Parties Endorse Both Lambeth, Powledge

Miss Richardson Elected Y Prexy

Miss Martha Richardson was elected president of the YWCA Monday night in special meetings held in the women's dormitories.

Miss Richardson, a junior from Winston-Salem, was the only nominee for the office. Her major is Sociology, and she is a member of the Honor Council, co-chairman of the YWCA Dorm Vespers Committee and Dorm Scholarship chairwoman.

Elected vice-president was Miss Polly Clarenbach, junior from Miami Shores, Fla., a history major. Miss Nola Hatten, junior from Pascagoula, Miss., was elected secretary.

Other officers chosen were: treasurer, Miss Lee Ann Curtis, junior from Norfolk, Va.; membership chairman, Miss Sara Walker, junior from Greensboro, and program chairman, Miss Nancy Shuford, junior from Hickory.

Miss Clarenbach is president of the International Relations Club and is a member of the Hospital Service Committee and the Westminster Fellowship.

Miss Hatten, an English major, is secretary of the Baptist Student Union and is a member of the YM-YW Conference Planning Committee, the Hospital Service Com-

Young Is SP Student Body Prexy Nominee; Exum Is Choice Of UP

Evans Is SP Veep Nominee

By CLARKE JONES

The Student Party last night enthusiastically acclaimed Bob Young as its nominee for president of the student body.

Young was given the endorsement after Bob Harrington, also nominated for the post, withdrew his name in favor of Young.

Also given endorsements by acclamation were Sonny Evans for vice president; Miss Jackie Aldridge for secretary, and Andy Burman for treasurer.

Two of the several things Young intends to do if elected are (1) the investigation of placing cigarette vending machines in all the dormitories and (2) looking into the possibility of setting up a "student administration co-op."

Concerning the cigarette machines Young said "Since the Executive Committee (of the Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University) has already given us unofficial sanction to investigate the matter, I say that we should certainly be able to prepare a plan that would be beneficial to us and agreeable to the Trustees.

"The net profits (from the machines) would be returned," Young said, "to the social funds of the various dormitories. Thus for once, we would be receiving benefits from our own profits."

About the "student-administration co-op," Young said "Another matter in which I think we could make some marked progress is that of student government-administration relations. I would suggest a 'student administration co-op.'"

"... I have consulted," Young went on, "with a member of the administration and have been assured that student representation would be welcome on most of their planning committees."

"Without cooperation," he said, "I feel that we will never be able to accomplish anything constructive; with this type of set-up, accomplishments are almost inevitable."

Young also said "I promise... that if I have anything to do with it, there will not be any dirty politics involved... from the Student Party's slate."

In other business, the SP nominated Misses Esther Ballentine, Sylvia Phillips and Diane Roane for Dorm Women's legislative seats.

No Comment By Officials On Denial

"No comment, brother, no comment," was all Chancellor Robert B. House had to say yesterday concerning the Supreme Court's ruling that its ban on segregated public schools extended to tax-supported colleges and universities.

Dean of Student Affairs Fred Weaver, Acting President of the Consolidated University William Friday, and State Board of Higher Education Chairman J. Harris Purks also had no comment on the matter.

North Carolina Atty. Gen. William B. Rodman said "I can't say what further action will be taken."

Rodman said he was disappointed "that the court has dismissed the appeal without permitting an argument on it."

John L. Brandon of Durham, one of three Negro undergraduate students attending the university, said:

"Now that the novelty and publicity is about over, maybe I can really settle down and take my place as just another Carolina student."

Brandon and two brothers, Leroy B. Frasier Jr. and Ralph K. Frasier, have been attending the University while the state of North Carolina appealed a District Court ruling that they be admitted.

Rodman had appealed the District Court ruling by contending that the state had made equal provision for Negroes in colleges supported by taxpayers under the historic "separate but equal doctrine." That doctrine, laid down by the nation's high court more than 50 years ago, was overturned by the court in its historic decision in May, 1954, in which it said there shall not be segregation by race in public schools.

Rodman said that only this morning he had received a letter from Louisiana indicating that state wanted to join North Carolina in asking the Supreme Court to permit arguments to it.

Rodman added "I can't say what further action will be taken. It will be given careful consideration."

Dublin Players Here Tonight In 'Pygmalion'

George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" will be presented tonight by the Dublin Players in Memorial Hall.

The appearance of the group is being sponsored by the Graham Memorial Recreation Committee. The performance will begin at 8 o'clock.

Tickets for the production may be obtained at the information desk of Graham Memorial and at several downtown stores. The prices are $1 and $2.

The Dublin Players are now making their fifth coast-to-coast tour of the United States and Canada. They have presented performances of Shaw, Shakespeare, Oscar Wilde and Noel Coward. The group was founded in 1947. They toured Ireland for several years, coming to America in 1951 for the first time.

The Players have made numerous television appearances in New York. Because of the response to their performance on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town," the group was asked to do several repeat performances.

Petite Musicale Sunday

The Petite Musicale will feature a dramatic melodrama Sunday evening.

The melodrama will be presented by the Graham Memorial Activities Board at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

The concert will be performed by Walter Golde, pianist, and Carl Williams, dramatic reader. The pair will present Enoch Arden.

Golde is well known as a voice teacher, a pianist, and accompanist, according to John Ludwig, chairman of the Petite Musicale. Williams is a senior in the University, majoring in Dramatics. He has appeared in several of the Playmaker's productions, and has been cast in several of North Carolina's outdoor dramas.

Monteith UP Veep Endorsee

By NEIL BASS

After 37 minutes of pro and con talk, Jim Exum edged-out Luther Hodges Jr. to gain the University Party's nomination for the presidency of the student body.

At 8:35, Exum's name was entered in the contest by John Raper who called him "the UP's most loyal supporter and advocate."

At 8:41, Hodges' hat was thrown in the ring by Stan Shaw who said, "He's a winner."

After talks by numerous supporters of the two candidates, Sabiston assumed the rostrum at 9:12 to make it official. "It gives me great pleasure to announce that Jim Exum is the UP candidate for president of the student body," the chairman said.

In the vice-presidential race, Jim Monteith was victorious without opposition. He was acclaimed to the post.

Miss Sue Walker was triumphant over Miss Martha Barber for the secretary of the student body nomination.

John Kerr got the nod over Al Holt as the UP selection for the treasurer's position.

In the editorship of The Daily Tar Heel race, a main issue which arose between Powledge and Lambeth concerned putting the paper on a subscription basis. Powledge favored voluntary subscription and Lambeth didn't.

In speaking for Hodges, Mike Weinman cited his "electibility," and Miss Laura Ervin "his intangible quality" of success.

Speakers for Exum, Miss Jane Cocks and Jim Monteith, said respectively that he was "admired and respected," and "capable and electable."

Lambeth, Powledge Approved By Board

By CHARLIE SLOAN

Tom Lambeth and Fred Powledge have been unanimously approved by the bi-partisan selection board as candidates for the office of editor of The Daily Tar Heel.

Members of the board questioned the two men for two hours yesterday concerning their plans should they become editor.

When asked about his plans for the editorial page, Lambeth said, "I feel that it has been decided that the editorials in a newspaper should reflect only the editor's opinion." He added that he intended to get as many different viewpoints on the editorial page as possible, if he is elected.

Powledge said, "The editorial column on the left hand side of the editorial page is the property of the editor; the rest belongs to the students to use in any way they see fit." The editorials should lead rather than reflect student opinion, said Powledge.

Lambeth said, although he will not repudiate his party affiliation he will not let party connections affect him. He is a member of the Student Party.

He will approach both parties with his intentions, said Lambeth, but had not decided if he will ask them for endorsement.

Powledge explained that he, too, planned to seek endorsement from both parties.

Members of the selections board present at the meeting were co-editors Ed Yoder and Louis Kraar, Miss Esther Ballantine, Bill Sabiston, and Neil Bass. Yoder conducted the meeting, turning the chair over to Kraar when he joined in the questioning. The candidates were interviewed separately.

Handbook For Symposium Is Distributed

The handbook concerning the Carolina Symposium on Public Affairs is now available at the YMCA building and the information office of Graham Memorial.

The handbook has been distributed by the Symposium. It contains a program outline for the three areas of discussion during the Symposium.

Pictures and short biographies of the main speakers are included in the handbook under the lists of topics on which they will speak.

Lists are also included of the group discussion leaders who will conduct the morning and afternoon classroom seminars and group meetings.

The handbook also lists books which have been selected for reference on each of the three main program topics.

Daniel Vann, member of the Symposium publicity committee, said yesterday that 2,000 copies of the handbook have been printed for distribution. He added that a few have been sent to prominent persons and organizations throughout the state.

The cover of the handbook is in two colors, Carolina blue and white. It has a cut of the Old Well on the front cover. The purpose of the Symposium is also printed on the front cover.

UNC Nursing Officials At New Orleans Meet

Dean Elizabeth L. Kemble of the University School of Nursing and Miss Lucille S. Spalding, Professor of Nursing in charge of the Graduate Curricula, are in New Orleans this week for the Regional Conference on Graduate Education in Nursing.

Meeting from March 5 through March 9, representatives of the Southern Regional Education Board and five other university schools of nursing in the South are to discuss the program content and techniques involved in a graduate program for nurses leading to the Master of Science in Nursing.

At present, the spokesman said, the university has 10 Negro students. In addition to the three undergraduates, the other seven are taking graduate work, including law and medicine.

Durham attorney Floyd B. McKissick, one of the lawyers for the three undergraduates, said he was not surprised by the high court's opinion.

Peru Native To Be On WUNC Tonight

The mystery minstrel who serenaded the girls in Alderman and Kenan dormitories several weeks ago will appear on the Cosmopolitan Interview Show on WUNC-FM tonight at 7:30.

He is Fernando Vargas, a student of the institute of engineering in Peru who is visiting UNC's school of public health. Vargas will sing several Spanish songs and tell something of himself and his country on the program tonight.

John Riebel, associate secretary of the YMCA, has invited any coeds who do not have FM radios to listen to the program at WUNC's studio in Swain Hall.

Free Film To Be Presented Tomorrow

"Lost Horizon" will be presented by the Graham Memorial Activities Board Film Series tomorrow night.

The presentation will be held at 8 o'clock in Carroll Hall.

Starring in the film are Ronald Colman, Jane Wyatt and Thomas Mitchell. The musical score is by Dimitri Tiomkin, who has been recently acclaimed for his scores in "High Noon" and "The High and the Mighty."

No tickets are sold for individual presentations of the Film Series. Tickets for the remaining five movies in the spring series may be obtained at Ledbetter-Pickard, the Graham Memorial information desk, the YMCA and at the door no the night of the presentation.

"Lost Horizon" is a Frank Capra production of the James Hilton novel.

Critic Richard Griffith said of the film, "No director, with the possible exception of Pabst, has surpassed this visualization of icy wastes. This sequence was movie at its best, a seeming slice of reality."

Miss Roberta Dixon To Give Senior Recital

Miss Roberta Boyd Dixon, mezzo soprano, will be presented in her senior recital in Hill Hall tomorrow at 8 p.m.

A student of Joel Carter of the University Music Dept., Miss Dixon is a member of the mixed Chorus and Kappa Delta sorority.

Her program will include works by Moussorgsky, Menotti, Brahms, Wolf, Faure, Naginski and Bowles. She will be accompanied by Hunter Tillman.

Miss Dixon attended Woman's College in Greensboro before coming to the University. At WC she was a member of the Woman's College Choir, the Modern Dance Club and the Music Education Club. She is a native of Raleigh.

Representative To BA Fraternity

S. Wiggins of Industrial Business Machines will be the local chapter of Kappa Psi at a Friday meeting.

Kappa Psi is a national fraternity in Business Administration.

The applied science major on data processing for the southeastern region of the International Business Machines Corp.

On The Political Front

ONE SP MEMBER predicted at Monday night's meeting that the student body presidential race won't be as hot this spring as it was last year.

And he also predicted that Jim Monteith, if given the UP nomination, would beat Bob Young, the SP nominee.

ONE OF the highlights of the SP meeting Monday was the appearance of last year's SP head Joel Fleishman.

When called upon by Chairman Norwood Bryan to "say a few words," Fleishman quietly declined.

AN ODD filibuster method was employed at Monday's SP meeting. One prominent member led the party members in singing "Hark, the Sound of Tar Heel Voices."

The filibuster was used to give nominees for some of the Dorm Men's seats, absent at the time of their nominations, a chance to give a little speech to the party.

ONE ACTIVE politician predicted yesterday that Jim Exum would get the UP nomination for student body president over Luther Hodges Jr.

CU Day At Greensboro Will Be Held March 24

Consolidated University Night will be held March 24 at Woman's College in Greensboro.

The event will be sponsored by the Consolidated University Student Council.

Receptions will be held in the Women's College dormitories from 7 to 8:30 p.m. An informal dance will be held in Elliott Hall from 8:30 p.m. to midnight.

According to Luther Hodges Jr., president to the CUSC, and Bob Garner, chairman of the Carolina delegation, University trustees who live nearby have been invited and are expected to attend. Bill Friday, acting president of the University, and the three chancellors have also been invited and are expected to attend, they said.
