Candidates Meeting Set For Today

There will be a meeting for all candidates for campus offices today at 7:30 p.m. in Gerrard Hall, according to Elections Board Chairman Harry Braxton.

"All candidates for campus offices," said Braxton, "must be present under Article VIII, Section 1 of the General Election Law."

"A compulsory meeting of all candidates and party chairmen or representatives of the chairmen shall be held..." according to Section 1.

"Absence excuses shall be granted," according to Section 1, "only for (1) interment in the Infirmary; (2) conflicting classes, and (3) other reasons approved by the Chairman of the Elections Board."

"Candidates not attending this meeting and not having excuses as provided (above) shall be dropped as candidates," according to the section.

"They may be reinstated by contacting the Chairman of the Elections Board within 48 hours after said meeting begins and paying a $1 fine within 48 hours after said meeting," according to the section.

Statements Issued By Knowledge And Sears

Knowledge and his campaigner, Woody Sears, yesterday released separate statements on two developments in the editorship of The Daily Tar Heel.

Applications by Tom Lamington and campaign managers that they are "a matter of succession" is wholly unwarranted.

"Lambeth, when he announced his candidacy last week, said this: '...no past editor of the paper is a candidate in this election and I hope we can base this campaign on the views of the candidates of today.'"

"I do not regret my performance as editor of The Daily Tar Heel."

Roger Wagner Chorale Will Appear Here

Students and townspeople will have an opportunity to hear the Roger Wagner Chorale Thursday in Memorial Hall as part of the Chorale's first coast-to-coast tour of the United States.

Roger Wagner will conduct the 24-voice chorus in a program which will range from 18th century airs to the Brahms Liebeslieder Waltzes and excerpts from "Porgy and Bess" by Gershwin.

The Chorale is today one of the outstanding choral groups in the United States. They have presented concerts in the Hollywood Bowl, in leading concert halls on the West Coast and Europe, they have appeared on radio and television, supplied music for the sound tracks of a dozen motion pictures, and they have made a series of phonograph records.

The Chorale is celebrating its tenth anniversary this year. It made its first public appearance in Los Angeles in 1945. Since this time, the Roger Wagner Chorale has been busy with varied activities. For three years the choristers were heard weekly by TV-viewers on the "I Married Joan" show.

Two years ago, the Chorale was invited to England to participate in London's Coronation Festivities. The Chorale was the only American singing group to receive such an invitation.

Roger Wagner is selective in his choice of singers. Singers auditioned by Wagner are subject to rigid vocal tests and written examinations in musical theory.

University Party Platform Is Given

The University Party platform was announced yesterday by UP presidential hopeful Jim Exum and includes efforts to coordinate quizzes among the various departments, attempts to have no restrictions on student cars and promises to continue support of a liberal class cut system.

Exum said that the party's platform is "the best that has been issued in the three years that I have been at Carolina. It is positive and practical."

"If our candidates are elected to office," he said, "we will do our very best to carry out these proposals to a successful end. I believe that they can become an existing fact, rather than just words on paper."

The platform calls for "immediate improvement of social facilities for men's dorms in order to facilitate a more workable visiting agreement" for dates and parents. The UP would like to see arrangements made so that dormitory social rooms could be used as meeting places, the platform stated.

"Curfew privileges for nursing students consistent with those of other Carolina coeds" and "a definite attempt toward installing a telephone buzzer for each room in the women's dorms" are other planks in the UP declaration.

A permanent reduction of student date tickets for football games will also be sought by the party, Exum said.

The platform also calls for the following:

- 1. Aid to the APO service fraternity, book exchange in furthering their policy of selling used text books at reduced prices.
- 2. Aid to Victory Village Day Nursery in order to provide needed nursery facilities.
- 3. Strict enforcement of the speed limits in Victory Village.

Concerning the cut system, the declaration said that: "Faculty members and students have seen the good and bad points of a compulsory attendance rule, and it is generally agreed that a new, more liberal, plan is in order. The UP supports a plan, which at the present time is almost a reality, that would give unlimited cuts to juniors and seniors."

In asking for "absolutely no restrictions on student cars," the party said it stood for complete cooperation with the Student Traffic Committee.

"Through positive action on the part of student government," the platform said, "a plan can be worked out that will permit all Carolina students to keep their cars on the campus."

The party said it would make an "untiring effort to accomplish coordination of quizzes."

"Students who have had five quizzes in two days will readily see the need for this," the platform said.

UN Seminar Set For Next Week In N. Y.

Students will have the opportunity to hear Dag Hammarskjold, Krishna Menon, Lester Pearson and Henry Cabot Lodge at the Second United Nations Seminar of the Student YMCA-YWCA at sessions beginning next Wednesday in New York.

A plan for the universal control of the H-bomb is only one of the problems confronting the UN and the world, and the purpose of the three seminars sponsored by the YMCA-YWCA is to help students face these issues with "Christian faith and Christian responsibility."

Interested students and faculty members were requested to contact either John Riebel at the local YWCA immediately for applications if they wish to participate in this seminar March 21-23.

Besides hearing the views of important UN personalities in UN and other special sessions, members of the seminars will have the opportunity to visit with members of the various UN delegations and the members of the United States mission. Students will also attend General Assembly sessions in the UN headquarters.

Panels and discussions will be held, and a sight-seeing tour of New York is on the agenda for "off-hours."

The cost of the seminars will be from $25 to $30, including reservations at the Diplomat Hotel, a seminar dinner Friday night, the sight-seeing tour and a UN building tour.

Press Meet For Women Here Today

Addresses by two national writers, a reader panel, election of officers and presentation of writing awards will highlight the third annual North Carolina Press Women's Spring Institute which will open here today.

Following registration which begins at 12 noon at the Carolina Inn, the press women will assemble at 2:30 p.m. in Carroll Hall for the reader panel on "What We Read and Why."

Moderated by UNC Journalism Professor Walter Spearman, the panel will be composed of Dr. Guion G. Johnson, Orville Campbell and Noel Houston, all of Chapel Hill. Dr. Johnson heads the N. C. Council of Women's Organizations; Campbell is a publisher and promoter; and Houston is a noted writer.

The first of the main speakers, NEA Woman's Editor Jean Moon, will be heard this afternoon following the panel session. She will discuss ways of improving women's pages.

Sylvia Porter, financial columnist, will give the main address at the banquet at 7:30 in the Carolina Inn Ballroom. A party for the press women will be given by UNC Journalism Deam Norval Neil Luxon and Mrs. Luxon.

Annual elections and awards presentation are scheduled for Sunday, with both business meeting and awards luncheon to be held at the Inn.

Two UNC Coeds File As Beauty Pageant Opens

The first three entrants in the sixth annual Miss Chapel Hill Beauty Pageant have been announced by M. H. Jennings Jr., chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored event.

The yearly beauty and talent show will be held in Memorial Hall on April 4 as the local elimination for the nationwide Miss America Pageant. Initial entrants in the event are Miss Evelyn Ann Matthews of Chapel Hill, Miss Shirley Joy Carpenter, coed from Oakboro, and Miss Libby McDowell, coed from Wake Forest.

Jennings said that about two dozen entrants are expected in all from local girls and UNC coeds. Under the rules of the nationwide Miss America Pageant, which are being followed locally, he said, a college student is considered a resident of the place where she is enrolled. Thus, as in the past, he said, it is expected that a good field of entrants will be in the Pageant from the University.

A 19-year-old brunette from Oakboro, Miss Carpenter is a third-year coed at Carolina and a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She has dark hair, is five-feet-six, and a piano major at the University. For two years before coming here she attended the Woman's College in Greensboro. She has been a UNC Homecoming Queen, and was recently named Miss Fashionplate. In high school she was named the Most Athletic, won the Music Award, and was class salutatorian. She is now accompanist to the mixed chorus for the University.

Miss McDowell, 21, is studying voice here. She is five-feet-five, a brunette, and was an entrant for national Maid of Cotton. In addition she was selected as a yearbook beauty at Furman University where she was also in the May Court and was an ROTC sponsor. She has been an entrant for the Yackety Yack Beauty Court here, and a Blue-White Queen. At Furman she was a member of the Music Club, the Honorary Literary Society, and on the Dean's List.

CONTACT MR. JENNINGS
Entrants for Miss Chapel Hill may join the Beauty Pageant by contacting Jennings at Town and Campus, and local clubs and fraternities are encouraged to sponsor entries.

Present holder of the title of Miss Chapel Hill, Carolina coed Joan Brown, was second runner-up to Miss North Carolina in the state Beauty Pageant at Wilmington last summer. Her predecessors have been: Miss Dot Hogan (Mrs. William D. Basnight)—1951; Miss Iris Merritt—1952; Miss Anne Jacobs—1953; and Miss Barbara Ann Stone—1954. Three of Chapel Hill's six entrants in the state event have placed in the finals.
