

Sunbathing On The Porch: Spring's On The Way

By SUSAN ANDES

When heads and parts of girls' bodies may be seen on the dorm sun roofs, by passers-by from the street, that's a sure enough sign that spring is either here or pretty close to it.

So what could be more natural than for parties to be scheduled at Hogan's, and trips to the beach in the back of the minds of all?

The KAs have a party at Myrtle Beach on their agenda for the weekend; while the Lambda Chis had a beer party at Clearwater Lake planned for last night.

Carbett Stuart from Roanoke, Va., has been named the Lambda Chis outstanding pledge; while Harry Twisdale, from Halifax pinned Marilyn Hedrick from Lenoir this week. Also pinned is Curtis Lashley from Burlington, to Sissie Carlyle, Wake Forest coed from Burlington.

St. As have a toga party planned for tonight; while the Chi Phi will make Hogan's their party location. Pi Kappa Phis are having a cabin party at the Schoolhouse.

Tommy Doris, Wilson, and Jack Robinson, Littleton, are new Pika pledges. Also pinned is Pika John Dixon of Wilmington, to Nancy Bruce also of Wilmington.

Phi Kaps entertained with a party at the Saddle Club last night; but it will be sport clothes evening when they're at Hogan's tonight.

Wiley O'Neal of Fremont recently received the Phi Kap active service award. New pledges include: Phillip Blazer, Whitaker, Pa.; Charles Gaca, W. Mifflin, Pa.; Clarence Goins, Burlington; William Allen McGee, Charleston, S. C.; Giles E. Ring Jr., Camden, S. C. and Robert Henry Riggsbee.

The Pi Phis are mighty proud of their new officers elected this week. They are Ann Williams, Westfield, N. J., president; Jane Edwards, Chapel Hill, vice president; Eddie Rogers, Summerton, S. C., and Susan Quinn, Roanoke, Va. recording and corresponding secretaries respectively.

Mot Stockton and Frances Parham will keep the books and serve in treasurer's capacity; while Mary Grady Burnette is social chairman.

Pi Phis in conjunction with Greek week will entertain Tuesday night with a coffee break beginning at nine.

Thursday night they were guests of the Betas at a party at the Country Club.

KDs have announced that Linda Garris, Margaretsville, is their outstanding pledge; while Liz Floyd, Raleigh, and Erolyn Blount, Nashville, have won recognition for their scholarship record. The KDs will have a coffee break on Tuesday night; as will the Alpha Gams.

Initiation is in store for two sorority groups this weekend. Alpha Gams will have theirs Saturday in the Carolina Inn Ballroom, followed by their Feast of Roses, News of a pinning from their house is that of Ji Ji Rainwater, Springfield, Mo., to Vince Hoelischer, KA from Lynchburg, Va.

ADPis last night had a party with the Duke Phi Deltas at Turnage's in Durham. Also gathering there were the Carolina Phi Deltas who had invited the Duke APis to party with them.

Charles Lore, SPE from Lenoir, pinned Phylliss Sherrill, Salem student from Lenoir, recently. Also pinned are ZBT members Phillip Goodman, New Orleans, to Roeschelle Green, from New Orleans and a Tulane student; and Mike Weinman, Baltimore, to Sally Silvester, Baltimore.

ZBT new officers are: Al Resnick from Miami, Fla., reelected president. Bobby Hornik, Atlanta, Ga., vice president; Jerry Kahn, Atlanta, Ga., secretary; and Harry Reiss, Maplewood, N. J., treasurer.

At last weeks anniversary weekend they presented Phillip Kadis, Baltimore, with the pledge trophy; Phillip Adelsheim, Pittsburg, Pa., with the fraternity service award; Bobby Hoernik, Atlanta, Ga., with the fraternity scholarship pin and Jerry Oppenheimer, Birmingham, Ala., with the pledge scholarship award.

At the Phi Deltas' pledge weekend recently they honored Gordon Darnell of Murphy with a plaque for being the outstanding pledge. Bob Allison of Sylva received the scholarship plaque. A party at Morehead is on the agenda for several of their members this weekend.

The Chi Psis held their formal pledge dance at the Lodge last night; but will do their best partying tonight at the Country Club.

Initiation for the ADPis will take place tomorrow. One of their soon-to-be-active members, Nancy Carpenter, of Charlotte received a diamond engagement ring last week, from John Gregg, SAE senior at State, from Ft. Mill, S. C.

Zetas are planning a busy weekend for their pledges. Last night they had a party at the Schoolhouse; and tonight they will have a pledge dance and banquet at Smith Lake in Durham.

Sigma Nus have much planned for their pledges this weekend and next. Next week is their pledge weekend, but right now they're in the midst of work week. And that's all for now. So long!

entation was made tonight by George M. Stephens of Asheville, chairman of the Trustees' Committee on the Gardner Award.

Among those attending the seventh annual Gardner Award Dinner were Governor Hodges and Mrs. O. Max Gardner, widow of the late Governor and ambassador to the Court of St. James. President Gordon Gray of the Consolidated University presided. Over 625 persons including trustees, faculty members, and University administrative officials attended the event, held in the main ballroom of the State College Union Building.

Widely known for his teaching, administrative and research achievements, Dr. Metcalf is the author of nine books, an active member of 36 learned and professional societies, and is currently engaged in writing a 42-volume series of books on the Homoptera, an important group of insects.

A citation signed by Governor Hodges as chairman of the Board of Trustees and by Stephens as chairman of the Trustees' Committee on the Gardner Award was read at the dinner meeting and was presented to Dr. Metcalf. It said:

"Zeno Payne Metcalf, distinguished scientist, eminent scholar and devoted teacher... For half a century his life has been dedicated to the advancement of knowledge, his work has been linked inseparably with progress in the science of entomology."
