

Tar Babies Meet Blue Imps In Thursday Kenan Clash

Coach Floyd Expects Improved Play In Cerebral Palsy Game

By ALBERT GOLDSMITH

Two long-time rivals in freshman football meet here tomorrow afternoon as the University of North Carolina's freshman football team tangles with the Duke University freshman squad in the third annual Cerebral Palsy Thanksgiving Football Classic.

The game is scheduled to get underway at 2:00 p.m. in Kenan Stadium. Tickets are $1.00 with all proceeds going to the Durham Cerebral Palsy Fund. North Carolina students will be admitted by showing their student passbooks.

The North Carolina Tar Babies are reported to be in good condition and win-hungry after two straight defeats. "We should play an improved game," said UNC coach Ralph Floyd yesterday. "The spirit is as high as it has been all year."

Improved spirits and a desire to beat the Blue Imps will make the Tar Babies a threat in tomorrow afternoon's game, but by comparing records the Blue Imps will stand as slight favorites. Carolina has a 1-3 record boasting only one win, downing Wake Forest, and three defeats, falling before frosh teams from South Carolina, Maryland and Virginia. Duke, on the other hand, has a 2-1-1 record with wins over Virginia and Wake Forest, a loss to N. C. State and a tie with Clemson.

SHIFTS IN LINEUP

Floyd reported yesterday several shifts in his lineup. Former fullback Carroll Wright has been shifted to halfback along with former quarterback speedster Emil Decantis while Rabe Walton, formerly one of Floyd's halfbacks will be the starting man at quarterback for the Tar Babies. In the line Jimmy Boggs, a 230-pound freshman from High Point will start at guard and Billy Hardison will be the starting man at center.

For the other Carolina positions Floyd announces that he will probably start Almond Shew and Donald Redding at ends, Fred Swearing and David Coates at the tackle positions, Ray Kryzak at the

Coach Floyd in stressing that his boys were at high spirits predicted that his team would play one of their best games of the year. He cited their best performance as their game against Maryland in College Park earlier this year.

Floyd pointed out that the two Duke players that are causing him the most worry are halfbacks George Dutrow and Wray Carlton. The Duke attack is expected to be based around these two skilled backs.

BOB and MONK of TOWN & CAMPUS SALUTE Athlete Of The Week JIM BEATTY

Although handicapped by a recurrent thigh injury, completely ran away from the field Monday to take the Atlantic Coast Conference individual championship for the second consecutive week. Jimmy had just won the State Championship the previous Monday to round out a week of highly successful running. Jimmy also has been State Champion for two consecutive years.

We want him to drop by TOWN & CAMPUS and pick out a shirt to his liking—compliments of the house.

We want the old and young alike of Chapel Hill to make TOWN & CAMPUS their headquarters for the finest in men's clothing. Drop in today.

School scores 7-6 to Win

School scored a first down and safety, then dear life as it edged 8-7 to win the all-campus intramural tag football championships.

The Law School got off to an early start and never trailed throughout the contest. After taking the kickoff they moved 80 yards on a pass to the Sigma Chi 20. The Sigma Chi momentarily halted this threat by intercepting a pass on the one yard line. An incomplete pass behind their goal, however, lost the stand for the Sigma Chi and gave the Law School a safety.

The Law School picked up its touchdown midway of the first half. The drive started on their 40 yard line where Osteen connected with Godwin on a pass to the five. The Sigma Chi line held until last down when Godwin passed to Tice for the score. The extra point was no good and the Law boys led 8-0 at halftime.

After the rest period the Sigma Chi rallied for their touchdown. Denny passed 21 yards to Forbes for the marker. Denny passed to Plumbly for the extra point to make the score 8-7, but the Law School held off the Sigma Chi advances for the rest of the game.

The game wound up the tag football season for intramurals.

BEATTY IN INDOOR GAMES

Jim Beatty flashes the form here in the indoor games last season that enabled him to rank as one of the nation's top collegiate distance runners. Beatty won the mile and two-mile ACC championship, the Penn Relays two-mile title, and placed second in the National Collegiate two-mile. Jimmy is also ACC cross-country champ for the past two years.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP:

Thigh Injury May Keep Beatty From Entering

Jim Beatty, Carolina's distance runner deluxe, is faced with the possibility of not being able to enter the National Collegiate cross-country championships which will be run off at East Lansing, Michigan next Monday. Beatty, the pride and joy of the Carolina camp, has been bothered by a thigh ailment that has fled the Carolina trainers. Jim's thigh began hurting him just after the Maryland meet on October 21, and he has not been in top form since then.

The Carolina ace plans to work out hard this afternoon with his coach Dale Ranson, and reach a tentative decision on whether to go or not. It is a cinch that Jimmy will not be at top speed for this event.

If he runs, it will be his second crack at the NCAA crown. Last year as a sophomore, the diminutive star from Charlotte turned on the powerful finishing kick that has become his trademark to capture thirteenth spot in a field of over two hundred runners. This was accomplished despite Jim's relative lack of experience when compared with the rest of the field.

Since that time a year ago, the little Carolinian has run in a lot of meets all over the country, gaining valuable experience in the process. Over the past year he has added no less than six titles and one very important runnerup trophy to his collection, not to mention records galore.
