

Rain Wrecks Diamond Slates Of Local Nines

State Squad Unable To Play At Home Yet

DURHAM, N. C., April 15 (AP)—Rain prevented Duke and North Carolina from staging their first baseball meeting of the 1955 season here today but they will try to get it in here this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The freshman game between the two institutions at Chapel Hill was so postponed until today.

Other schedule changes made necessary due to rain were announced by the Big Four Statistical Bureau today.

The Duke-State varsity game, lined out at Raleigh on Wednesday, will be played there on Thursday, April 21 and the frosh encounter which was rained out on the same day at Duke will also be played on April 21.

RALEIGH, April 15 (AP)—The North Carolina State College baseball squad can't beat the weather to get the season opened on their home field here.

The N. C. State squad has a game on tap today with South Carolina. If the weather clears, the game will finally get the home season started.

COACH WALTER RABB AND HIS STAR SOPHOMORE

... Jim Rough picks up the tips of victory from the Boss.

Rough Star Of UNC Hurlers, Gets Toughest Assignments

By MARSHALL WALDMAN

About a month and a half ago, Coach Walter Rabb and Bunn Hearn were looking over their crop of sophomore hurlers to try and pick a couple that they could count on to bolster the thin Tar Heel pitching staff. Rabb pointed out toward the mound where Jim Rough was tossing batting practice, and said, "There's the boy who I think is going to help us quite a bit. He's got a real good fast ball and a sharp curve."

Since that day during spring training when Rough was throwing darts at the Tar Heel batters, Jimmy has started just about all of the important games for the Tar Heels. Rabb said that all he needed was a little competition and so far, Rough has started against Rollins, Ohio State, Michigan State, Wake Forest and N. C. State. Pitching against teams of this calibre should give Rough the experience he needs and his physical as well as natural ability should make him a future Carolina star on the diamond.

ROUGH WAS born back in 1935 in Rosemont, Pa. which makes him only nineteen years old. For a teen ager, he already has a world of baseball knowledge behind him. When Jim was seven years old, he came to Chapel Hill where his father was holding down the post of Commander of the Pre-Flight Training School. Rough became the mascot of the baseball team that sported such names as Ted Williams, Johnny Pesky, Johnny Sain, Joe Coleman and many more that have worn major league uniforms.

Jimmy's pre-college days were spent at Haverford Prep in Pennsylvania. During a three-year span at Haverford, Rough won 27 games and lost only five. He was one of Haverford's few three-letter winners as he also captained the basketball team and was an All-League football selection.

DURING HIS spare time, Rough pitched for the Dartmouth Arrows, a semi-professional club. On the same team were Johnny Years, the former State All-American, and Lynwood Holt, who currently plays for Wake Forest and was an All-Conference choice last year.

Last season, Rough was the top hurler for the freshman aggregation as he led his team to the Freshman Big Four Championship. During the season he beat Wake Forest twice, 3-0 and 2-1. He also notched victories over Duke and State.

LAST SUMMER, Rough decided to try the Nova Scotia Circuit and notched nine wins against five losses. His biggest win came in a 17-inning thriller when he went all the way, yielded five hits and won 2-1.

In addition to his activity on the baseball diamond, Rough also did well for himself on the gridiron. He played freshman football at Carolina and wound up the season as the high scoring end, Jimmy then had to make a decision to play baseball or football and he

Harriers Face Defending ACC Champions

By RAY LINKER

Thirty-two Carolina trackmen embark shortly after noon today for College Park, Md., where they will tangle with the Maryland Terps in a dual meet tomorrow.

The Terps, defending conference champs, will be out to avenge a 36-35½ setback handed them by the Tar Heels in the indoor conference run.

Both teams have two dual meet victories to their credit as against no losses. Carolina handily defeated N. C. State and Princeton while Maryland has turned back Virginia and the Quantico Marines.

Against the Tar Heels, the Terps will be especially strong in the 440-yard dash, the mile relay, the pole vault and the high jump. Carolina will have a decided edge in both hurdles, the javelin and broad jump. The other events should prove to be quite interesting contests.

Burke Wilson, indoor 440 champ who won the 440 in the Quantico meet in 49 seconds, will pace the Marylanders in this event, with able assistance from Joe Hemler, who was second in both the indoor and outdoor conference meets, and David Leas and Bob Messersmith. The same quartet will comprise the mile relay team, an event they won indoors in 3:32.3.

MARYLAND'S MEL Schwarz copped the indoor pole vault with a jump of 13', ahead of Tar Hells Richard Waters and Charlie Yarborough and Terp Jack Duval, who all tied for second place at 12'6". Yarborough jumped 13' against State on April 2, while Waters has been hampered since before the indoor meet with a leg injury. (Waters cleared 13' on two occasions while performing for the frosh last year.)

Sophomore George Hogan and junior Bob Peetzman will lead the Terps in the high jump. Hogan cleared 6' indoors to take third in the conference behind UNC soph Ken Bryant, who jumped 6' 1" for second.

Terrapins Ron Stubin and Dave Fellows are not expected to give Tar Heels Claude Rhule and Charlie Scott much of run in the two hurdle events. The homesteading Terps will also be weak in the javelin, as Jay Ricks will have to make an all out effort if he is to finish ahead of UNC's three aces — Steve Marcinko, Bob Wilson, and Bob Bryan.

YARBOROUGH SHOULD have little trouble with Ed Lloyd and Messersmith in the broad jump. Wilson will give the Tar Heels strength behind Yarborough in this event.

Both teams have a host of distance runners who have won many honors. In 1954, Terp Ben Good was both the indoor two-mile champion and the outdoor mile winner. He missed this term's indoor season because of a virus infection, but will be ready to go at full steam when meet time comes tomorrow. Senior Larry Faass has long been a mainstay in the Terp distance picture. He was indoor conference mile champion and finished third in the conference outdoor mile in 1954.

In the recent indoor meet, Faass took thirds in both the 880 and the mile. Burr Grim, a Maryland sophomore who beat UNC's Jim Beatty in the freshman indoor three-fourths mile in 1954, will probably lead the Terp cause in the mile run tomorrow. The UNC ace has beaten the Maryland runner in every race since then, including two cross country runs and the ACC indoor mile here recently. Carl Party is another strong Maryland runner in the twomile.

BEATTY, WINNER of the two-mile as well as the mile on the indoor oval, may run both events tomorrow, along with Bob Barden and Glenn Nanney in the two. Boyd Newnam may be used in the mile by the Tar Heels, but Newnam is expected to perform best in the 880 against Terps Paul Hower and Ray Horsley.

It is not known exactly what events each distance runner from the two schools will run tomorrow, but each may be put to good use in more than one race.

IN THE OTHER events, Roger Morris of Carolina, defending conference discus thrower and runner-up in the shot, should have little trouble taking two first places over mediocre Marylander Gene Dyson, while the UNC dash men may have their hands full with Dennis Abdalla and soph Wes Baynes. However, UNC's Don Mitchell edged Abdalla for second place in the 60-yard dash in the Indoor Games.

Jim Bynum, Larry McMullen, Ed Sutton, and Jay Zimmerman will give the Tar Heels strength in the dashes behind Mitchell.

UNC-Duke Washed Out; Play Today In Durham

Yesterday afternoon's scheduled diamond battle between North Carolina and Duke was postponed because of rain and wet grounds, but it has been re-slated for today at 3:30 o'clock in Durham.

Tar Heel Tom Mautsby will probably throw for Carolina with either Hal Turner or Tom Blackburn getting the Duke chore. Blackburn tossed a no-hit, no-run job in the Dixie Baseball Tournament against Rollins.

On the local scene today, the Carolina lacrosse squad meets Virginia at 3:30 at Navy Field and the UNC tennis teams hosts Maryland on the varsity courts at 3:00.

Va. Will Be Here In Lacrosse

By AL KORSCHUN

Co-captains Toby Haynesworth and Steve Trimble will lead an underdog Tar Heel lacrosse team into action here today against Virginia at 3:30 on Navy Field.

The Tar Heels will be gunning for the Cavaliers primarily to avenge an 18-0 shellacking which they suffered at the hands of the Virginians last year, but to also attempt to knock the high-riding Cavaliers, victors in their first three encounters, from the unbeaten ranks.

The team from the Old Dominion State, under new coach Bob Sandell, who was a two time All-American at Johns Hopkins University, won't be as strong as previous nationally ranked Virginia teams have been. Carolina coach Art Greenbaum optimistically believes that if his newly revised midfield, which has been strengthened by several changes in the lineup, can run and play on an equal par with the Virginia midfield, the Tar Heels will make the game very close.

IN ORDER to add depth and strength to his midfield, Greenbaum has lined up two practically equal teams, starting Dick Baker, Mike Weinman, and Sherry Smith in the first midfield, and backing them up with Haynesworth, Joe Converse, and Jim Sturdivant in the second midfield. To round out his starting 10, Greenbaum will start Jack Spooner, Wilbur Jones, and Hal Taylor at the attack, Trimble, Ronnie Current, and Al Bryant at the defensive positions, and Thorne Walker at goalie.

However, The Tar Heels will have their work cut out for them if they are to be the first UNC lacrosse team to beat a Virginia team since the sport was revived here in 1949. The Cavalier squad is loaded with experienced Baltimore players, practically all of whom have played lacrosse for a number of years. In addition to this, looking back on previous performances, the visitors easily defeated the same Williams College team which drubbed Carolina 10-2 only last week.
