Sir?" said the waiter to Finster.

"Just bring me a pack of Philip Morris," replied Finster, "for if ever a man needed the soothing, steadying, beneficent aromas of mild vintage tobaccos, it is me now."

So, smoking the best of all possible cigarettes, Finster watched Kretchma ingest her meal and calculated that every time her fetching young adam's apple rose and fell, he was out another 97¢. Then he took her home.

It was while saying goodnight that Finster got his brilliant idea. "Listen!" he cried excitedly. "I just had a wonderful notion. Next time we go out, let's go Dutch treat!"

By way of reply, Kretchma slashed him across the face with her house mother and stormed into the house.

"Well, the heck with her," said Finster to himself. "She is just a gold digger and I am well rid of her. I am sure there are many girls just as beautiful as Kretchma who will understand the justice of my position. For after all, girls get as much money from home as men, so what could be more fair than sharing expenses on a date?"

With good heart and high hopes, Finster began a search for a girl who would appreciate the equity of Dutch treat, and you will be pleased to hear that he soon found one.

Today Finster goes everywhere and shares expenses fifty-fifty with Mary Alice Hematoma, a lovely three legged girl with sideburns.

This column is brought to you for your enjoyment by the makers of PHILIP MORRIS. And speaking of enjoyment, try a pack today.

DAILY CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1. Small marine fish
5. What every merchant likes
10. Poisonous
12. Swarming
13. Dispatch
14. Indian merchant
15. God of pleasure (Egypt.)
16. This boat once sailed the Mediterranean
18. Spritz
19. Dreads
21. Beat
24. Outdid
28. Around
30. Not sophisticated
31. Sweetened (var.)
33. Observed
34. A sleep vision
36. Leap
39. Ever (poet.)
40. Small explosion
43. Covered with ivy
45. Australian marsupial
47. A dance done in Spain
48. To run over
49. Scorlae of metals
50. Street railway (Eng.)
DOWN
1. Wound with a dagger

2. Sheltered bay
3. The Roman
4. God of the underworld
5. Species of crocus
6. A wing
7. Similar
8. Wicked
9. A peasant
11. Fruit of a pineapeus tree
17. Consume
19. Liquid
20. Paroxysm
21. Exclamation
22. Finnish sea-port
23. Gained
25. Dessert
26. Adam's wife
27. A lion's home
29. Ship-worms
32. River in Scotland
35. Chests
36. Strikes
37. Egg-shaped

Yesterday's Answer
38. Pineapple
40. Couple
41. Bulging jar
42. Inside of hand
44. Incite
46. To make choice

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10			11	12
13				14
15			16	17		18
			19			20
21	22	23		24		25	26	27
28			29	30		31
31			32	33		34
35	36	37	38	39		40	41	42
43			44	45	46
47				48
49						50		