Russian UN Delegation Tells Seminar Students US Threat To Russia

By CORTLAND EDWARDS

The Russian delegation to the UN told Carolina students last weekend why Russian tanks went into Hungary, why the USSR refused Ike's "open skies" policy, why the U. S. poses a bigger threat to the Soviet security than the reverse, and that USSR has not sold arms to Syria.

Over 23 students attended a United Nations Seminar in New York City last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. UNC joined students from 21 other colleges and held round table discussions with UN delegations from Israel, Yugoslavia, the Zionist States, the Arab States, Britain, Egypt, Indonesia, India, Pakistan, Algeria, USSR and Thailand.

The most important delegation seminar was chaired by the Third Secretary to the Permanent USSR Delegation to the United Nations, Julie M. Vorontsov. He said, "Russian troops and tanks entered Hungary at the request of Hungarians who were attempting to overthrow the people's government."

He did not define "Fascists" but instead he said that it was the same definition that Americans used. He did try to define it by saying that America was not a Fascist government, but Nazi Germany was.

"Russia refused the 'open skies' policy of President Eisenhower," says Vorontsov, "because it did not include total disarmament. Under Eisenhower's plan, the U. S. could send over reconnaissance planes and take strategic pictures of all of Russian defenses, and strategic areas. Then they could bomb every one."

Vorontsov continued by saying that if Ike's plan had included total disarmament first then Russia would agree to the "open skies" policy. It would be foolish to consider it before hand.

The secretary also pointed out that Russia felt much more insecure than did the U. S. because the United States has air bases (capable of carrying atomic bombers) completely surrounding the USSR. There are bases in England, Spain, Algeria, Alaska, Japan, etc.

Also, Vorontsov added, "the newspapers in America carry stories every day of newer and faster jet planes that are capable of bombing Moscow in two hours or less. Russian newspapers never carry stories that they have planes that are capable of bombing Washington, D. C., or New York City within a couple of hours."

He concluded the subject by saying that if the U. S. would give Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Virgin Islands, and in Alaska, and land in Newfoundland or Greenland, so that Russia could build air bases and surround the U. S., then Americans would feel the same way that the Russians do now.

At the end of the discussion Vorontsov said, "Russia has not sold any arms to Syria, and furthermore I cannot see any reason why the buying of arms by any country should be considered as such an immoral thing."

Di To Talk Censure Of Nehru, Menon

The Dialectic Senate will debate a bill regarding "those wandering troubadours of Communist Tyranny, Jawaharlal Nehru and V. Krishna Menon" at their meeting Tuesday night at 8:00 on the top floor of New West.

Specifically the bill states, "it (the Senate) doth condemn Jawaharlal Nehru and his high priest of perdition, V. Krishna Menon, for their egotistical seeking of self-glory, and innumerable acts of moral turpitude in international affairs; II: Sec. 1. That Jawaharlal Nehru be granted no honors public or private on the occasion of his visit to the United States; Sec. 2. That Krishna Menon on the occasion of his visit to the University of North Carolina, be declared persona non grata to the Senate of the Society."

The preface to the bill states "Nehru has preached equality for all men in other countries from Texas to Algeria, and has denied minorities in India their basic rights of free speech and assembly; Nehru has denounced action against insurgents in other countries, and has employed military forces to crush minority groups on the Indian sub-continent who seek the right to choose their own form of government; Nehru, while the Soviets were pouring fresh forces into embattled Hungary, requested of Premier Bulganin an account of the 'facist uprising,' and presented the Bulganin account to the people of India as the 'truth.' India has pursued a course of 'neutrality' in favor of the Soviet Union; V. Krishna Menon has acted as the Lord High Propagator for all these acts of Nehru self-aggrandizement in international affairs, concludes the bill.

Art Museum Site Suffers Vandalism

The wave of vandalism on campus has spread to the Ackland Art Museum that is being built on South Columbia St. J. W. Campbell, construction inspector for the building firm, reports that bricks have been defaced and terra-cotta pipe broken.

Campbell suspects the damage is the work of three youths in town who have been seen prowling about the project at night. Tar used in waterproofing the foundations was smeared over bricks and rocks dropped onto pipe laid for drainage. This, he said, is not the type of thing that college students do.

The bricks that were ruined are hand made in Virginia from old wooden forms and their cost is high. As for the pipe, it runs $8.50 a section. The greatest expense is in the labor spent on having to correct the damage.

Campbell had nothing but the highest praise for the cooperation that the students have given him. He said that he had loaned tools and given sand to the fraternity men that live nearby and they had worked with him 100%.

Ackland Excavation

Two students survey progress in construction of the new Ackland Art Museum. Work has been hampered by a rash of vandalism.

'True Bill' Returned In Sutton 'Murder'

The annual mock trial proceedings are picking up steam as the Friday trial nears.

The "grand jury" yesterday returned a true bill of indictment charging Miss Dickey Picklerrell with the "murder" of football player, Morehead scholar Ed Sutton.

In other events leading to the annual mock trial, sponsored by Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity, Sutton was found "dead" in the arboretum, and Miss Picklerrell was "arrested" and charged with the "murder."

The night before Sutton's "murder," he and Miss Picklerrell had a "fight" in front of Smith Dorm as Sutton was bringing his date, Miss Jane Brock, back to the dorm.

Miss Picklerrell still denied the charge late yesterday and said she had no other comment to make.

Miss Brock is still in a "state of shock," officers said, and was unavailable for comment yesterday.

The trial has been set for Friday in Manning Hall courtroom.

UNC Student Killed In Automobile Wreck

Leslie Gilliland Jr., a 20-year-old junior at UNC, was killed early Monday morning when his car and a truck collided at the intersection of Highways 54 and 55. His fiancée, riding with him was critically injured.

Gilliland, of Pinehurst was killed and Miss Sandra Murray 18, of Tarrytown, N. H., was injured in the accident which occurred while they were returning to Chapel Hill from a fraternity dance at Raleigh.

Miss Murray, who sustained head injuries, was taken to Watts Hospital and then transferred to Memorial Hospital in Chapel Hill. Memorial Hospital authorities declined to comment on her condition last night.

Gilliland was carrying in his pocket at the time a diamond ring which he intended to give his sweetheart. The couple was to have visited his parents yesterday at which time he planned to present her with the ring. The driver of the tractor-trailer, Roy Everette Shahan, 32, of DeLeon, Fla., was booked on a charge of manslaughter. State Highway Patrol Sgt. W.

A. Baxter said that the tragedy "was the result of the truck not stopping at the intersection."

Baxter explained that some vehicle in an earlier wreck Saturday night had knocked down the stop sign where the big truck drove past "but that there were approaching signs intact which showed the crossing to be a dangerous one."

Highway Patrolman D. M. Dyson quoted Shahan as saying he was driving at a speed of about 45 miles per hour at the time of the wreck and did not see a stop sign at the intersection.

"Before he reached this intersection," Dyson said, "there were a number of signs he should have seen. One sign noted there was an intersection ahead, one gave information a junction was just ahead, a white sign gave the mileage to Chapel Hill, and there were a number of reflectors lighting up the immediate area."

Arrangements are incomplete for the funeral services, which will be held at the Pinehurst Community Church.

Gilliland is survived by both parents, two brothers, and three sisters.

ACC To Consider Moreland Review

DURHAM — The Atlantic Coast Conference will consider on Thursday North Carolina State's request that the ACC investigate the Jackie Moreland basketball recruiting case and resulting four-year probation slapped on the college by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Dr. Charles E. Jordan of Duke, ACC president, said today he had invited Chancellor Carey H. Boston of North Carolina state to appear before the faculty chairmen of athletics at Greensboro Thursday, the day before the annual winter meeting of the conference opens.

Moreland, a 6-8 freshman from Minden, La., has not been approved for athletic eligibility by ACC Commissioner Jim Weaver. The NCAA last Nov. 13 charged

State with violation of recruiting regulations in Moreland's case and suspended the school from all NCAA activities for four years.

Both the school and Moreland have protested they are innocent of the charges.

Bostian said the college feels the best way in which to appeal to the NCAA is "through our own conference." He called for "an independent and complete investigation" by the ACC.

Jordan said that after Bostian appears before the faculty chairmen on the eve of the annual meeting to state his case the matter will go before the ACC executive committee for study.

The final decision may come Thursday night although an announcement may not be made until Friday at the conference meeting, Jordan indicated.

Phi To Debate 'Century' Bill

Discussing their semestery "century bill," the Phi Kappa Phi Literary Society will debate Tuesday night at 8:00 on the top floor of New East.

The bill provides that "the Assembly of the Phi Kappa Phi Literary Society go on record as recognizing the Constitutionality of secession from the Union of sovereign States known as the United States of America." The bill will be debated as though the date were Dec. 1856, no historical references after that date will be allowed in the debate.

The "whereas" clauses of the bill state, "The component States of the Union known as the United States of America entered said Union voluntarily and the existence of the State of North Carolina within the Union perpetrated by the Constitution of the United States has become increasingly difficult."

Representative John B. Lewis will introduce the bill.

3-Man Rooms Out At Semester's End

Men students cramped into three-man rooms normally resided in by two students will soon have their tight living situation relieved.

The Housing Office announced yesterday that the six three-man room dormitories on campus will be converted into two-man room dorms at the beginning of the second semester.

SP Chooses Officialdom

Jim Holmes, former party floor-leader, was named Student Party chairman for remainder of the academic year at a meeting last night.

Holmes, a junior, succeeds Tom Lambeth.

Lambeth, who was given a two-minute standing ovation by party members, congratulated the group on a "successful" fall election.

"I hope interest," he said, "stimulated in the fall will carry over to the spring."

OTHER OFFICERS

All major offices were filled by the party in a five-minute period. Acclaimed to party posts along with Chairman Holmes, acclaimed also, were:

- Vice-chairman, Whit Whitfield;
 - Secretary, Miss Ester Ballentine;
 - Treasurer, Bob Carter;
 - Sergeant-at-arms, John Wilber;
 - Legislature whip, Everett James.
- ADVISORY COMMITTEE
Named to the party advisory committee were: Gary Greer, Brandon Kincaid, Gardner Foley and Everett James.

The nominating session, quickest in a number of years, actually lasted approximately 45 minutes.

Only strenuous opposition offered to successful candidates for party posts was for advisory committee seats.

NEW CHAIRMAN

Newly elected Chairman Holmes thanked the party for election to his post and said:

"I hope we can come home with a victory in the spring."

Holmes' first action was the appointment of Joel Fleishman to chairmanship of the party social committee.

Next week's party meeting was postponed due to conflict between it and presentation of the Carolina Forum.

GM'S SLATE

Roland Parker 1-6-8 Elections Board; 8-11 Chess Club; Roland Parker 2,3-7:00 Elections Board; Woodhouse Council Room-2:30-6 Sound and Fury; 7-11 Men's Honor Council; Rendezvous Room-5-6 Talent Show; 6:30-8 Dance Class; APO Room-7-9 APO.

With the exception of the few two-man rooms already in the dorms, the 290 triple rooms of the six dorms — Stacey, Everett, Lewis, Graham, Alexander, and Aycock—will be completely converted into two-man room dorms.

Mrs. Carlene Jones, Housing Office Secretary, said that because of the alleviated living space situation accruing due to students moving into fraternities, the Housing Office will change the three-man room dorms and will still be able to handle the influx of second semester students.

"If any three men wish to remain in their present room—in any of these six dorms, they may do so," said Mrs. Jones. "A special arrangement will be made whereby each student will pay the double room rent ($85.75 per semester); if the three men retain the room until April 5, they will be refunded the money charged for three-man room rent ($53.25 per semester)."

As to the time when actual moving operations will begin, Mrs. Jones estimated that it would be some time shortly before the end of the semester.

With the present 508 two-man rooms in all the dorms on campus, the conversion of 290 triple rooms in the six dorms will increase the number of two-man rooms to approximately 943, according to the figures released by Mrs. Jones.

As to the number of people originally in all the dorms, Mrs. Jones stated that approximately 103 students had moved out since the beginning of fall semester.

The present status of the remaining men's dorms, Connor, Winston, and Cobb, will be retained along with its few triple-man rooms, according to Mrs. Jones.
