Show Boat Cast Is Announced

A large cast of both students and townspeople with extensive theatrical experience has been selected for the Carolina Playmakers' production of Show Boat, which is slated for presentation March 4 and 6 at Memorial Hall.

17 Visitors To Staff Carolina Summer Session, Says Phillips

UNC Summer Session Director Guy Phillips yesterday released the 1955 session announcement. Seventeen visiting staff members have been selected, from institutions in various parts of the country, to supplement the instruction provided by regular staff members. The students' activity program during the session will be directed by Roy Holsten, regular director of the program.

Summer session development throughout the nation indicates considerable increase in enrollment in the future, Phillips said. Indications are that more Korean veterans will be using summer session credits to speed up their college programs, and professional groups, including public school and college teachers, will increase because of the relationship of degree programs to increase in income, he said. Special content courses in the science fields, mathematics and English are being offered in the University's program for secondary teachers. These courses, designed to fit into the peculiar subject matter needs of teachers, are of graduate nature, and fit into the degree requirements which call for both professional education and professional subject matter credit.

The 16 Du Pont fellowships, amounting to $225 each plus tuition and fees, have been granted

Sen. Medford Coming

State Senator William Medford, above, will speak at the monthly dinner meeting of Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, tomorrow. Senator Medford, a graduate (1931) of UNC, represents Haywood County in the state Legislature. He is chairman of the Conservation and Development Committee, and as chairman accompanied Governor Hodges and the North Carolina delegation to Washington last week to ask the Secretary of the Interior for cancellation of the proposed Blue Ridge Parkway toll.

Abolish Senate?

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Dial-ec Senate will debate a bill calling for the abolition of the United States Senate.

According to Larry McElroy, president pro tem, proponents of the bill are expected to argue that the organization of the Senate is unfair to the larger states, and that a unicameral legislature would be more democratic.

McElroy said that the opponents of the measure are expected to contend that the Senate is necessary as part of our tripartite system of government.

The Di debates are open to all students, and McElroy invited any interested students to attend tonight's meeting.

to enable teachers to attend Summer Session. There are also 25 other scholarships available in the general area of teaching personnel, and a summer session loan fund is available to a limited extent to assist teachers and regular students who may need temporary financial help during the summer.

A number of institutes and conferences will be held on the campus during the summer. One of the most important of these, according to Phillips, will be the annual session of the Junior College Work Conference.

UP & SP Choose Candidates For Spring Campus Elections

UP Nominates Soph, Senior Class Leaders

By CHARLES JOHNSON

Eighty persons attended the University Party meeting last night as nominations for candidates for spring elections began.

Candidates for senior and sophomore class officers were nominated.

Those nominated for senior class officers were president, Ogburn Yates; vice-president, Ken Anderson; secretary, Judy Talley; treasurer, David Whitaker and social chairman, Kitty Coleman.

Candidates nominated for sophomore class officers were president, Jim Kinzey, vice-president Steve Phelps; secretary, Barbara Hunt; treasurer, George Johnson, and social chairman, Amy Morse.

After Kinzey was nominated, there arose a question. What constitutes a majority in the nominating policy of the University Party? The UP voted to retain the plurality method, which awarded the nomination to the one having the highest number of votes. The majority method requires that the winning nominee have more votes than the total of the votes of all the other candidates.

The plurality method was used only in the nomination of the sophomore class officers. The method used in the nomination of senior class officers required that the nominee have a complete majority.

Bill Sabiston, vice chairman of the party, gave a steering committee report. He announced that Laura Ervin had been elected secretary of the steering committee. Sabiston said the committee wanted him to stress the importance of the attendance of UP legislature members at legislative sessions. The committee felt that this would be one way to combat the "Student Party give-away programs," which usually occur before elections, Sabiston said.

Nominations for candidates for legislature seats in men's dorm and women's dorm districts will begin next week.

N. C. State Has 4,282 For Spring Term

RALEIGH, Feb. 21 — North Carolina State College's spring semester enrollment stands at 4,282 students, the college's Registration Office reported today.

Six Incumbents Are Included In SP Roster

By NEIL BASS

The Student Party met last night in a packed session — 100 persons — to name candidates for five legislative districts. Of the 13 vacant seats, six nominations were for incumbents.

Given the SP stamp of approval as nominees in dorm men's I were Al Laughinghouse and Ted Kemp; selected to run in dorm men's II were Jim Holmes and John Heath; nominated in dorm men's III were Sam Wells (incumbent) and Jerry Clark for one year seats, and Ray Long (incumbent) six months seat; in dorm men's IV were Tom Lambeth (incumbent), Harold Downing (incumbent) Wade Rhodes and Benny Craven; dorm women's districts, Sue Fink (incumbent), Donna Ashcraft and Jan Jarvis.

The nominations appeared to create little interest while candidates were being chosen for dorm men's I and II, as only two names were placed in the running for each, but matters became more controversial as other offices were opened.

The nominees, of which there were several newcomers to the SP political scene, heard a statement from Dave Reid, floor leader, outlining the duties of a SP legislator. Reid told the group that a place in the legislature offered the student "a wonderful opportunity to serve student government."

Don Geiger, party chairman, asked the newly-chosen candidates to sign a pledge stating that they would "wage an active campaign" and "support the party platform" even if they lost.

Describing the nominees, he voiced the opinion that they were the "finest list of candidates in the history of the University."

Legislature Sets Up Board For Complaints

The student Legislature has set up a complaints board.

The board, legislation for which was passed by last semester's Legislature, was created for students who have complaints concerning any part of University life, or of the University itself, according to spokesmen for the board.

The board will air complaints and then turn them over to the Executive Committee of student Legislature for action.

Composing the panel will be Bob Harrington, chairman, from dorm men's districts; Jack Hudson, from dorm men's; Ruth Jones, from dorm women's; and Bobbie Walker, from town women's.

The board will meet at least every two weeks, according to its bylaws. Meeting places will vary, according to Chairman Harrington.

First session will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Graham Memorial. Students with complaints are welcome.

Petition Author Levin Asks For Signed Rolls

Ron Levin, author of the pro-integration petition, has asked that all completed copies be turned in Friday morning.

A later date will be set for those petitions which are incomplete. Levin said yesterday, "The campaign is going fairly well. We estimate between six and 800 names at present; we want at least 1,500."

A table for signing the petition is in Y Court each morning from 12 noon and in the Y office all day.

Levin urged that anyone wishing to help should contact him at the Y Court or phone 2031.
