UNC Asks More Operating Money

By CLARKE JONES
RALEIGH, Sept. 19—The University today requested more money from the state for its faculty members and library resources. The requests were presented to the state Board of Higher Education as part of the state Board of Higher Education's recommendation for a $6 million appropriation increase for the state's colleges and universities during the biennium 1957-59.

This year is the first year the state Board of Higher Education has had a hand in presenting the University's budget requests. Created in 1955, the Board now acts as a middleman for the 12 state supported institutions.

Salary increases for Consolidated University officers were also recommended.

Other divisions asking for more money were N. C. State College of Agriculture and Engineering, the Agricultural Experiment Station, the Cooperative Agricultural Extension, the Division of Health Affairs, N. C. Memorial Hospital, the Psychiatric Center, Women's College in Greensboro and the Institute of Fisheries.

Concerning salary increases for faculty members, Consolidated University Acting President William C. Friday pointed out the danger of losing so many professors. "We must keep the people we have and we must get good and qualified people," he said.

In order to keep those already at the University, Friday said there are four ways. He outlined them as follows:

1. Salary increases.
2. Give the staff the essential and necessary equipment with which to work.
3. Do something about the library resources.
4. Provide the University with research money.

UNC Chancellor Robert B. House said "I would like to emphasize that item of research. We're not talking about great projects; we're talking about the lifeblood of the institution."

"As to the library, you cannot be overextravagant. It is the workshop for the entire community, the powerhouse and lighthouse for the entire state."

The increase in salary for the Consolidated University officials are as follows:

President, to $18,000, an increase of $3,000; vice president and finance officer, to $15,500, an increase of $2,000; vice president and provost, to $16,500, an increase of $2,500, and business officer and treasurer, to $13,000, an increase of $1,000.

Here are the different requests of the University divisions made during the meeting. They were recommended by the Board of Higher Education. They are for the years 1957-58, 1958-59, respectively:

N. C. State College of Agriculture and Engineering, $4,044, 575 for 1957-58, $4,055,889 for 1958-59; Agricultural Experiment Station, $1,793,299, $1,793,299; Cooperative Agricultural Extension Service, $2,512,602, $2,512,602; University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, $5,042,783, $4,993,903; Division of Health Affairs, $2,118,277, $2,118,277; N. C. Memorial Hospital $1,332,462, $1,332,462; Psychiatric Center, $437,338, $437,338; Woman's College, $2,007,014, $1,981,853; Consolidated Office of the University of North Carolina, $189,675, $171,241, and the Institute of Fisheries Research, $76,828, $76,828.

The request for state appropriations for purchase of library books for the biennium 1957-59 was as follows:

University of North Carolina, $165,000 for 1957-58, $165,000 for 1958-59; State College of Agriculture and Engineering, $120,000, $110,000, and Woman's College, $40,000, $40,000.

COURT MARTIAL

A special Marine court martial in Parris Island, S. C., will try a corporal on a charge of mistreating a rookie. According to Private Donald Hemisar of Norwalk, Ohio, the corporal slugged him in the abdomen for not addressing him as "Sir", causing an injury that required an operation.

President Young Asks For Fair Sportsmanship

Student Body President Bob Young this week issued a statement calling upon the student body to remember their obligation during the coming football season.

"In victory and defeat," he said "we must display good sportsmanship" and remember that "victory is important but not necessary. Let's be true Carolina ladies and gentlemen."

His complete statement is as follows:

"With football season opening Saturday, let's see where we're going this year. Athletic Director (Chuck) Erickson and the football coaches say it should be a good year from all indications. We may not win them all but the spirit and attitude are right.

"I think most of us, as students, are rather optimistic about prospects for the year. Even with an undefeated season," he said "this year could still be a failure. This is where you and I come in. We have an obligation also.

"In victory or in defeat we must display good sportsmanship. Let's all 'yell our lungs out.' Let's hope to win every game. However, let's always remember that victory is important but not necessary. Let's be true Carolina ladies and Carolina gentlemen," he said.

"We are hosts for five football games this season. Let's conduct ourselves properly at all times. First, remember that there are many parents in the stands every Saturday. Please, let's not create any scenes that might be embarrassing for our guests. Let's be considerate of our parents.

"Second, throwing rolls of toilet tissue may be exciting but it's also dangerous. We have been fortunate not to have had a serious injury result from a throw. Just remember," he said, "that any roll you throw may hit someone. Would you want one to hit you? Please, let's leave toilet tissue in its appropriate place, and this place is not Kenan Stadium.

"Third, Head Cheerleader Jim Bynum and the other cheerleaders have really been working to get ready for the season. They've got a cheer for most every situation. Let's all back these cheerleaders. But let's remember that we can support our Tar Heels without 'damning' the officials or the other team. Let's have respect for the officials and for the fans and visiting team members. We will want respect when we visit. Let's make our team proud of the way we treat the visitors," he said.

"Let's all work together. Let's all support the Tar Heels. Let's display the best sportsmanship in the entire conference throughout the year. Even though we may be on the short end of the score, we will still be victorious," he concluded.

Housing Situation Becomes Worse As All Available Living Spaces Are Sought By University Students

7,000 Enrollment Aids Rising Living Problem

By RAY LINKER

Approximately 75 male students spent last night in the basement of Cobb Dormitory. Meanwhile, every available living space in Chapel Hill was being sought after by male and female, married and unmarried students.

As enrollment neared the 7,000 mark yesterday, the housing situation became worse.

The housing office had only a couple of places intown listed for rent and less than a dozen places outside of town, all of which would require the renters to have cars or some other means of transportation.

There are no rooms for women in or around town, Housing Director James Wadsworth said yesterday. He added he felt there were a few rooms for men located outside of town.

On campus, all men's dorms were filled, including 15 three-man-to-a-room dorms, all women's dorms were filled and only three vacancies remained in the six sorority houses.

There are 2,000 males in three-man dorm rooms, leaving only 1,010 men students in the double-man rooms. Only Cobb, Winston, Joyner and Connor are two-men dorms.

For married students, "there is a great need and shortage of moderately priced homes," Wadsworth said.

All of the 356 apartments in Victory Village are taken by married students, and the waiting list has 500 names, Wadsworth said. The Glen Lennox Rental Office, which has 440 apartments for rent to couples, is completely full and has a waiting list of 200. Manager C. E. McIntosh said he felt the people on the waiting list would find rooms elsewhere.

Approximately 55 girls' dorm rooms are being used as triple rooms, according to Miss Isabelle MacLeod, executive secretary of the dean of women's office.

There are 587 coeds living in the "X girls' dorms, while of the total 150 living spaces in all sorority houses, there were only three vacancies yesterday.

From 35 to 50 people have inquired at the dean of women's office for rooms in town, Miss MacLeod said, but no count was available of how many girls were living in town.

In order to live in town, a woman student must be a graduate and be 24 years old or older.

The School of Nursing reported there is no doubt that the School of Nursing Dormitory will be full. An enrollment of 175-200, including 50 freshmen, is expected in Nursing.

New Students Patronize Merchants Assn.'s Information Booth

Two new Carolina Coeds are shown above at the information booth set up by the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Assn. to welcome new students. The booth was in operation last Monday in the most extensive welcome ever given new University students by the local association. Yack Photo Schedule Announced

The schedule for making the individual class pictures for the 1957 Yackety-Yack, the UNC annual, was released yesterday by Editor Tommy Johnson.

The pictures will be made in the Graham Memorial basement from 1 to 7:30 p.m.

Girls were asked to wear dark sweaters, black, brown, or dark blue, with one strand of pearls. Men should wear dark coats, white shirts, and conservative tie ties.

The schedule is as follows:

Oct. 15—Freshmen and Nursing School (except Senior Nurses)

Oct. 8-12—Sophomores, Pharmacy School, Dental School, and Dental Hygiene students

Oct. 15-19—Juniors, Medical School, Law School, and Graduate School.

UNC Freshmen Are Generally Opposed To Automobile Ban

Freshmen at the University are generally opposed to the new law banning cars, by first-year students.

They realize, however, the acute traffic problems which last year prompted action by the Student Legislature, placing strict regulations on freshmen this year and on sophomores beginning in 1957-58. Those sentiments were expressed during week-long orientation activities just completed on the university campus and speak generally for some 1,700 new students here.

The Student Legislature, upon recommendation of a student traffic advisory commission, said last year that only exceptions to the freshman rule would be in cases of commuters, veterans and physically handicapped students.

And to further the curtailment of growing traffic problems, the Legislature set sophomore car restriction: which would go into effect on an academic basis, beginning with the 1957-58 school year.

Second year students will not be allowed to keep cars in this overcrowded town if they do not maintain a "C" average or higher, according to the regulations.

NO WAR

Arriving home in North Africa from a visit to France, the Premier of Tunisia said tonight: "The war of Suez will not take place."

30 Winners In Student Quiz Contest Announced

The names of the 30 winners of a campus quiz contest conducted for the benefit of new Carolina students were announced yesterday by the Chapel Hill-Carrboro Merchants Assn., sponsors of the contest.

20 Busloads Of WC Girls To Be Here Saturday

Twenty busloads of girls from Woman's College in Greensboro will arrive on campus Saturday to join in the festivities of Consolidated University Day.

The activities will begin with the State-Carolina game at 2 p.m. in Kenan Stadium. Special half-time activities have been planned. A reception will be held at Graham Memorial immediately following the game.

The highlight of C. U. Day will be the presentation of the Consolidated University Queen at an informal dance in Woolen Gym. Three coeds from each of the three branches of the Consolidated University, Woman's College, North Carolina State College, and Carolina, will compete in the contest. The dance, sponsored by the Grail, will begin at 8 p.m.

Held in conjunction with the extensive welcome given new students last Monday, the contest was open to all participants in every member store.

Winners of the contest will be recipients of a $10 gift certificate redeemable in merchandise at any member store. The certificates are to be presented not later than October 15. The winners are asked to come to the Merchants Assn. office in the Smith Building at 117 N. Columbia Street and pick up their certificates immediately.

The 30 winners are as follows: Danny Allen, A. W. Benthall, J. Robert Bingham, Frank T. Bowen Jr., Reid Brawley, Jim Carroll, Mike Collins, Bill Davis, Monty DeWitt, Phil Goodson, Herb Ellis, Jr., John R. Griffin, John Horney, Edward L. Jennings, Charles Lasley.

Charles H. Little, George G. Menke, Teddy Moore, Marvin Morton, Donald H. Partin, Harvey Peck, Gayle Ramsey, Mary L. Roundtree, Elizabeth Russell, Susan Saunders, Ferrell Shuford, Hobart T. Steele Jr., J. A. Turner Jr., John Wilbur, and Sara Williamson.

Yack Staff To Meet;

All staff members and students interested in working on the 1956-57 Yackety-Yack, the UNC annual, have been asked to attend an important meeting today at 2:30 p.m. in the Yack office in the basement of Graham Memorial.

According to Tommy Johnson, Yack Editor, much help will be needed to put out this year's annual. Anyone interested in helping with any phase of the annual is invited to attend the meeting today.
