

HOP'S BUNK

By Wayne Bishop

George Barclay stood surrounded by reporters outside the dressing room yesterday afternoon after his UNC squad had been defeated by Tennessee 48-7. "Tennessee has a good ball club," Barclay said. "They have improved quite a bit since the Duke game. The boys of that game and they certainly have come a long way."

The boys had averted a shutout in the last quarter with a march for their only score. Barclay praised the running of Jack Jim Varnum, who sparked the running attack on the team. Barclay gained considerable yardage for the Tar Heels during the game. Barclay said, "This was the first chance Varnum has had to show his speed. He surely showed some good running today."

Barclay was asked if he thought Tennessee coach Bowden would hold down the score. "Well, he took Majors out early in the quarter, but that did not do much good," stated the Carolina mentor. "Those other tailbacks (Bob Gordon and Jim Temple) did move pretty doggoned good, too."

Barclay left the game three minutes after the first period had ended and returned during the game. The Tennessee junior speedster was impressive during his brief, but highly noticeable, performance during the game. Majors scored twice during the first period and well also.

Barclay was asked if he thought any of the Carolina boys looked good during the game. After thinking through the questions Barclay could not name any outstanding Tar Heel. After some thought, he did have some words of praise for Jim Jones, the center.

HEAVY: The Tar Heels came out of the game with a few more injuries. Bobby Hurt hurt his knee on the second play of the game. Maulsby was diagnosed as a ligament strain in his knee. Hap Settle's knee, also, and Jack Lineberger had an ankle injury. These injuries with the players that were injured before, will give the Tar Heels quite an injury list for next week.

Sasser still has the same leg trouble that hurt him in the game. Sasser got a charley horse in that game and it has been there since then. It is doubtful that Buddy will be at top speed for quite some time. The leg is still swollen somewhat.

Marquette, who is out for the season with a broken wrist, Kelly, who has cartilage trouble in his elbow, and Buddy Maulsby, who has a knee injury, all missed today's game. Payne is a starter for next Saturday. That game will be sort of a test for Payne. The Tar Heels play South Carolina in Norfolk, Va. town, for the Oyster Bowl Game.

After four straight defeats, the Tar Heels will be aiming for victory two against the Gamecocks. The team will have to be able to come through with a win.

Wrestling Calls

Wrestling coach Pete ... called for the University of North Carolina wrestling team to be called for support of the Tar Heels. He urged all interested in wrestling to try out for the team. The Carolina students to be called for support by attending the wrestling matches.

... called the lack of high school wrestling in North Carolina. Wrestling is not as popular here as in other schools. He urged to him many confuse wrestling with professional wrestling. The college version of wrestling has little similarity with professional wrestling. The Tar Heels wrestles in the ACC conference and has meets this year at Wake Forest, Navy, Duke, Virginia State. For these matches the Tar Heels would like to have the Tar Heels on the varsity wrestling team.

... ask for support for the Tar Heels. McGee has a great varsity wrestling team. We have some fine wrestlers. We have some fine wrestlers, with or without a coach.

Varsity Harriers Swamp Tennessee Squad

Jim Beatty Leads Win For UNC

By LARRY CHEEK

Coach Dale Ranson's varsity harriers put on an impressive display of power here yesterday as they swamped a good Tennessee team by a 19-39 count.

Jim Beatty was once again the big news as he took first place in the second best time ever recorded over the 3.7 mile UNC course. Beatty's time of 19:41 was accomplished despite an infected foot that kept him from practice much of the week. Jim set the present record of 19:37.5 only two weeks ago against Clemson.

Carolina swept the first three places as co-captains Bob Barden and Glen Nanney finished close behind Beatty in second and third spots respectively. Everett Whatley and Russ Glatz rounded out the Tar Heel scoring with Whatley taking 5th position and Glatz nosing out teammate Marion Griffin for the 8th slot.

Ed Murphy, Tennessee's top runner, could do no better than 4th today against the stiff Tar Heel opposition. Howard Moon and Maurice Cantrell grabbed 6th and 7th spots for the Volunteers, while E. B. Dyer and Sam Sims brought up the rear in 10th and 12th places.

Today's victory brings Carolina's record for the season up to a creditable 4-2 reading. The Tar Heels have dropped decisions to conference powers Maryland and State, and have racked up wins over Virginia, Clemson, Richmond, and Tennessee. The next outing for Coach Ranson's runners is scheduled for next Wednesday when they clash with Duke's Blue Devils here on Fetzer Field.

Frosh Racers Stop Mustangs

By RAY LINKER

North Carolina's freshman cross country team registered its fifth win without a setback by downing a young team from Charlotte's Myers Park High School, 19-38 here yesterday.

The Tar Babies took first, second, third, fourth, and ninth places to compile their score, while the Mustangs, in receiving their second loss in six meets, collected points by placing men in fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and tenth.

Tennessee Tailback Scores From 15

Tennessee's speedy tailback, John Majors, who scored two touchdowns and gained 63 yards during the 18 minutes he played in yesterday's game, is shown above racing around North Carolina's end on a 15 yard scoring gallop. UNC defensive backs, Wally Vale (29) and Joe Temple (32) are pictured attempting to stop him.

Vols Show All-Around Power In Driving Carolina To Fifth Loss

Carolina came back after that to break out with some effective running and the march that paid off with their lone score. Ken Keller got the ball rolling with an eleven yard pass to Paul Pulley that carried to the Vol 41. A Tennessee penalty helped the Tar Heels out of a jam and gave them a first and ten at the Tennessee 18. Jim Varnum swept left end to the Tennessee 11 and Ken Keller cracked the line three straight times to move the ball to the Vol one yard mark. Reed then tucked the ball under his arm on last down and pivoted over tackle for the score.

The game was a rough one for the Tar Heels. Tennessee's power chopped the Carolina line to bits. The Vols picked up 278 yards rushing and 8 passing. The Tar Heels gained 97 yards on the ground and 129 through the air. Carolina hit five of their 23 passes. One of the pass plays was a 72 yard gain from Reed to Temple. The play went from the UNC 9 to the Tennessee 19. An intercepted Reed pass, however, cut that Tar Heel bid short.

Wally Vale took over all the punting chores for Carolina and booted four times for an average of 44 yards per kick. Vale was impressive with his tremendous kicks.

The second period saw Lon Herzbrun score once from the one-yard line in the first few minutes. Late in the stanza substitute tailback Bobby Gordon chunked a 51-yard scoring aerial to Bill Anderson to round out the first half scoring.

SECOND HALF
In the third period Tennessee scored only once, on a seven yard pass from Gordon to Bill Bennett. The final two Tennessee scores came in the final period. Keith Drummond blocked one of Wally Vale's punts and Bob Williams scooped it up on the twenty-yard line to race over for the score. With ten minutes left to play the Vols drove 60 yards for their final score. Bob Glasscott carded the
