Lawmakers Recommend Cutting WUNC-TV Budget In Half

Student Budget Committee Favors Bill Raising Block Fees $5 Per Student; If Passed, Referendum Must Be Held

Legislature Will Receive Proposal

By NEIL BASS

The student Budget Committee, a presidentially-appointed body, yesterday voted to recommend to the student body that student fees be raised by $5.

The committee's recommendation will go to the student for approval. If the Legislature gives the proposal the go sign, then the student body will vote in a referendum to decide the final fate of the raise.

Of the proposed increase, amounting to $5 per student per year, $3 would go to Graham Memorial and $2 to student government.

ONE OPPOSES

According to Bill Formyduvall, one of the seven committee members present at the closed session, the committee felt student government and its agencies could not continue to operate without serious loss of efficiency unless a fee raise was instituted. Formyduvall was the sole committee member voting against the proposal.

John Zollicoffer, another of the committee members present at the meeting, said consensus of the group was that the present fee figure $6 per person per year (as compared to $20 per person per year at N. C. State) was just not enough to keep student government and the student union operating at their present levels.

According to Don Fowler, chairman of the committee, who was unable to attend the session because he "was in class," the meeting was called, not by Fowler, who has official authority as chairman to do so, but by Norwood Bryan, a member of the committee. Fowler is independent candidate for President.

FOWLER OPPOSES

Fowler's official statement was: "I am opposed to any fee raise at this time. I was unable to attend this meeting because I was in class. I do not feel that this is the time for a referendum on a student fee raise. This decision (the fee raise) is up to the student body and I will abide by their decision; however, since the state Legislature is still in session and is currently discussing a tuition raise, this would be an indication to them that the students favor a fee raise." With this positive stand the state Legislature might feel more inclined to increase our tuition and dorm rent."

According to Fowler, the meeting was called by Bryan with Fowler's consent, but he knew nothing of the action that the committee took.

McCURRY WANTS REFERENDUM

When Ed McCurry, the other student body presidential candidate, was notified of the committee's recommendation, he said he thought there should be a "referendum" before anything is done about a fee raise.

The student Constitution states that a referendum is necessary if the fees are raised higher than $20 per student per year.

The overall fee at this time is $18; therefore, a constitutional amendment will be required before fees can be raised.

So the eventual fate of the recommended raise, if it passes the student Legislature, will lie in the hands of the students in a referendum.

ZBT, ADpi At Top In Academics

Ray Jefferies, assistant to the Dean of Student Affairs, released yesterday the scholastic averages and relative rank for sororities and fraternities for the fall semester of 1954.

Sororities ranked as follows: Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Delta Delta, Pi Beta Phi, Chi Omega, Alpha Gamma and Kappa Delta.

Zeta Beta Tau led fraternities in scholastic averages. ZBT was followed by Beta Theta Pi, Delta Upsilon, Delta Psi, Sigma Nu, Pi Lambda Phi, Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Tau Epsilon Phi, Zeta Psi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Chi Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa Sigma, Pi Kappa Alpha, Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi.

Averages are computed on the basis of rosters of membership as submitted by the sororities and fraternities. Active members and pledges were included.

Legislature Approved Last Raise

The last fee raise for students was passed by the student Legislature in February of 1954.

The Legislature passed the block fee raise of $3 unanimously. There was, however, opposition to last year's action. Two students, Raymond M. Taylor and Malcolm Cox, said they were plain country boys "from the eastern part of the state" and felt the bill should be defeated, or at the extreme, put before the student body in a referendum.

Last year's action by the student Legislature raised the student fees from $15 to $18 per year.

Y To Talk On Bills Now In U. S. Limelight

The YMCA Social Responsibility Commission will sponsor an Effective Citizenship Forum this afternoon dealing with current, significant legislation now in Congress, according to John Reibel, secretary of the Y.

The Barter Theatre of Virginia will open its current season on Monday, June 13.

FOR LAST TUESDAY'S ELECTION:

Expense Accounts Turned In; Fowler Used 'Handmade Kite'

By JACKIE GOODMAN

Total expenses of the three presidential candidates during their campaigns were $24.47 for Don Fowler, $23.12 for Manning Muntzing and $22.58 for Ed McCurry.

These figures were obtained from accounts which candidates handed in to the Elections Board.

The total amount allowed to a presidential candidate is $30.

Fowler, an independent candidate, listed 150 cards, 500 sheets of "Push for Fowler," 12 handmade posters and one handmade kite as his main publicity items. He also had glue, 5 jars of tempera paint, staples, thumbtacks, wrapping paper, flour paste, string and one piece of lumber in his itemized account.

Manning Muntzing, the Student Party presidential candidate in Tuesday's election, listed 105 posters, materials used to paint signs and a contribution to candidates' pool as his expenses.

The account of Ed McCurry, University Party presidential candidate, listed paper and labor for football programs, 1,000 Multilith sheets giving his record, paint for banners, 100 cardboard posters, 100 paper posters, colored marking pencils and hardware tacks as his expense items.

The accounts of the two vice-presidential candidates, Jack Ste-

SENATOR HUBERT HUMPHREY, DEMOCRAT FROM MINNESOTA
...to talk on United States foreign policy tonight

Humphrey's Schedule

Here is Senator Humphrey's schedule on the campus.

Director of Student Activities Roy Holsten and Carolina Forum members Joel Fleishman, Jim Turner and Tom Lambeth will meet the Senator at Raleigh-Durham Airport. The Senator's airplane, from Washington, is scheduled to arrive at 5:43 p.m.

From the airport the party will go to the Carolina Inn, where Senator Humphrey will "freshen up," according to the Forum.

Banquet will be held with student leaders in the Inn's television room at 6:30.

Senator Humphrey will deliver his speech in Hill Hall at 8 p.m.

A public reception in Graham Memorial will follow the speech. Senator Humphrey is scheduled to leave Chapel Hill for Washington at 10:45 p.m.

Democrat Humphrey To Talk At 8 In Hill Hall

Democratic Senator Hubert Humphrey will speak here tonight on United States foreign policy. Senator Humphrey will speak at 8 p.m. in Hill Hall. The Carolina Forum, student organization, will sponsor his talk.

Senator Humphrey has been a member of Congress since 1948. He is presently serving on several committees and is a member of the Democratic Steering Committee in the Senate. He is a supporter of the Marshall Plan, Point Four program, Reciprocal Trade policy, Mutual Security and NATO.

Humphrey, elected from Minnesota, is a leading spokesman for Midwest agriculture. He has been a businessman, government administrator, political science professor and municipal executive.

Candidates Fowler & McCurry For Limited Governmental Secrecy

Both candidates for student body president have come out in different ways for limited secrecy in student government.

Don Fowler, independent candidate, said, "Students should always be informed of the happenings of student government." He said all group meetings from Legislature to Interfraternity Council should be open.

The Daily Tar Heel has been barred from IFC meetings since

News Bureau's Madry Back In N.C. Hospital

An attack of the North Carolina Memorial Hospital said that Robert W. (Bob) Madry, head of the UNC News Bureau, had a "fair day" yesterday.

Madry entered the hospital on March 22 after falling down the steps of his home. He had been in the hospital earlier during the year suffering from hypertension and kidney trouble.

The Interfraternity Council, according to the student Constitution, is a part of student government.

However, Fowler said, in case of executive sessions of a group, "the proceedings should be made public." This means, Fowler said, the press and/or public should not be allowed in the executive meetings unless the group is willing.

Ed McCurry, University Party candidate, attacked the problem from a different angle. He divided all student groups into two divisions: those which use compulsory student fee money, and those "of a private nature with members from and representing only a part of the campus."

"I feel," he said, "any organization which receives or spends money from compulsory student fees (with the exception of the

Motion Approved 9-8 After Debate

RALEIGH, March 31 (AP) — The Joint Appropriations subcommittee today cut by 50 percent the appropriation of the University of North Carolina's Educational TV station.

Educational Television touched off a lively debate in the subcommittee. Everyone present seemed to feel that some reduction should be made in the TV budget, and the argument revolved around the amount to slice.

As recommended by the Advisory Budget commission, the state Educational Radio and Television Commission would get $4.700 for the biennium. This amount was not touched by the subcommittee.

The Budget Commission had approved the requests of the Television Commission for $434,800 for the biennium to operate the three-branch studio TV operation at the three branches of the University in Chapel Hill, Raleigh and Greensboro. This is the figure that was chopped in two by the legislators, who recommended that it be replaced by increased receipts.

The motion to cut the TV budget in half was approved by a 9-8 vote after a lengthy argument which ranged from the value of television farm programs to the effectiveness of recently televised sessions of the General Assembly itself.

One or two legislators, who cannot be named under subcommittee rules, seemed to feel that the television appropriation should be stripped out of the budget completely. Others pushed for a one-third reduction, rather than the one-half proposal.

A major point in the argument for the lesser cut was that the industries and individuals in the state who contributed the money to establish the TV station would interpret a sharp budget cut as a slap in the face.

Educational TV Chairman Has Statement

Gordon Gray, president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, and William D. Carmichael Jr., vice-president, had no statement to make yesterday on the recommendation of the Joint Appropriations subcommittee to cut the Advisory Budget Commission's recommended budget for WUNC-TV 50 percent.

"I am disappointed at the cut in the appropriations recommended by the Advisory Budget Commission and by both Governor Umstead and Governor Hodges," said Irving Carlyle, chairman of the North Carolina Educational Radio and Television Commission, yesterday. "I am still grateful that the Joint Appropriations Committee has seen fit to include educational television in their recommendations," he said.

Carlyle said, "We have seen enough of WUNC-TV to know of its great potentials for the good of the state, and I hope that this means that educational television in the state will go forward." He added, "The way it has been conducted up to this point is a great credit to the state of North Carolina and the faculty men and students of the Greater University who have furnished most of its programs."

Robert F. Schenkkan, director of TV for the Consolidated University, concerning the cut recommendation said, "I had hoped we would get the whole package," adding, "We will just have to make do with what we get."

He said, "It does indicate that they think enough of (WUNC-TV) to give it some money . . ."

DTH Sets Sunday Editions

The Daily Tar Heel will come closer to being a daily newspaper Sunday.

On that day, the newspaper will resume six-day-a-week publication. The Daily Tar Heel will be published every Tuesday through Sunday.

"We seem to have weathered the financial storm caused by insufficient appropriations from the student Legislature," said Editor Charles Kuralt yesterday. "Advertising income has been sufficient to enable us to resume publication Tuesday through Sunday; we are pleased to be able to return to a six-day week."

Editor Kuralt said "we hope the Legislature's appropriations this month will be enough to insure a regular six-day Daily Tar Heel publication next year."

Managing Editor Fred Powledge listed three new policies in regards to the Sunday paper.

Presidential campaign statements for the Tuesday runoff, he said, must be in by 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Sunday will be the last statements will be run.

Powledge said deadline for any material to appear in Sunday issues must be in The Daily Tar Heel office by 3 p.m. of the preceding Saturday. Deadline for all other days is 3:30 p.m.

The News of the Week in Review in Pictures, he said, will be run Sundays. The feature, which Powledge said was "being received well," formerly ran on Saturdays.

Kraar, Yoder Polled Near 1,743 Votes

Incomplete totals show that Louis Kraar and Ed Yoder, newly elected editors of The Daily Tar Heel, polled something like 1,743 votes during this week's election.

The co-editors ran without opposition.

The figure would be a complete total if the Elections Board had registered the ballots cast for Kraar and Yoder in Scuttlebutt voting district.

However, according to Claude Pope of the board, the members were pushed for time and since there was "no question" about the two's being elected, the Scuttlebutt tabulation was not recorded.

The vote by districts for the joint-editors was:

Dorm-men's I, 169; dorm men's II, 179; dorm men's III, 153; dorm men's IV, 216; dorm men's V, 192; dorm women's 420; Gerrard Hall, 185; big and little fraternity courts, 32; Victory Village, 43; Lenoir Hall, 97 and Infirmary, 7.

Absentee Ballots

Miss Patsy Daniels, chairman of the Elections Board, announced yesterday that anyone who wishes to vote in the runoff election on an absentee ballot may see her and obtain a ballot.

She said that in reference to the fact that some students will be leaving before Tuesday for practice teaching.
