

Covering The University Campus

PICNIC
The Student Organizational Committee of the School of Public Health is sponsoring a picnic for School of Public Health students and their guests Sunday afternoon at the Umstead State

Park. The picnic will be held from 2-6 p.m.
BLAZERS
The Interdormitory Council will sponsor a blazer sale Thursday. Fittings for the coats will be held in Roland Parker Lounges by a representative from the Robert Rollins Co.

PROFESSORS MEET
Dr. Ralph F. Fuchs, general secretary of the American Assn. of University Professors, will address the Duke chapter in the Music Room of the East Duke Building Tuesday at 8 p.m. Members of the Chapel Hill chapter have been invited to attend.

KOREAN VETS
All Korean veterans should submit their monthly certification of training form to 315 South Building by Thursday, according to an announcement from Gen. F. C. Shepard's office.

This is required by Public Law 550, according to the announcement.

INTRA-PREXY MEET
All men's dormitory intramural managers and presidents will meet tonight in 301-A, Woolen Gym.

The meeting is required, according to Interdormitory Council President Sonny Hallford. Discussion will be held on the intramurals program with Coach Walter Rabb of the physical education department.

English Club Discusses Frosh Problems Tonight

A panel of two professors and graduate instructors of the Department of English will discuss problems in the teaching of freshman English tonight in the Library Assembly Room at 7:30.

The panel members are George F. Horner, Chairman of the Department of Freshman and Sophomore English; James Gaskin; Miss Alison Preble and Richard Calhoun, freshman instructors and members of the English Club. A number of specific problems will be considered by the panel. Questions by the audience will be answered after the formal panel discussion. Refreshments will be served.

Research Grants Awarded To Three University Professors

Three University professors have received grants to aid basic research in their respective science fields here. J. C. Morrow, III, associate professor of chemistry, was awarded a grant from Research Corp. for magnetochemical and crystallographic investigations of transition metal complex compounds. For studies in ether cleavage in aromatic substitution reactions. J. F. Bunnnett, associate professor of chemistry, was awarded $14,000 by the National Science Foundation. The third professor, Donald P. Costello, Kenan professor of zoology, was awarded $6700 for research in methods for obtaining and handling marine eggs and embryos. His grant was from the National Science Foundation.

Friday Will Become CU President Today

Consolidated University Acting President William C. Friday is expected to be named as president today by the full Board of Trustees.

The 100-man board is holding a special meeting in Raleigh at 2 p.m. in the Hall of the House of Representatives. The meeting was called last week following the Executive Committee's recommendation of Friday as president.

Lenoir Hall Scene Of Disappearing Articles

A number of articles ranging from topcoats to eyeglasses have been disappearing from the student dining halls.

G. W. Prillaman, director of student dining halls, urges students to safeguard their personal belongings as much as possible while eating.

Most items are picked up by students who mistake them for their own. Of the items reported lost, 95 per cent are eventually returned to their owners and all persons are required to identify their property.

Saturday Designated NROTC Day By House

In recognition of Navy Day, traditionally observed on October 27, University Chancellor Robert B. House has designated Saturday as Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Day at the University.

In connection with this the NROTC drill team will make its first public appearance of the year in a brief exhibition drill in the stadium just before the Carolina-Wake Forest game.

Last Day For Yack Beauties

Deadline for entries in the Yack Beauty Contest is tomorrow, according to Tommy Johnson, editor. All organizations wishing to sponsor entries have been asked to turn their entries into the Yack office in the Graham Memorial basement.

The contest will be held Thursday, Nov. 8, in Memorial Hall.

'13 Rue Madeleine' Is GMAB Free Flick Tonight

Tonight at 8 and 10 p.m. in Carroll Hall, "13 Rue Madeleine" will be shown as part of the Graham Activities Board-sponsored "Free Flick" series.

Starring Jimmie Cagney and Annabella, the film is based on the story of espionage during World War II.

There will also be a short feature.
