The Chi Phi float, topped with a gigantic cannon with a Duke blue devil peering out the barrel, was lettered, "Pogo Says Blast Duke."

Smith Dorm's float, upon which a devil was clawing at the "Pearly Gates," was labeled, "Devil, You're Above Your Level."

Mangum Dorm's entry was a convertible upon which, "Mangum Dorm's Queen" sat. "She," a he, was wrapped in a white sheet.

Key Sentence Set For Today In Rape Case

CARTHAGE (AP)—Judge H. Hoyle Sink of Greensboro will sentence Jack Key today for assault on a female. The 22-year-old college student's scheduled second rape trial was cut short by a plea of guilty to the lesser charge.

Assault on a female is a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum two years in prison, or a minimum $25 fine.

Key, a North Carolina State College junior from Robbins, was charged with rape on a complaint filed by his girl friend, Martha Sue Robinson. The pretty Biscoe schoolteacher said she was driven to a lonely spot the night of May 26 and raped in Key's automobile. Key insisted that it was not a case of rape, and that she was cooperative.

Patrol Commander Calls For Safe Driving Over Holidays

RALEIGH (AP)—The commander of the State Highway Patrol yesterday called on motorists, especially homeward bound college students, not to "rush themselves to death in the Thanksgiving holiday traffic." Col. James R. Smith declared

"Getting off to a good start is essential to enjoying a safe trip. We expect heavy traffic over the entire state Thanksgiving and many thousands of families will be heading for 'backhome' reunions."

Col. Smith said the patrol will follow its customary holiday routine with all leaves suspended for the 581-man patrol force.

He also declared the patrol would be using all its scientific speed detecting equipment.

He stated three special precautions are necessary for safe holiday driving:

1—Have your car ready for traveling in any kind of weather.

2—Be physically and mentally alert. "Fatigue," he said, "probably accounts for a great many more traffic accidents than we suspect."

3—Observe traffic signs and signals faithfully.

Smith said the patrol would hand out 100,000 motorists' prayers, small printed cards which will be given to each driver who is stopped for a routine check.

Poster Is Displayed Near Polls

By PRINGLE PIPKIN

Illegal campaign literature in form of a six foot poster saying, "Vote . . . Tues Paul Carr Men's Honor Council Junior Seat," was displayed intermittently yesterday morning outside Gerrard Hall.

Andy Milnor, chairman of the Elections Board, said he noticed the poster at about 8:15 a.m. and turned it around so that the side bearing Carr's literature was facing the wall. He changed the sign before opening the poll. The reverse side of the poster showed some campaign literature for Tom Long and Everett James, who ran in the last Tuesday's student government elections.

According to the poll watchers at Gerrard Hall, Carr's poster was shifted from front to back several times during the morning.

Later in the afternoon one of Carr's supporters moved the sign, which was placed at the time so that Carr's literature was facing the wall, from the east end of Gerrard Hall to the northeast corner of the YMCA Building, a position which was the required distance from the polls.

Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. modified this stand somewhat, however. He said the United States would send oil to the 17 affected countries in western Europe only when they would advise Washington how much they needed and who needed it.

news in brief

FROM RADIO DISPATCHES
CAIRO—The United Nations police force moved on Port Said early this morning. The move was made as a preliminary and precautionary measure for the inhabitants of Port Said.

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower was reported about ready to use the Taft-Hartley Act to end the International Longshoremen's strike. The White House announced he may hold a special conference Friday.

LONDON—Prime Minister Anthony Eden's private secretary said the only thing wrong with Eden was only that he is utterly exhausted. He may be back in a few weeks, the secretary said.

Eden's absence caused him to miss shouts of "Resign, resign!" from members of the opposition Labor Party in the House of Commons. The shouts followed an announcement there would be oil rationing.

UNITED NATIONS—A majority of United Nations members were forming behind a plan to restore the Suez Canal to Egypt for the purpose of clearing the waterway. The United States, in effect, is supporting the majority by not sending oil to western Europe until troops of Britain, France and Israel have moved away from advance points.

Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. modified this stand somewhat, however. He said the United States would send oil to the 17 affected countries in western Europe only when they would advise Washington how much they needed and who needed it.

IN THE INFIRMARY

UP Earns Smashing Victory In Class Office Contests

By NEIL BASS

The Student Party gained one seat to deadlock the 23rd student legislative assembly, and the University Party earned a smashing victory in class offices in yesterday's run-off election.

The SP's Jim Johnson defeated the UP's Tom Kenan in Town Men's III to deadlock the 23rd assembly — 25-25.

Van Woltz (UP) bettered Joe Clapp (SP) in Town Men's II, district in which vote was disqualified last week, to prevent loss of majority by the UP.

But the Student Party had already gained three seats in TM's III while the UP gained two seats in Dorm Men's II, representing an overall gain of one seat by the SP. The University Party had a 25-

24-1 majority in the 22nd legislative assembly. One legislator was doubly endorsed.

CLASS OFFICES

But in the class office department, the University Party steamrolled the SP.

UP-nominated candidates nabbed all but one class office, the vice presidency of the freshman class.

SP-supported Everett James was the sole victor for his party in class office races.

In the most keenly contested pre-election campaign race, John Kerr (UP) defeated Whit Whitfield (SP) by a sizable majority — 437-302.

Winner by the narrowest margin was freshman class Treasurer Peyton Hawes (UP) who defeated Jim Wilber (SP) by eight votes — 355-347.

JUDICIARY

All figures for judiciary election are unofficial but pretty "definite," according to Elections Board Chairman Andy Milnor.

Unofficial Men's Honor Council winners are: Three junior seats: Paul Carr, Jack Jones and Don Evans.

Two sophomore seats: Tucker Yates, run-off between Gary Cooper and John Owens.

One freshman seat: run-off between Dick Robinson and Hugh Patterson.

Unofficial Women's Honor Council winners are:

Miss Lucinda Holderness, run-off for the three remaining seats, Misses Doris Peter, Cynthia Seagraves, Nan Schaeffer, Sara Van Weyle, Anne Morgan and Kit Whitehurst.

Unofficial Student Council winners are:

Two junior seats: Mack Patton and Jay Walker, who ran without competition.

LAST DAY

Today is the last day for women students to sign up for dormitory rooms for next spring, according to the dean of women's office.

Olen Dropped For Using False Name

A UNC football player today was dropped from the squad and suspended by the University when he admitted having falsified his application and eligibility papers by using an assumed name.

He is Vince Olen, 208-pound junior end from Somerville, Pa., who admitted he matriculated at Temple University in 1950 under his real name of Vince Olenik and played freshman football there that season and on the varsity team the next fall.

After that he served two years in the Army and then matriculated at North Carolina in 1954. He played as a freshman here that season, was a reserve on the varsity in 1955 and has played in nine games here this fall.

Chancellor Robert B. House made the announcement after meeting with the Honor Council, which suspended Olenik (Olen) for the remainder of this and all of the next semester. After that he can apply to the University for readmission in the usual procedure, the chancellor said.

Chancellor House emphasized that no one affiliated with the University in any capacity had any knowledge of Olenik's name falsification or ineligibility to play (football) and that the development "shocked" both college and athletic officials.

Coach Jim Tatum questioned the player ten minutes after he (Tatum) was informed by faculty representative O. K. Cornwell that Atlantic Coast Conference Commissioner James H. Weaver had requested an investigation.

Student Wrecks Car Along Arboretum Wall

A Carolina student was charged with reckless driving last night after the car he was driving crashed into the stone wall which runs beside the arboretum.

Giles Garrett Nicholson, freshman from Burlington, was driving a 1955 Ford station wagon and said he was dodging another station wagon when the wreck occurred. The car went partway over the wall across from the Upper Quad, shortly before 11 p.m.

The car belongs to Nicholson's mother, Mrs. Mozelle Nicholson Foster, 574 Broad St., Burlington.

Chapel Hill police officers Horne and Byrd estimated damage done to the car's front end at approximately $400. No one was hurt.

It was also reported another student had a wreck in Greensboro. Details were not available at press time last night.

First Traffic Cases Deal In Auto Probation

The Student Government Traffic Committee met Monday night to deal with the first reported cases of flagrant violation of campus parking regulations.

According to Barbara Moore, Traffic Committee clerk, all sentences handed down were motor vehicle probation. This means that any subsequent offense of campus parking regulations will automatically render the offender subject to complete revocation of motor vehicle privileges.

The Traffic Committee was set up by Student Body President Bob Young for the purpose of cutting down on student violation of University traffic regulations.
