

Tar Heels Leave Today For Big Battle With Notre Dame

The Daily Tar Heel SPORTS

Larry Cheek, Sports Editor

Prediction: Notre Dame 20, UNC 13

The dismal '56 football season is fast fading for both Carolina and Notre Dame, two former pigskin powers who meet tomorrow in a battle of the have-nots in South Bend, Ind.

Victories have been few and far between for each school this year, and both the Tar Heels and Fighting Irish are looking toward tomorrow's game with something like a hopeful glint in their eyes. Each would like to salvage something from the '56 gridiron scrapheap, and this looks to both parties like a good opportunity.

With only two games remaining, Notre Dame and Duke, the Tar Heels would like to fatten their 2-5-1 record a little bit and at the same time enjoy a victory over Notre Dame for the first time in history. The Irish, on the other hand, have even greater incentive to spur them. Coach Terry Brennan's charges have won only a single decision this season while losing six games, and after the Tar Heels come Iowa and Southern Cal, two rough customers in anybody's league.

THE LONG ROAD DOWN

For the Irish, it's been a long rough trip down from the pinnacle of gridiron glory they once held. Ever since the days of Knute Rockne the name 'Notre Dame' has had a magic quality about it that struck fear into the hearts of rival teams and coaches all over the land.

Fighting Irish teams in the past have had their ups and downs, but never have they fallen quite so far. This year's team has taken some quite thorough wallopings including one-sided losses to Oklahoma, Michigan State and Navy. Their only win came by a two touchdown margin over Indiana.

Several factors have contributed to the downfall of the Fighting Irish. The players are young and inexperienced. Injuries sidelined key personnel early in the season. And the schedule is a murderous one, although this didn't bother Notre Dame teams in the past.

The Irish have played good football in spots, and if they ever jell, they will be a tough team to beat. According to scout Eddie Teague, they are a hard charging aggressive squad with the old 'never-say-die' Notre Dame spirit. And you can bet they'll be laying for the Tar Heels.

SERIES MONOPOLIZED BY IRISH

Carolina and Notre Dame have been slugging away at each other ever since the 1949 inaugural game in New York. But not once have the Tar Heels emerged victorious. There have been a couple of squeakers, but most of the games have been routs.

Last year in Kenan Stadium, Notre Dame ran their victory string to 7 with a 27-7 win over the game but outclassed Carolinians. Tomorrow's game will be the eighth and last of the current series, but the two teams will meet again in 1958.

We think our Tar Heels have at least an even chance to beat Notre Dame tomorrow. They have been playing good sound football since the Maryland game, and last Saturday reached a peak in the third quarter of the Virginia contest. The outcome of the game tomorrow depends almost entirely on whether or not they can duplicate this performance.

The edge will go to the team that's fired up the most. And one thing is certain. Notre Dame will be eager, sharp and ready to play football. They always are, even in losing, and tomorrow will be no exception.

POSSIBLE BUT DOUBTFUL

Can Carolina win? Sure. Will they win? We doubt it. It'll be close, and enough Tar Heel determination could turn the tide. But we pick Notre Dame 20, Carolina 13. And we hope we're wrong.

Elsewhere around the Big Four, Duke is at Wake Forest and State travels to Pen State. The last one is not too difficult to pick despite State's win over South Carolina last Saturday. It's a long ride up to State College, Pa., and Penn State are likely to prove rather ungracious hosts. The Nittany Lions have beaten some good football teams this year, and one of them was Ohio State. Nuff said? Penn State 34, State 6.

There's no doubt who the favorite should be in the Duke-Wake Forest game. The Blue Devils have a strong explosive squad with plenty of manpower, while the Deacs have Bill Barnes and not much else. But there's more to this than appears on the surface. Wake has a pesky team, one that specializes in rising to the occasion and knocking off the big shots. On top of this they will be playing before a home crowd in friendly surroundings.

Whether or not this will be enough to carry the day remains to be seen. The Deacs have a long way to go before they can match Duke in personnel. We'll stick with the slide rule on this one. Duke 21, Wake Forest 6.

Booters Leave For Maryland This Morning

The varsity soccer team leaves early this morning for College Park, Md. where it will face the defending conference champions, Maryland, on Saturday.

Coach Marvin Allen's squad, beaten in its last two starts by Virginia and Duke, will experience its toughest contest of the year in seeking to obtain revenge for last year's 3-0 defeat in Chapel Hill.

The team is expected to arrive in College Park around early afternoon and coach Allen will send his team through a short scrimmage in preparation for Saturday's contest which will begin at 10 a.m.

On defense, Ted Smith may break into the starting lineup at left halfback due to his sparkling play in the Duke game and during recent scrimmages.

The Maryland game will mark the final contest for the Tar Heels in the 1956 season, and the annual soccer banquet will be held on Monday, Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m.

Heads Up

Tri Delt's Top Carr To Win Volleyball Title

Tri Delt captured the WAA volleyball title Tuesday night by slaughtering Carr Dorm, 56-10, in a surprisingly one-sided match.

Team work was the key to the Tri Delt victory. Outstanding Tri Delt servers included: Diana Ashley with 15 points, Gail Willingham with 11 points, Mott Butler with 9 points and Barbara Doar with 8 points. Pat Brandt's powerful spikes also played a large part in the Tri Delt triumph.

Smith Dorm topped Carr Dorm, 36-29, for second place. Carr could not stop the powerful serve of Eleanor German. Miss German scored 14 points. Smith Dorm was handed its only tournament defeat by Tri Delt.

Friday, Bostian Will Discuss Moreland Case

RALEIGH. (AP)—The chancellor of North Carolina State College said yesterday reports of charges involving the recruiting of basketball star Jackie Moreland were being made against State two days after he enrolled here Sept. 5.

Dr. Carey H. Bostian said the origin of the charges was not known. He announced that he will meet here today with William C. Friday, president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, of which State College is a unit, "to review the situation and decide what steps to take."

Bostian said, "We want to learn from the NCAA the exact nature of the evidence" that resulted in State being placed on probation for four years in the recruiting of Moreland, 18, widely sought basketball prospect of Minden, La.

Paul Hornung Shifted To Fullback For Irish

By LARRY CHEEK

North Carolina's Tar Heels, primed and ready for battle after last week's decisive win over Virginia, leave by plane this afternoon for South Bend, Ind., and a Saturday afternoon engagement with the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame.

The Tar Heels, reportedly in top physical condition, will leave Chapel Hill by bus today at 12:30 and are scheduled to depart from Raleigh-Durham Airport one hour later at 1:30. Because of uncertain weather conditions, the team will stay over in South Bend until Sunday morning before returning.

Secret practice sessions behind the canvas have been going on all week long well into the evening as Coach Jim Tatum and his staff seek to discover the formula for victory tomorrow. The sessions have been long ones, and the lights have been turned on every night.

The game tomorrow has little national significance, for both the Tar Heels and Fighting Irish have slightly tarnished records. Carolina has won two while losing five and tying one, and Notre Dame has won one and lost six.

Both teams will be depending Tompkins (SAE) vs. Kouri (Sig Nu); Unlimited, Ward (DKE) vs. Boyette (Pi Gam).

heavily on sophomores. Carolina will have three starters and a number of second stringers who are sophomores. While Notre Dame also has a number of youngsters in the starting-lineup.

The Irish have only three lettermen to start tomorrow. The Paul Hornung, fullback; Dick Pendergast, end; and Jim Morse, halfback. Hornung was shifted to fullback in the first quarter of last week's game with Pittsburgh, and will start in that position tomorrow.

Replacing the All-American Hornung at the signal calling slot will be Bob Williams, a sophomore whom UNC scout terms "a better short passer than Hornung."

Carter Fights Johnson

NEW YORK. (AP)—Harold Carter, a rising young heavyweight from Linden, N. J., takes on substitute Young Jack Johnson of Los Angeles tonight in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Johnson is subbing for Bob Baker who was forced off the show due to an attack of grippe.

The fight, scheduled for 10 p.m. EST, will be carried on network NBC radio and television.
