Garner Well Received Here

By MIKE VESTER
Memorial Hall echoed with the thud of tapping feet and good piano music Thursday night as Erroll Garner, "Mr. Piano," gave a jazz concert that students here will long remember.
Garner and his trio were sponsored by the Interfraternity Council and the Panhellenic Council. The proceeds, $691, are to go to the Chapel Hill Recreation Center.
Garner captivated the hearts of his audience with his smooth and casual style of playing. As he started playing each number, the audience clapped as they recognized the piece. Garner would throw back a wide grin and keep playing, satiating the audience's musical appetites.
The audience was enthusiastic during the whole concert. Garner was "assisted" by the students in the audience in the rhythm section. He was getting his "beat" from them in the form of tapping feet, slapping hands, clicking fingers and other odd noises. The audience couldn't seem to resist keeping time with his infectious beat.
Some of the outstanding numbers Garner spelled forth were "Laura," "Blue Moon," "Lalaby of Birdland," "April in Paris," "Our Love Is Here To Stay" and many, many more of the old standards and the newly popular songs.

Sonny Evans Assumes Speaker Duties; Young Discusses 9 Points In Address

Pledges To Do Anything For Student Good

"I...pledge myself to do anything and everything... that will be of benefit to the entire student body."
These were the closing words of President Bob Young's Inaugural Address delivered to the student Legislature Thursday night. Young had just been sworn in by Chairman Pat Patterson of the Men's Honor Council.
Patterson also administered oath to other recently elected student government officers, Vice President Eli (Sonny) Evans, Secretary Jackie Aldridge and Treasurer John Kerr.
President Young received personal congratulations from outgoing President Don Fowler.

POINTS

- The nine major points touched on by Young were:
(1) Vending machines in dormitories.
(2) Cooperation with University administration and faculty.
(3) Establishment of a Victory Village Veterans' Advisory Committee.
(4) Institution of a Cooperative buying agent for fraternities and sororities.
(5) Implementation of a more lenient class attendance regulation.
(6) Establishment of a Student Complaint Board.
(7) Establishment of an Honor System Commission.
(8) Encouragement of more participation in student government.
(9) Establishment of an Advisory Traffic Committee.

VENDING MACHINES

Concerning vending machines, Young pledged to seek a method whereby profits from dormitory vending machines would revert to the Interdormitory Council. In turn the Council would use the funds to more adequately equip the individual dormitory social rooms. Young also mentioned the possibility of installation of cigarette vending machines in dormitories.

COOPERATION

On the matter of cooperation with the administration and faculty, the new president said consultation would be used as a method to procure, if feasible:

- (1) Excuse of classes for homecoming football game.
(2) Establishment of a reading day between classes and examinations.
On fraternity-sorority cooperative buying, Young said a cooperative buying agent might be set-up to buy non-perishable goods for the groups, if they desired such procedure.

VETERANS-VICTORY VILLAGE

Concerning veterans and Victory Village, the president proposed an advisory committee made up of representatives from the two groups to work for:
(1) Voluntary physical education for veterans.
(2) Establishment of speed-breakers on the pavement at Victory Village to reduce speeding.
(3) Construction of a new Day Care Center in Victory Village.

ATTENDANCE

On the touchy class attendance matter, Young pledged support to a recent report made by a presidentially set-up Regulations Study Commission. The report is now being considered by a committee appointed by the Faculty Council and calls for unlimited cuts for third and fourth year students.

COMPLAINT BOARD

In proposing a Student Complaint Board, President Young said such a Board would hear complaints and try to secure legislative action on them. He mentioned these specific complaints "heard" during the campaign:
(1) Salaries paid to elected student government officials. Young (See LEGISLATURE, Page 3)

Woodbury Will Plead 'No Case' On Tuesday

By CLARKE JONES
Louie Woodbury, charged with malicious damage to public property in connection with the Monday night ransacking of the police chief's office, yesterday announced he will plead nolo contendere (no case).

His announcement came after his attorney, John T. Manning, had conferred with Police Chief W. T. Sloan, Town Manger Thomas D. Rose and Mayor Thomas Cornwell, and obtained assurances that the plea would be acceptable to town officials.
Woodbury will still be charged with malicious damage to public property, however, according to Police Capt. William D. Blake.
The case will come up in Recorder's Court on Tuesday at 9 a.m.
Manning made the following statement:
"Although he (Woodbury) had no unlawful intentions and meant no disrespect for the local police force or sergeant on duty, and although he, without thinking of the possible serious implications, pulled the telephone wires at the local police station, nevertheless has agreed to plead nolo contendere to the violation of the ordinance of the Town of Chapel Hill prohibiting boisterous and disorderly conduct."
"He wants to express his apologies to the town officials and to the University for this impulsive and unbecoming act on his part which was prompted by no ill feelings."
Woodbury, asked to reveal the names of the other participants, refused upon Manning's advice.
Woodbury also wanted it "clearly understood that this was not 'Ugly Club' action and there were only two members of the now-disbanded club there."

Manning, in calling for a fair trial, said "I have been employed by several parents in connection with the incident. No club has employed me. My clients are entitled to employ counsel and to a fair trial in court conducted in accordance with legal principles, rules and regulations upon a warrant charging a specific violation of law (See WOODBURY, Page 3)

John Brooks Is Speaker Pro Tem

By NEIL BASS
Amid oath taking, ovations and elections, the 21st student Legislature assembly got-off to a fast start Thursday night.

After principal student government officers had promised to be "ever conscious" of their duties and responsibilities, lawmakers entered into the business of electing their own officers with gusto.

Sonny Evans, newly elected vice-president took oath and assumed the chair from outgoing Speaker Jack Stevens.

Later Stevens was presented an engraved gavel for excellent "service" by former Legislator Tom Lambeth.

Then Evans swung agenda action around to election of committee chairmen and speaker pro tempore.

"Regardless of where a student lives on campus or whether or not he is connected with a fraternity or sorority or whether he belongs to the Student Party or the University Party all applications will be considered equally," he said.

Young said the applications would be considered on the basis of four things. They are, in order of importance, amount of interest the person has in the particular position, the amount of time he could and would devote to the position, his qualifications and his past experience. Young said if it was at all possible, he would interview each applicant personally.

The positions that are open are: The President's Cabinet. Young said ten members would be appointed to the Cabinet. He said he wanted students who feel they can offer advice concerning certain areas of student life.

Elections Board. Young said ten members and a chairman would be appointed. He said they need not be affiliated with politics, but should be interested in working with the mechanics of elections.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS
Dance Committee. Five members will be appointed, according to Young. He said applicants should be interested in working at dances and in retaining the right atmosphere at the various social dances here at UNC. He said this group will probably study the committee By-Laws and make some improvements.

Summer School Student Government. Young said these appointments would be to the Men's and Women's Honor Council, Chairman of the Honor Council, Treasurer of the student body and eleven members of a Student Legislative Board. He said he preferred to have students who plan to attend both sessions of summer school apply. He also said the applicants need not have had experience in student government, but should be very interested in it.

CUSC MEMBERS
Consolidated University Student Council. Two members will be appointed to this Council, Young said. He said he wanted people who are interested in planning CU Day and in discussing the problems of the Consolidated University.

Student Audit Board. Young said a Chairman and four members will be appointed to the Board. (See APPLICATIONS, Page 3)

WOMEN TO HAVE LATE PERMISSION MONDAY
The Fleece tapping and Valkyrie Sing Monday may possibly last beyond the 11 o'clock closing hour for women's residences. The Dean of Women's Office yesterday announced that women students are requested to return to their residences at the conclusion of the performance.
