COED HELD WITHOUT BOND

'Sheriff' Evans Nabs Sutton's 'Murderer'

Coed Dickie Pickerrell was "arrested" late last night by "Sheriff" David Evans of "Manning County" and charged with the "murder" of football player Ed Sutton.

The "arrest" was made in connection with the annual Phi Alpha Delta mock trial, which will be held Friday in Manning Hall courtroom.

DICKIE PICKERRELL
...arrested coed

The "crime" and "arrest" and other related happenings are staged true to life each year by the organization, and the trial is one of the biggest events of that the law students have each year.

Miss Pickerrell is being "held" in "Manning County jail" without bond, pending her "indictment" by the grand jury.

The coed refused comment on the "murder," except to deny the charges.

"Sheriff" Evans said the "arrest" was made on the theory that Miss Pickerrell "killed" Sutton in a jealous rage when Sutton indicated to her that he preferred the company of Miss Jane Brock, pretty UNC Band majorette.

The "body" of Sutton was found in the arboretum Thursday night. This followed a "fight" of Wednesday night between Miss Pickerrell and Sutton. The "assault" occurred as Sutton was taking Miss Brock back to her dorm following a date.

HAPPENINGS ON THE HILL

Tri Delt Pledges' Frolics Highlight Social Week End

By MARY ALYS VOORHEES
Geometry was never so lovely!

And probably there isn't a triangle in any geometry book which could vie with the one formed Friday night at the Carolina Inn ballroom by the Tri Delt pledges.

In billowing white gowns and carrying miniature bouquets of yellow carnations the pledges stepped down the stairs into the limelight as their names were announced by Ray Jefferies, assistant to the dean of student affairs, going on out into the ballroom to stand by their other pledge sisters to form a huge triangle, symbol of the Greek letter D.

From A to Z as their names were called each pledge took her place at the top of the stairs, which were flanked by tall black wrought-iron seven-branched candelabra holding burning white tapers—somewhat similar to the Annual North Carolina Debutante Ball in Raleigh.

Music for the annual event was provided by the Duke Ambassadors from Durham with Lew Sartorius and his Dixieland jazz for intermission.

Ivy garlanded the banisters around the ballroom, and the silver punch bowl containing lime punch centered the refreshment table. Elsewhere on the table were silver trays of cookies.

As a final to their pledge weekend the Tri Delt moved over to the Crystal Ballroom of the Washington Duke Hotel in Durham last night for a champagne party.

MOVIE STARS at the Hill. Four screen stars to be exact. The actors and actress to whom we are referring are those who appeared last night in "The Best of Steinbeck," sponsored by the Carolina Playmakers.

Friday night the TEPs had the honor of having one of the actors, Robert Strauss, over for dinner.

Since Strauss was a personal friend of Louis Lefkowitz of Spring Valley, N. Y.—near Strauss' hometown—the TEPs decided to invite him over when they learned he would be playing here this weekend.

No doubt most of the fellows had seen his movies "Stalag 17," "The Man With the Golden Arm" and "Attack," and wanted to meet him in person and learn of his climb to stardom.

PLEDGE OFFICERS... Pledge officers of the Phi Kappa Sig pledge class are George Meuke of Barnesville, Md., president; Chris Williamson of Manhasset, N. Y., vice president; Herb Hawkins of Triangle, Va., secretary; Sandy of Durham, treasurer.

Heading the Phi Psi pledge class are Roger Honeycutt of Willow Springs, president; John Hondros of Winston-Salem, vice president; Larry Craver of Winston-Salem, secretary-treasurer; and Art Schwertzel of Summit, N. J., sergeant-at-arms.

Rededication Of University Is Called For

GREENSBORO—Dr. William Friday, President of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, today asked alumnae of Woman's College to join with him in rededicating the purposes of the college.

Friday spoke at the mid-winter luncheon of the Alumnae Assn. introduced by Dean W. W. Pierson, acting chancellor of WC, Friday noted that "There isn't anyone I know who could have come to Greensboro and done the job you (Pierson) have done."

The youthful president outlined the necessity of keeping high standards in the three branches of the Greater University.

"We must continue to obtain competent personnel to meet the demands of continued enrollment increases," he said. "I ask you to make your friends aware of the need for additional funds from the legislature so we can continue to draw on highly trained faculties and personnel."

"If we fail, we shall not have a Woman's College of the quality we have now," he said.

Candidates for the association officers were named at the business session following Friday's talk. The election will be conducted by mail next May and results announced at the commencement meeting.

The candidates: President—Mrs. Herbert Falk, Greensboro; Mrs. Paul R. Maulden, Kannapolis; Second Vice-President, Mrs. John S. Kent, Greensboro; Miss Celeste Ulrich, Greensboro; Recording Secretary, Mrs. E. A. Womble, Winston-Salem; Miss Juanita Stott, Raleigh; Alumnae Board of Trustees—Miss Edna Deciney, Orlando, Fla.; Mrs. Frank S. Holt, Burlington; Miss Patricia Markas, Kannapolis; Mrs. William A. Davison, Charlotte; Mrs. A. C. Jenkins, Jr., Fayetteville and Mrs. Richard L. Rice, Raleigh.

Miss Barbara Parrish, Alumnae Secretary, reported on the association's activities for the past year.

High Point Man Receives AKPsi Award For Outstanding Service

Capus M. Wayne of High Point, recent head of the N. C. Small Industries Commission, was honored last night at a banquet by Alpha Kappa Psi, professional fraternity in business administration.

Mr. Wayne received the fraternity's Civic Award for outstanding service to community, state, and nation. He has a long and admirable record of service to the State of North Carolina, according to the award, and served as ambassador to Nicaragua during the Truman Administration.

From 1923-1935 and again in 1942, he was editor of the High Point Enterprise.

L. R. Jordan of the Duke Medical Outpatient Clinic and formerly an instructor at UNC, was present.

State Whips Pittsburgh, 97 To 85, In Opener

RALEIGH—Led by senior John Maglio, who scored 22 points, and sophomore John Richter, who scored 24, North Carolina State opened its basketball season last night by defeating Pittsburgh, 97-85.

Except for the opening minutes, State led all the way, although Pitt closed an 89-76 gap to 89-85 on the superb sharpshooting of Don Hennon.

ed a plaque for his "service and devotion to the fraternity" by President Bob Ralledge.

Mr. Jordan was president of the local chapter in 1952, and was recently elected Grand Vice-president of the national fraternity.

Special guests included Mrs. Wayne, Senator and Mrs. O. Arthur Kirkman of High Point, and Mrs. L. R. Jordan of Chapel Hill.

Men Reserve Rooms Jan. 3

Men students who wish to reserve a dormitory room for the Spring semester, 1957, are not required to do so until Jan. 3, according to the University's Housing Office.

When the students return on Jan. 3 from Christmas holidays, form cards will be distributed to them by their dorm managers. There will be three options on the card: (1) wish to retain this room; (2) do not wish to reserve room; (3) wish to change room. The forms must be returned to the dorm managers by Jan. 6.

Those students who wish to change rooms must go by the Housing Office by Jan. 8 to make necessary arrangements, according to Jim Wadsworth, University Housing Officer.

Hill, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Austin of Charlotte, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Whitehill and Dr. and Mrs. Willard Graham of Chapel Hill, and Mr. Walter Lowe of Indianapolis.

Following the banquet the active members of AK Psi honored their fall pledge class with a formal dance.

Mantovani's Popularity Record Accompanies His Performance

When Mantovani appears in Memorial Hall Thursday at 8 p.m. presenting his New Music, he brings with him a record of great popularity with the American audience.

Familiar to this country through his recordings and an American concert tour in 1955, the artist has achieved a strong following among those lovers of semi-classical and light classical music set to a lilting, relaxing style.

Showbusiness' "Variety" magazine has stated that "Mantovani's phenomenal popularity is based on the appeal of his music to that immense middle audience that cares not for jazz nor dotes on most symphonies."

The Venetian-born Londoner, coming from a musical family, began his career in England. Early

Run-Off Elections Set Tues. For Honor Seats

Run-off elections will be held Tuesday for Honor Council. Ballot boxes will be placed in every dorm, and the town districts will remain the same.

Cordon Will Star Today In Musical

North Carolina's first and only Metropolitan Opera star, Norman Cordon, will make his first local singing appearance when Les Petites Musicales presents Mozart's "The Magic Flute" at 8 p.m. today in Hill Hall.

The opera, abridged and in English, will be performed in full costume and scenery with the University Glee Club under the director of Joel Carter.

Story of "The Magic Flute" revolves around the love of a young prince, Tamino, for a stolen princess, Pamina. During his search for the girl, Tamino is introduced to the cult of Isis by High Priest, Sarastro, and undergoes an ordeal of silence as initiation. Aided by Sarastro, the prince is united with Pamina and completes the final trials of his initiation.

Tenor John Hanks, Professor of Music at Duke University, will sing the role of Tamino, the young prince. Pamina will be played by soprano Donna Patton, and Joel Carter will play the role of Papageno. Norman Cordon will appear as the High Priest Sarastro.

Cordon, host and commentator on WUNC's "Let's Listen to Opera," sang with the Metropolitan for twelve seasons, during which time he performed in several Mozart works, including "The Magic Flute" and "Don Giovanni." He is presently head of the North Carolina Music program.

Stage director for the production is Robert Andrews, TV writer-director. Designer is Charles Hardman, Art director for WUNC-TV. June Craft, of the Carolina Playmakers, is costumer. Hunter Tillman and Mrs. Bert Davis of Chapel Hill will accompany the opera at the piano and organ.

Preceding the opera on the musical program will be the "Missa Brevis," sung by the Chapel Hill Choral Club under the direction of Joel Carter.

No admission is charged for the GMAA-sponsored program.

Headed For Home?

How are you getting home over the Christmas holidays? Driving? Need a ride? Need riders? Then watch for The Daily Tar Heel's special service for home-bound students. It starts this week on Page Three. There'll be more details in Tuesday morning's paper.

Graduate Club Hears Philosophy Professor

...spoke to grads

Dr. William H. Poteat, associate professor of philosophy, was the principal speaker for the third meeting of the UNC Graduate Club Friday night.

Dr. Poteat spoke pertaining to "anxiety, courage and truth" as related to philosophy. According to Dr. Poteat, "courage should be neither blameworthy nor praiseworthy." However, courage is needed to face truth, he said.

Dr. Poteat illustrated his points with the myths of Oedipus, Adam and Faust. These myths show the relationship between man and truth, he said.

Following his speech, Dr. Poteat lead an informal question and answer period.

The Graduate Club, sponsored by the YMCA and the YWCA, was first organized this fall. Its purpose is to better the social welfare of the graduate student at UNC.

According to Bill Deaton, president of the club, the programs throughout the year will be presented by speakers from all departments of the university. The purpose of these programs will be to broaden the horizons of the graduate students. Deaton hopes the club will soon be organized on a more permanent basis.

Recent Grad Robert Evans Holds Oxford Debate Post

Robert M. Evans of Durham, a 1952 UNC graduate now at Oxford Law School, England, has recently been elected librarian of the Oxford Union, chief debating society of the University.

As librarian, Evans assumes the position of second in authority of the debating society at Oxford. The position is considered as a creditable achievement for an American in an English university. Brother of Sonny Evans, Vice-President of the Student Body, Robert Evans was attorney general while attending UNC and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. After two years with the Navy, he studied at Yale Law School until he entered Oxford.

State College's Suspension - Part III Complete Evidence Refused Friday

This is the last installment of the report by State and UNC chancellors to the Consolidated University Board of Trustees on State College's suspension by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

It should be noted that President Friday had not at any time requested any meeting with the Committee on Infractions. He merely wished to go to Kansas City with Chancellor Bostian and Mr. Carmichael to review the file of evidence and if he found evidence of any violation by members of the State College Staff to be permitted to confront them with the evidence and its source.

On Nov. 26, 1956 President Friday telephoned to the NCAA Executive Director and asked if there might be any relaxation of the conditions under which State College and the Consolidated University officials might be permitted to review the case file. The executive director said that the Infractions Committee could not deviate from its policy of refusing to permit any publicity of confidential information furnished to it. President Friday, Chancellor Bostian and Carmichael agreed that little would be accomplished toward solving the administrative problem by having the State College and Consolidated University officials review the file of evidence on this restricted basis. Consequently, the trip to Kansas City to review the case file was called off.

On Nov. 26, 1956, Chancellor

Bostian, President Friday and Mr. Carmichael met with the State College Athletic Council (composed of faculty, students and alumni). The case was reviewed in detail. The Athletic Council unanimously adopted a resolution urging Chancellor Bostian and President Friday to request that the Atlantic Coast Conference make an independent and complete investigation of the case.

On Nov. 27, 1956, Chancellor Bostian and Dr. H. A. Fisher (Chairman of the State College Athletic Council) President Friday and Mr. Carmichael of the Consolidated University met with Dr. Charles Jordan, President of the Atlantic Coast Conference and filed with him an official request from State College that the Conference proceed immediately with an independent and complete investigation of the case, it being understood that the full findings and all evidence compiled in the investigation would be presented to the Chancellor of State College and made matters of public record.
