

WEATHER
and quite cold today, high of 40.

The Daily Tar Heel

NO. 66

Complete (P) Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1955

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

DIFFERENT

The campus is already an altogether different place. Why? See page 2.

Legislature Gives Symposium $1,000; Drops Six-Day DTH

Student Legislature this week passed a bill appropriating $1,000 to the Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs, but defeated another bill which called for the appropriation to The Daily Tar Heel to enable it to continue publication six days a week.

Lambeth Lashes At President's Veto

Lambeth, Publications Editor, lashed back yesterday at President Don Fowler's veto of a bill creating a bipartisan selection of Daily Tar Heel candidates.

Lambeth said he didn't back the bill because he was against partisan political parties, but because he thought "no editor of the campus paper should sit in his desk tied by any obligation to one or even to both campus political groups."

He said he didn't consider himself in a personal dispute with the president, but thought the trouble might have stemmed from "a difference in political philosophies."

Party Tonight

Graham Memorial will hold a Christmas party-dance tonight from 9 p.m. until midnight in the Rendezvous Room, with combo, candlelight, free cider and doughnuts.

The dance will also feature a fire in the fireplace and a Christmas tree, according to a member of the Graham Memorial Activities Board Dance Committee.

Village Kids Invited To GM Party

A Christmas party for the children of Victory Village will be held Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Day Care Center in Victory Village.

The party will be sponsored by the Recreation Committee of Graham Memorial, according to Misses Jane Howie and Trissy Holt, co-chairmen of the Reception Committee.

Santa Claus will be there to distribute free gifts, ice cream, balloons and stockings filled with candy to the children.

Miss Gwen Heinzen and George Hamilton will provide entertainment. Miss Heinzen will read "The Night Before Christmas," and Hamilton will play the guitar and sing children's Christmas songs.

TO COMPETE NATIONALLY:

Miss Hirt Named As '55 DSP Rose Queen

Miss Sandy Hirt, senior from Larchmont, N. Y., was crowned Rose Queen at the annual Delta Sigma Pi Rose Dance recently.

Miss Hirt, an art major, was presented roses and a cup as a token of her selection.

Theme of the dance, music for which was played by Bill Langley and his Stardreamers, was "Winter Fantasy."

Miss Hirt will represent the local chapter in the National Rose of Delta Sigma Pi Contest to be held in February.

The national contest, which was initiated in 1947, is participated in by one representative from each active chapter.

Miss Hirt's picture will be submitted to officials of the national competition along with other chapter roses throughout the nation for final judging.

Judges for the local competition were Dr. Calhoun, Dr. George and Dr. Langenderfer.

The bill providing funds for the Carolina Symposium passed by an overwhelming vote, and the bill calling for The Daily Tar Heel funds was defeated by an overwhelming vote with only two representatives voting for it.

A message from student body President Don Fowler was read to the assembly. The message urged the assembly not to pass the two money bills.

An attempt was made to bring up two bills which Fowler had previously vetoed in an effort to pass them over his veto. The two bills provided for a constitutional revision committee and a selection board to approve candidates running for editor of The Daily Tar Heel.

But Jim Holmes objected and said he questioned the constitutionality of Fowler's veto. Holmes said he would appear before the Student Council next week when it will decide on the constitutionality of Fowler's veto.

Introduced at the session were a bill to provide a budget for the Student Audit Board to secure personnel for the Student Activities Fund Office, a bill to appropriate $40 to the Veterans' Affairs Committee, a bill to appropriate $37.50 for printing the bylaws of the student Legislature and the student Constitution, and a bill to appropriate $20 to the Men's Honor Council for printing purposes. These bills will be voted on at the next session.

Sound and Fury's production of "Heaven Help Us" has been held over by popular demand. The show will be produced tonight in Memorial Hall at 10 p.m. following the UNC-USC basketball game.

Miss Bernardin, Lawrence Thorp, Jane Edwards and Jack Spooner are cast in the leading roles as the play goes into its third session. Originally scheduled to wind up its run last night, the play was held over by Bob Young, chairman of Graham Memorial Activities Board, due to audience acclaim and student demand for tickets.

Prices for tickets for tonight's performance will be 50 cents for students and $1.00 for all others who wish to see the performance.

Sound and Fury's production of "Heaven Help Us" has been held over by popular demand. The show will be produced tonight in Memorial Hall at 10 p.m. following the UNC-USC basketball game.

Miss Bernardin, Lawrence Thorp, Jane Edwards and Jack Spooner are cast in the leading roles as the play goes into its third session. Originally scheduled to wind up its run last night, the play was held over by Bob Young, chairman of Graham Memorial Activities Board, due to audience acclaim and student demand for tickets.

Prices for tickets for tonight's performance will be 50 cents for students and $1.00 for all others who wish to see the performance.

Sound and Fury's production of "Heaven Help Us" has been held over by popular demand. The show will be produced tonight in Memorial Hall at 10 p.m. following the UNC-USC basketball game.

Miss Bernardin, Lawrence Thorp, Jane Edwards and Jack Spooner are cast in the leading roles as the play goes into its third session. Originally scheduled to wind up its run last night, the play was held over by Bob Young, chairman of Graham Memorial Activities Board, due to audience acclaim and student demand for tickets.

Prices for tickets for tonight's performance will be 50 cents for students and $1.00 for all others who wish to see the performance.

Sound and Fury's production of "Heaven Help Us" has been held over by popular demand. The show will be produced tonight in Memorial Hall at 10 p.m. following the UNC-USC basketball game.

Miss Bernardin, Lawrence Thorp, Jane Edwards and Jack Spooner are cast in the leading roles as the play goes into its third session. Originally scheduled to wind up its run last night, the play was held over by Bob Young, chairman of Graham Memorial Activities Board, due to audience acclaim and student demand for tickets.

Prices for tickets for tonight's performance will be 50 cents for students and $1.00 for all others who wish to see the performance.

Sound and Fury's production of "Heaven Help Us" has been held over by popular demand. The show will be produced tonight in Memorial Hall at 10 p.m. following the UNC-USC basketball game.

Miss Bernardin, Lawrence Thorp, Jane Edwards and Jack Spooner are cast in the leading roles as the play goes into its third session. Originally scheduled to wind up its run last night, the play was held over by Bob Young, chairman of Graham Memorial Activities Board, due to audience acclaim and student demand for tickets.

Prices for tickets for tonight's performance will be 50 cents for students and $1.00 for all others who wish to see the performance.

Sound and Fury's production of "Heaven Help Us" has been held over by popular demand. The show will be produced tonight in Memorial Hall at 10 p.m. following the UNC-USC basketball game.

Miss Bernardin, Lawrence Thorp, Jane Edwards and Jack Spooner are cast in the leading roles as the play goes into its third session. Originally scheduled to wind up its run last night, the play was held over by Bob Young, chairman of Graham Memorial Activities Board, due to audience acclaim and student demand for tickets.

Prices for tickets for tonight's performance will be 50 cents for students and $1.00 for all others who wish to see the performance.

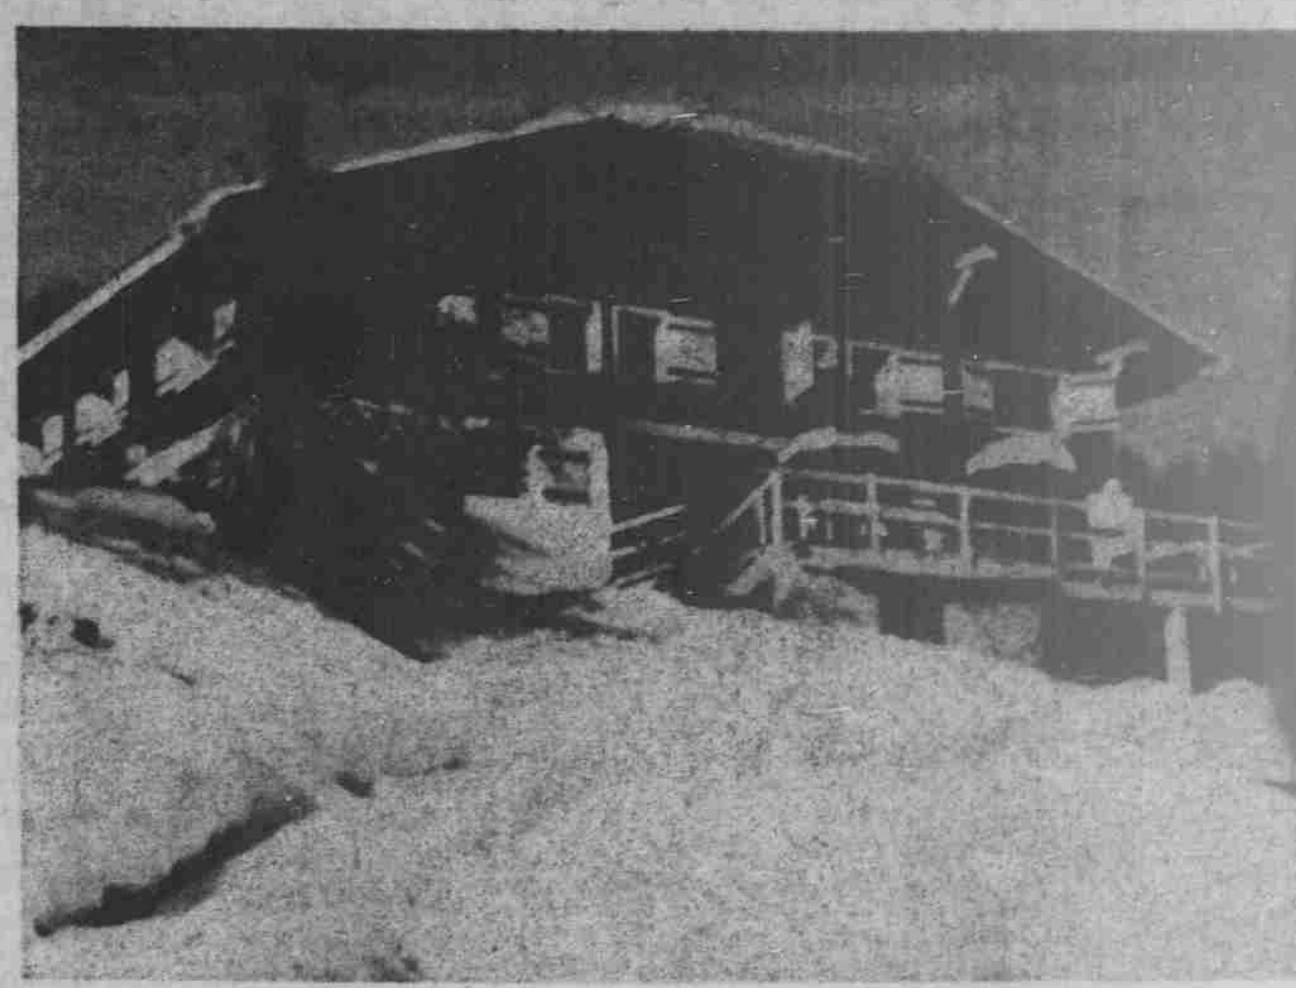

Sound and Fury's production of "Heaven Help Us" has been held over by popular demand. The show will be produced tonight in Memorial Hall at 10 p.m. following the UNC-USC basketball game.

Miss Bernardin, Lawrence Thorp, Jane Edwards and Jack Spooner are cast in the leading roles as the play goes into its third session. Originally scheduled to wind up its run last night, the play was held over by Bob Young, chairman of Graham Memorial Activities Board, due to audience acclaim and student demand for tickets.

Here's Where Some Of The Campus Chest Money Collected Here Goes

Some of the money collected in UNC's Campus Chest drive this week will go to Yugoslavia (left) and some to France (right). Approximately 70 percent of campaign funds will go to the World University Service, which sent the food in the left picture to students at Shopje University in Yugoslavia. The group also owns "Les Alpages" (right), a rest center for women students in the French Alps. Campus Chest Treasurer Bill Self said yesterday only $187.67, or one-fifth of the expected total, has been turned in to the campus drive. He urged students to contribute.

SPONSORED BY ALPHA EPSILON DELTA:

Dental, Medical Convention Gets Underway Here Today

Preparation for a career in medicine will be the theme of a state-wide premedical and pre-dental convention here today.

Between 400 and 500 students and professional men are expected for the convention, according to Tommy Strickland of Alpha Epsilon Delta, sponsor of the meeting.

Strickland said he has received queries about the meeting from Duke, Wake Forest, Davidson, Lenoir Rhyne, Catawba, High Point, Meredith, Woman's College, Elon and Guilford. Any student may be excused from his classes to attend the convention, said Strickland.

When a student registers, he said, he will be given a blank which may be exchanged for an excuse.

Six prominent North Carolina physicians and dentists will speak on the day-long program, to be held in Hill Hall, beginning with 9 a.m. registration.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national premedical honor society.

President of the local chapter is Elwood Morgan, senior from Burlington. Assisting in sponsorship are the Schools of Medicine and Dentistry.

Dr. M. L. Moore, national secretary of the society, will be the first speaker, discussing the role of the AED in medical education.

Two UNC speakers during Saturday morning will be Dr. R. E. Sturdevant, chairman of the Dental School admissions committee, speaking on "Qualifications of a Modern Dentist," and Dr. N. A. Womack, chairman of the Dept. of Surgery, Medical School, on "Qualifications of a Modern Physician."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Following lunch the conferees will tour the Medical and Dental Schools, reconvening at 2:45 p.m. to hear Dr. J. E. Mar-

kee, admissions committee chairman at Duke Medical School, discuss "Factors Governing the Selection of Medical Students."

Drive Ends Today; Only 1-5 Collected

The Campus Chest drive ends at noon today, but by 1 p.m. yesterday only about one-fifth of the expected receipts had been turned in.

Treasurer Bill Self said yesterday he hopes the solicitors have been collecting money, and are just waiting until the drive is over to turn it in. So far only two sororities, six fraternities and three women's dorms have reported. None of the men's dorms has been heard from.

Highest contributions so far have come from Kappa Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kenan and Carr dorms. Receipts to date total $187.67, as compared to last year's $1,000.

Self urged all solicitors to turn in what they have already collected and to try hard to get more. If the drive is not a success, he said, another drive or project will have to be held later in the year.

Tribble Promises Aid In Probe Of College

WAKE FOREST, Dec. 9 (P) — The president of Wake Forest College today promised full cooperation with a trustees investigation of his administration.

However, President Harold W. Tribble said he regretted that "the agitation of recent months should assume such proportions as to hinder and retard our development program."

Tribble said in a statement that "We need cooperation and harmony now more than ever before, and we had this in good measure until this year." The year has seen Basil M. Watkins of Durham serve as president of the Wake board of trustees.

Watkins, who was defeated for re-election recently, announced last night that a nine-member trustees committee has been appointed and will go to work promptly investigating the "over all situation" at Wake Forest, including "reported low faculty moral and general discontent among the alumni regarding the future of Wake Forest."

Watkins named Andrew J. Hutchins of Canton to head the investigating committee which was authorized by the trustees at a meeting several weeks ago. Hutchins said last night the committee will begin its work "between now and Monday." He added, "We will try to conduct an absolutely impartial, fair and objective investigation of rumors mentioned in Mr. Watkins' statement."

Watkins asked the committee to hold hearings here and at Winston-Salem where the college will move next spring. The committee may make its report at a meeting of the trustees scheduled tentatively for Dec. 22 at Winston-Salem.

Dr. Tribble said he felt confident "that good will come out of the present confusion if all the facts are brought to light and fairly presented."

(See TRIBBLE, page 4.)

25 Needy Families Get 'Stocking' Aid

Thanks to 25 campus organizations, 25 families in the Chapel Hill area will not have empty stockings Christmas.

New additions to the list of contributors are Phi Kappa Sigma, Alderman Dormitory, Sigma Nu, Chi Omega, Pi Beta Phi and St. Anthony Hall. Other groups may adopt a family by calling Mrs. Gordon Cleveland before Dec. 12.

The Empty Stocking Campaign is sponsored by the Junior Service League. Last year the League was able to help 422 needy families.

This year the list of those wanting help has already reached 200 and more applications are coming in daily.

An example of a family desperately needing help is the following: Mr. and Mrs. P. and five children live in the country in a two-room log cabin. The father has seasonal work, but this does not meet their needs. The mother has tried to supplement this, but she cannot find anyone to keep the children.

There is a young baby and a feeble-minded five-year-old. This child cannot talk, walk or stand, and this demands all of Mrs. P's time. The family love the child and wish to keep him in the home.

Mrs. P. is an excellent housekeeper. When her husband is employed she buys food and clothes for the children and tries to plan for the months when there is no employment. One child attends school regularly when he has enough clothes. The neighbors have been good to them, but through the Empty Stocking Fund, Santa Claus will visit this home Christmas.

Dr. Tribble said he felt confident "that good will come out of the present confusion if all the facts are brought to light and fairly presented."

(See TRIBBLE, page 4.)

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the Infirmary yesterday included:

Miss Roberta A. Zwahlen, Miss Reta S. Jells, Miss Sylvia G. Calloway, Miss Gloria A. Rothman, Miss Marilyn C. Watson, Frederick A. Burney, Hugh D. Jackson, Herbert S. Kinsey Jr., Hassell G. Hall, Edward A. Lipski, Richard A. Myers, Walter H. Geddie, John B. Mason, Francis R. Randolph, William T. McCuiston, Lyndon O. Anthony, Robert C. Hanes, James P. Pittman and Frederick E. Barwick.

Interdormitory Council Court

The Interdormitory Council Court, above, is another of the Carolina student courts. The members, left to right, are Benny Huffman, Shelton Alexander, chairman; Charles Dunn, Bob Harrington and Dan Duval.

GM'S SLATE

Activities scheduled for Graham Memorial today include:

Grail Room, 4-6 p.m.; Roland Parker 1, 2-6 p.m.; Roland Parker 2, 2-6 p.m.; Roland Parker 3, 2-6 p.m.; Chi Alpha Orphans' Rendezvous Room, 11 p.m.; APO, Rendezvous 4-6 p.m.; APO, APO 4-6 p.m.