Netters Close Season With 21-1 Mark By Blanking State

Carolina's tennis team closed out one of the most successful seasons in its history here yesterday with a 9-0 shut-out of N. C. State.

The win, the eleventh shut-out of the season, was the Tar Heels' twenty-first against only one loss, that to undefeated Miami. The victory also moved Carolina's new win streak to seven in a row since Miami broke a 30-match win mid-way in the season.

The Tar Heels had little trouble in polishing off the Wolfpack, as five non-regulars and one regular swept all six singles. In the doubles, some regulars combined with the substitutes to sweep those, with only the number three team running into trouble.

With the regular season history, the Tar Heels netters turn to the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament which opens here Thursday afternoon. Two singles and one doubles entry are allowed from each school.

Yesterday's summary:
Kerdasha def. Greenberg 6-4, 6-2; Handel def. Casion 4-6, 6-0, 6-0; Bortner def. Cross 4-6, 6-1, 6-2; Livingston def. Frantz 6-3, 6-4; Gustafson def. Reichard 6-2, 6-0; Kasser def. Brinkley 6-1, 6-2;

Doubles — Greene and Bortner def. Casion and Reichard 6-1, 6-1; Bradford and Gustafson def. Greenberg and McCoy 6-0, 6-0; Livingston and Kasser def. Cross and Frantz 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Busy Sports Card Starts Thursday

Sports fans will have to do some hustling here this week if they are to take in all the events scheduled as the Atlantic Coast Conference spring season rushes to a close.

Two ACC championship events are scheduled here this weekend, along with the final two games of Carolina's regular baseball schedule. In addition, the ACC golf championship tourney gets underway at Winston-Salem Thursday afternoon.

Tennis gets a head start on the others tonight when the top players from ACC schools gather in Wolen Gym to draw pairings for the annual tournament that starts Thursday on the UNC courts. The tourney will determine ACC singles and doubles champs. Carolina's undefeated club sewed up the team championship, which is determined by regular season won-lost records.

Field Saturday afternoon.

Carolina's baseball Tar Babies will also end their season in a rush over the weekend with games at Wake Forest Friday and at Duke Saturday. Today the Tar Babies play host to N. C. State.

Saturday has been designated as ACC Sports Day at UNC, with the finals of the track and tennis tournaments scheduled that afternoon, plus a Big Four baseball game with Duke here.

Mural Title Tilt Today

Sigma Chi and Joyner Dorm will meet at four-thirty this afternoon on Field 4 to decide the campus softball championship.

Sigma Chi dropped Chi Psi Monday to take the fraternity intramural title, while Joyner walloped the Dental School for the dorm title last week.

Cockrell Tops Loop Batting

With just one full week remaining in the ACC baseball season, Duke's Andy Cockrell has virtually sewed up the conference batting title. He is leading the ACC for the third straight week with a torrid .465 mark.

N. C. State's Joe Barringer is Cockrell's closest contender. Barringer is hitting at a .405 clip.

Gravitte is tied with Tommy Cole of Wake Forest for the home run leadership. Each has hit six. Gravitte is also tied with Cockrell and Roger Gaines of Clemson for the leadership in doubles with six.

The top sixteen batters:

Cockrell, Duke	58	22	27	.465
Barringer, N. C. S.	74	15	30	.405

State-UNC Varsity, Frosh Clash Today

Carolina and N. C. State baseball teams battle today, with the Frosh scheduled for Emerson Field at three-thirty and the Varsity teams slated to meet at Raleigh at the same time. The Tar Heels will be going after their sixth ACC win against five losses, while the Tar Babies will be seeking win number nine. The Baby Wolfpack got one-hit pitching to shut out the Tar Babies 1-0 here Monday afternoon.

Maryland, Carolina and Duke are the favorites in the ACC track meet that will open here Friday afternoon. The Terps will be defending the title that they won at College Park last spring, by edging second place Carolina 59-57. With most of last year's outstanding performers back this spring, this season's meet is expected to produce a host of ACC records. Nearly all the marks set in last year's event have been bettered in dual meets this season.

Also on Friday afternoon, Carolina's baseball Tar Heels play host to Virginia here in an ACC game, then close out the season by entertaining Duke on Emerson

Problem Of Line-Up Switching Faces ACC

By The Associated Press

Is there anything morally or technically wrong about a coach shifting his tennis lineup from accepted standardized positions for the purpose of winning a match?

This is a question confronting the Atlantic Coast Conference on the eve of its annual championships and the debating will come up tomorrow night at the coaches' meeting preceding this year's tournament which opens on UNC courts Thursday morning.

"It's a question of ethics," says John Kenfield, coach of the UNC team and chairman of the conference Tournament Committee.

George Lott, coach of the Duke team and an old Davis Cupper, sees it differently. In a skirmish with Kenfield on the occasion of dual meet between the two teams earlier this season, he made it clear that he saw nothing wrong with arranging the pairings any way he saw fit.

"I'm hired to win," he is quoted as saying. "So I will arrange my lineup any way I see fit to accomplish this."

Kenfield said that in his almost 30 years of college tennis coaching he had run into only two incidents in which coaches revised their lineups for winning purposes. He thinks a team should use its normal lineup for all its meets.

UNC Edges N. C. State For Title In Intramurals

DURHAM, May 10 — First place in the golf tournament and a Wake Forest softball victory over N. C. State gave Carolina a one-point edge over second place State here this afternoon in the annual Big Four Sports Day.

The Carolina athletes edged State 26-25, with Wake third with 21 points and Duke fourth with 16. Points were awarded on a 5-3-2-1 basis for first, second, third and fourth places respectively.

The winning Carolina group picked up three first places, winning the badminton, golf and tennis, and was second in horse shoes and third in volleyball, table tennis and softball.

With all but the golf and Wake-State softball scores reported, Carolina and State were tied at 21 each. Wake's 13-6 win over State and the Carolina golf victory clinched things for UNC.

One of the upsets of the day was the State horseshoes win over favored UNC. However, the favored State volleyball team — composed of Varsity basketball players — was upset by both Duke and Carolina. The State club was volleyball champion last year.

One of the main factors contributing to the Carolina victory was the win in badminton. State had pushed through a vote adding badminton to the schedule of events at the last Intramural meeting of Big Four schools. Ironically, Carolina picked up five points in that event by taking first place while State was third, good enough for only two points.

State, Wake Tied For Big 4 Lead

Unless both should pick up wins, either N. C. State or Wake Forest will be in sole possession of first place in the Big Four standings following games today.

The Wolfpack and the Deacs are currently tied for first in the ACC standings with 5-3 records. Duke is third at 4-2 and Carolina last with 2-5 in Big Four competition. This afternoon Carolina goes to Raleigh to meet State while Duke is at Wake Forest.

Following today's games, only two more Big Four battles are slated this year. Friday Duke is at State and Saturday the Blue Devils meet the Tar Heels here.

The Big Four statistics:

Team	W	L	Pct	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	SB	RB	Pct
Wake	5	3	.625	271	84	76	8	4	6	9	54	.243
State	5	3	.625	261	51	77	12	4	4	4	38	.256
Duke	4	2	.333	220	37	62	9	7	1	4	30	.282
UNC	2	5	.285	223	26	50	5	2	2	5	21	.175

Athletes Of The Week:

Charlie Krepp (right) and Phil Drake are this week's Tar Heel Athletes of the Week. The pair of Varsity swimmers set two new American records each last week in AAU sanctioned record trials in Bowman Gray Pool. Krepp swam the 500 meters and 500 yard backstroke in 6:21.9 and 5:49.1, respectively, while Drake swam the same distances to set new breaststroke marks of 6:37.1 and 7:11.3. Charlie Yarborough, pole vaulter, was runner-up for the honor. Yarborough set new University, dual meet, and Fetzer Field pole vault marks last week with a 13'6 1/2" effort against Duke.

Krepp, Drake Go After Four More American Records Today

After cracking four American records last week, ace Carolina swimmers Charlie Krepp and Phil Drake will go after four more marks this afternoon at fifty-three in Bowman Gray Indoor Pool.

Krepp, who smashed the 500 yard and 500 meter backstroke records, will be aiming for the 400 meter and 440 yard back records today, in the AAU sanctioned trials. Drake will try for the 400 meter and 440 yard breaststroke marks. He set new 500 yard and 500 meter breaststroke marks last week.

Officials for the record trial today will be Jack Lowder, Bob Linker, Ham Strayhorn, Bob Colbert, Carl Blythe, Dick Jamerson, Bill Meade, Lee Holmes, Ralph Casey, Ed Shawley, and Joe Hillton.

BOB and MONK of TOWN & CAMPUS SALUTE Phil Drake and Charlie Krepp

Drake and Krepp set two new American swimming records each last week in AAU sanctioned trials. Drake broke the breaststroke marks, and Krepp—the backstroke. Both swam 500 yards and 500 meters.

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below.

YOU GET A GOOD CLOSE-UP of college smokers' preference for Luckies in the Droodle at right, captioned: Lucky Strike column in a college cigarette-vending machine. On campuses all over America, college students automatically get Luckies. Why? Simply because Luckies taste better. They taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better...
