SP "New Party" Says Lambeth

By CLARKE JONES

Student Party Chairman Tom Lambeth last night called the SP a "new party" and said by staying behind student body President Bob Young's administration we can accomplish a great deal.

Speaking at the party's second meeting of the year, Lambeth pointed out "there are a lot of new people in the party and the party's goals are much clearer now."

He urged members of the party, which is "100% behind Young's administration now" to stay behind it.

The main activities, in addition to Lambeth's remarks, were:

1. Filling two vacant seats in the Student Legislature.
2. Electing a member to a vacancy in the party's Advisory Board.
3. Approving an amendment to the party's bylaws calling for removal of the compulsory $1.50 membership fee.

Elected to the Legislature seats until the fall election on Nov. 13 were Gary Greer, freshman from Spindale, Dorm Men's II and Everett James, freshman from Robersonville, Dorm Men's V. A third vacancy, Dorm Men's III, was held over until next week's meeting.

Ed Proescher, a transfer from N. C. State College, was elected to the open position on the Advisory Board.

The amendment passed concerning removal of membership dues means persons can become members of the party by simply attending two meetings and showing a preference to join.

Lambeth also spoke on a SP-sponsored bill, introduced last week to the Legislature by John Brooks, which calls for placing ballot boxes in each dormitory during an election. They are presently located in central areas on the campus during elections.

About the measure, Lambeth said it is in "keeping with the best ideals of fair campus elections... and the facts will prove removal of dorm ballot boxes would mean lower participation in campus elections."

He urged both the SP and the University Party to vote for the bill when it comes to a vote Thursday, Oct. 11 at the Legislature meeting.

Harpichord Dedication Set Tonight

A sonata recital and the dedication of a new harpichord will form the first fall program tonight of the Tuesday Evening Series.

Guest artists Yella Pessl, harpichordist, and Mischa Mischakoff, will perform at 8 p.m. in Hill Music Hall. The Music Dept. and Graham Memorial will co-sponsor the program, which is open to the public without charge.

Two Bach Sonatas, in A Major and E Major, Mozart's Sonata in C Major and A Major, Frescobaldi's Toccata, and Milhaud's Sonata for Harpichord and Violin will be presented by Miss Pessl and Mischakoff.

It will be the first public performance on the Music Dept's recently acquired Maendler Schramm harpichord, made by Maendler of Munich, Germany.

A keyboard instrument that preceded the piano, the harpichord is played by plucking its strings with a resulting sound that resembles that of an organ. The instrument was commonly used by all musicians until late in the 18th century, when Mozart began developing the piano.

Miss Pessl comes to Chapel Hill from New York City. Mischakoff is currently concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The two artists have made numerous recordings together.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate a capacity audience in the 700-seat Hill Music Hall for the concert.

MISCHAMISCHAKOFF, LEFT, AND YELLA PESSL will perform here tonight

Rhodes Scholarship Blanks Due Oct. 10

Application blanks for selection of Rhodes Scholars for next year must be handed in to Dean C. P. Spruill, of the UNC Rhodes Selection Committee by Oct. 10, it was announced yesterday by Spruill.

Application blanks and information concerning the two-year scholarship for study at Oxford University in England may be obtained in room 303 South Building.

Thirty-two scholarships for two years study at Oxford are offered each year in the United States to unmarried male students between the ages of 19 and 25. The value of a Rhodes scholarship is 600 pounds, approximately $1,800 in American currency.

To be eligible for selection, candidates must have at least junior standing at "some recognized degree-granting university or college in the United States of America," the current memorandum on the scholarship states.

Nominees from UNC will be selected by a faculty committee headed by Dean J. Carlyle Sitterton for consideration by the State Committee of Selection. Final elimination and selection will be made by a District Committee, which will select from 12 finalists four men to represent the district.

Recent UNC Rhodes students who won the Rhodes Scholarships include Ed Yoder, a 1956 graduate, Dick Baker and Paul Likins.

The basis of selection as set down by donor Cecil Rhodes includes "literary and scholastic ability and attainments, qualities of manhood, truthfulness, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship, exhibition of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his fellows, and physical vigor, as shown by fondness for and success in sports."

DTH Staffers to Meet

The Daily Tar Heel news staff will meet today at 4 p.m., according to the newspaper's officials.

Purpose of the meeting will be to re-shape the news staff. The meeting will be held in the newsroom.

Editor Fred Powledge said "This will be a major realignment of the staff. The whole News Dept. setup will be changed."

He invited all staffers to attend, including those who indicated interest in the newspaper earlier in the year.

Library Shows Exhibition On Press Week

The University Library is observing National Newspaper Week, with the 1956 theme, "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Key to Better Living," in an exhibition on the main floor.

In one case, books and pamphlets are featured on the freedom of the press, freedom of information and communication, freedom to read, and the peoples' right to know.

In honor of local newspapers, the Chapel Hill Weekly, Chapel Hill News Leader, and News of Orange County and the Daily Tar Heel, a second case presents a sample issue of each, with an account of their history and growth, and individual clippings selected from these newspapers to show how they attempt to further "better living" in Chapel Hill.

The special exhibit was prepared by Mrs. Myra Lauterer of the UNC Library staff.

Phi, Di Meet Tonight

Di Will Discuss Merits Of Nixon

Controversial Vice President Richard Nixon will be the topic of discussion at tonight's meeting of the Dialectic Senate, according to President Pro-Tem Pat Adams.

The bill will commend Nixon "for his excellent service to the nation." The proponents of the bill will probably cite Nixon's "good will" missions abroad and his strong civil rights stand as an indication of his service. Opponents are expected to counter with attacks upon his campaign fund and his honorary membership in the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on the third floor of New West. Visitors are welcome, according to President Pro-Tem Adams.

Phi To Debate Bill On Free Farm Mart

A bill to "restore a free market for agricultural products" will be debated by the Philanthropic Society tonight.

This is considered to be one of the most controversial farm questions to confront political parties in recent years as both the Democrats and Republicans are putting on vigorous campaigns to get the farm vote, according to Phi Speaker Lawrence Matthews Jr.

The debate will be held at 8 p.m. in Phi Hall on the fourth floor of New East. Guests have been invited to attend and participate in the debate.

The bill calls for a gradual decrease of supports with all Federal farm subsidies to be discontinued by Jan. 1, 1958.

Senior Pictures Must Be Made By Tomorrow

Seniors have until tomorrow to be photographed for the 1957 Yackety Yack.

Seniors will be charged $1 to be photographed, due to the delay in the photography schedule which necessitated extending the deadline for Senior shots.

The rest of the picture-taking schedule is as follows: through Oct. 5—Freshmen, Nursing School and Fourth Year Medical School. Oct. 8-12—Sophomores, Pharmacy School, Dental School, Dental Hygiene.

Oct. 15-19—Juniors, Law School, School of Medical School, Graduate School.

Sorority Rushing Finishes Tonight

Sorority rushing ends tonight with three progressive dinner parties lasting from 5:40 until 9:35.

The first party, at which the rushees will have an appetizer or first course, will begin at 5:40 and end at 6:40.

There will be 20-minute breaks between each party. The second party begins at 7 p.m. and ends at 8:15 p.m. The main course will be served at this party. The last party, at which dessert will be served, begins at 8:35 p.m. and is over at 9:35 p.m.

The Pan-Hellenic tea last Friday night marked the opening of the times stipulated by Pan-Hellenic for the individual sororities to put on their skits.

Passerby Rejected By KDs

Saturday afternoon there was posted on the front of the Kappa Delta house a sign reading "K D College of Musical Knowledge", which referred to the skit which the Kappa Deltas gave during the rush parties.

A passerby believing that music was actually taught there started up the walk saying that she had always wanted to study music. One of the rushees waiting outside stopped her before she actually reached the door.

parties were devoted to friendly conversation. Today the sororities will give the final dinner parties that formally mark the end of rush. A sorority may use any theme or ceremony that it wishes at this party, according to Miss Harriet Lewis of the Pan-Hel Council.

Rushees can pick up their bids to these parties this morning from 8:30 until 11:30 at the Pan-Hel post office. In the event that a rushee is unable to come at this time, she can pick up her bids at the Dean of Women's Office.

UNC Sororities Entertain Rushees With Skits During Rush Week
