

Final Verdict On Parking Situation Expected Monday

By NEIL BASS

The town Board of Aldermen will pass final decree on the S. Columbia St. parking restriction at Monday night's meeting.

The aldermen will hear a report presented on behalf of the seven fraternities involved. Chairman Wilburn Davis of the student government Traffic Advisory Commission will present the report.

Dan Clark, Pi Kappa Alpha president, will compile the report under direction of the Interfraternity Council. He will convey it to Chairman Davis.

RECOMMENDATION

Davis said yesterday he would also present a recommendation formulated by his commission.

Chairman Davis said, concerning the work of his group:

"My committee appreciates all cooperation given by students, and it hopes to have such cooperation all through the year in working on the general campus parking problem."

"We also appreciate the cooperation given us by the Merchants' Assn. and the Board of Aldermen."

Davis declined to give his opinion concerning the results of the meeting.

The Davis commission, appointed by President Bob Young, will shift its attention to the overall campus parking problem after the aldermen pass final decree Monday night.

The only suggested action which the aldermen may take is a 60-day lifting of the two hour restriction if the fraternities' report promises action to alleviate their parking problem during this period.

Chairman Davis earlier reported representatives of the Board of Aldermen had promised tentatively to lift the ban for the 60-day period.

Mayor O. K. Cornwell afterwards told a reporter the two representatives had no authorization to make any type of tentative promise.

Fraternities which are affected by the two-hour parking restriction on S. Columbia St. between Franklin St. and Cameron Ave. are:

Beta Theta Pi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Lambda Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Chi.

Candidates Absent On Mon. Must Meet Today

All Honor Council candidates who were unable to attend the candidates' meeting held last Monday night have been required to meet in Student Government office in Graham Memorial, today at 7 p.m.

Any candidate who is absent from this meeting without contacting Andy Milnor at 8-9105 will be disqualified.

President Alerts U. S. Defenses

From Radio Dispatches

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has put the entire American defense system on a round-the-clock alert.

Disturbed by Soviet troop movements in Hungary, the President ordered the Atlantic Fleet to sea under sealed orders. He asked America's allies to draw back from crucial areas in order to ward off a possible second Pearl Harbor.

Eisenhower, who was reelected to office by a powerful landslide in Tuesday's election, called Congressional leaders together for a conference Friday.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The General Assembly voted 64-0 Wednesday for a ceasefire in the Middle East. There were 12 abstentions, Israel among them.

SEOUL, Korea—Two Russian MIG fighters were reported to have attacked South Korean airplanes over South Korea Wednesday.

Weinman Says UP Will Win

University Party Chairman Mike Weinman said yesterday the UP "is now finishing a most successful session in Student Legislature, and I am confident will receive a larger majority in the election next Tuesday."

Weinman, in a prepared statement, also said "The University Party has proven by this term in legislature its genuine desire to promote the interests of all the students on the University campus. It has far surpassed the Student Party in activity and interest in the legislature. We have attempted more and better legislation than the Student Party," he said.

"I think it should be brought out that the reading day before exams was initiated by UP legislators in a past session. Bob Young has taken credit for this measure, but let's remember it is the duty of the executive branch to carry out the legislation initiated by the representative body."

"The University Party has done an outstanding job this term, and our record will prove that, and will continue to do so when continued in power by this election."

"We are confident of taking several dormitory seats from the student party this election because of the quality and desire of our dorm district candidates. I think they are the most interested we have ever nominated," he said.

"We are especially privileged to have such qualified class officership candidates for this election. Outstanding among these is John Kerr, candidate for Junior Class president. He has been treasurer of the student body and chairman of the Student Entertainment Committee, and in the Student Legislature."

"I urge all student voters to support the UP, for when you do, you cast a vote for good student government and not petty politics," he said.

UNC Debaters To Attend Meet

Members of the Debate Squad will leave UNC today at 1:30 p.m. for Columbia, S. C. for the South Carolina Invitational Debate Tournament.

During the first inter-collegiate competition of the year, debaters will argue the pro and con of the national collegiate debate topic for the year, which is:

Resolved, that the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries.

Debating on the affirmative will be Phillip Gerdes of Wilmington and Randy Oglesby of Greensboro. Taking the negative side will be Harold Stessel of Peekskill, N. Y. and Clay Simpson of Lexington, Ky.

PAT McQUEEN

JOY EARP

MARTHA DECKER

MARTHA RICHARDSON

SHIRLEY GUENTHER

4 Seniors, 1 Honorary Tapped Into Highest Woman's Honorary

In Pre-Dawn Event, Valkyries Tap Misses Richardson, Guenther, Decker, Earp, McQueen

Four senior coeds and one honorary were tapped for membership into the Valkyries, highest women's honorary on campus, this morning in pre-dawn ceremonies.

The undergraduates tapped were Misses Martha Anne Richardson, Patricia Grace McQueen, Shirley Lee Guenther, and Joy Frances Earp. Miss Martha Alice Decker of the Dean of Women's Office was tapped by the organization for honorary membership.

Membership is based on character, unselfish leadership, scholarship and service to the campus.

Founded in 1941, the Valkyries replaced Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary society, and corresponds to the highest local men's honorary society, the Order of the Golden Fleece.

Miss Richardson, a sociology major from Midlothian, Va., is the Valkyries said, "one whose constructive attitude and service has been evident in several phases of campus life."

"She is one who has expressed the ability to awaken in others a sense of leadership and fellowship," the society said.

Miss McQueen, a primary education major from Lumberton, was hailed as "one whose devotion to students' interests is constantly felt by her active participation and concern in affairs of the student judiciary."

"She is a leader whose convictions demand respect and whose sense of responsibility begins with definite action," the Valkyries said.

Miss Guenther, nursing student from Washington, D. C., "has given unselfishly and untiringly of her time and efforts for the betterment of dormitory life," the Valkyries said.

"Her capabilities as an outstanding leader have been a constant source of inspiration to those in her major field," the society said.

Miss Earp, psychology major from Raleigh, is a student who, "in her sympathetic understanding and unselfish service seeks persistently to aid her fellow students and to improve campus life," the Valkyries stated.

"Her strength of character, enthusiasm and ideals of deep conviction are strongly felt in the many tasks she undertakes," they reported.

Miss Decker, from Miami, Fla., according to the Valkyries, is "a valuable member of the Dan of Women's office whose creative capabilities are vital in this area of campus life."

The organization said, "exemplifying outstanding qualities, she has displayed warm and sincere interest in the individual student and devotion to the campus community."

Much to the delight of the dominant male population on campus, no less than 98 girls will vie for the title of "1957 Yack Beauty Queen" at Memorial Hall today at 7:30 p.m.

The annual contest is staged by the staff of the Yackety Yack, the University yearbook. The winner and 14 attendants will find themselves in the rotogravure of the beauty section when the publication comes out in the spring.

Entrants will be judged on symmetry of features, complexion, hair, figure and poise. Each contestant has been entered in the contest by a fraternity, sorority, dormitory, or other campus organizations.

Chi Psi: Misses Mary "Pee-Wee" Batten, Jane Brock, Marian Dickens, Darryl Farrington, Dorothy Presley, and Bobbie Brank.

Delta Psi: Misses Carolyn Nelson, Patsy Poythress, Beverly Heaton, and Robie Simpson.

Nurses Dorm: Misses Barbara Miles, Anne Morgan, and Martha Deer.

Sigma Nu: Misses Barbara Honey, Susan Walker, Carolyn Placak, and Shirley Carpenter.

Spencer Hall: Misses Page Anderson and Sarah Williamson.

Pi Lambda Phi: Miss Barbara Prago.

Kenan Dorm: Miss Tita White.

Smith Dorm: Miss Dickey Pickertell.

Beta Theta Pi: Misses Val von Ammon, Ann Morgan, Lucinda Holderness, and Betty Bell.

Cobb Dorm: Misses Barbara (See BEAUTY QUEEN, Page 4)

98 Coeds Compete Tonight For Yack Beauty Queen Title

4 Seniors, 1 Honorary Tapped Into Highest Woman's Honorary

In Pre-Dawn Event, Valkyries Tap Misses Richardson, Guenther, Decker, Earp, McQueen

Four senior coeds and one honorary were tapped for membership into the Valkyries, highest women's honorary on campus, this morning in pre-dawn ceremonies.

The undergraduates tapped were Misses Martha Anne Richardson, Patricia Grace McQueen, Shirley Lee Guenther, and Joy Frances Earp. Miss Martha Alice Decker of the Dean of Women's Office was tapped by the organization for honorary membership.

Membership is based on character, unselfish leadership, scholarship and service to the campus.

Founded in 1941, the Valkyries replaced Alpha Kappa Gamma, national honorary society, and corresponds to the highest local men's honorary society, the Order of the Golden Fleece.

Miss Richardson, a sociology major from Midlothian, Va., is the Valkyries said, "one whose constructive attitude and service has been evident in several phases of campus life."

"She is one who has expressed the ability to awaken in others a sense of leadership and fellowship," the society said.

Miss McQueen, a primary education major from Lumberton, was hailed as "one whose devotion to students' interests is constantly felt by her active participation and concern in affairs of the student judiciary."

"She is a leader whose convictions demand respect and whose sense of responsibility begins with definite action," the Valkyries said.

Miss Guenther, nursing student from Washington, D. C., "has given unselfishly and untiringly of her time and efforts for the betterment of dormitory life," the Valkyries said.

"Her capabilities as an outstanding leader have been a constant source of inspiration to those in her major field," the society said.

Miss Earp, psychology major from Raleigh, is a student who, "in her sympathetic understanding and unselfish service seeks persistently to aid her fellow students and to improve campus life," the Valkyries stated.

"Her strength of character, enthusiasm and ideals of deep conviction are strongly felt in the many tasks she undertakes," they reported.

Miss Decker, from Miami, Fla., according to the Valkyries, is "a valuable member of the Dan of Women's office whose creative capabilities are vital in this area of campus life."

The organization said, "exemplifying outstanding qualities, she has displayed warm and sincere interest in the individual student and devotion to the campus community."

Much to the delight of the dominant male population on campus, no less than 98 girls will vie for the title of "1957 Yack Beauty Queen" at Memorial Hall today at 7:30 p.m.

The annual contest is staged by the staff of the Yackety Yack, the University yearbook. The winner and 14 attendants will find themselves in the rotogravure of the beauty section when the publication comes out in the spring.

Entrants will be judged on symmetry of features, complexion, hair, figure and poise. Each contestant has been entered in the contest by a fraternity, sorority, dormitory, or other campus organizations.

Chi Psi: Misses Mary "Pee-Wee" Batten, Jane Brock, Marian Dickens, Darryl Farrington, Dorothy Presley, and Bobbie Brank.

Delta Psi: Misses Carolyn Nelson, Patsy Poythress, Beverly Heaton, and Robie Simpson.

Nurses Dorm: Misses Barbara Miles, Anne Morgan, and Martha Deer.

Sigma Nu: Misses Barbara Honey, Susan Walker, Carolyn Placak, and Shirley Carpenter.

Spencer Hall: Misses Page Anderson and Sarah Williamson.

Pi Lambda Phi: Miss Barbara Prago.

Kenan Dorm: Miss Tita White.

Smith Dorm: Miss Dickey Pickertell.

Beta Theta Pi: Misses Val von Ammon, Ann Morgan, Lucinda Holderness, and Betty Bell.

Cobb Dorm: Misses Barbara (See BEAUTY QUEEN, Page 4)

Much to the delight of the dominant male population on campus, no less than 98 girls will vie for the title of "1957 Yack Beauty Queen" at Memorial Hall today at 7:30 p.m.

The annual contest is staged by the staff of the Yackety Yack, the University yearbook. The winner and 14 attendants will find themselves in the rotogravure of the beauty section when the publication comes out in the spring.

Entrants will be judged on symmetry of features, complexion, hair, figure and poise. Each contestant has been entered in the contest by a fraternity, sorority, dormitory, or other campus organizations.

Chi Psi: Misses Mary "Pee-Wee" Batten, Jane Brock, Marian Dickens, Darryl Farrington, Dorothy Presley, and Bobbie Brank.

Delta Psi: Misses Carolyn Nelson, Patsy Poythress, Beverly Heaton, and Robie Simpson.

Nurses Dorm: Misses Barbara Miles, Anne Morgan, and Martha Deer.

Sigma Nu: Misses Barbara Honey, Susan Walker, Carolyn Placak, and Shirley Carpenter.

Spencer Hall: Misses Page Anderson and Sarah Williamson.

Pi Lambda Phi: Miss Barbara Prago.

Kenan Dorm: Miss Tita White.

Smith Dorm: Miss Dickey Pickertell.

Beta Theta Pi: Misses Val von Ammon, Ann Morgan, Lucinda Holderness, and Betty Bell.

Cobb Dorm: Misses Barbara (See BEAUTY QUEEN, Page 4)

Much to the delight of the dominant male population on campus, no less than 98 girls will vie for the title of "1957 Yack Beauty Queen" at Memorial Hall today at 7:30 p.m.

The annual contest is staged by the staff of the Yackety Yack, the University yearbook. The winner and 14 attendants will find themselves in the rotogravure of the beauty section when the publication comes out in the spring.

Entrants will be judged on symmetry of features, complexion, hair, figure and poise. Each contestant has been entered in the contest by a fraternity, sorority, dormitory, or other campus organizations.

Chi Psi: Misses Mary "Pee-Wee" Batten, Jane Brock, Marian Dickens, Darryl Farrington, Dorothy Presley, and Bobbie Brank.

Delta Psi: Misses Carolyn Nelson, Patsy Poythress, Beverly Heaton, and Robie Simpson.

Nurses Dorm: Misses Barbara Miles, Anne Morgan, and Martha Deer.

Sigma Nu: Misses Barbara Honey, Susan Walker, Carolyn Placak, and Shirley Carpenter.

Spencer Hall: Misses Page Anderson and Sarah Williamson.

Pi Lambda Phi: Miss Barbara Prago.

Kenan Dorm: Miss Tita White.

Smith Dorm: Miss Dickey Pickertell.

Beta Theta Pi: Misses Val von Ammon, Ann Morgan, Lucinda Holderness, and Betty Bell.

Cobb Dorm: Misses Barbara (See BEAUTY QUEEN, Page 4)

Much to the delight of the dominant male population on campus, no less than 98 girls will vie for the title of "1957 Yack Beauty Queen" at Memorial Hall today at 7:30 p.m.

The annual contest is staged by the staff of the Yackety Yack, the University yearbook. The winner and 14 attendants will find themselves in the rotogravure of the beauty section when the publication comes out in the spring.

Entrants will be judged on symmetry of features, complexion, hair, figure and poise. Each contestant has been entered in the contest by a fraternity, sorority, dormitory, or other campus organizations.

Chi Psi: Misses Mary "Pee-Wee" Batten, Jane Brock, Marian Dickens, Darryl Farrington, Dorothy Presley, and Bobbie Brank.

Delta Psi: Misses Carolyn Nelson, Patsy Poythress, Beverly Heaton, and Robie Simpson.

Nurses Dorm: Misses Barbara Miles, Anne Morgan, and Martha Deer.

Sigma Nu: Misses Barbara Honey, Susan Walker, Carolyn Placak, and Shirley Carpenter.

Spencer Hall: Misses Page Anderson and Sarah Williamson.

Pi Lambda Phi: Miss Barbara Prago.

Kenan Dorm: Miss Tita White.

Smith Dorm: Miss Dickey Pickertell.

Beta Theta Pi: Misses Val von Ammon, Ann Morgan, Lucinda Holderness, and Betty Bell.

Cobb Dorm: Misses Barbara (See BEAUTY QUEEN, Page 4)

DTH Wire Bill Comes Up For Debate Tonight

The Student Legislature will vote tonight on a bill to appropriate $400 to establish national and international news wire service for The Daily Tar Heel.

The bill points out The Daily Tar Heel is the only communication with national and international affairs, in printed form, published daily in Chapel Hill.

Sonny Evans, speaker of the Legislature, in giving his views on the bill, said, "The Tar Heel was the only student publication to make money last year and is, in my opinion, entitled to some consideration. However, if this means that campus news will be suppressed, then I am not in favor of it."

Other bills to be voted on include one to establish a committee for altering the site of the Honor Council meetings. The bill recommends that a less public meeting place be found for the Council than the present one on the second floor of GM.

A bill to look into the feasibility of establishing parking lots with auto registration fees is being submitted. The southern half of the area in front of Melver Dorm adjacent to East Cameron St. is suggested as a suitable site for a student parking lot.

All three bills were introduced last week by UP Chairman Mike Weinman.

In addition, cups will be presented to the men's and women's dorms and fraternities having the highest scholastic average. They are: men's dorm, Old West with a 1.631 average; women's dorm, Melver, having an average of 1.740; and fraternity, Delta Psi (St. Anthony Hall), 2.4747. Recognition will also be given to the Pi Beta Phi Sorority, which had a 2.2238 average. A cup is presented to the sorority with the highest scholastic average by the Pan Hellenic Council.

Pledge Officers Elected By Alpha Gam Sorority

The 1956-pledge of Gamma Epsilon chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority has announced the election of its officers for the present term.

Miss Phyllis Kraft heads the group as president. Miss Ann Inman was elected vice president. Miss Ruth Neisler and Andrea Stalvey were selected to fill the secretary and treasurer posts, while Miss Jennie Margaret Meador was chosen activities chairman.

Miss Frances McKnight was appointed scholarship chairman for the group and Miss Ingrid Clay was appointed house chairman.

GM'S SLATE

Student Council, 6-11 p.m., Grail Room; UP Caucus, 6-7:30 p.m., Roland Parker 1; Tri-Iota Frat, 10-11 p.m., Roland Parker 2; SP Caucus, 6-7:30 p.m., Roland Parker 3; IFC court, 7-9 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room; Grad Study Group, 9:45-11 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room; IDC Court, 7 p.m., Council Room.

DR. SIDNEY PAINTER

... Johns Hopkins prof speaks tonight

Noted Historian Talks To History Club On Magna Carta Tonight

One of the nation's pre-eminent authorities on the Middle Ages, Prof. Sidney Painter of Johns Hopkins University, will deliver a public address at 8 p.m. today in Carroll Hall.

Prof. Painter's address is the second in a series of three public addresses by prominent historians to be given this year, sponsored by the Graduate History Club, Phi Alpha Theta, history fraternity, and the Graham Memorial Student Union.

TOPIC

The topic of Dr. Painter's address, "The Magna Carta, and Medieval Origins of Personal Liberty," is a particularly timely one today when this vital principle, the foundation of American democratic society and our republican form of government, is challenged by the principles of Communism. Prof. Painter will discuss the origins of the principle of personal liberty, as expressed in the Magna Carta, famous English declaration of human freedom, and trace their long-range importance.

Prof. Painter, who is professor of history at the Johns Hopkins University, is the author of "The History of the English Feudal Barony, French Chivalry, The Scourge of the Clergy, and Peter of Dreux, Duke of Brittany."

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary yesterday included:

Misses Valerie Van Ammon, Barbara Callaway, Isabel Masterman and Kinzo Yamamoto, George McNeill, Harold Lusk, Alvin Mustian, Leon Martin, James Varnum, George Myatt, David McGraw, Howard Mills, Jimmy Merritt, David Carr, John Trott and Hugh Bryant.