Hornung Leads Irish To Win

 time, had rambled 78 yards to the Tar Heel 15 from his own 7. Hornung also scored this one, sweeping left end from the three yard line on an option play. Hornung rounded out the Notre Dame score ing by adding all three extra points.

 Carolina pushed across her first marker with only 3:45 left in the second quarter on a 2-yard pass from Sutton to halfback Larry McMullen in the left corner of the end zone. The drive consumed only 6 plays from the Tar Heel 38 yard stripe.

 Carolina's last score came in the early moments of the third period on a Curt Hathaway to Moe DeCantis pitchout which was good for 6 yards and the TD.

International Preview Meet Readies U.S. Olympic Team

MELBOURNE, (U)—The United States Olympic track and field team, praised by the Russians as the greatest ever assembled, demonstrated again yesterday that it will be tough to handle when games get under way here officially next Thursday.

Uncle Sam's athletes, headed by Jack Davis with a world record bettering performance in the 120 yard high hurdles, grabbed eight of 14 events at an international preview meet this afternoon at Bendigo, 90 miles from here.

Although the Russians didn't complete and most nations entered only token teams, the performances of the U. S. athletes drew plenty of comment tonight upon returning to the site of the Olympics.

The Bendigo meet was the second in which American prowess had been effectively demonstrated. On Wednesday at Geelong, the United States took six of eight event in another preview meet. At Bendigo, Davis stepped over the high sticks in 13.3, one tenth of a second better than his own world mark. In the 1952 Olympics, the 25-year-old Californian finished second, barely beaten by another U. S. star, Harrison Dillard, in 13.7. That was an Olympic record, and Davis' time was the same as for Dillard.

Officials said that Davis' 13.3 definitely would be forwarded to the international federation for official acceptance as a new world record. Dick Attlesley of the United States is listed as the world record holder with 13.5, but Davis cracked that with his 13.4 earlier this year while running in the 110-meter hurdles, 10 inches farther than the 120 hurdles.

Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., and North Carolina College finished close on Davis' heels, followed by Milt Campbell of Plainfield, N. J., and ex-Duke University great, Joel Shankle of Durham, N. C.

Duke Tops Wake; USC Wins Over Md.; Va., State Lose

WINSTON-SALEM, (U)—Duke had the superior mudders as it sloshed over a rain-soaked field to whip Wake Forest, 26-0, yesterday in an Atlantic Coast Conference football game that saw the losers fumble the ball away eight times.

The heavy-going in a cold rain didn't seem to bother George Dutton, Duke's sophomore halfback from Washington, D. C., who scored the first two touchdowns and set up the third as the Blue Devils tallied in every quarter to level their season's record at 4-1.

COLUMBIA, S. C., (U)—South Carolina scored twice in the last six minutes yesterday for a 13-0 Atlantic Coast Conference football victory over Maryland.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (U)—Penn State, a 20-point favorite, needed a touchdown in the final 15 seconds to turn back a fired up and surprisingly strong North Carolina States football team, 14-7, yesterday before 21,000 fans.

Penn. State's Nittany Lions scored the winning TD on a nine yard pass and run play from halfback Billy Kane to end Les Walters.

BALTIMORE, (U)—Navy got the better of a game of swap with a slippery football today and substitute halfback Chet Burgett slithered for three touchdowns to give the Middies a 34-7 victory over Virginia during a steady downpour at Memorial Stadium.

The game before about 12,000 fans abounded in fumbles and pass interceptions. The ball got away from Virginia backs nine times, with Navy recovering four. Navy let it squirt away four times and Virginia dropped on three.

State Officials Plan Nov. 25 Meet With NCAA Executive Director

RALEIGH, (U)—North Carolina State College officials yesterday postponed efforts to learn the evidence on which the NCAA based severe disciplinary action against the college.

The postponement of a trip to Kansas City to confer with Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, was announced in a brief statement from Dr. Carey H. Bostian, college chancellor. The trip had been planned for this weekend.

"Since Mr. Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, could not arrange a mutually convenient date during Thanksgiving week, the conference with him and officials of North Carolina State College and The Consolidated University administration has been postponed until the week of Nov. 25, Bostian said.

In seeking the conference with Byers, Dr. Bostian said college officials wanted to "go over everything... they have" on the case.

Sooners Score 10 TDs In Stomping Missouri

NORMAN, Okla., (U)—The Oklahoma Sooners, obviously enraged because they were relegated to the No. 2 spot in the Associated Press football rankings, vented their fury on Missouri today with 10 touchdowns for a 67-14 victory.

The triumph gave Oklahoma its 38th straight victory—a modern record—and its ninth straight Big Seven Conference title under Coach Bud Wilkinson.

Oklahoma dropped from first to second in the national ratings by Tennessee this week, is now undefeated in 48 conference tilts.

Notre Dame wasted no time tasting paydirt in the second period. On the first play from scrimmage, Hornung dropped back and hit Morse who was all by himself in the left flat and the fleet Irish back went all the way to the Carolina 7. Three plays later Notre Dame led, 6-0. Hornung added the point and the score was 7-0 with 13:36 left in the second quarter.

On the following kickoff, Sutton returned it to his own 35 where he fumbled while still running. Notre Dame recovered but couldn't move.

UNC took the next kickoff and drove right down the field for their first score with Hathaway directing the attack, and Ed Sutton and sub fullback John Haywood splitting the ball carrying chores, the Tar Heels could not be stopped. Haywood got 12 yards on the first two plays. Sutton then hit sub Vince Olen with a pass on the Notre Dame 31. Hathaway rolled out to the 9 and Sutton hit McMullen with the TD pass.

After Notre Dame couldn't do anything with the second half kickoff, the Tar Heels took possession on the Notre Dame 36 following Phil Blazer's recovery of an Aubrey Lewis' fumble.

Sutton lost 13 yards on the first play, but the lost yardage was regained when the Irish were called for pass interference on their own 40. DeCantis went for 18 yards to the 22. Vale picked up 3 to the 19, and Hathaway circled left and to the 7 on the option play where he lateraled to Sutton who carried to the 6. A Hathaway to Sutton pass fell incomplete, but the sophomore quarterback pitched it to DeCantis for the six points on the next play. This made the score 14-14 with 12:09 left in the third quarter.

Notre Dame began a long extended drive late in the third that carried down to the Tar Heel 24 before stalling.

The Tar Heels took possession here, on their 24, with 10:11 left in the game, and began a last ditch push toward paydirt. Vale, McMullen and Sutton shared the ball-moving duties down to the 37 yard line where another crucial fourth down situation arose. With 6 yards to go, Hathaway faded back and flipped a pass to Ed Sutton on the 5-yard line. The pass sailed over Sutton's head out of bounds, and the Tar Heels had failed.

Notre Dame took over at this point and surged down the field for the tie-breaking score. The Irish used straight power plays for 6 and 7 yards at a crack, mowing down the weary Tar Heel line mercilessly. Lewis and Milota were the key men, as each carried five times.

'Clemson Didn't Show A Thing' Says Orange Bowl Committee

MIAMI, Fla., (U)—The Orange Bowl subcommittee in charge of supplying teams for the post-season game will meet Monday to talk about, among other things, the Clemson Tigers.

Van C. Kussrow, committee chairman, yesterday said, "Clemson didn't show a thing."

The Tigers were considered the Atlantic Coast Conference's best Orange Bowl prospect before the University of Miami smashed them 21-0 Friday night. And apparently they must still be considered the conference's best, although much of the sheen was knocked off them by the bruising Miami team.

"Actually, there's no outstanding team in the Atlantic Coast Conference picture," Kussrow said. "We'll wait on today's results, then hold a meeting on Monday." The committee, under its contract with the conference, may be heard concerning its choice of Atlantic Coast Conference team to meet the Big Seven's representative. But members of the conference are not bound by the opinion.

Clemson has won five, lost one and tied two. South Carolina has 6 victories and three losses. These are the best records in the conference.

Clemson Coach Frank Howard told sportswriters here that one Miami play beat Clemson—a play in which quarterback Sam Scarneccia would sometimes pitch out but often keep the ball himself. It gained ground for the Hurricanes time after time.

"My boys looked worn out," Howard said. "We've had tough ball games Saturday after Saturday. They've looked better but I wouldn't detract from this fine Miami team."

Tennessee Tops Ole Miss, 27-7

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (U)—With fullback Carl Smith giving Tennessee's bowl bound express its momentum, the top-ranked Vols rolled past Mississippi, 27-7, yesterday to remain unbeaten and untied.

A partisan throng of 42,000 saw the Vols yield a touchdown to the fired up Rebels on the opening kickoff and strike back viciously for their eighth straight victory of the season.

Smith, 190-pound sophomore from Washington Courthouse, Ohio, scored three times for Tennessee as the Vols ripped apart Mississippi's defenses for 383 yards rushing and passing.

Mississippi had gone into the game with the best defense, statistically, of any college football team in the country. In previous contests, the Rebels had yielded only 153.6 yards a game.

Stung by falling behind for the first time this season, Tennessee got its single wing powerhouse rolling in the second period with Smith plugging from the one for the Vols first TD.

Y Service Group Plans Trip To Youth Center

The Y Community Service Group has completed plans for a visit Tuesday to the Camp Butner Youth Center and Center for the Blind.

Students making the trip will leave the Y Tuesday at 4:15 p.m. The group will eat supper at the Center for the Blind.

All students interested in making the trip have been asked to contact Bill Tucker, chairman of the group.

Win Gives Maryland Fourth Straight ACC Championship

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Nov. 17 (U)—Mike Finci scored three goals today to lead Maryland to a 4-0 soccer victory over North Carolina and its fourth straight Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

The Terrapins, who have won 7 while losing only to Penn State in a non-conference tilt, were in charge from the time Rick Stottler broke the scoring ice after 12 minutes of the first period.

Finci added another goal in the first quarter and booted in one each in the third and fourth quarters. Maryland took 24 shots to 10 for the Tar Heels, who have now won 4 and lost 3.

Game Coverage Was Good

 the time table, kept things pretty well in hand, however.

George Stavnitski, Tar Heel center who was severely injured in the Oklahoma game, made the trip with his teammates and handled the spotting duties for Harry Wismer of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Coverage of the game was thorough to say the least. In addition to the usual crowd of Midwest writers, there was a large contingent of North Carolina scribes on hand. Among these were Jack Horner from the Durham Herald, Hugo Germino of the Durham Sun, Jack Briebart of the Raleigh News & Observer, Moses Crutchfield of the Greensboro Daily News, Wilton Garrison of the Charlotte News, and Frank Spencer of the Winston-Salem Journal.

arrived in the Irish camp Monday to pave the way for the Tar Heels' coming. Wade said the weather was warm all week long until the Chapel Hillians blew in, bringing Old Man Winter with them.

What would you guess to be a representative symbol of the University of North Carolina? The Old Well? South Building? Old East? wrong in all counts. On the UNC 'page' of the program, there appears a photo of the Morehead Planetarium right under a short of Chancellor House. And so goes the fall of tradition.

It was a sad story when the Notre Dame marching band came strutting on the field in all their colorful finery. Instead of majorities, seven high stepping drum majors led the way, onto the green playing turf of Notre Dame Stadium. Kilts and high plume hats were the order of the day, despite the chill surroundings.
