Pastor's Cats Here Tonight

Tony Pastor, above, will be on hand tonight in Woolen Gym for the Carolina Germans Club's annual winter dance. The dance will be held from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Earl Bostic and orchestra will play tomorrow at a concert from 4 to 6 p.m.

Armstrong, Bostic And Pastor Beating Cupid

By ELEANOR SAUNDERS

The King of Hearts won't have a ghost of a chance over the weekend because he will be completely over shadowed by the visiting Kings of Music. Cupid, with his gold-tipped arrows and honorable intentions, will be forced into the wild and woolly background by golden tones from the magical instruments of Satchmo, Earl Bostic and Tony Pastor.

Once again, Germans have descended upon the entirely prepared Carolina student body, and as the weekend approaches, more and more elaborate parties to quiet, recuperative get-togethers have been offered as possible solutions from the how-not-to-settle-down dilemma. Regardless of the how's and where's of the weekend activities, it's a safe bet that fine party spirit will be riding high.

At one extreme, the Phi Gams are laying plans for a suppressed desire party, to be held tomorrow night at the schoolhouse. And St. As, also at the bizarre end of the social ladder, will celebrate with a tramp party tomorrow night at Crabtree Creek.

SPEs, after last weekend's extensive quiet activities, will spend a quiet weekend at home to recuperate and refinance.

A cabin party is slated for Phi Deltas this weekend; and, PiKA will celebrate at a Smith's laké party, complete with combo, tomorrow night.

Many of the Pi Kappa Phi Brothers will be leaving town this weekend to attend wedding festivities in Washington. At the Pi Lam house plans are being made for a cabin party Saturday night at Turnage's.

Sigma Nus have adopted a new phrase: "When in Chapel Hill, do as the Romans do." They will have a Roman toga party tomorrow night at Hoenig's cabin, followed by a breakfast at the house.

After Tuesday night's party at the Country Club with the Tri Delt's, Chi Psi's promise themselves a quiet weekend of activities.

Returning alumni were welcomed home last weekend by Zeta Beta Taus. Brothers will party at the house this weekend.

ATOS, more than proud of their sell-out for the Louis Armstrong concert, will be celebrating in rare form this weekend. They plan for a party Saturday night at the Robin Hood in Durham.

At the Beta house, rumor claims that a party will be held at the Elbow Room tonight. And Phi Kaps will take advantage of the hospitality of brother Bobby Jones for a party Saturday night at his home in Durham. (See CAROLINA'S, page 4)

Solons Approve 2 Free Saturdays Per Semester

'3 Cuts Hard On Faculty-Student Relations'

Creasy Against Rule

"The matter of cuts allowed in class should be an issue between student and instructor, moreover, the faculty are in extreme discord regarding the proposal and I fear that a permanent loss of respect may result from the new system," spoke Tom Creasy, student body president in his semesterly State of the Campus address last night.

Creasy presented his speech in the form of a ten point outline.

He proceeded then to elaborate on the various issues in this order: (1) "There has been a good deal of work throughout the year devoted to the foreign exchange program. Under capable leadership we have made arrangements to pay all the expenses of a student from Göttinger University in Germany. I hope that this will be the beginning of a long and successful program."

(2) "With the help of University officials, we have set aside the weekend of the Georgia game next year as Caravan Weekend and there will be no classes. I hope that this is to be an annual affair."

(3) "Our high school honor system program has progressed by leaps and bounds. The committee will have visited 60 schools by the end of the year."

(4) "The Student Entertainment Committee has done an excellent job. In order to provide top rate entertainment next year, I have already appointed next year's group."

(5) "The new orientation chairman is Bert Veazy. Last year's group under Rollie Tillman did a good job and I am sure that this year will mean good work also."

(6) "The committee to study the possibilities to establish a collective health insurance plan for the campus made the final selection of the company to deal with today. Beginning next fall, students will have available a cheap and fine insurance plan."

(7) "The Consolidated University Student Council has approved a resolution which will give, if final approval is granted by university officials, 25% of the funds in profit from campus stores to the Student Governments of the institutions."

(8) "I am sorry that I had to veto the band bill, but we just didn't have the money."

(9) "I reported to the Faculty Council that I opposed the limit of class cuts below 20%. I will fight to that end."

(10) "I am also opposed to any raise in room rents. I have appointed a committee to study the situation and I am confident that something can be worked out."

In preliminary paragraphs of its statement the board reviewed why it gave the tests ("in keeping with sound educational methods") and noted that the results were placed in the permanent record of each pupil, to be available to principals and teachers of the pupil.

The purpose of the tests, according to the board statement, "is primarily for individual pupil diagnosis by the teachers," and the standing policy has been that the results of special tests were not to be given in terms of scores. "The scores must be carefully evaluated and understood. They cannot be assumed to be exact measures secured under carefully controlled conditions. Misunderstanding and misuse of scores, even by well-meaning parents, could be harmful to the educational and emotional development of the children."

UNIVERSITY COOPERATES
The tests have generally been given in cooperation with the University faculty, the board stated, but aren't given by trained psychologists under carefully controlled conditions. Thus the results obtained "may not be reliable for use in comparing groups of pupils in different classes and different schools."

The particular tests in question, the board statement declared, was given in the spring of 1954 before the May 17 integration decision by the Supreme Court, "and with absolutely no relation to the question of school integration."

Ridgway To Talk Here

Gen. Matthew Ridgway, above, will speak here Feb. 24 under sponsorship of the Carolina Forum. Reception in Graham Memorial will follow Ridgway's speech.

Gen. Matthew Ridgway Slated Here Feb. 24

General Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Army Chief of Staff, will speak here Thursday, Feb. 24 under sponsorship of the Carolina Forum.

Both General Ridgway's talk at 8 p.m. in Hill Hall, and the following reception in the Lounge of Graham Memorial are open. He will also be honored at a tea at the home of University President Gordon Gray, and at a banquet in the Pine Room of the Carolina Inn.

General Ridgway was promoted to the rank of general in May, 1951, following his appointment, in April of that year, as supreme commander for the Allied Powers, commander-in-chief of the United Nations Command in the Far East and commander-in-chief of the Far East Command in Japan, succeeding Gen. Douglas MacArthur. In May 1952, he was named to

Sugar: $37 Per Bowl

RALEIGH, Feb. 10. (PA) A bowl of sugar cost William Nowell, 26, Negro, about $37 yesterday.

Nowell was hurrying out of a Raleigh cafe when he brushed against Policeman John Baker and a sugar bowl fell out of his overcoat pocket.

Charged with Larceny, Nowell was given a six-month road term, suspended on payment of $25 and costs. He was also charged with resisting arrest.

Vote Dorms Coke Money

By NEIL BASS

The student Legislature in a session made long by much debate last night passed a resolution favoring the establishments of two class free Saturdays per semester. The measure was sponsored by the Student Party and was passed without an opposing vote.

In other action of the meeting, the group also passed unanimously a resolution "urging the return of 50% of the profits made by vending machines in the dormitories to the dorm's social fund. At the present, the dormitories receive none of these profits. This measure was also SP introduced."

By far the most debated issue of the evening, however, was a University Party introduced bill which "called for the establishment of a bi-partisan board for the selection of candidates for the editorships of The Daily Tar Heel and The Yackety Yack."

Jack Stevens (UP) who brought the measure before the solons to begin with started the debate by saying that "because of the importance of The Daily Tar Heel in influencing student opinion, it should be removed from all political affiliation, and not be committed to any particular segment."

This led into a discussion of "just what is the place of politics on the college and university campus anyway?" David Reid (SP) attempted to answer this question by saying that "student government needs more politicians to advise them because the parties represent the larger segment of the student body and thus prevent the concentration of the rule in the hands of a few. Such groups cannot be denied the privilege of nominating candidates for a position of importance like the editorships."

After a lengthy analysis, the body thumbed down the creation of a bi-partisan board by a vote of 1-13.

Other legislation of the evening, which was passed or turned down with little or no debate, involved the passage of an SP proposed resolution which "asked for the establishment of a centrally located infirmary on campus with the authority to issue class excuses."

The Legislature, operating "in a low financial status," shunned the passage of any measures which involved the appropriation of money. In turn, they voted down a SP sponsored bill "to give money so that The Daily Tar Heel might resume operation on a six day week," and a UP bill to "give $150 to the Faculty Evaluation Committee."

Colleges To Debate Red China

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Feb. 10. —The question of whether the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to Red China, a subject banned for student discussion at several schools, will be debated at William and Mary tomorrow and Saturday by teams from 26 colleges and universities.

The guest speaker and moderator of a special forum program Friday evening will be Sir Percy Claude Spender, Australian ambassador to the United States. His appearance will be one of the highlights of the two-day Marthall-Wythe debate tournament, expected to attract 150 participants.

Each team will meet six other teams in the debate with the results for determining the winner to be worked out by a point system.

UN Should Tie World Together - Dr. Frank

The present emergency responsibility of the United Nations is "to help hold together the divided world without either appeasement of tyranny and aggression or drifting into a third world war with its annihilation of people and civilization, east and west," Dr. Frank P. Graham told the fifth annual Conference of World Affairs here yesterday afternoon.

Former president of UNC and former U. S. Senator, Dr. Graham, who is now special mediator for the United Nations, talked on America's role in the UN organization.

The day's sessions, which began early yesterday morning, drew representatives of civic and educational organizations, women's clubs and religious groups from all parts of North Carolina.

Pointing out that the UN was made necessary by the evolution of states in the last several thousand years, Dr. Graham said that "thermonuclear power in the hands of man in the absolute national state is the greatest threat which has come to the existence of man since the glaciers extinguished much of the life of the planet."

"IMPERATIVE NEED"
"The imperative need is to help make more likely that the human species in the providence of God will not now perish from the earth under the impact of forces more lethal than the long gone, roaming dinosaurs and the once devastating glacial power," he continued. "This makes necessary for his survival the UN working for the mastery of this power and its humane use by the better nature of man."

The UN, he said, was also made necessary by the commercial, industrial and atomic revolutions of the last 100 years.

"In the last 500 years, he said, "three revolutions have accelerated the development of the interdependence of peoples, east and west."

The necessity for the UN in the atomic age is imperative "whether (See DR. FRANK, page 4)

May Day Fete Will Be Ended By WRC Vote

"The Women's Residence Council, acting upon the recommendation of the Leadership Council, voted at a regular meeting, to discontinue the annual May Day program," said Miss Ruth Jones, chairman of the Women's Residence Council, yesterday.

"The Leadership Council, consisting of the chairman of Honor Council, Residence Council, Orientation, president of the Independent Women's Council, WAA, Panhellenic and YW," said Miss Jones, "meets to discuss common problems from their organizations and on the campus. The recommendation came after a thorough investigation of various possibilities or a May Day program," she said.
