

HAPPENINGS ON THE HILL:

Pledge Weekends Find Carolina Students Socially Awake

By SUSAN ANDES
Pledge weekends and sorority initiations are the frequent topics of conversation these days around The Hill. Tri Deltas duly initiated their pledges earlier this week by presenting them with their crescent and stars; while the Pi Phi pledges will receive their golden arrow pins from their big sisters during initiation ceremonies today. The Washington and Duke Hotel in Durham was the scene of much merriment last night as Chi Phi pledges and their dates were presented at a formal dance. Dinner was served them beforehand; and today's events include a shipwreck party.

Newly-elected officers of Chi Phi are: Jack Stevens, Asheville, president; Roger Hubert, Portsmouth, Ohio, vice president; Bill Sanders, Asheboro, secretary, and Bill Warwick, Wilmington, treasurer.

I bet many white sheets and other odd assortments of apparel were used last night for the Roman toga party that the Phi Kaps had at the house. They will be hosts to the Tri Deltas at a party on Tuesday.

Along a more romantic vein several pinnings have taken place recently at the Sigma Nu house. These include John Stallings, Wilson to Sandy Benton, Wilson, Jim Hurley, Seaford, Del., to Walds Lou

New pledges include Charles Bolton, Rich Square; Abe Walston, Walstonburg; Bill Latham, Bethel; Lambert Hooper, Sylva; and Bill Street, New Bern.

The Theta Chis tell me that one of their fellas—Malcolm Harding of Yadkinville—recently pinned Barbara Alley, WC student from Burlington. Some of their new pledges include Jim Walsh, Lenoir; Bobby Barber, Wilmington, and Mike Padula, Hollywood, Fla.

SAE pledges gave their brother actives a party at the Schoolhouse on Thursday, but their weekend activities were vague; although they say they'll all be busy doing something 'r other. Pi Kappa Phi pledges are entertaining the actives tonight with a party, while Ken White, Charlotte, pinned Pat Warlick, a WC student recently. Pi Lam actives will take their troops to the Saddle Club in Durham tonight to do their partying. Sunday they'll be hosts at lunch for the Duke AE Phis. There won't be nary a female at the DU house this afternoon when the guys have their annual stag party.

A newly engaged KA couple are Allen Johnson, Ayden, to Shirley Simpson, Pi Phi from Gastonia. Some new pledges added to their roster are Bob Stator, Hendersonville; Phil Hamrick, Mount Holly; Jack Jarmon, Plymouth; Bill Hunt, Lebanon, Tenn., and Jim Cole, New Bern.

It's a busy weekend for the Kappa Sigs for 'all the chapters in North Carolina and South Carolina are meeting in Durham for an annual conclave. Tonight there will be a formal dinner and dance at the Washington Duke Hotel in Durham.

New Kappa Psi officers to be installed on Wednesday are Van King, Wilmington, president; Don Miller, Raleigh, vice president; Doc Perkins, South Boston, Va., secretary, and Frank Lowder, Albemarle, treasurer.

Those Lambda Chis have got parties up their sleeves again this weekend. Last night it was a party at th house and tonight they've named the Castle in Durham as their dancing spot.

Their new officers are Bill Westbrook, Charlotte, president; Bill Elder, Siler City, vice president; Willis Hannah, Gastonia, secretary; Thomas Watts, Bryson City, treasurer, and Tom Barclay, secretary, and Frank Lowder, Albemarle, treasurer.

Warren said that the Council was so impressed by the action of the Society that they called a meeting and turned student government over to the Phi and the Di.

Right after that beginning, according to Warren, all students were required to belong to one of the societies.
