Young Appointees Accepted

By NEIL BASS
A new resolution, introduced and passed at the meeting by special orders, calls for an extension of visiting privileges in men's dormitories before and after home football games.

With little dissent, all Young's previously announced appointments passed legislative machinery, plus appointees to two groups announced just prior to the session.

Appointees announced for the first time during the meeting were to the Honor Council Commission and delegate list for National Student Association Convention.

Delegates and alternates to the convention, in that order, are: Miss Harriet Bobbitt, Bill Wible, Fred Powledge, Tom Lambeth, Stan Shaw, Margaret Hafer, John Kerr, George Myatt, Jim Holmes, and Neil Bass.

Members to the Honor Council Commission, 20 in number, will be released in tomorrow's paper.

The new rotating membership plan for Graham Memorial's Board of Directors, to take effect in 1956-57, has these provisions:

GM Sponsors Last Informal Dance Tonight

The Graham Memorial Activities Board will sponsor its last informal dance of the semester tonight in the Rendezvous Room of Graham Memorial from 8-11 p.m.

Dance Committee Co-Chairmen Ed Myers and Chuck Flack said they "have been impressed with the turnout of students at previous dances this year and expect the dance tonight to be even bigger and better."

Music for tonight's dance will be provided by a new and as yet unnamed combo consisting of five top campus musicians, according to Flack and Myers.

The co-chairmen have encouraged all students to drop by the Rendezvous Room "any time during the evening with their date for an enjoyable finale to the 1955-1956 dance series."

Alexander Dorm Men To Party At Hogan's

"Softball, music and plenty of refreshments" will highlight Alexander Dormitory's Annual Spring Barbecue at Hogan's Lake at 4:30 today, according to Don Eudy, newly elected dorm president.

A softball game, followed by an entertainment interlude by a group of dorm musicians will round out the activities phase of the barbecue. An abundance of food is expected to complete the program for Alexander residents and their guests.

Senior Recital Scheduled Here for Sunday

Nancy Eversman, pianist, will be presented in a senior recital in Hill Hall Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Eversman, a student from the class of William S. Newman, will play Toccata VIII by Bach; Sonata in F-sharp Major, op.78 by Beethoven; Berceuse, op. 57 and Etudes by Chopin; "La fille cheuveuse de lin," and "La serenade interrompue" from Debussy's first book of Preludes; Variations by Ellis B. Kohls; Rhapsody in E-flat Major, op. 29, no. 4 by Brahms.

Eversman of Flat Rock has accompanied various glee clubs and choruses in high school in personville, in college at St. Mary's in Raleigh, and here at Chapel Hill.

Transferring to UNC, Miss Eversman has performed in student recital series, and gave a recital last spring. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Sorority.

Sunday's Petite Musicale Performers

Performing in Sunday's Petite Musicale will be (seated) Joel Chabade, pianist; (standing, left to right) Mrs. Casey, who will play Madame Goldentrill; Robert Andrews, who play the role of Mr. Angel, and Miss Bea Allston, who will portray Madame Silverpeal. The Musicale will feature Mozart's opera, "The Impresario, at 8 p.m. in the Main Lounge of Graham Memorial.

Seniors Urged To Lend Alumni Assn. Support

Scotty Hester, co-chairman of the Senior Class Alumni Committee, yesterday urged seniors to lend their support and membership to the UNC General Alumni Assn.

The Senior committee, headed by Hester and Miss Jane Cocke, is currently engaged in a class-wide solicitation of membership from among senior students.

Membership will be extended to seniors living in dorms, fraternities, sororities and other key residential areas in a campaign beginning Monday. Applications will be delivered to individual rooms in an effort to raise membership and extend the benefits of the alumni association to graduating students.

Graduating students were asked to join the association so they might "maintain a contact with activities and developments at Carolina through the years."

ADVANTAGES
Citing advantages of belonging to the association, Hester noted that membership will enable graduates "to keep abreast with Carolina activities and developments through 'The Alumni Review,' the association's periodical magazine, and to undertake the role of an interested supporter of the University with voting privileges in the affairs of the alumni association."

A first-year member pays introductory dues of $1 and thereafter regular dues of $5, Hester said. A member is entitled to a one year's subscription to "The Alumni Review," which is published 10 times per year, in addition to all football supplements of the magazine.

All interested seniors have been urged to lend their support to the association after the membership campaign gets under way Monday. "Membership is not a gift to Alumni Annual Giving although encouraging numbers of alumni — both members and others — are making such annual gifts," according to Edgar Thomas of the Alumni Office.

"Membership is not alone a subscription to your alumni magazine. Your membership is a way to show your interest and your desire to share in the work the alumni association does for the University in many ways," he said.

Oxford Man Will Speak Here Sunday

The Dept. of Religion has announced a public lecture by Dr. Nicholas Zernov of the University of Oxford, to be given Sunday at 8 p.m. in Carroll Hall.

Dr. Zernov, who is an authority on the life and thought of the Eastern Orthodox Churches, will lecture on the subject "Interpreting the Bible: An Eastern Orthodox View."

Now in America as Visiting Professor in Ecumenical Theology at Drew University, Zernov will be lecturing during the summer at Garrett Biblical Seminary and Northwestern University. He is the author of several books on theology and church history. Among them are "The Russians and Their Church" and "Moscow, The Third Rome."

Dr. Zernov left Russia as a boy after the Revolution, and he was educated in France and at Oxford where he took his doctorate.

Y Meet Is To Be Held June 6-13

The Southern Region Student YMCA, YWCA and Student Christian Assn. Conference will be held at Emory and Henry College in Emory, Va., from June 6 to June 13.

The conference is designed to promote relations between colleges throughout North Carolina and the Southern Region. It is open to any student here at the University who might be interested.

National Christian fellowship is the ultimate goal of the organization's movement, with the promotion of greater attendance at regional, state and national conferences being heavily stressed at this particular meeting.

In addition to lectures, the program will include worship, platforms, discussions, fireside programs and various workshops and technique sessions. There will also be time for recreation such as crafts, outdoor sports, swimming, hiking, singing, dancing and a skit night.

Cost of the Conference is $35, including registration, room and board. However, it is stressed that financial difficulties should not keep anyone from attending, as the Y organizations will aid as much as possible.

Additional information about the conference can be obtained by contacting Dick Holmes, chairman of intercollegiate relations, or at the YMCA office.

Logic Book Published By UNC Professor

To realize that language is only a tool of man is corrective for the modern irrationalism in philosophy. One should beware of the new dogma that "the world is language."

This view, Dr. Louis O. Kattsoff of the Philosophy Dept said, was the inspiration for the writing of his latest book, "Logic and the Nature of Reality," to be published by Martinus Nijhoff of The Hague, The Netherlands.

He states in his book that language does not determine the ideas people have, but people's ideas determine their language. He said he does not believe it farfetched that there is some relation between a people's ideas and experiences, and their language.

DEMERATH NAMED

Dr. Nicholas J. Demerath, professor of sociology and research in the Institute for Research in Social Science, has been named professor of sociology and chairman of the Dept. of sociology and anthropology at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo.

School Week Is Scheduled Here For June

Leading national educators, including Dr. Homer P. Rainey, Miss Mary E. Courtenay, Mrs. Billie Davis and Paul Bradwein, has been scheduled as speakers for the 1956 School Week, to be held here June 17-20.

Dr. Arnold Perry, dean of the UNC Education School, has released the list of speakers and tentative program for the week, based on the theme: "North Carolina Schools—Today and Tomorrow."

The opening session will be held in the Forest Theater on Sunday night, June 17 when Mrs. Billie Davis will speak. A prolific writer, she became nationally famous for her article, "I was a Hobo Kid," which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post and Readers Digest.

DTH Staff Meeting

All members of the Daily Tar Heel's news, editorial, sports business and circulation staffs have been requested to attend a staff meeting today at 3 p.m. in Roland Parker 3 of Graham Memorial.

"The meeting of the staffs will be a vital one," said Managing Editor Charlie Johnson, "and the presence of each staff member will be important."

Johnson said the 1956 Freshman issue of the newspaper and organization of next year's staff will be discussed.

night in the Morehead Planetarium. Miss Tarantino is the third UNC student to be honored with this coveted award given annually by the Beta Chi chapter of the Kappa Delta Sorority. The award is given in memory of Mrs. Gordon Gray, an alumna of the Beta Chi Chapter, as a tribute to the ideals which she exemplified.

The presentation was made by University Vice-President William D. Carmichael, Jr. Miss Humphrey Kappa Delta president, gave a brief history of the award, and Miss Isabel MacLeod, acting dean of women, told how the committee selected the recipient and the qualification by which she was chosen. The award is presented to a junior coed on the basis of character, leadership and scholarship.

A reception followed the presentation in the Faculty Lounge of the Planetarium. The receiving line was composed of Miss Tarantino, Mrs. Robert Burnes, Beta Chi alumna advisor, Miss Peg Humphrey, Carmichael, and Miss MacLeod, chairman of the selection committee for the award.

Miss Tarantino was selected from a field of 30 nominees to receive the award. This year she has served as president of the Delta Delta Delta Sorority pledge class and also received the Outstanding Pledge Award.

She has been a member of the student Legislature, the McIver House Council, and chairman of the Carolina Symposium Handbook. She was also a member of the Yack Beauty Court.

She was recently elected 1956-57 president of her sorority, is now on the Orientation Committee, is a member of the Panhellenic Council, on the Women's Honor Council, and one of two girls on the Carolina Symposium Interim Committee.

Miss Tarantino transferred to UNC from Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, where she was president of student government.

An education major, the recipient is a brown eyed brunette, who is known for her vivacious, friendly personality. Miss Tarantino was the last coed to be admitted to the University last fall due to crowded dormitory conditions. A residence was not found for her until the last day of orientation.

Registration Books To Close Here Tomorrow

Registration books will open at 9 a.m. and close at sunset tomorrow, the final day for registration for the Democratic Primary, according to George Miller, president of the Young Democratic Club.

The primary will be held on May 26 along with a special election on proposed annexation. The polls will open at 6:30 and close at 6:30 p.m. for the primary.

The registration and polling places are as follows: Precinct 1, which includes people living in the northwest section of town, is the Town Hall; Precinct 2, which is the northeast section of town, is the Student Hut of the Presbyterian Church on E. Rosemary St.; Precinct 3, which includes Victory Village and the dormitory section, is Woolen Gym; Precinct 4, which includes the southwest section of town, is Cone House, High School; and Precinct 5, which includes from the Durham Rr. south to the Pitt-Sboro Rr., is Glenwood School.

Qualified voters are not required to re-register in order to participate in the Primary. If you were eligible, by reason of registration to participate in the 1954 Primary and General Election, or the School Bond Election, you do not have to register again.

If you are a resident of the area proposed to be incorporated into the Town of Chapel Hill, you must register in order to participate in the special election for the town annexation referendum. Registration books for this special election will be open in Precinct 3 and Precinct 5.

Last Day
Today is the last day for students to pre-register, according to the Central Office of Records.

University Club Spring Festival Meet Is Today

All performers who wish to appear in the University Club Spring Festival have been urged to attend the audition meeting sometime between 4 and 8 p.m. today in the Rendezvous Room.

Groups that participated in the Valkyrie Sing, either of the recent Jazz festivals, Consolidated University Day entertainment or any other campus performance have been especially invited by Joe Clapp, University Club president, to enter the Festival. These groups will not be required to audition but it will be necessary for a spokesman from each group to attend today's meeting.

Interested performers who cannot attend the meeting have been asked to contact Clapp at 9-3251 before 6 p.m. Monday!

The festival will be held May 18 in Kenan Stadium.

Summer Council Sets Committees At Meet

By RAY LINKER

The Summer Activities Council met yesterday and set up committees to plan a program of extra-curricular activities for both summer school sessions.

Five committees were set up to oversee and plan the summer program.

Committees named were Social, Watermelon Festival, Welcome, Newspaper, and Graduate Committee.

No definite plans were made by any of the committees although several of the activities for the summer have, of necessity, already been partially planned for.

More definite plans will be made by the committees when they meet at various times next week. The whole Council, which represents the work of Graham Memorial Activities Board, YMCA, and YWCA, will meet again next Thursday at 4 p.m.

Student Body President Bob Young chaired the meeting before it broke up into committees.

About 50 students attended the meeting, at which Director of Student Affairs Sam Magill read the budget set up for the program.

Associate Secretary of the YMCA John Riebel told the group what the Council has done in the past, pointing out that this was no limitation on what could be planned for this summer.

Director of Graham Memorial Jim Wallace outlined some of the plans that have already been made. He said there will be a movie series, with pictures being shown once a week in Carroll Hall.

Weekly square dances, a special Spanish dancers show, in addition to the watermelon festival and musical entertainment, will be held during the summer sessions, it was announced.

Miss Martha Decker, of the Dean of Women's Office explained the operation of the Summer School Weekly.

Claude Shitts, general secretary of the YMCA, was on hand to help the students in the planning of the program.
