

WEATHER
...
and Mild.
NO. 142
Complete UP Wire Service

The Daily Tar Heel

UGLY
The club's not nearly so ugly as the Chapel Hill police could be. See editorial, page 2.
SIX PAGES THIS ISSUE

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1956

Offices in Graham Memorial

GMAB Installs Officers

New GMAB officers are shown above following their installation Tuesday at a Carolina Inn banquet. From left to right are Tom Lambeth, president, M. S. Susan Walker, Miss Pat McQueen, John Ludwig, Bill Stator, vice-presidents; and Bill Christian, treasurer. (Truman Moore Photo.)

Golden Fleece Tapping Here Monday; Shoemaker Will Speak

Shoemaker, former editor of the Asheville Citizen and executive director of the Educational Reporting Agency, will speak at the 54th annual banquet of the Order of the Golden Fleece here Monday.

The banquet will follow the ritual tapping in Memorial Hall at an undisclosed number of places. Doors will be open at 7:15.

The Order of the Golden Fleece, an honorary on the second oldest college in its type, was founded in 1903.

When Alexander, then dean of the college and a former member of the Order, had been a member and Bones, the Golden Fleece, organization at the University. He, University Professor Henry Williams, and Dr. Edward Graham conceived the organization's mythological framework. They tapped its first members.

Leonard Head Camp

Leonard, a rising junior from Hendersonville, was elected head of the 1956 UNC YMCA Freshman Camp last Monday night.

The camp planning committee is composed of students whose duty includes the planning of the camp, which will be held next week.

The committee is also active in planning the Y-MCA Cabin, Orientation, Freshman Fellowship and is at present an officer of the Y-MCA serving as co-chairman of the Membership Committee.

21 Groups To Take Part In Valkyrie Sing Here Monday

As of yesterday 21 campus organizations were scheduled to participate in the 1956 Valkyrie Sing, to be held Monday night in Memorial Hall.

The Sing will follow the tapping ceremonies of the Order of the Golden Fleece. The doors will be closed at 7:15.

The groups which are scheduled to participate in the Sing are Alpha Gamma Delta, Nurses Dormitory, McIver, Alpha Delta Pi, Smith Dorm.

Tri Delta, Baptist Student Union, Monogram Club, Chi Omega, Everett Dorm.

Pi Beta Phi, Kappa Delta, St. Anthony Hall, Chi Psi, APO, Aycock Dorm, Mangrum Dorm, SFE, Phi Kappa Sigma, Grimes Dorm and Sigma Nu.

Judges for the event will be Ralph Casey, assistant professor of Physical Education; Joel Carter, assistant professor in the Dept. of Music; and John Ehle, assistant professor in the Dept. of Radio, TV and Motion Pictures.

17 Students Appointed To GM Posts

Seventeen students have been appointed to committee positions on GMAB to aid in the "challenge" of making "the student union program a better one," according to Tom Lambeth, recently elected president of GMAB.

The new committee chairmen are: Lee Ann Curtis, reception; Esther Ballentine, and Lloyd Shaw, calendar; George Mitchell, music; Seamon Gottlieb and Tom Johnson, film; Bill Wearmouth and Al-Cruce, recreation; Jean Whitehead, Student-Faculty Forum; Ed Myers and Chuck Flagg, dance; Mike Strong and Warren Miller, publicity; John Brooks, polls; Jane Edwards, Sound and Fury; Jeep Myatt, outings; and Jim Armstrong, Mardi Gras.

Lambeth said, "We realize the challenge that each new group of officers receives to make the student union program a better one and we know that after the fine program that Bob (Young) and his board have presented, this will be even more of a challenge. We look forward to it with enthusiasm because we have faith in the continuation of the spirit of student-faculty administration cooperation that has this year started GM on the road to better fulfilling its responsibilities to the campus."

The other officers, who were recently installed at a banquet at the Carolina Inn, are: John Ludwig, Bob Stator and Susan Walker, vice-presidents; Pat McQueen, secretary, and Bill Christian, treasurer.

Phi Endorses Govt. Report

A resolution calling for the Philanthropic Assembly to go on record as endorsing the proposals and conclusions contained in the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education was defeated in the group's meeting Tuesday night.

The Assembly also heard a report by Dick Iobst, Phi alumnus and law student here, on the attack on Fort Fisher during the last days of the Civil War. He said that the fort underwent one of the most extensive bombardments in the history of warfare up to that time.

Following the historian's report, several reports of the Committee of the Whole were approved by the group. One of these was a proposal that the title of Speaker be changed to that of Prolocutor.

Speaker John Curtis announced that a special election will be held at the next meeting to fill the vacated post of sergeant-at-arms.

Several members of the Dialectic Senate attended the meeting and discussed plans for a Phi-Di debate. It was decided that the joint event will be held in Phi Hall on May 1.

Young Plans Prosecution 'To The Fullest Extent'

Orientation Counselors Interviewed

Approximately 210 prospective Orientation counselors are being interviewed this week, according to Bill McLean, Orientation chairman.

Interviewing of applicants is scheduled to end officially on Saturday of this week, but one session may have to be scheduled on Sunday, said McLean.

Applicants who are unable to be present for the interviews should contact Mebane Pritchett, chairman of the selection committee, at the Phi Delta Theta House for a new interview time.

Orientation counselors are chosen by a selection committee made up of members of the Orientation Committee, the members of the Selection Committee, other than that of Chairman Pritchett, are not revealed since "they might be contacted by applicants," said McLean. The number of orientation counselors needed each year is based on the number of incoming freshmen. Last year around 110 counselors were used in the orientation program, but no definite number has been decided upon for this year as yet, according to McLean.

Applicants for the counselor jobs, said McLean, are expected to have a thorough knowledge of the Honor Code, campus life and governmental systems.

Erroll Garner To Be At Memorial Hall

Erroll Garner and his modern trio will give lovers of modern music a cool earful during his concert at 8 o'clock tonight in Memorial Hall.

The jazz treat costs $1 per person. Tickets are now on sale in Y Court, at the GM information office, Kemp's Town and Campus, Carolina, Carolina Sport Shop and the Chapel Hill Recreation Center.

Members of the Stray Greeks and the Interfraternity Council will sell tickets in the dormitories.

The IFC and Panhellenic Council are sponsors of Garner's appearance. Proceeds will go to the Chapel Hill Recreation Center.

Garner plays entirely without the use of printed music. This gives him a style that is fresh but accomplished.

He displayed his talent for informal musical rendition at an early age. When only three years old, he played on the piano a selection he had learned from listening to music from an old-fashioned player piano.

At the age of seven Garner made his professional debut playing with a group called the "Candy Kids" at a radio station in Pittsburgh, Pa., his home town.

Since then he has grown in ability and increased his following.

Cites Fact Small Sect Involved

Bob Young, president-elect of the student body, yesterday announced he would "prosecute . . . to the fullest extent" all those connected with the Monday night police station incident.

He said, "I certainly express my deepest regret about the incident. As incoming spokesman for the student body, I would like to make it clear what my intentions are concerning this matter."

"Because of the widespread adverse publicity and repercussions which inevitably will develop from this," he said, "I will prosecute as soon as possible all those who are responsible to the fullest extent."

"I wish that we could make it very clear that this is an incident caused by a very small group of people. However, as we all know, it will bring disgrace to everyone connected with the University," Young said.

"Having talked with members of the administration, with members of the police staff and with persons involved in the episode," he said, "I feel that everyone realizes the damage that this has done. I hope that all sound-thinking student will join with me in (Continued on page 4)

John Raper Gets Goettingen Award

John E. Raper Jr., a rising junior here at UNC, has received the Exchange Scholarship for one year of study at Goettingen University in Germany.

Raper, a member of Beta Theta Pi, is planning to major in history and then law. He is from Fayetteville.

Dan Southerland of Alexandria, Va., also a sophomore here, has been named an alternate for the Scholarship. Southerland is now planning to major in medicine.

The Exchange Scholarship entitles Raper to one year of study at the German university. UNC will pay him $450 for travel expenses. Goettingen will pay for his room, board, matriculation, tuition and an allowance.

At the present, Dave Mundy, a former UNC student, is studying at Goettingen. He plans to be back at Carolina this fall.

Members of the Selections Committee were: Fred Weaver, dean of Student Affairs; Dave Ward, vice-president of IFC; Sonny Hallford, president of IDC; Bob Young, president of the student body; Claude Shotts, secretary of YMCA; John G. Kunstmann of the German Dept. and Bill Wible, chairman of the Exchange Scholarship Committee.

Wible remarked that he was glad to see the number of applicants had risen from last year's three to this year's nine. He said he hoped the number would keep increasing.

The Committee had a hard time choosing one boy for the award because they were all very qualified for the honor, he said. "All the boys," Wible said, "had very good grades and were all good guys."

Di Senate Holds Last Meeting

In its last regular debate of the spring semester, the Dialectic Senate defeated a bill which stated in part that there is a natural aristocracy of intellect which, if civilization is to survive, must be allowed to exercise leadership and control over the masses.

The bill was introduced by Sen. Stan Shaw, who cited the cultures of ancient Egypt, Babylonia and Greece in an attempt to show that civilization flourished in these countries until the ruling aristocracy was overthrown by the barbaric masses. Sen. Shaw said that this "mobocracy" is still with us in the form of socialist and communist movements which aim to destroy everything of beauty and value in the world.

Sen. Larry McElroy rose to oppose the bill, saying that America has produced no real aristocracy. Many of our successful leaders, he said, have no great intellectual powers.

Sen. McElroy was followed by Senators Steve Moss and Pat Adams. Moss stressed the great importance of intellect in morality. No man is moral, he said, unless he has sufficient intellect to understand moral principles. Sen. Adams said that in his opinion, the bill harked back to old Slavery Days, and was completely out of line with traditional American principles.

Sen. Jim Holmes, speaking negatively, objected to the statement of a previous speaker that the masses have hindered progress. Instead, he saw the masses as exerting a dynamic and progressive influence upon civilization.

Pres. David Reid assumed the rostrum to speak against the bill. He saw in the bill a similarity to the policies adopted by Russia. He said that under the provisions of the bill, those who would in America emerge triumphant, would not necessarily be best "qualified to lead."

Sen. Nancy Rothschild and Sen. Scotty Hester wound up the debate. Sen. Rothschild pointed out the importance of education in developing native intellect, and Sen. Hester emphasized the privilege of the majority to make their own decisions and govern themselves as they see fit.

Major Barbara Tonight's Free Movie in Carroll Hall

"Major Barbara" will be tonight's GMAB Spring Film Series presentation in Carroll Hall at 8 p. m.

The movie is George Bernard Shaw's comedy-satire about a Salvation Army girl who is ready to make any sacrifice for the man of her choice.

Starring in the film is the British actor, Rex Harrison, presently featured in the Broadway production of "My Fair Lady," which is based on "Pygmalion," another Shaw work.

Also featured in tonight's film are Wendy Hiller and Robert Morley. Morley has been noted for his performance in the American film, "Beau Brummel."

Students in the infirmary yesterday included: Miss Susan N. Quinn, Miss Polly N. Clarenbach, Miss Margaretta Ortenbach, Robert D. Chandler, Morris R. Hall, Carl E. Harris, Alah L. Sternberg, Lee W. Porter Jr., Biffy R. West, Baxter C. Culler and Raymond R. Murphy Jr.

Beauty Contest Is Moved to High School Auditorium

Sixth annual Miss Chapel Hill Beauty Pageant on May 4, originally scheduled for Memorial Hall, will be held instead in the Hill High School Auditorium.

Reason for the transferral is an objection by Acting Dean of Miss Isabelle MacLeod to UNC coeds entered in the contest wearing bathing suits and shorts on the Memorial Hall stage.

Concerning the Jaycee-sponsored event, Miss MacLeod said having coeds in Memorial Hall would "look like the University was sponsoring it."

After talking with Miss MacLeod, M. H. Jennings, chairman of the event, moved the contest to the high school auditorium. There were no hard feelings between the two, however, and "we are friends," according to Jennings.

Coeds entered in the contest thus far, are Misses Jo Anne Knoff, Willey, Evelyn Ann Matthews, Joan Norwood, Libby McDowell, Shirley Carpenter, Sylvia Tarantino and Nancy McFadden.

Getting Ready for Senior Week Festivities

Four Carolina seniors are shown above anticipating Barefoot Day, one of the events to be held during Senior Week, which begins Monday. Left to right, the seniors are Ken Anderson, Kingston; Jay Zimmerman, New Paltz, N. Y.; David Smoot, Wake Forest; Miss Judy Talley, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Miss Robin Fuller, Raleigh.

In the middle of Emerson Field; Carolina gentleman standing all alone wearing a tux in the morning sun. Waiting for Germans perhaps?

Sign on Old West Dorm proclaiming that the I. Q. average for the dorm is 180. Really?

Good old-fashioned hay ride last night. Sedate Carolina students, no less. Sounds like fun, though, doesn't it?

Senior Week To Feature Much Activity

Seniors and faculty will clash in softball, and free movies, barefoot day, and a picnic on the banks of Hogan's lake will be the order of business during senior week here April 30 through May 3.

Festivities will begin Monday with free senior tickets to Sound and Fury's new production. Seniors can pick up their complimentary tickets to S & F in Y-Court Friday, Saturday and Monday.

The big softball game between prominent faculty members and seniors will begin Tuesday's program. The game, scheduled for 3 o'clock on the intramural field, will feature both serious and farcical features of the great American sport, with Lewis Brumfield, a speaker of note, doing the play-by-play over the loudspeaker system. The senior class social committee, headed by Ken Anderson, will furnish free cokes and peanuts to the spectators.

Tuesday night seniors will attend free movies down town, after hours. Coeds will have late permission.

Wednesday, May 2, is free cut day. Seniors will attend a compulsory and important meeting in Memorial Hall at 10:30 a. m. Program will be provided by a guest speaker and the respective college deans.

Thursday will be the annual barefoot day, and that afternoon at 3 o'clock seniors are invited to a picnic at Hogan's Lake featuring a combo, refreshments, and prizes.