FRENCH SOCIETY

Pi Delta Phi, French Honor Society, will hold a reception from 4:30 until 6 p.m. today in the main lounge of Graham Memorial to welcome the newly-arrived people associated with French culture to UNC. All French majors, graduate students, and Romance Languages faculty have been invited to attend.

BULL'S HEAD BOOKSHOP

Hiroshima Diary has again taken the lead in non-fiction sales in the Bull's Head Bookshop, according to Mrs. Charles Valentine, bookshop manager. The holder of second place in popularity is North Carolina Guide, she said. Sloan Wilson's The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit is the fiction best-seller this week. The Book-of-the-Week featured in the Library foyer is a Bantam Book, New Campus Writing, which features the work of two UNC students.

HALIFAX-CAROLINA CLUB

The Halifax-Carolina Club will meet Friday night at 7:30 in Roland Parker Lounge No. 1 to make plans for the Christmas Dance.

All students from Halifax county have been asked to attend.

PHILIP MORRIS REPRESENTATIVE

Jim Allen of Troy, has been appointed student representative on campus for Philip Morris cigarettes. Allen will contact students, distribute samples and visit local retailers for the company. He said that the new football guide is being distributed free at all local Philip Morris outlets.

PERSON HALL RENTALS

Those wishing to reserve pictures for rental from Person Hall Art Gallery may do so from today on. There are works by Picasso, Renoir, Dufy, Rembrandt, Marc, Van Gogh, Rousseau and Homer.

PARKING LOT

J. S. Bennett, University director of operations, has announced that construction and completion of the new parking lot behind Carroll Hall will be done within the next two weeks. Construction on the lot began in the summer and was discontinued due to more important projects, according to Bennett. The plan at present is to level and gravel the lot until the surface settles, at which point the area will be paved, he said.

Pre-Med, Pre-Dental Students Meet At 8

A special program will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in 207 Venable Hall for all pre-medical and pre-dental students.

The program, sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Delta, is designed to stimulate a better appreciation of the importance of a pre-professional education, according to President Elwood Morgan.

Speakers will be Dr. E. McG. Hedgpeth, chairman of the Board of Admissions at the University Medical School; Dr. C. S. Jones, associate professor of Zoology and Adviser in the General College, and Dr. R. E. Sturdevant, chairman of the Admissions Committee at the University Dental School. Following the addresses, students may ask questions.

Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national honor society for premedical students, was founded in 1926 at the University of Alabama. The main purpose of the organization is to promote cooperation and contacts between medical and pre-medical students and educators in developing an adequate program of pre-medical education.

Tar Heel Young Democrats To Attend State Convention

According to an announcement yesterday from UNC-YDC President W. E. Graham, all Tar Heel Young Democrats who are State Convention-bound will meet at the Law School Lounge Friday at 1 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Transportation to the convention, which will be held in Durham, will be provided for all those who wish to go.

Gov. Luther Hodges will speak at the convention at 3 p.m., and parties and a dance will be the main events for that evening.

A suite of rooms at a Durham hotel will serve as the central meeting place for all Tar Heel delegates. Graham said all UNC members of the YDC have been appointed as official delegates and are eligible to attend.

At the club's last meeting, Miss Anne Carlton, UNC senior from North Wilkesboro, was elected unanimously as secretary of UNC-YDC. Tommy Gardner is presently serving as chairman of convention for the UNC group.

In a report to the club's Executive Committee, Gerald Parker, YDC treasurer, reported more than 200 paid memberships. R. B. Dawes, Tar Heel Democrat editor, also reported door-to-door distribution in the dormitories had been completed for this week.

'More Spirit'

Congratulations have been issued from the student government executive office to both the football team and the student body for the "spirit of unity" displayed at last Saturday's football game.

Student body President Don Fowler issued the congratulatory statement for what he called the display of "more spirit than ever before."

"I believe that as long as the students show the football players that we are fighting for them as hard as we can, they will continue to make terrific showings like the one Saturday," he said.

Fowler called the football team "one of the finest that we have ever had."

"Such spirit as that which was shown Saturday in Kenan Stadium by both the members of the team and the student body is the main factor necessary for the establishment of a fine season's record," Fowler said.

Knowland

Justice Earl Warren for the Presidency. He himself has not indicated whether he will run or whom he will support in the 1956 presidential election; however with the recent heart attack of President Eisenhower, some observers say, Knowland appears to be a logical candidate for the nomination, should the President choose not to run because of health.

Chairman Lambeth announced that the public is invited to the speech, and there will be no admission charge.

Students Are More Serious, Says Dean

KENT, Ohio—Students no longer enter college with the "easy" attitude of their pre-war predecessors; rather, they are becoming more of a genuine student, according to the opinion of Dr. Glen T. Nygreen, Kent State University's dean of men.

"These young students in colleges today are the finest and most responsible college generation I have ever observed," Dr. Nygreen said.

"Today's students know they face the certainty that at least two years of their lives must be given over to required service. They have made this a part of their thinking since high school and no longer show any mass discontentment at the prospect. It is an example of the healthy ability of individuals to adjust to the requirements of a society when those requirements have been arrived at democratically."

He also pointed out that students are more realistic in their thinking about involvement in international affairs, but are determined in their belief that only through intelligent, democratic participation can real progress in international relations be achieved.

Poly Science Honorary Has First Coffee

Pi sigma Alpha, political science fraternity, entertained members at its first coffee Monday, in Caldwell.

President John DeGrove said the informal gathering of students and faculty in the political science field was "mainly a get-together for discussion and maybe a little argument."

Weekly coffees are scheduled throughout the year for the group. Evening and luncheon programs are planned each month, DeGrove said.

The evening programs, usually featuring noted speakers, are open to the public, DeGrove said. The first meeting is slated for Oct. 20 in the assembly room of the Library.

'Rainmaker' Tryouts Start

The Carolina Playmakers' try-out schedule for their second production, "The Rainmaker," has been changed from Oct. 17 to tomorrow evening at 4 and 7 p.m. in Memorial Hall. Copies of the comedy, by N. Richard Nash, are on reserve in the Library.

John W. Parker, Playmakers' business manager, said the change was made so advance publicity could be sent to sponsoring organizations.

The group plans to retain the previously announced rehearsal schedule prior to its Chapel Hill opening in the Playmakers Theatre Nov. 9.

After completing its University run Nov. 13, the troupe will take the show on tour through North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia until Dec. 3.
