Dormitory Men Choose Officers For Next Year

In what Interdormitory Council President Sonny Halford called the "smoothest run" election in some time, dormitory officers for 1956-57 were named Tuesday.

Dormitories, which named presidents and vice presidents last spring, elected secretaries, treasurers, IDC representatives and intramural managers in the election.

The new staggered electoral policy was voted into the IDC by laws in action taken last spring.

Newly elected officers—secretaries, treasurers, IDC representatives and intramural managers, in that order—are as follows:

Manley: Alec Coffin, Bill Yates, Leon Rooke and Rex Moser.

Everett: L. R. Colclough, run-off between Bob Jones and John Devoe for treasurer's post, Ruddy Edwards and George Stetzer.

Winston: Tom Clark, Dan Hilliard, Jimmy Sullivan and R. Burlison.

Mangum: Robert Pendergraph, Ed Evans, Lou Hardee and Doug Bayliff.

Old East: Frank Gibbs, Tommy Davis, Paul Carr and Mason Wilkins.

Connor: Donald Ross, Barkev Siroonian, J. R. Afigne Jr., floor representatives, Benjamin Mast, Allan Dickenson, Earl Diamond, Floyd Smith.

Old West: Robert Cowan, James James, run-off between Julius Banzet and Bill King for IDC representative, Joe Creekmore.

Steele: Jerry Shields, Tom Long, Gene Weathers and Charles Reed. Whitehead: Eli Atteyck, run-off for treasurer, Bob Baucum, no intramural manager.

Battle: Vance-Pettigrew: Bert Warren, Dave Mundy, Jim Merritt and Rick Orr.

Graham: Randy Oglesby, Don Owens, Bill Burress, Tom Hettelman.

Joyner: John Alexander, treasurer, other officers already elected.

Some dormitories lost the service of vice presidents elected last spring, for various reasons. These dormitories and their vice presidents are:

Mangum: Ted Smith; Whitehead, Wayne Martin.

Old East Dormitory elected a social chairman in addition to the regular officers. He is Randall Shelton.

President Halford praised what he called a "good turn-out" of voters. "We have an apparently capable group," he said, "and we expect a big year."

Halford also extended a "cordial invitation" for all dorm presidents and IDC representatives to attend the IDC banquet in the Carolina Inn Oct. 10.

Di Commends Veep Nixon For Service

The Dialectic Senate has passed a bill commending Vice-President Richard M. Nixon "for his excellent service to the nation."

In introducing the bill Tuesday night President Pro-Tem Pat Adams called Nixon "an example of the American dream in politics." He said that Nixon has assumed and effectively carried out more duties than any other vice-president.

Sen. Ervin Avery attacked the bill and called Nixon "too young," too immature and too incompetent." President Stan Shaw described Nixon as "the ultimate embodiment of lack of principle."

Supporting the bill, Senator Nancy Rothschild said Nixon is "one of the few men with the courage to say, to believe, to do."

Phi Favors Free Market For Farmers

The Philanthropic Literary Society passed, 10-5, a bill "to restore a free market for agricultural products."

Speaker Lawrence Matthews called the Phi to order and later turned the gavel over to Parliamentarian John Brooks. Rep. Jim Monteth was the speaker of the evening and introduced the bill.

He argued that price supports were getting the United States into deeper debt and that large farms were more efficient than many small ones.

Rep. James Duval said farmers were producing themselves out of business.

Other members of the Phi said the farmers could not survive without the supports.

During the course of the meeting, candidate for conditional membership Don Jacobs of High Point delivered his qualifying speech entitled "I Speak for Democracy."

To become a member of the Phi one must attend two consecutive meetings and make a qualifying speech at one of them.

WITH NO FANFARE

State Celebrates 67th Anniversary

RALEIGH (AP)—Without fanfare, North Carolina State College celebrated its 67th birthday yesterday. No formal program was held, but an informal luncheon was given in the College Union Building in honor of two graduates of the institution's first class, the class of 1889.

On hand for the luncheon were W. J. Mathews of Goldsboro, the first student to register when the college opened its doors Oct. 3, 1889; and Sam Young of Raleigh, a member of the original class. H. W. (Pop) Taylor, director of alumni affairs at the college, presided over the luncheon.

Among those in attendance were deans of the major schools of the college and other officials of the institution.

In brief talks at the luncheon,

Professor Leaves For 'Triangle'

Dr. George L. Simpson Jr. began his leave of absence Oct. 1 from the University to take over the directorship of the Governor's Research Triangle Committee.

Before beginning his work in Raleigh, Dr. Simpson said the purpose of the program is to seek to increase the industrial side of the state's economy through the use of "The concentration of research facilities and people at the University of North Carolina, State College and Duke University."

"It is realized," he said, "that the three institutions (UNC, Duke and State College) have their major interest in basic research and the research triangle hopes to be of aid to that sort of research."

He stressed that the committee is interested in being of service to industry already located in the state as well as attracting new concerns.

DR. GEORGE SIMPSON heads for Raleigh

"There is great support for this program throughout the state," he added, "and it is hoped that the most essential element, namely faculty interest and support, will be forthcoming."

Dr. Simpson is an associate professor of sociology and research associate in the Institute for Research in Social Science at UNC.

The committee was registered last week as a non-stock, non-profit corporation by Gov. Luther Hodges, retired banker Robert M. Hanes and former state treasurer Brandon Hodges.

He said something should be done about mothers who have illegitimate children and then depend on public welfare funds for support.

In a speech to the southeastern regional conference, American Public Welfare Association, Hodges said he had been "gravely concerned, over federal legislation which has made it impossible to make payments to needy people through guardians who could supervise the wise expenditure of public funds."

In a speech to the southeastern regional conference, American Public Welfare Association, Hodges said he had been "gravely concerned, over federal legislation which has made it impossible to make payments to needy people through guardians who could supervise the wise expenditure of public funds."

Since 1889, the college's physical plant has grown from one building to 87 modern buildings valued in excess of $303,000,000. The student body has surpassed 5,500 students representing all of the state's 100 counties, 44 other states, the District of Columbia, three U. S. possessions and 39 foreign countries.

In announcing the move, heads of both organizations said the relocation was a step in the right direction.

Grad Group Planned By YM, YW

The YW-YMCA today issued an open letter to graduate students and undergraduates over 21 concerning the formation of interest groups under the sponsorship of the Y.

Signed by eight Y officials, the letter states: "Realizing the lack of organized activities for graduate students, we have planned a 'get-together' which will be an opportunity for you to join an interest group that will meet regularly. These groups will vary from hiking to a discussion of existentialism and will be formed in accordance with your particular preferences."

"If you are a graduate student or an undergraduate over 21, you are welcome. Even if you are not interested in joining a group permanently, come this Sunday and over coffee and doughnuts enjoy the entertainment of Pee-Wee Batten."

The letter was signed by Misses Dixon, Eleanor Riggins, Colleen Crenshaw, and Bill White, Prestwood Browning and Bob Rennick. The organizational meeting will be held Sunday from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Rendezvous Room of Graham Memorial.

Hodges Wants Measure For Naming Guardians

ASHEVILLE — (AP) — Gov. Hodges Wednesday called for legislation to allow appointment of guardians for certain welfare recipients.

He said something should be done about mothers who have illegitimate children and then depend on public welfare funds for support.

In a speech to the southeastern regional conference, American Public Welfare Association, Hodges said he had been "gravely concerned, over federal legislation which has made it impossible to make payments to needy people through guardians who could supervise the wise expenditure of public funds."

WRC, IDC Offices Now In Same Place

In a move towards efficiency, the Women's Residence Council has relocated its headquarters in the Interdormitory Council offices in New East Annex.

In announcing the move, heads of both organizations said the relocation was a step in the right direction.

TO PHILANTHROPIC SOCIETY:

Elvis Admitted

The Philanthropic Literary Society has passed a resolution admitting Elvis (the Pelvis) Presley to its membership.

Dave Mundy introduced the resolution which was passed by a large majority.

In discussing the resolution, Sen. Mundy said the "gyrations of Presley" reminded him of some of the "Representatives of the Phi."

Sen. Stan Shaw of the Dialectic Literary Society presented the resolution to the Phi shortly after it had adjourned, but before it had vacated Phi Hall.

"Shaw made Presley gyrations himself in trying to get the resolution read, so the Phi let him read it," commented Lawrence Matthews, speaker of the Phi.

FULBRIGHT, BUENOS AIRES:

Graduate Scholarships Still Can Be Obtained

One month remains in which U. S. students may apply for awards under Fulbright and Buenos Aires Convention programs for the 1957-58 academic year.

Competition for government grants for graduate study abroad closes Nov. 1, according to an announcement from New York by the Institute of International Education.

Scholarship application blanks are available in the offices of Fulbright advisers on college and university campuses.

The programs, part of educational exchange activities of the State Dept., offer almost 1,000 Americans the chance to study abroad during the coming year.

More than 5,500 Americans have received such grants since the program was established in 1947. Grants for study in the following countries are given under the Fulbright Act:

Australia, Austria, Belgium, Luxembourg, Burma, Chile, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, India, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, the Philippines and the United Kingdom.

Countries participating in the Buenos Aires Convention program are Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Columbia, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru and Venezuela.

Committee Unanimously Approves Reading Day

Students will have a pre-exam "reading day" next year. They also stand a chance of getting half-priced date tickets for football games scheduled with conference members.

Student body President Bob Young, announcing the new policies, said the reading day plan will go into effect between the last day of classes and the first day of examinations for the 1957-58 school year. He said reduced-price date tickets will be available contingent upon approval of the "visiting team's" athletic office.

Young listed both plans as achievements of his administration, voted into office at campus-wide elections last spring.

Concerning the reading day, Young met with the Committee on Instructional Personnel, which was considering the University calendar for 1957-58. The committee, according to Young, voted unanimously approval to a motion instituting the reading day.

In a statement yesterday, Young said the committee discussed the feasibility of instituting the one-day break this spring, but found it impractical at this time.

"Academic standards require that each class meet at least 45 times each semester," "There was no way that we could avoid coming under this number without removing one day from the spring recess period."

"The committee then voted that the calendar (for 1956-57) remain as it had previously been announced."

The committee did, according to Young, feel such a reading day would be feasible in 1957-58, and voted without dissent for its institution.

THANKS
"Let me publicly express thanks to Dean Spruill and the entire committee for considering and approving this idea," Young said.

Concerning reduction in date ticket prices, Young stated in his release:

"Selling date tickets to Carolina students at half-price will be contingent upon the approval of the visiting team's athletic office . . . and will pertain only to conference games at the University of North Carolina."

This means that date ticket prices for the Maryland and Wake Forest games this fall will be $2 and $1.75, respectively, if the directors of athletics at Maryland and Wake Forest approve the idea.

According to Young, this arrangement is for the benefit of students and student dates only. "If students abuse the privilege," he said, "the chancellor and the director of athletics reserve the right to withdraw this arrangement at any time."

'OPTIMISTIC'
Young said he was "optimistic" that the Wake Forest and Maryland directors of athletics will agree to the proposed arrangement.

"Regardless of their decision," he said, "let me express sincere thanks to Chancellor House and Mr. Erickson (C. P. Erickson, UNC director of athletics) for their interest and cooperation in the matter."

He succeeds Col. Robert C. Burns, who has been named chief of staff of the Second Marine Division, Camp Lejeune.

Capt. Patterson holds, among other decorations, the Bronze Star, the American Defense Medal, the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal with one silver and four bronze stars, and the Philippines Liberation Ribbon with two bronze stars.

Bums Win 1st Game Of Series

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers shelled lefty Whitey Ford for six hits, including two homers, in the first three innings Wednesday and went on to beat the New York Yankees, 6-3, in the World Series opener.

A crowd of 34,479, including President Eisenhower and several Cabinet members, watched Gil Hodges' homer with two on base in the third sewed up the decision.

Sal Maglie, 39-year-old Dodger pitcher, recovered from a shaky start in which Mickey Mantle's first inning homer sent the Yanks off in front, and tamed the Yankee bats the rest of the way.

The Yanks used four pitchers as Ford was lifted for a pinch hitter after giving up five runs in the first three innings. Johnny Kuck, Tom Morgan and Bob Turley, all right handers, followed Ford on the mound but their solid relief work came too late.

Maglie frequently was in difficulties as the Yanks got men on base in nearly every inning, but he got some good fielding support and was invincible in the tight spots. He struck out 10, walked only four and yielded nine hits.

The Dodgers made nine hits off the four Yankee hurlers, including a homer by Jackie Robinson in addition to Hodges' big blow.

The Yanks got off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Mantle powered a home run over the right field screen into the parking lot across the street after Enos Slaughter had singled.

The Dodgers tied it up in the second when Robinson led off with a homer into the lower left field.
