

JAMES DEREL MONTEITH

Burlington Industries Scholarship Awarded

James Derel Monteith of Sylva, rising junior at the University of North Carolina, has been awarded the first Burlington Industries Scholarship given here, it was announced today by Chancellor Robert B. House and Prof. D. D. Carroll, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Scholarships and Student Aid.

The scholarship, which is valued at $1,000 covering two years, is made possible by the Burlington Industries Foundation, which announced in May the creation of a four-fold aid to education program.

Seven institutions selected for the program to date are the University in Chapel Hill, N. C. State College, Clemson, Georgia Tech, and the Universities of Tennessee, South Carolina and Virginia.

The scholarship's value, $500 a year during the recipient's junior and senior years, will be matched by the Burlington Industries Foundation with a gift to the institution itself.

Monteith, who has attained honor roll status since admission at UNC, was selected on a basis of "leadership, scholarship and financial need," Carroll said.

A graduate of Sylva High School, where he was an outstanding athlete, Monteith has been prominent in student activities here, in addition to providing a good part of his expenses through self-help work. He is a member of the executive committee of the Men's Interdormitory Council, member of the Student Legislature and the Publications Board, and is counselor for the orientation program.

During the past spring he was selected by Phi Beta Kappa as the outstanding scholar in the rising junior class, for which he automatically receives a stipend of $100.

Football Round-up Tourny August 18

The sixth annual Football Round-up golf tournament will be held on the University of North Carolina's Finley course Thursday, August 18, it was announced by Director of Athletics Chuck Erickson.

The Atlantic Coast Conference is joining in co-sponsoring the event which each fall brings together coaches, writers and photographers in a final golf fling before the opening of pre-season football practice.

Winners last year in the 18-hole medal play three-division tournament, were Bob Brooks, Raleigh News and Observer; A. E. Finley trophy (press and radio); Red McIntosh, N. C. State, William Muirhead trophy (coaches, athletic directors, trainers); Charles Kraft, Mount Olive, Nello Teer trophy (press photographers).

In addition to the big awards, there are smaller prizes for low net scores and other playing distinctions.

The tournament and all-day party has become an outstanding sports-social event of the late summer season in football circles of this area.
