

WEATHER

Mostly sunny and a little warmer today, with expected high of 82.

The Daily Tar Heel

DOOMS DAY

Editors discuss doomsday, buffalo students on page 2.

VOL. LVII NO. 152

Complete (P) Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1955

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES TODAY

General Assembly Gets $640 Million Appropriations Bill, Including UNC Out-Of-State Students' Tuition Raise

Tuition Bill In Assembly

The appropriations bill which reached the floor of the North Carolina House of Representatives yesterday after four months of study in committee includes a tuition raise for non-resident students at all state-supported colleges and for resident students of some smaller schools.

The tuition raise, which would increase the amount now paid by out-of-state students at the three branches of the Consolidated University by $140 per year, will not apply to non-resident students attending state-supported schools on scholarships unless the bill is amended by either the House or the Senate.

According to the University Record, the out-of-state tuition for UNC is $360 per year.

The proposed non-resident tuition raises affecting other schools are $50 at Winston-Salem, Elizabeth City and Fayetteville State Teachers' Colleges. Together with the proposed $140 hike for the Consolidated University's three branches would bring in an additional $1,027,742 for the biennium.

The increases are slated to go into effect at the start of the next biennium in July unless amendments are made by the House or Senate.

MAYOR ROBERT WAGNER OF NEW YORK CITY

Carolina Forum brings him here tonight

MAYOR OF NEW YORK CITY:

Wagner Talks At 8:30

Mayor Robert Wagner Jr. of New York City will speak here tonight.

Mayor Wagner's talk will be sponsored by the Carolina Forum, which brings to the campus political and other leaders. The speech will start at 8:30 p.m. in Hill Hall, and will be followed by a question and answer period and reception in Graham Memorial.

Graham Memorial Director Jim Wallace will introduce Mayor Wagner.

Mayor Wagner, elected to his position in November of 1953 by a plurality of more than 300,000 votes, is the youngest man to hold the mayorship, and one of the youngest mayors in the nation.

Wagner was born in 1910 and has been in public office since 1937, when he was elected to the New York State Assembly, with time out for service in the Air Force.

He was graduated from Yale, studied business administration at Harvard and later attended Yale Law School.

Wagner won the bitterly-contested Democratic primary election for mayor from incumbent Vincent Impellitteri in the summer of 1953, and came out on top in the three-cornered race for mayor against a Republican and Liberal candidate that November.

He revised the New York City Civil Service Commission, has given New York its largest police force in the city's history and has named a Port of New York Council to assist in promoting commerce and the expansion of the facilities of the Port of New York.

Grail Officers Named

The Order of the Grail yesterday announced that Ed McCurry, junior from Shelby, has been chosen delegate for the coming year.

Luther Hodges Jr., sophomore from Leaksville, was named scribe, while Gil Ragland, junior from Oxford, was chosen exchequer, and Jim Exum, junior from Snow Hill was named vice-exchequer.

The Grail's officers for the past year have been Osborne Ayscue, delegate; Ed Patterson, scribe; Ed McCurry, exchequer and Johnny Medlin, vice-exchequer.

Hitler & Friends Set Germany Back—Weyl

"Adolph Hitler and his political party set Germany back at least 50 years and placed that country in a position where it will never again rise to be a world power," a noted mathematician said here Monday.

Professor Hermann Weyl, a native of Germany and a citizen of the United States since 1939, was here to speak before the UNC and the Duke University Chapters of the Society of the Sigma Xi. He spoke on "Practice, Theory and Magic in Numbers."

Dr. Weyl, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics at the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton, N. J., and often described as the greatest living mathematician, was a personal friend of the late Dr. Albert Einstein. He had worked with Dr. Einstein from time to time during the past 40 years and stated that Einstein's death "was a shock to the science world."

Dr. Weyl, often described as the greatest living mathematician, said he was considering leaving Germany to live in the United States when two things happened that led him to America. "In 1933 the Institute for Advanced Study at Princeton was organized and I was asked to join it and about this same time Hitler took over the government of Germany," he explained.

Dr. Weyl said it was impossible for scholars in Germany to have any academic freedom under Hitler's rule, and that intellectuals who defied the regime were imprisoned and put to death.

Exhibited In Library

The University Library is now exhibiting a scale model of the Monastery of Cluny situated in Burgundy, France. Included in the exhibition are plans, drawings and pictures of the excavated monastery.

Debate Starts Today

RALEIGH, May 3—(AP)—An appropriations bill authorizing state spending of about 640 million dollars for the next two fiscal years reached the House floor today.

The Joint Appropriations Committee approved the budget last week after four months of study.

The appropriations bill was placed on the House calendar for debate tomorrow. Rep. J. K. Doughton of Allegheny, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, reported the bill to the House floor.

The budget recommended by the Governor and the Advisory Budget Commission called for expenditures of about 637 million. The Appropriations Committee made changes—additions and reductions—which brought the figure to 640 million.

Highway fund expenditures were raised by almost four million. The general fund was decreased by more than $1,115,000.

Cuts in the general fund budget included reductions in supervisory instructional services and the child health program in the public schools, and sharp reductions in state spending for travel, printing and binding, and merit salary increments for state workers not under the State Personnel Act.

Upward revisions included a half million for support of indigent patients in four county-supported tuberculosis sanatoriums, and half million for five state teachers' colleges. More than $400,000 was added to the budget of Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

A constitutional amendment for annual General Assembly sessions, revived after an unfavorable vote, found the strength to pass the House and go to the Senate.

If the Senate approves it, the proposal will be submitted to a vote of the people in the next general election.

The House vote today for the measure was 74-33 on second reading, and 73-36 on third reading. Constitutional amendments require a three-fifths majority, or 72 votes, to pass the House.

On its first test last Wednesday, the bill missed the necessary majority by three votes. However, the House reversed its vote the following day and set it for further action.

At present the Legislature meets every other year. Supporters contended annual sessions would make it easier to deal with fiscal problems, while opponents claimed annual sessions would give rise to a class of "professional legislators" wealthy enough to afford the trip to Raleigh each year.

Annual sessions are held by legislatures of a number of states, including neighboring South Carolina.

The constitutional amendment for annual legislative sessions was introduced by Rep. David Clark of Lincoln, who sponsored a similar bill in the 1953 Legislature. It failed to pass the House by a narrow margin.

Under the proposal, legislators would still be elected for terms of two years. Committee assignments and other organizational work would be completed at the first session after their election. The second session would deal solely with financial matters unless a joint resolution was adopted to take up other legislation.

Recipient Of Jane Gray Award At Ceremony

The recipient of the 1955 Jane Craig Gray award for outstanding junior coed, Miss Jane Cocke, is shown at right with President Gordon Gray and Miss Martha May, president of Kappa Delta Sorority. Miss Cocke won the award on the basis of scholarship, leadership and character. The award is given annually in memory of the late Jane Craig Gray, wife of the Consolidated University president. Mrs. Gray was a member of Kappa Delta.—Henley photo.

JURGENSEN TO DELIVER:

Humanities Lecture Tonight

Prof. Kai Jurgensen of the UNC Dramatic Art Dept. will give the Spring Humanities Faculty Lecture tonight at 8 o'clock in Carroll Hall.

Dr. Raymond Adams of the English Dept., Lecture Committee member, announced yesterday that Jurgensen will speak on "The Crimes Against Ibsen."

Jurgensen, who has collaborated in the translation of 11 Ibsen plays, some of them produced nationally, will discuss what has happened to Ibsen in the process of translation into English.

He will show the effect of "Ibsen's being presented to the American theater by people who tampered with his plays and by those Ibsen-worshippers who refused to alter the plays at all."

The lecture will be one of the quarterly series held for students, faculty and townspeople.

A member of the Dramatic Art faculty since 1944, Professor Jurgensen worked with Prof. Robert F. Schenkkan in translating the 11 plays.

His translation of "Peer Gynt" was used in the National Theatre and Academy's New York production, with the late John Garfield taking the leading part, and has been used also in a Carolina Playmakers production.

Press Banquet Set

The University Press Club's annual awards banquet next Tuesday night at The Pines Restaurant will be in honor of O. J. Coffin and Phillips Russell, two long-time members of the faculty of the School of Journalism, according to an announcement last night by Press Club President Earl McGuire.

Coffin has been a member of the university faculty since 1926. Russell, now editor of the Chapel Hill News Leader, has taught here since 1931. Coffin served as dean of the School of Journalism until 1953.

"This is our small way of showing our appreciation for the years of service these two gentlemen have given the School of Journalism and the university," McGuire said in making the announcement. The two men will also be given gifts by the club.

Medical Fraternity

Elwood Morgan was elected president of the North Carolina Beta Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta, National Premedical Society in a recent meeting.

Other officers elected were Tommy Williford, vice-president; Bill Michael, secretary; Willis Riddick, treasurer; Bob Richardson, historian; and John Curtis, program chairman.

WATCH OUT FOR THE STATE

Leaders Comment On Fees

By NEIL BASS

A poll taken among student government leaders yesterday concerning the May 10 referendum on a proposed hike in student fees resulted in a wide range of opinions.

The present consideration of the State Legislature is giving possibilities of a hike in dormitory rents and tuitions influenced several opinions.

Four of the six questioned made some stipulation about the "danger" of "raising" fees while the State Legislature threatens to demand more money from students.

Student body President Don Fowler, maintaining the same position he announced some time ago, said:

"I am opposed to any student fee raise. I believe it is not advisable to be raising our fees when the State Legislature is still in the process of considering a tuition or dorm rent raise here at Carolina."

"If the State Legislature sees us raising our own fees, they will be more likely to levy an increase on our present tuition and dorm fees," he concluded.

'NOT FOR RAISE'
Jim Exum, floorleader of the University Party, said he opposed a "change in the student constitution."

If the student body passes the referendum, the path will be paved for a $5 raise in student fees. As the Constitution now states, the fee limit is $20 per year.

(See COMMENT, page 4)

Les Brown & Band, Slated To Play For Spring Germans

Bandleader Les Brown and friends, shown above, will play for a concert and dance next Saturday, sponsored by the Carolina Germans Club. The band is shown at the noted Hollywood Palladium, where Brown is known as "Mr. Palladium." The Brown band has played there for 16 engagements, the standing record for the ballroom. Brown, a graduate of Ithaca Conservatory of Music, has been featured as guest conductor for symphony orchestras in several cities.

Student Waivers Due Soon

Applications for student deferments from selective service must be made by May 31 according to an announcement yesterday.

Applications may be made in 315 South Building, at the office of Col. F. C. Shepard, Advisor, Military and Veterans Affairs. Students wishing deferment must also write to their local draft boards giving notification that they are returning to school for the next year and wish to be deferred as a student, said the announcement.

Students whose grades for last year did not make him eligible for deferment for this year may still qualify for deferment for next year on the basis of his grades for this school year ending in June, said the announcement.

Has Anybody Seen Smith's Baby Turtle?

Residents of Smith Dorm have been left grief-stricken at the mysterious departure of the dorm mascot, one small turtle.

The turtle either walker, strayed or was spirited away in the pocket of some visitor sometime last Sunday night, and its whereabouts constitutes a large-sized mystery to the turtle-loving girls of Smith.

Miss Marlyn Zager, dorm spokesman in the mystery of the vanishing turtle, said yesterday "the whole dorm is upset about it (the turtle). He is to Smith what Rameses is to the football team."

(See TURTLE, page 4)