SP To Support Young On Parking Situation

By CLARKE JONES
And NANCY HILL

The Student Party last night pledged its support to student body President Bob Young in regard to the Columbia St. parking situation.

The party also gave support to the "fraternities and fraternity residents directly concerned" about the situation in the hope "a more reasonable parking arrangement in this area" would be worked out.

The Columbia St. situation resulted from a two-hour parking restriction placed in front of Big Fraternity Court last summer by the town Board of Aldermen.

Young appointed a Traffic Advisory Committee recently to study the overall problem, the study of the Columbia St. situation being part of the committee's job.

Chairman Tom Lambeth, in making the party's statement, said the SP is supporting Young "in his efforts to remove these restrictions and gain renewed recognition of the rights of students . . . in Chapel Hill."

Lambeth also stated the party "affirms its support for continued negotiation with Chapel Hill officials and merchants to develop on the part of townspeople, a more realistic and generous attitude towards the 7,000 University students who annually pour into the coffers of Chapel Hill business more than $4,000,000."

The following nominations were made for legislature seats to come up for election Nov. 13:

Dorm Men I: Edwin Fuller, Dorm Men II: Whit Whitfield, Gary Greer, Doug Eisele, and Frank Brown.

Dorm Men III: William Happer, Dorm Women: Misses June Meadows, Babs Moore, Martha Pindexter, Betty Huffman.

Town Men I: John Honeycutt, Charles Huntington, Paul Clark, Town Men IV: Darwin Bell, Ben Peele.

Town Men III: Jim Johnson, Richard Eisenberg, Robert Hodges, Chuck Howerton.

Nominated for freshmen class officers were president, David Evans; vice president, Everett James; treasurer, John Wilbur. Nominations of secretary and social chairman were postponed until Sunday night, when the Advisory Board of the party will meet to complete nominations for legislature seats.

The Dialectic Senate will debate a bill today at 8 p.m. in New West concerning whether the body should resolve "to condemn the Chapel Hill merchants for their actions, attitudes and miserly interpretations of the student Fair Deal."

The preface of the resolution states, "the merchants of Chapel Hill have somewhat of a monopoly on student trade, and . . . the merchants of Chapel Hill have organized this monopoly, created unusually high prices, and constantly shown more interest in the student dollar than in student welfare; and . . . Chapel Hill has become the most expensive college town in North Carolina; and . . . the students . . . are upset over general conditions existing in the town of Chapel Hill . . ."

Bill Sabiston, former chairman of the UP, will introduce and defend the bill.

Meeting Monday On Columbia St. Parking

By NEIL BASS

The Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen will pass final decree on the Columbia St. restriction next Monday night, according to student body President Bob Young.

The aldermen set a two-hour parking restriction on Columbia St. between Cameron Ave. and Franklin St. during the summer.

Concerning the outcome of the Monday night meeting Young said:

"I am hopeful the board will give us a chance."

Wilburn Davis, Traffic Advisory Commission chairman, told a reporter he "understood" the board's final decree would not be passed until Nov. 10.

Young said, however, that the board would definitely meet Monday night, and that he and Davis would meet with aldermen.

Concerning a meeting which the Commission held jointly with representatives from the aldermen and the local Merchants' Association last Thursday, Davis said:

"The meeting was a success."

Davis declined to release details of the meeting. It was declared an executive session, closed to the press, by Davis. Other representatives present at the convening consented to his decision.

Davis said the meeting was closed, because representatives from the three groups wanted to exchange "personal opinions" freely.

The Commission chairman told a reporter he would release a full statement on the Commission's transactions in "the near future."

However, all premedical and predoctoral students who are interested in joining this society have been urged to attend the meeting, which is held in conjunction with several rush meetings before new members are taken in this semester.

Durham Company Unhappy Over Telephone Situation

By GRAHAM SNYDER

The possibility of removal of all non-paying telephones in the dormitories, because of students non-compliance with the telephone policy rules, has not been reduced to a satisfactory degree, according to Durham telephone officials.

The Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Durham reported yesterday that it was not "happy with the situation as it existed." Mrs. Edith Knowles, chief telephone operator, said that the company would wait for a solution of the problem from University officials in Chapel Hill. Mrs. Knowles emphasized that Southern Bell Co. had no direct connection with the telephone situation, but that the unabated persistence of long-distance calls being made from the non-paying telephones in the dorms was creating confusion and tie-ups at the switchboard in Durham, and that here appeared to be no market timishment in the practice.

J. S. Bennet, Director of Operations, declared that the situation as it now is, cannot continue and that some feasible solution must be worked out. He said that the committee working on the problem—composed of university and student officials—was in the process of formulating a solution.

Student government officials are presently engaged in seeking a solution to the problem by means of petition letters being sent to all dormitories.

Student Body President Bob Young announced that an appointed member of his cabinet, Bill Tullock and IDC president Sonny Hallford were drafting a letter, copies of which will be sent to all dormitory presidents. The letter will contain a petition to be posted in the dorm and to be signed by all students. The petition will state that if the placing of telephones on every floor in every form is again continued—a process halted because of the telephone problem—the students will agree to make long distance calls from coin-type telephone boxes, only.
