Coordinating Group Created To Erase Conflicts In UNC Events; Compiles Calendar

A new Campus Recreation Coordinating Council, which has as its purpose the elimination of conflicts in scheduling campus activities, has been formed. Michael Epstein, junior from Middletown, Conn., is chairman of the council.

Tommy Smoot, sophomore from Greenville, was named vice-president, and Miss Ancy Hoover, junior from Concord, was elected secretary.

The CRCC is comprised of representatives from various agencies promoting campus recreation and will serve as an advisory capacity to the Dean of Student Activities, according to Epstein.

The new chairman said the Council, organized during the past semester, anticipates accomplishing the following goals:

(1) "To serve in an advisory capacity to the Dean of Student Activities;

(2) "To develop cooperation among all groups and organizations interested in promoting and providing campus recreation programs and services;

(3) "To encourage the coordination of these agencies in order that each may more effectively meet the recreation needs of the students;

(4) "To study and appraise the recreation resources and needs of the campus;

(5) "To plan for the maximum use of each facility;

(6) "To eliminate duplication of services and activities by serving as a clearinghouse for ideas and recommendations."

Epstein pointed out that the council has no power over the activities of any agency or organization on campus and cannot conduct recreation programs or legislate in matters that are within the province of any other group.

"The purposes of this group," he said, "is to coordinate the activities of campus recreation agencies, to advise the Dean of Student Activities in matters dealing with student recreation needs and to stimulate new ideas and programs which will enrich campus living."

The CRCC will compile a calendar of weekly events which will appear weekly in The Daily Tar Heel.

Hester Is New Frosh Camp Chief

Scotty Hester, rising senior from Reidsville, has been elected director of the 1955 Freshman Camp.

Hester has been an active leader in Freshman Camp for the past two years, and he attended the fall convocation as a freshman. His immediate aim is the coordination of the various committees connected with planning the program.

Heads of planning committees include Bob Leonard, Dan Southerland, Jerry Mayo, Stewart Colson and Mark Cherry.

Sociologists Slate Meeting

Alpha Kappa Delta, honorary sociology fraternity, will present Dr. F. Stuart Chapin, former chairman of the University of Minnesota department of sociology, at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in 407 Alumni Building.

Act Debaters Finish Series On Red China

The second annual Atlantic Coast Debate Tournament concluded its events with the announcement of results last Saturday.

In the affirmative division of debating on the question, Resolved: "That the United States Should Extend Diplomatic Recognition to the Communist Government of China," Duke University won first place with the best win-lose record in the four rounds of debate. The UNC team of Miss Donna Ashcraft and Bev Webb tied for second with Wake Forest, South Carolina and Virginia.

In the negative division there was a tie for first place between South Carolina and Virginia, with UNC's team of Miss Carol Dickman and Forbes Ramsay placing second. Wake Forest placed third in the division.

In the affirmative division of the subsidiary tournament, the UNC team of Miss Anne Huffman and Miss Virginia Agnew tied for first place with Duke. University of Virginia placed second, with a tie between the UNC team of Dave Burrows and Sonny Evans and South Carolina for the third place slot.

In the negative division, there was a tie between the UNC team of Dave Lieberman and Charles Katzenstein and Duke for first place. University of Virginia and Wake Forest tied for second, and South Carolina placed third.

In the after dinner speaking contest, Miss Marjorie Thomas of Wake Forest placed first. Her speech was entitled "Communism in the Girls' Dorms?" Bill Parsons of Virginia placed second with "The Essentials of A Debater," and Sonny Evans of UNC placed third with a speech entitled "Resolved: That the United States Should Extend Diplomatic Recognition of the Confederate Government of Dixie."

In the extempore speeches, which were all concerned with the aspect of contemporary education, speakers from Wake Forest and South Carolina tied for first place. Dave Burrows of UNC tied for second place with the University of Virginia speaker.

Dr. J. Jeffrey Auer of the University of Virginia was named director of the Atlantic Coast Forensic Conference in a meeting of the coaches and debate directors last Friday.

The conference concluded the year's activities for the Carolina Debate Squad. The Debate Council will meet tomorrow afternoon to elect officers for the coming year.

Cited For Scholarship, Leadership, Character

Miss Jane Cocke, UNC junior from Asheville, has been named winner of the second annual Jane Craig Gray Memorial Award given by Beta Chi Chapter of Kappa Delta Sorority to the outstanding junior class woman.

Presentation of the award was made last night by Dean C. P. Spruill of the General College in special ceremonies in Graham Memorial Lounge, with Miss Cocke the honoree at a reception following.

The Award was established by the Beta Chi Chapter in memory of the late wife of UNC President Gordon Gray. Mrs. Gray was initiated into the chapter as an alumna in 1950.

Selection for the honor is based on "high scholarship, leadership and character," according to the citation read by Dean Spruill.

Miss Cocke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Cocke of Asheville, attended Greensboro College, where she was active in student government. Her activities at UNC include membership in the Women's Residence Council, a dormitory council, YWCA and orientation committees. She is vice-president of Delta Delta sorority, secretary of the University Party and YWCA president for 1955-56.

Dean Katherine Carmichael represented the women students of the University at the ceremony. Among Kappa Delta Alumnae who assisted at the reception were Mrs. Louise Burns, Mrs. Kay Kyser and Mrs. W. D. Carmichael.

The ceremonies were attended by students and faculty, as well as numerous friends of the Gray family from throughout the State.

The Award Committee which made the selection included Dean Carmichael, Ray Jeffries, assistant dean of students affairs; Tom Creasy, retiring student body president; Miss Luanne Thornton, retiring chairman of women's orientation; Miss Nancy Whisnant, retiring chairman of the Women's Honor Council, and Miss Carol Webster, last year's award winner.

Miss Still's Recital Was 'Delightful' One

Last Sunday evening, in one of the delightful informal recitals organized by the Graham Memorial Activities Board, Miss Marjorie Still, a talented young pianist, afforded us an opportunity to judge her growth as an artist by offering a well-chosen program.

Her first presentation was Couperin's "La Visionnaire," one of those rarely heard works of this early French master. Marjorie's comprehension of the character of this music, her careful use of the pedals and the harpsichord-like tone she obtained from a modern grand piano were surprisingly good and her playing of Couperin was neat and clear, as well as satisfying, all of these prime conditions for a good performance.

The piece de resistance was Beethoven's Piano Sonata in C Major, Opus 53, known as the "Waldstein." Miss Still's approach to this monumental work was one of humility, coupled with confidence and full understanding of what Beethoven intended. Good tempo, perfect clarity and fine coordination were characteristic in the first movement, Allegro con Brio, which flowed smoothly and poetically to the end. Due regard to proper tempo initiated

Law School Holds Its Spring Fete

"The good lawyer, in every age and time, remains a student," said Dean Henry Brandis Jr. after presenting the scholarship awards at the recent annual spring banquet of the University Law School.

"The absolutely indispensable element of good scholarship is a good student," said Brandis. "This," he said referring to the awards, "is a time for a heartfelt 'well done' from the faculty to those students who have developed and demonstrated their own capacities."

Urging them to accept and live with the law, Brandis told the students, "Today the horizons of law are unlimited."

The Block Improvement Award, given to the senior who in the opinion of the faculty has made the most constant improvement in his academic work from the time of his enrollment to the end of his fifth semester, was presented to Robert C. Vaughn Jr. of Winston-Salem.

Covering The Campus

There will be a meeting of orientation counselors and women orientation advisors tonight at 7:30 in Carroll Hall.

The problem of "Integration in Education, Especially As Pertains To Our Local School Situation" will be the subject of a public forum to be held at 6 p.m. Friday at the Watts Street Baptist Church in Durham.

Firecracker? What Are You Talking About?

According to a resident of Smith Dormitory, a firecracker was thrown at the building, near enough to be heard under one window, Sunday morning between 1 and 1:30 a.m.

When the housemother, Mrs. Sedalia Gold, heard the noise, the resident reported, she called the police.

Next a second firecracker was said to have exploded inside the building. It was found on the stairs from the second to the third floors.

Girls were muttering fears of an impending party raid, engineered from the inside. A few voices declared they suspected the presence of men in the dormitory.

In the midst of all this, a fire drill was organized. All the girls left the building. It was reported that the police arrived when the girls were all out on the lawn.

Mrs. Gold denied there had been any fireworks at Smith, although she did say there was a fire drill. Asked if there was any trouble Saturday night, she replied, "I don't want to perjure myself."

The police said they had no record of a call from Smith.
