Young Says Effort Being Made For Loan For Parking

Student body President Bob Young said Friday "We are now investigating all possible means of getting a (self-liquidating) loan to put through" proposed parking lots for student automobiles.

He said the student government traffic committee, headed by Lawrence Matthews, had been working with the University traffic committee in connection with the project.

Young said that construction of these lots could be begun with the $6,000 net income from student automobile registration fees. He stated in a recent letter to University President Friday a suggestion for increasing charges of parking violation to $2, with the University receiving $1 of this.

Young also suggested charging every staff and faculty member in addition to every student who registers an automobile the $2.50 fee at the University. This particular change, he said, would probably double the income.

LETTER

Young's letter to President Friday is quoted in part below:

Since the approval last spring of the Student Government traffic recommendation, we have made some positive adjustments on campus. At present, there have been no additional parking spaces provided. In my opinion, however, the number of automobiles on campus is about the same that it was last year. Therefore, I do not feel that the problem is any more complicated than last year.

FOUR POINTS

Since last spring, Student Government has been concerned with the following matters with regard to the traffic situation.

1. A Student Government Traffic Committee was established with the responsibility of trying violators of the new traffic recommendations.

2. A campus Traffic Committee was established to study campus parking needs and to offer suggested improvements.

3. New fraternity parking areas have been constructed at the DKE House and at the Beta House.

4. According to the University Engineer, prospects are good for additional parking areas within the next few months, if funds can be made available. One lot would be constructed in the area southwest of the Bell Tower.

MINIMUM

It would cost a minimum of $70,000. Another prospective lot would be constructed near the proposed site of the new men's dormitories.

I feel very strongly that if work were begun on these lots in the near future, it would alleviate the pressures for parking space.

Board Sets Extra Meet Thursday

The Bipartisan Selections Board or the Men's Honor Council and the Student Council will hold a special session next Thursday afternoon for rising seniors who wish to apply for the Honor Council.

The Board has finished its regularly scheduled interviews with prospective candidates.

According to Jim Exum, Honor Council chairman, there were ample applicants for the one junior and one sophomore seat open on the Council.

For the four senior seats open, however, only four candidates were interviewed. Four candidates were also interviewed for the three senior seats open on the Student Council.

"The board was quite pleased with nearly all the senior applicants, but it thinks that if possible the students should be given more of a choice in the campus elections," Exum said.

"We of the Bipartisan Board therefore make this announcement in The Daily Tar Heel in hopes that more rising seniors will apply for seats on the Honor Council and on the Student Council."

The students who were interviewed by the board last week will be notified by mail of the board's decision.

Rising seniors who wish to apply for an interview have been asked to call Jim Exum at the Sigma Nu House, 8-9007.

Monogram Club Initiates 30 Men Winning Letters In Fall Sports

The Monogram Club, the University's honorary Athletic Society, initiated 32 Carolina men Thursday night who won their letters in fall sports.

"The participation in the club this year has been more than in the past. This initiation will be another step in raising our club to the level of the other honorary clubs on campus," said John Bilich, Monogram Club president.

In a short, extemporaneous talk at the initiation, Chancellor R. B. House discussed the ideal of a sound mind and a sound body.

"An athletic mind, an athletic body, and a spirit of sportsmanship are the three essential elements of a sound education for a person and for a civilization in any generation. Any student who combines these three has reached the highest achievement in University life," House said.

Men initiated into the Monogram Club and their respective sporting fields are listed below.

Cross country: Perrin Henderson, Howard Kahn, John Reeves, Dave Scurlock, and Ben Williams. Soccer: Coleman Barks, Robert Borden, Robert Bruggeworth, Wilson Cooper Jr., Richard Groussman, Pete Killinger, James Purks, Tom Rand, David Corkey, Theodore Youhanna, and Theodore Smith Jr.

RALEIGH—(AP)—Dave Sime, Duke University's crack sprinter, Friday night received the Anthony J. McKeelin Award as the outstanding athlete for the 1955-56 school year in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

It was voted to him by the Atlantic Coast Sport Writers Assn. for his brilliant track exploits last year before a leg injury cut down his bid for a berth on the U. S. Olympic team.

16 CONVICTED IN TRIAL OF STATE RIOTERS

RALEIGH—(AP)—Some 16 North Carolina State College students, part of a group of 27 arrested during riots on the college campus Thursday night, were convicted in city court yesterday on charges of rioting and disorderly conduct.

Judge Albert Doub sentenced the 16 to 30 days on the roads and suspended the sentences on payment of $25 fines each and cost of court.

Police officers said the riots broke out near Reynolds Coliseum after 11 p.m. and continued with lulls until long after midnight.

They said several hundred students participated in the demonstrations. They said some were throwing rocks and others slashed auto tires. Outnumbered officers used tear gas to quell the students, they said.

Officers said the students appeared in court yesterday. (See 16 SENTENCED, Page 3)

Tar Heels, Gamecocks Meet In Finals Tonight

By LARRY CREEK

Special To The Daily Tar Heel

RALEIGH—All-America Lennie Rosenbluth sank a hook shot with 46 seconds left here last night and added a clinching free throw to give North Carolina's hard pressed Tar Heels a nerve shattering 61-59 win over the Wake Forest Demon Deacons.

The come from behind win moved the top seeded Tar Heels into the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament finals against South Carolina tonight.

Carolina did it the hard way in racking up their fourth win of the year over Wake Forest. With only 55 seconds left in the pressure packed scrap, the Deacons led by one point, 59-58. With their hopes of qualifying for the NCAA playoffs faintly glimmering, the UNC cagers called on their high scoring captain in an effort to pull the game out.

Rosenbluth, calm as ice water with the end of UNC's 25 game unbeaten streak apparently in sight, took a pass, drove in toward the foul line and connected on a sweeping hook shot to put the Tar Heels up by one, 60-59. Fouled on the play, he dropped in the charity toss to give the Tar Heels their final margin.

Carolina led all the way until Jim Gilley sank an important pair of free throws to put the Deacons ahead. After Wake had tallied the opening basket Rosenbluth hit two in a row to make the score 4-2.

Carolina steadily increased their margin until they held an 11-point lead, 30-19 at the 4:19 mark. Wake Forest staged a spirited rally at this point and pulled to within 4 points, 33-29, at intermission.

Wake closed to within 2 points at the beginning of the second half, but the Tar Heels managed to build their margin back up to 51-44 with 7:45 left. But the Deacons slowly began to narrow the margin with Jack Williams doing the damage.

With 1:37 to go, Carolina led by three, 58-55, but a field goal by Olin Broadway cut it to one. Then Bob Cunningham was called for charging, and Gilley sank what could have been the game winning free throw.

But it was not to be as Lennie Rosenbluth hit what was perhaps the most important shot of his life.

After Rosey scored, Wake guard Ernie Wiggins missed a game tying shot, and Joe Quigg got the rebound. Carolina froze the ball the rest of the way, and it was all over. Although Carolina won the ball game, Wake Forest walked off (See CAROLINA, Page 4)

PRILLAMAN SAYS:

Workers And Prillaman Disagree On Article

By BILL KING

The student workers of Lenoir Hall and George W. Prillaman not only disagree on the way the students should be paid, but also on their opinions of the article that appeared in The Daily Tar Heel Friday morning.

In the opinion of the 14 student workers who were approached about the article, the writeup given the meeting was a fair report of the matters taken up during the assembly. One of the students said the article was an almost word for word account. Another said the reporter tried to be objective but slipped.

Most of the students agreed the meeting didn't accomplish much. There was one student worker who disagreed. The worker's statement was: "Through Lenoir Hall I was able to get an education that I would not have gotten otherwise. I, as one student employee, would like to say that I appreciate the opportunity given me by Mr. Prillaman or whoever is responsible for appointing students for use as student workers."

Prillaman said the article was "biased" and "slanted writing" was used in the article. He said there were statements in the article that were taken from context, and they did not have the same meaning as they did when in the complete speech.

He went on to say he thought The Daily Tar Heel wrote the article from the students viewpoint, "and this is as it should be since The Daily Tar Heel is a student newspaper." Prillaman cited the section of the article about business volume dropping in Lenoir. He said, "The volume of business has not dropped. We are feeding more people this March than we, Lenoir, did last March."

Prillaman based his view of the article on the fact nothing good was said about Lenoir. He said, "Nothing has ever been said about the wonderful environment (at Lenoir) as compared to six years ago. I have never had any differences with the students in the six years I have been here. The student special is one of the new items that have originated since I began work here."

Present Assembly Sets Record For Bills Heard

By NEIL BASS

According to current trends, the 22nd assembly Student Legislature will be the bill passingest ever.

Grammatically restated, the present 22nd legislative assembly will apparently take action on more measures than any other assembly on record.

Legislators have already crossed the 30-measure marker RW-22-32 and RW-22-33, two resolutions, were passed after special orders were moved at Thursday night's session.

Movement of special orders simply means that a measure may be introduced and passed the same session. Ordinarily, a measure is introduced one session and voted upon at the following meeting.

Other assemblies, such as the 21st which lasted from last spring's election to the fall election, have acted upon an average of 25 bills and resolutions.

The current assembly has three sessions remaining this month. The assembly will also meet for one or two lame duck sessions to deliberate the 1957-58 student government budget. These sessions will be held in April.

APPROPRIATIONS

According to figures released at Thursday night's legislative session, student government currently has approximately $1,000 in its unappropriated coffers.

In the General Surplus Fund—a safety device whereby any financial losses may be cushioned—approximately $14,000 remains.

The auditing office recommends that at least $10,000 be kept in student government's coffers as a buffer against loss.

APPOINTMENTS

Appointments approved by student legislators at Thursday night's session were as follows:

Student Entertainment Committee: Larry Harris, chairman, Bob Borden, Joel Fleishman, Eddie Bass, Joe Clapp, Pace Barnes, Miss Marsha McCord.

Orientation Committee: Dick Robinson, Ed Levy, Jim Alford, John Brooks, Herman Godwin, Al Goldsmith, Jerry Taylor, Benny Thomas, David Sloan, Miss Belle Corey, Miss Lucie Crossland, Miss Elizabeth McCord, Miss LuRuth Sutton, Miss Mary Jane Fisher.
