

The Daily Tar Heel

WARRANT
To kill. See page 2.

WEATHER
Cloudy and colder. High temperatures from 40 to low 60's.

VOL. LVII NO. 56

Complete (P) Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1956

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Hungarian Refugee Will Talk At 7 Tonight In Carroll Hall

Present Crisis In Hungary Will Be Aired

A Hungarian refugee student, who was one of the leaders in the student demonstration earlier this month, will speak here tonight. The student, who is using the assumed name of Istvan Laszlo, will speak at 7 p.m. today in Carroll Hall auditorium.

Laszlo is making a tour of colleges and universities throughout the country, speaking about the present crisis in Hungary. He spoke on Tuesday night at N. C. State college.

The 21-year old student, who fled to the U. S. with Miss Anna Kethly, leader of the Hungarian Social Democrat Party, will relate specifically the role that the Hungarian students played in the recent revolt.

Laszlo is appearing with a group travelling under the sponsorship of Y officials announced yesterday the speech by Law School Dean Henry Brandis Jr. originally scheduled for tonight has been postponed due to the appearance on campus of the Hungarian refugee speaker.

The National Student Assn. and is here under auspices of the local association.

The speaker will be introduced by Ralph Della Cava, a member of the visiting group. The speech will be interpreted from Hungarian to English by Charles Derescki.

Student Body President Bob Young will be moderator of the program. Chancellor Robert B. House will welcome the group on behalf of the University.

After the speech by Laszlo, the floor will be open for questions to any of the guests.

Following the program there will be a public reception in the Main Lounge of Graham Memorial Student Union.

Before the speech, at 5:45 p.m., the group will be guests of the administration and local student leaders at a banquet at the Carolina Inn.

President Young has announced that contributions for a Hungarian relief fund can be made as those attending leave the auditorium. The money will go to the Free Hungarian Student Committee in Vienna, Austria, Young said. The committee is the equivalent to the NSA in this country.

Several events, including the varsity-freshman basketball game, the Student Legislature meeting and the foreign film, are being postponed to later times tonight because of the speech. (See other stories elsewhere this page.)

Address Changes Are Central Records Business

Students who change campus address are urged to report the change to Central Records in Hanes Hall, Assistant to Dean of Student Affairs Ray Jefferies said yesterday.

Important notices and messages for students are sometimes undelivered due to lack of address, Jefferies said.

Jefferies also asked that students put return addresses on letters to avoid confusion in mail delivery.

Students' letters are sometimes delayed a full week because specific campus addresses are not on the envelopes, Jefferies said.

IN THE INFIRMARY

Students in the infirmary yesterday included: Misses Elmira Herring, Cloydia Carstarphen, Priscilla Norman, Elaine Gallimore and Harrington Alexander, Louis Cody, James Edwards, Nicholas Marcopulos, Charles Richie, Richard Saylor, Robert Kerr and William Lusing.

Di Defeats Limitation Measure

The Dialectic Senate voted 11-2 Tuesday night to defeat a bill to limit the enrollment of the University of North Carolina.

Senator Jerry Boudreau introduced and defended the bill with a display of Yankeeophobia. He proposed that the northerners go to Yale or Harvard and that the University be for the sons of the people who pay for it.

Claiming that the bill was reminiscent of Duke, Senator Norman Smith said that the University was made great by foreign elements.

Senator Dan Vann wanted the University to admit A and B students from North Carolina and some bright out of state students in order to give the campus a cosmopolitan air. "We must have the best minds of the nation," he said.

Senator Joel Fleishman claimed that for any culture to grow there must be an interplay of ideas.

Then Senator Pat Adams moved that second article of the bill ("Out-of-state students be required to make a grade falling in the upper one-fourth of all participants in the University entrance examination before they be considered for admission") be struck out. His motion was passed by a vote of 7-5.

Saying that restriction is not the answer, Senator Bill Sabiston felt that to meet the problem of increased enrollment the University must expand its facilities.

Mantovani, New Music To Come Here Dec. 6

By EDITH MACKINTON
Mantovani and his New Music come to the UNC campus on Dec. 6.

Sponsored by the Student Entertainment Committee, the well-known artist and his 45-piece orchestra will be presented in Memorial Hall at 8 p.m.

Mantovani brought his New Music for the first time to the United States in the fall of 1955 on a 38-city tour, together with appearances in Canada. This first American tour attracted sold-out houses of enthusiastic audiences throughout the east and middle west.

This season Mantovani and his musicians return to the United States for a ten-week tour from coast to coast.

Called the "master of the tumbling strings," Mantovani has introduced a sound which is characterized by sweeping melody combined with orchestral ingenuity.

His "New Music," which has become familiar to audiences throughout the world in the last few years, came into being at the request of London FFRR (English Decca). The recording artist inaugurated the era of New Music with his first album for London FFRR Records, "Waltzing with Mantovani," that displayed the string tones which were to capture the fancy of audiences.

The immense advance interest in the creator of the famous New Music may in large part be attributed to the success of his many London recordings, which include his signature, "Charmaine," his version of the ballad "Green Sleeves," and to his authorship of the popular "Cara Mia," which the bandleader wrote two years ago for the English tenor, David Whitfield.

Mantovani's arrangement of "Charmaine" swept to the top of the U. S. Hit Parade in 1951; there have been few subsequent weeks in the past five years when a Mantovani arrangement was missing from this roster of favorites.

news in brief

FROM RADIO DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON—Soviet Russia was caught redhanded by both the Arab states and the United States as starting the present crisis in the Middle East.

The State Dept. confirmed officially Russia started the trouble by sending arms to Syria both before and after a United Nations resolution calling for no arms to be sent to the Middle East. The State Dept. reported $460 million worth of arms had been sent to Syria by Russia.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—President Eisenhower sent French Premier Guy Mollet a letter reaffirming faith in the Atlantic alliance. He had already sent one to British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden.

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said the Middle East situation had eased in the past weeks, later backed down when informed that State Dept. spokesman Lincoln White said there was more tension in that area. Hagerty said he originally was talking only about the Suez Canal crisis.

LONDON—The British cabinet met to decide whether to go on defying a UN order to withdraw its troops from Egypt. What the cabinet decided is secret and may remain so until British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd talks tomorrow.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—It was reported many members of the United Nations were in favor of establishing a permanent UN police force, to be called the United Nations Regular Force (UNRF). UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld said he had had such an organization in mind.

A "local policeman" arrived on the scene and parted the two. Later Sutton said he was "not preferring charges," but the case is being "referred" to the "Honor Council."

Murals Dept. Plans To Pay Its Managers

A move is currently underway to provide compensation for dormitory and fraternity intramural managers.

The move, instigated by the Intramurals Department and supported by the Interdormitory Council, is aimed at stimulating more student participation, according to Coach Walter Rabb.

Rabb, recently named head baseball coach, heads the Intramurals Department.

Rabb said that student participation in the intramurals program was on the decline. The de. (See MURALS, Page 3)

Supreme Court Scheduled For Scales' Appeal

GREENSBORO (AP)—Admitted Communist Junius Scales may learn Monday whether he will serve a six-year term imposed on him in Middle District Federal Court here in April, 1955.

The decision will come from the U. S. Supreme Court. The high court, which has considered Scales' appeal of his conviction, is expected to announce its decision Monday.

Principal issue of the appeal is whether the membership clause of the Smith Act, under which the former UNC student was convicted and sentenced, is constitutional.

The clause prohibits membership in any organization which advocates violent overthrow of the government with knowledge of the organization's purpose.

State Requests ACC Investigation Of Basketball Suspension Ruling

Phi Downs Bill Asking US Aid For Hungary

By PRINGLE PIPKIN
The Philanthropic Literary Society downed, 11-4, Tuesday night a resolution favoring United States intervention in Poland and Hungary.

At an executive session after the meeting Representative John B. Lewis was made the Phi representative to the Debate Council, which makes rules and announces procedures for all formal debating on the UNC campus.

Representative Lewis gave the historian's report on Charles B. Aycock, former Governor of North Carolina and a member of the Phi, whose portrait is hanging in Phi Hall.

Representative Jim Montieth introduced and defended the resolution with a speech termed "the best of the evening" by the critic.

Representative Montith reminded the members that even though the United States might risk war, it must act for freedom.

Requesting that the United States use its mind to determine its actions, Representative Ethan Tolman said there would be a jubilee in hell if the bill passed.

Representative Don Jacobs claimed "we are pleading for war." He advised the Society to avoid war and settle the issue peaceably.

Representative John B. Lewis said the French had intervened in the American Revolutionary War and we should do likewise in Hungary and Poland.

"There can be no war today," claimed Representative John Brooks. He went on to say, "there will never be another petty war."

Likening the American position to that of the French in regards to the American Revolutionary war, Representative David Matthews urged affirmative action.

Guest Gardner Foley asked that the members think of results of a world war rather than just the fate of the Hungarians.

Senator Joel Fleishman of the Di said that the world could not recover from a world war, which would result if this bill were passed. "Caution may save the world," he said.

Traffic Talks Continuing Through Fri.

The first Regional Traffic Court Conference opened Monday at the Joseph Palmer Knapp Institute of Government building and will continue through Friday Nov. 30.

The Traffic Court Conference has as its principle objective the improved court handling of traffic violators due to the continuing seriousness of the traffic accident and congestion problem.

Traffic court conferences are being conducted at leading law schools and universities throughout the country. They are designed to help judges, prosecutors, justices of the peace, court clerks and attorneys to set up effective traffic court programs in their communities.

A check for $2,500 was presented to the University by the Esso Safety Foundation to provide grants-in-aid and administrative expenses for the conference. According to Walter Lee Horton, Assistant Director of the Institute of Government, the grants-in-aid were earmarked for increasing North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia attendance at the conference.

Of special interest on the program have been a talk by Edward Scheidt, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, on Driver Licensing, and an open question and answer period, "This is What I Want To Know."

The roster of participants for the Conference include magistrates and judges from Canada, Arizona, Louisiana, and Illinois.

Phi Downs Bill Asking US Aid For Hungary

At an executive session after the meeting Representative John B. Lewis was made the Phi representative to the Debate Council, which makes rules and announces procedures for all formal debating on the UNC campus.

Representative Lewis gave the historian's report on Charles B. Aycock, former Governor of North Carolina and a member of the Phi, whose portrait is hanging in Phi Hall.

Representative Jim Montieth introduced and defended the resolution with a speech termed "the best of the evening" by the critic.

Representative Montith reminded the members that even though the United States might risk war, it must act for freedom.

Requesting that the United States use its mind to determine its actions, Representative Ethan Tolman said there would be a jubilee in hell if the bill passed.

Representative Don Jacobs claimed "we are pleading for war." He advised the Society to avoid war and settle the issue peaceably.

Representative John B. Lewis said the French had intervened in the American Revolutionary War and we should do likewise in Hungary and Poland.

"There can be no war today," claimed Representative John Brooks. He went on to say, "there will never be another petty war."

Likening the American position to that of the French in regards to the American Revolutionary war, Representative David Matthews urged affirmative action.

Guest Gardner Foley asked that the members think of results of a world war rather than just the fate of the Hungarians.

Senator Joel Fleishman of the Di said that the world could not recover from a world war, which would result if this bill were passed. "Caution may save the world," he said.

Traffic Talks Continuing Through Fri.

The first Regional Traffic Court Conference opened Monday at the Joseph Palmer Knapp Institute of Government building and will continue through Friday Nov. 30.

The Traffic Court Conference has as its principle objective the improved court handling of traffic violators due to the continuing seriousness of the traffic accident and congestion problem.

Traffic court conferences are being conducted at leading law schools and universities throughout the country. They are designed to help judges, prosecutors, justices of the peace, court clerks and attorneys to set up effective traffic court programs in their communities.

A check for $2,500 was presented to the University by the Esso Safety Foundation to provide grants-in-aid and administrative expenses for the conference. According to Walter Lee Horton, Assistant Director of the Institute of Government, the grants-in-aid were earmarked for increasing North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia attendance at the conference.

Of special interest on the program have been a talk by Edward Scheidt, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, on Driver Licensing, and an open question and answer period, "This is What I Want To Know."

The roster of participants for the Conference include magistrates and judges from Canada, Arizona, Louisiana, and Illinois.

The decision will come from the U. S. Supreme Court. The high court, which has considered Scales' appeal of his conviction, is expected to announce its decision Monday.

Chancellor Bostian Says Player Moreland Is Termed 'Ineligible'

RALEIGH—N. C. State College has requested the Atlantic Coast Conference to make "an independent and complete investigation" of the Jackie Moreland case.

This was announced Wednesday by Dr. Carey Bostian, State College Chancellor, who revealed that Moreland has been ruled ineligible to play at State by ACC Commissioner Jim Weaver.

Moreland, flashy Minden, La., high school basketball star, is the center of recruiting violations charges brought against State College by the NCAA, which has placed State on probation for four years.

Dr. Bostian said State College officials had requested the ACC investigation because they had been unable to obtain unrestricted use of evidence on which the NCAA acted in taking its action against N. C. State.

In Greensboro ACC Commissioner Jim Weaver said: "I am confirming Chancellor Bostian's statement in that Jack

Tomorrow The Daily Tar Heel will publish pertinent excerpts from the University's report to the Board of Trustees concerning the N. C. State suspension.

Moreland's basketball eligibility blank had been received in this office and that it had not been approved.

"On action of such nature I am not permitted to make any statements until it has been reviewed by the executive committee of the conference. If North Carolina State College desires to appeal, it will be processed after it is received in this office as quickly as it is possible to do so.

"The basis for the disapproval of the boy's eligibility blank was that this office had accepted the findings of the NCAA."

STATUS
Dr. Bostian said State's request to the conference was accompanied by a request that it review Moreland's eligibility status.

He said Weaver had "informed us that he cannot approve" Moreland's eligibility certificate. Dr. Bostian agreed this had the effect of ruling Moreland ineligible until the ACC acts.

Dr. Bostian made it clear State College will not take action against any members of its athletic staff "until we know they have violated" ACC or NCAA regulations in recruiting Moreland. A regulation of the Consolidated University of North Carolina says that any staff member "willfully violating" an NCAA or ACC regulation "shall be dismissed immediately."

Dr. Bostian said State had presented its request for a full investigation to Dr. Charles Jordan of Duke University, president of the ACC. He said the conference cannot consider the request until it meets in Greensboro Dec. 7.

Dr. Bostian released a lengthy report of the case compiled for the Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University. He said it "contains all we know" about the Moreland case. It was signed by Bostian, President William C. Friday of the Consolidated University of North Carolina and W. D. Carmichael Jr., vice president of the Consolidated University.

CONVENTION
Dr. Bostian said State's only avenue of appeal from its probation sentence would be on the floor of the NCAA convention and "we think our best avenue of appeal is through our own conference." He said "if we cannot convince our own conference" he saw no hope in appealing.

Dr. Bostian told newsmen a private detective had taken part in the case. He said he did not know who had first brought complaint against State in the Moreland case and "we don't know who hired a private investigator to make a preliminary investigation."

He added that "this all began with the work of a private detective working out of Atlanta."

Debate Squad Will Attend Hall Of Fame Tournament

The UNC Debate Squad moves into high gear this weekend as the team moves north to the Hall of Fame Debate Tournament to be held on the campus of New York University.

This marks the first time in three years that Carolina will be represented in the tournament. In 1953, Carolina placed second at NYU, ahead of many of the top universities in the country. This tournament annually attracts most of the ivy league schools as well as top teams from the south and midwest.

Debating the affirmative side of the question, "that the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries," will be John Brooks and Sonny Evans. Brooks is a sophomore and has an outstanding record as a debater at Carolina, as well as in high school, where he was rated as one of the top three or four debaters in the country. Evans, a junior, is also a veteran

Debate Squad Will Attend Hall Of Fame Tournament

The UNC Debate Squad moves into high gear this weekend as the team moves north to the Hall of Fame Debate Tournament to be held on the campus of New York University.

This marks the first time in three years that Carolina will be represented in the tournament. In 1953, Carolina placed second at NYU, ahead of many of the top universities in the country. This tournament annually attracts most of the ivy league schools as well as top teams from the south and midwest.

Debating the affirmative side of the question, "that the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries," will be John Brooks and Sonny Evans. Brooks is a sophomore and has an outstanding record as a debater at Carolina, as well as in high school, where he was rated as one of the top three or four debaters in the country. Evans, a junior, is also a veteran

Different members of the squad will represent Carolina at these tournaments, and places on the squad are still open to any undergraduate interested in intercollegiate debating.

Freshman Nurse Gets Marines' Honor Title

A freshman in nursing, Miss Jane Brock, has been selected as "Miss Marine Officer Procurement" for the Carolinas.

Miss Brock, who is a majorette in the UNC Band, will take part in numerous activities in connection with the new title.

Tomorrow she will appear on a new Marine Corp program on a Raleigh radio station.

Marine officials said she would be the guest of numerous radio and TV shows in the area in the next few weeks.

During December she will be a guest of the Marine Corps in the Washington, D. C., area and also observe Marine Officer Training at Marine Corp Schools in Quantico, Va.

Current members of the Marine Corps Platoon Leader's Class enrolled here at Carolina will be sponsored by Miss Brock at Quantico this summer as they undergo their annual six week training period leading to their commissions as second lieutenants in the reserves.

Yack Proofs Due Tomorrow

Friday is the last day that students can choose which of their pictures will be in this year's Yack, according to the annual officials.

Students can make their choices from the proofs now in the APO Room in the basement of Graham Memorial.

The room will be open from 1 to 7 p.m. through Friday.

GM'S SLATE

The following activities are scheduled for GM today:
Main Lounge—Reception for Hungarian student; Grill Room—5:15 Debate Squad, 6-11 Student Council; Roland Parker 1—4:50 UP Caucus; 6:30 UP Caucus; Roland Parker 3—4:5 Student-Faculty Forum, 6:30 SP Caucus; Council Room—7:30 IDC Court; APO Room—7:30-9:30 Combo, 9:30-11 Combo.

MANTOVANI
... here Dec. 6

MISS JANE BROCK
... Marine Queen