

WEATHER

Cloudy and Cool with occasional light rain. Expected high in the 70s.

The Daily Tar Heel

MUDSLINGING

Brother Nixon gives the rules. See page 2.

VOL. LVII NO. 27

Complete (AP) Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1956

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

TAR HEELS TRAMPLE TERPS 34-6

McMullen Returns A Maryland Punt

UNC left halfback Larry McMullen, No. 27, runs over one would-be Maryland tackler in the first quarter yesterday in returning a punt 40 yards before being stopped by Terp quarterback John Fritsch, No. 14, on the Maryland 24 yard line.

Carolina Scores Twice In Early Minutes, Go On To First Victory

By LARRY CHEEK

Carolina's heretofore woefully inept offense opened up for two quick touchdowns in the early minutes of the first quarter in Kenan Stadium yesterday, and the Tar Heels went on from there to roll up a fantastic 34-6 victory over the once mighty Maryland Terps.

The win broke a four week drought for the Tar Heels and brought their season's record to a 1-4 reading. It was also Maryland's fourth setback compared to one win. The Tar Heel triumph marked the first Carolina victory over a Maryland team since the 1946 season.

Carolina chalked up a pair of quick scores the first two times they got the ball, both times on breaks. Guard Jimmy Jones drew first blood when he picked a deflected pass out of the air and rambled 23 yards for a score. Jones also set up the second tally by recovering a Maryland fumble on the Terp 26. The Tar Heels scored in eight plays with Moe DeCantis going over.

Carolina added another TD in the second quarter and picked up a lone tally in each of the last two periods to wind up their scoring. Maryland's only touchdown came in the third quarter.

The Tar Heels, led by a spirited group of sophomores and veteran quarterback Dave Reed, took advantage of every break that came their way and exploited Maryland's weak points to turn the game into a rout. In addition, the Tar Heels sprung an excitingly different offensive formation on the Terps that utilized Reed's running and passing abilities to the utmost.

NEW FORMATION

The new formation was a short punt, winged T or spread, which ever one you want to call it, and it worked to perfection against the befuddled Terps.

Statistically speaking, the game was fairly even. Carolina picked up 15 first downs to Maryland's 13 and gained 197 yards rushing to 113 for the Terps.

Carolina's first tally came after only 2:45 had elapsed in the game. Halfback Larry McMullen set up the score by taking a handoff from Ed Sutton on a Maryland punt return, and scooting down the sidelines from his own 39 to the Maryland 24. From here it took only two plays to reach paydirt with Jones going across for the score on a freak pass play.

The Terps took the following kickoff and fumbled on the first play from scrimmage with Jones recovering for Carolina on Maryland's 26. Sutton moved the ball to the 23, Reed picked up 6 yards on two plays to the 17, and Sutton went for 4 to the 13 where it was first and 10.

Reed then pulled a beautiful bootleg play that carried for 8 yards to the 5 and Sutton picked up a first down on the 2. After Sutton was stopped for no gain, DeCantis took a pitchout from Reed on the option play and swept end for the score. Phil Blazer added the point after and the Tar Heels led 13-0.

McMULLEN RETURNS PUNT

A punt return by McMullen was also the key play in setting up the third Tar Heel TD. This time the big halfback ran 44 yards from the Carolina 37 to the Maryland 24. It took the Tar Heels only five plays to score with Reed scoring on a quarterback jump over the middle of the line.

With 3:44 remaining in the first half, the Terps started their only drive of the opening half. From their own 44, they moved to the

(See TAR HEELS, Page 4)

THE STATISTICS

Statistics	Md.	UNC
First Downs	13	15
Rushing Yardage	113	197
Passing Yardage	134	133
Passes	9-19	6-17
Passes Intercepted By	1	1
Punts	8-37.4	4.40
Fumbles Lost	2	1
Fumbles Recovered	2	1
Yards Penalized	73	105

All Game Photos By Norman Kantor

Payne Snags Reed Pass

Tar Heel end Buddy Payne pulls in a pass from quarterback Dave Reed in the third quarter of yesterday's game with Maryland. The connection was good for a 25 yard gain.

Co-Captain Ed Sutton Moves The Ball

Tar Heel Ed Sutton is shown in the second quarter of the UNC win over Maryland as he picks up 20 yards to the Maryland 18. Curt Hathaway, No. 12, and Jim Varnum, No. 24, are shown getting ready to block out Maryland line men.

Associate Justice Rodman Addresses Phi On Tuesday

By GILBERT RUTHSTEIN

The Philanthropic Literary Society will hold its inauguration of officers Tuesday evening with William B. Rodman Jr., Associate Justice of the North Carolina Supreme Court delivering the main address.

The meeting will take place at 8 p.m. on the top floor of New East, and at that time Mr. Rodman will speak to the group on "The Proper Function of Appellate Courts."

Mr. Rodman, who is a native of Washington, N. C., and who holds an A.B. Degree from UNC, and was a member of the Phi, was just recently appointed by Governor Luther Hodges to serve on the state's highest court.

Rodman was until then Attorney General of the State, and in this capacity he represented UNC in a number of cases, including some of the ones on segregation.

After serving as Mayor of Washington, Mr. Rodman was sent to Raleigh to serve as a member of the House of Representatives. During that time, he served as a member of the State Budget Commission.

The Phi has invited the public to attend this meeting.

'Anastasia' Ends Tonight Before Packed House

The Carolina Playmakers will present a final performance of "Anastasia" to a standing-room-only audience tonight at 8:30 in the Playmakers Theater.

The cast has played to a full house each night since last Wednesday's opening performance.

Dr. Samuel Selden, Playmakers' Director, said yesterday it is very unlikely that the play will be held over although all performances have been sellouts.

Extensive Observation Planned UN Week Here

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

The YM-YWCA, student government and APO service fraternity plan an extensive observation of United Nations Week, which begins today.

At the Carolina-Maryland football game yesterday, the UN flag was flown and the UNC Cardboard did a stunt spelling out "UN Week" and showing a picture of a dove of peace.

Tomorrow, the library will have a display in one of the exhibition cases in the main lobby. There will be material published by the UN, models of UN Headquarters and some UN stamps. At least 30 countries will be represented by stamps.

Wednesday will be observed as UN Day, with many special events planned. On WCHL, Ty Boyd will have with him Dr. Riath Haider of the School of Public Health of Iraq during "Breakfast with Boyd," from 8:30 - 9 a.m.

Also on Wednesday, a color movie will be shown continuously in the Y lobby. The movie, which lasts about 15 minutes, covers the UN agencies and their work.

Foreign students will attend a tree ceremony at the Chapel Hill Elementary School at 2:30 p.m. In Hill House at 8 p.m., there will be a pageant in which various foreign countries will be represented. The Cosmopolitan Club is cooperating with the Y on putting on this program. The script for the pageant was written by John Clayton, assistant professor in the Dept. of Radio, TV and Motion Pictures. Mrs. Ephraim Rosenzweig will direct the pageant.

WUNC-TV will present a program from their Raleigh studio which will feature foreign students from N. C. State College from 7-8 p.m. At 8 p.m., a film, "Assignment Children," will be shown. It stars Danny Kaye and emphasizes the UN.

FOREIGN DISHES

During the day Wednesday, Lenoir Hall will have a menu featuring special foreign dishes. The UN flag will be flown from the flag pole behind South Building.

At the YMCA Freshman Fellowship at 6:15 Thursday in Lenoir Hall, there will be a program on the Suez Crisis. A film on the subject will be shown, and Jimmy Kinney will conduct a panel discussion featuring Dr. Shepard Jones of the Political Science Dept. and Dr. Zawahry of Egypt.

Miss Polly Clarenbach, chairman of the Y study group of international relations, and a committee consisting of Miss Jackie Aldridge, student government representative; P. H. Craig and Bob Dawson, Y members; and George Brice, Bill Jones, Jim Chamblee and Bill Johnson, APO service fraternity men, made the plans for the UN Week celebration.

SP Starts Nominations On Monday

The Student Party will end its nominations for the fall campus election Monday night.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m. the party will name candidates for legislative seats in Dorm Men's Districts I and II; Dorm Women's District and All Town Districts.

Candidates for Freshmen Class Officers will also be chosen. Party Chairman Tom Lambeth announced yesterday that at the Monday meeting the party would make an important declaration of principle in regard to the Columbia St. parking situation.

Speaking of the nominations Lambeth said:

"The naming of candidates for any campus position is the most important function of UNC's political parties. For that reason, it is vitally important that as many SP members and supporters as possible be present for this final nominating session. Student Government will be as responsible and effective as we make it through these candidates."

Lambeth said today the Student Party is the most open political group on campus. Our only requirement for membership is interest and work. Everyone who has those qualities to offer is urged to join the SP team in the days ahead."

Chamber Music Group To Appear Here Tuesday

A Yugoslavian chamber music ensemble on its first American tour will present a concert in Hill Hall Tuesday night under the sponsorship of Graham Memorial Student Union.

The Zagreb Soloists Ensemble, founded and conducted by Antonio Janigro, will play at 8 p.m. The program is free to UNC students, with a $1 admission fee for student wives and a $2 charge for others.

Widely praised for their concerts in Paris, London, Rotterdam, The Hague, Vienna and other European cities, the ensemble includes some of Europe's finest instrumental soloists.

Vladimir Ruzdjak, a distinguished Yugoslav baritone, will appear with the performers. Janigro, known in the Western Hemisphere through his recordings, is a 'cello soloist, having appeared often in Europe and South America.

TATUM TOTED:

Dad's Day Labeled A Success

By BILL KING

Early arrivals at the game yesterday must have wondered whether they were attending a football game or the Mardi Gras.

About 1:30 p.m. a band of red-jerseyed players, which many of the fans thought to be the Maryland team, came trotting out on the field and ran through a "mock" warmup. Then they went through a few humorous plays that marked them definitely as fakes.

The team was composed of pledges and brothers from ATO social fraternity here on campus. Dad's Day proved to be a success yesterday. About 25 fathers were seated down behind the Carolina bench with the numbers of their sons on their back.

Although the Tar Heels and Terps were fierce in battle and the fans were split in partiality, there was one moment when everybody was in accord and all thoughts of rivalry were momentarily set aside. This moment came just prior to the start of the game when the Carolina and Maryland bands joined together in playing the alma mater of the two schools, then the national anthem.

Remark heard in vicinity of Carolina student gate prior to the game: "Hey, do you suppose the team will sit in the end zone this afternoon?" The Tar Heels were back on the south side yesterday.

It's an unusual feat for a lineman to score a touchdown but this trick comes as nothing new to Carolina guard Jim Jones. Last year against the Terps' big Jim took the ball out of the hands of Maryland quarterback Frank Tamburello and raced to paydirt for Carolina's only score. He turned the trick again yesterday when he intercepted a deflected pass and went over for the Tar Heel's first tally.

When Phil Blazer booted the extra point after the Tar Heel's second tally yesterday, it marked the first time this season that Carolina has added a point after touchdown.

Maryland's initial running first down yesterday was long coming. The Terps were able to move for the necessary ten in four downs for the first time with 6:10 remaining in the second period.

A big round of applause went to the Carolina and Maryland bands which performed during intermission yesterday. This was (See DAD'S DAY, Page 4)

Team Like One Big Happy Family After First Win

By DAVE WIBLE

These Carolina boys really do like to win a ball game, contrary to the thoughts of some members of the student body.

It was a great big happy family as the victors got off the backs of the students who carried them to the dressing room and congratulated each other. UNC Coach Suhny Jim Tatum walked right into the dressing room and received cheers from the team. A group of "gung hot" students staged an after-the-game pep rally out side the locker room door.

Tatum told the press, "this game was just like eating steak, sometimes you have to eat it and sometimes you are real hungry for it. We were real hungry for victory. We had the good breaks. Maryland did not. We installed the spread to get around their big tackles. The unbalanced line placed the ball carriers away from Maryland's strong left side. Maryland could not get used to our defense. We took a chance. I was tired of being nailed to the cross. If I was going to be shot, I wanted it to be quick."

Mont Unhappy About Jones' Scoring Play

By JIMMY HARPER

"We just got beat, and I mean beat. That's all I can say. You can look at the scoreboard and tell that."

So said Coach Tommy Mont of his Maryland team's loss to an aggressive and unmerciful Carolina squad.

The turning point came early in the contest when Carolina guard Jim Jones grabbed a juggled pass and legged it over for the first score.

Mont said that the score came after the referee's whistle had blown. Several Maryland players backed up his charge.

"The new spread offense surprised us. We didn't start preparing for it 'until this morning." Mont noted that "Carolina ex-

(See MARYLAND, Page 4)

Di To Air Bill About Merchants

A resolution that the Dialectic Senate go on record "as condemning the merchants of Chapel Hill for their actions, attitudes and miserly interpretation of the student Fair Deal," will be debated by the Di Tuesday at 8 p.m. in New West.

If passed, copies of the resolution will be sent to the president of the student body, president of the IPC, president of the IDC and the editor of The Daily Tar Heel, according to Di officials.

All interested students have been invited to attend and participate in the debate.

Pierpont Dies

(AP)—Yesterday a University professor died of a heart attack during the North Carolina-Maryland football game.

He was identified as Andrew W. Pierpont, 50, associate professor of business administration and assistant to the dean.

Survivors include the wife, the former Glendine Stuart of Waco, Texas and a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Robinson Jr. of Greenville.

The funeral will be at 3 p.m. Monday at the Chapel of the Cross Episcopal Church, here.