

GUEST OF STATE DEPT.:

Touring Norwegian Remarks On US

By WALTER SCHRUNTEK
Dr. Sigurd Willoch, director of the National Gallery of Oslo, Norway stopped off at Chapel Hill yesterday on the second leg of his cross-country tour of U. S. museums and art galleries.

The Norwegian visitor is a guest of the U. S. State Dept. in the capacity of observer of American art and art institutions. His tour of the states will take him through virtually every section of the country.

Although Dr. Willoch has been in the country only four weeks, he has noticed some differences in the organizational phase of American museums and galleries as opposed to Norwegian art institutions.

He cited the American approach

GUADALAJARA SUMMER SCHOOL

The accredited bilingual school sponsored by the Universidad Autonoma de Guadalajara and members of Stanford University faculty will offer in Guadalajara, Mexico, July 1-Aug. 10, courses in art, folklore, geography, history, language and literature. $225 covers tuition, board and room. Write Prof. Juan B. Rael, Box K, Stanford University, Calif.

to educational art in the museum. "In this country, I've noticed a pronounced stress of organized education in the museum," he said. He mentioned the larger scale and scope of art education and appreciation both in the schools and galleries.

COMPETITION

"In Norway," he said, "an annual national competition among children in the younger age groups is designed to promote interest in art and art functions. We have not the facilities and organization to handle the lecture and group-education aspects peculiar to American museums and galleries."

UNC is the first campus Dr. Willoch has visited on his tour thus far. His previous two stops were Washington, D. C. and New York.

When asked what he thought of Chapel Hill and the University, the Norwegian smiled and said that he was favorably impressed, but wished that he had seen it under more favorable conditions (minus the rain).

DIFFERENCES

Questioned about differences between the American and Norwegian university system, Dr. Willoch replied in terms which should bring gleams to the eyes of many UNC students.

He pointed out the almost complete freedom of the student under the European university system—his freedom of attendance as opposed to the limited cut systems "enjoyed" here at Carolina and other U. S. schools.

He also cited the closer student-teacher relationship which exists in Europe. He added that university work in Europe is confined strictly to graduate study, which in part explains the freedom and relationship listed above.

After leaving Chapel Hill late yesterday, the Norwegian observer travelled further south to Florida and Rollins College, where he expects to attend a special showing of Norwegian Art.

His itinerary, which includes a clock-wise tour of states after Florida, will be completed sometime in April after two final stops in New York and Washington, D. C.

Dr. Willoch said that he is not expected to present any formal report to the State Dept., but that he will present his informal findings to the U. S. ambassador in Oslo.

Frosh Camp Planning To Begin Today

Planning for the 1957 Freshman Camp will begin tonight at 9 in 200 Carroll Hall.

YMCA President Gerry Mayo said yesterday the camp program will be evaluated from several angles. Among the topics to be discussed are "Why is the Y interested in sponsoring Freshman Camp?" and "In what ways does the content of the camp program reflect the stated purpose."

Mayo called this the "first big meeting" on next fall's camp program and asked all interested students to attend.

A more convenient time for later meetings will be discussed, said Mayo. Agendas for later meetings will be planned tonight. At these later meetings a Freshman Camp chairman will be elected, committees established and training sessions scheduled.

Claude Shotts, General Secretary of the YM-YWCA will lead tonight's evaluation session. Mayo will conduct the meetings until a camp chairman can be chosen.

Mayo stressed the fact that it is important for those interested in working with the camp program to attend this meeting.

Senate Urged To Adopt Modified Mid-East Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Majority Leader Johnson (D-Tex) urged the Senate yesterday to adopt the modified Middle East resolution and tell the communists to "keep out" of this strategic area.

Submitted by President Eisenhower, the resolution was rewritten by the Senate's Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees.

Johnson said that in its new form it serves notice that aggressive communism will be opposed "not by just one man, and not by just one branch of government, but by the institutions representing the united will of the American people."

Republicans also got behind the resolution as the Senate opened what is expected to be a two-week debate on Middle Eastern policy.

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) said that while he thought Eisenhower's original language was more "effective" the revised resolution should make it apparent to Russia that "any aggression on her part will bring consequences which are both immediate and devastating."

In its present form the resolution expresses the readiness of the United States to use armed forces, at the President's discretion.

against any military aggression in the Middle East by "any country controlled by international communism."

It also empowers the President to launch a 200 million dollar economic and military aid program for nations in the region.

Johnson coupled his support of the legislation with criticism of the administration for the way in which he said administration leaders presented it to Congress.

No branch of government, the Democratic leader said, should try to "operate on a put up or shut up basis" and ask another branch to "do it my way, or else."

Congress is not a rubber stamp, Johnson asserted.

Originally Eisenhower asked for specific congressional "authority" to employ U. S. troops in the Middle East if necessary. The house voted him such authority last month, but the language was changed by the Senate committees to delete any specific mention of a grant of authority.

Soviet Premier Bulganin lashed out at the Eisenhower program today as a "colonial trap prepared by U. S. oil monopolies."

In a fiery Kremlin speech he told peoples of the Middle East nation by the United States might plunge them into the "hell of atomic and hydrogen war."

Hammarskjold Receives Suez Canal Use Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP)—The United States, Britain, France and Norway transmitted today to U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold proposals for a temporary arrangement for use of the Suez Canal. He is expected to pass them on to Egypt.

This was reported by authoritative sources after representatives of those four countries held a 30-minute conference with Hammarskjold.

APO Says Students May Retrieve Books, Money

The APO Book Exchange announced yesterday that students may reclaim unsold books and receipts at the Housing Office today through Friday.

An APO representative will be on hand at the Housing Office from 9 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 4 each afternoon.

Everyone who has not yet claimed books or money has been asked to stop by the APO office.

men's dorms, leaving their families at home.

In a letter to the UNC Trustees Visiting Committee, Wadsworth pointed out that the present prefab units are approximately ten years old and were originally constructed for a maximum period of seven years. The Housing Officer announced that he was submitting plans for the construction of 200 additional units for married students.

"Even with this total of 556 apartments, we would be far short of supplying the need," reported Wadsworth.

Godfrey Voted Vice-President At History Meet

Prof. James L. Godfrey has been chosen vice-president of the Society for French Historical Studies at a meeting of the society held in Hunter College, New York. Prof. Harold T. Parker of Duke University was elected president of the organization.

Prof. George V. Taylor, who also attended the meeting, read a paper which was regarded as a revision of the traditional class-struggle interpretation of the French Revolution, because of a denial of the Marxist classification of French businessmen during the 18th century.

Questioning the existence of a pre-revolutionary bourgeoisie in the Marxist sense, Professor Taylor pointed out that many of the businessmen enjoyed the social status of nobles. "Those who performed bourgeois economic functions differed greatly from one another in point of wealth and economic interest, and many of them counted as landowners, bureaucrats, rentiers, or professional persons rather than as capitalists."

Health Man Nurse To Speak Here

Dr. John C. Cassel, M.B., B.Ch., M.P.H., Associate Professor of Epidemiology in the UNC School of Public Health and Mary King Kneeder, R.N., B.S.P.H.N., M.A., Chief of the Public Health Nursing Section, North Carolina Board of Health will be speakers in a program to be held on Feb. 21, in the Louis Round Wilson Library Assembly Room at 8 p.m.

"The Problem of Chronic Disease Today" will be presented by Dr. Cassel, Mrs. Kneeder, the second speaker of the evening, will explore the topic from the standpoint of "Home Nursing," which she believes gives a partial answer to the problem.

Dr. Cassel, who is a native of Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, where he received his doctor's degree, has been living in this country for two years and took a Master of Public Health degree in 1953 from the UNC School of Public Health.

Mrs. Kneeder, a registered nurse, received a B.S. in Public Health Nursing from this University in 1947 and subsequently did graduate work in public health nursing at Teacher's College, Columbia University. She has been Chief of the Public Health Nursing Section of the State Board of Health in Raleigh since July 1954.

This program is being presented under the auspices of the Association for Aging and Community Relationships of Chapel Hill. The public is invited to attend.

Parents' Club Is Proposed For Med School

A new organization, to be called the Parents Club, has been proposed for the School of Medicine.

This announcement was made this week by Dr. Samuel E. Howie, minister of the Highland Presbyterian Church of Fayetteville, chairman of the organization committee. The committee met at the School of Medicine this weekend.

An organizational meeting for the proposed new club will be held here on April 13. Parents of medical students now enrolled in the school and alumni of the Medical School will be asked to attend.

Tickets To Go On Sale Here For Brigadoon

Tickets for the Carolina Playmakers' forthcoming musical production "Brigadoon" will go on sale to the general public today. The $2 tickets for the musical, scheduled for March 1-3, in Memorial Hall, may be purchased at the Playmakers' business office and at Ledbetter-Pickard.

Heading the cast of 60 will be David Small and Mrs. Adele Lippert as the singing leads, with James Heldman and Miss Hope Sparger as the comedy leads. Small has sung leading roles in the Playmakers' "Showboat" and "Seventeen." Mrs. Lippert, wife of a UNC graduate student, has been featured with the Cincinnati Light Opera Company.

As the comedy leads, Jeff and Meg, James Heldman and Miss Hope Sparger provide the humorous angle for the situation in the town of Brigadoon. Miss Sparger sings the novelty numbers "Love of My Life" and "My Mother's Wedding Day."
