Senate To Answer Student Problems

UP presidential candidate Bill Baum said in a statement released yesterday that the Student Senate he proposes will provide answers for the students on problems now facing the campus.

Baum's statement was to clarify the relationship between the proposed Student Senate and the Student Legislature, he said.

The proposed Senate will make decisions on student problems and the decisions will be taken before the Legislature for action by the student body president.

Baum stated, "When jurisdiction shall lie outside the Legislature, I am sure the legislators will join with me in using every means at our disposal to seek their enactment."

Baum's statement continued, "From my experience in student legislature, I believe such a clear statement as the Student Senate's of the definite objectives which the student body feels should be accomplished would be a great aid to the Legislature's work and a mandate for action—regardless of the party which should be in control of the body at that time."

The Senate would meet once a year to set policy, Baum said, but would be called up more often if necessary.

The president's cabinet would be elected from senate membership. "This is a departure from the custom of the president's appointing his own cabinet," Baum stated.

One function of the Senate would be to let the administration know student opinions on important matters, he said.

Baum stated that to base a government on records "is an extremely dangerous business" and concluded, "The University Party advocate that you, as a student at

Phi To Debate Monaco Establishment in NC

A measure designed to transform the sovereign state of North Carolina into a lesser Monaco, with gambling dens rivaling those at Monte Carlo in Lexington, Waynesville and Clinton, will appear for consideration by the Phi Assembly in its Tuesday night meeting.

The bill proposes that these yellow brick and glass casinos would be places of wholesome recreation, a new source of revenue for the state and would draw thousands of free-spending tourists.

Carolina, base your student government on a foundation of which you can be sure—your own judgment. We offer the Student Senate that you might give voice to that judgment."

Sloan Hits Policy Of Opponent

Daily Tar Heel Editor candidate Charlie Sloan Sunday criticized one of his opponents, Neil Bass, for the latter's recent statement concerning news coverage of campus areas.

Bass said Sunday he would not cover any campus area without the consent of those concerned.

Sloan said "He seems to forget a newspaper is not a publicity sheet or a news bulletin that prints only the most glowing handouts."

He said "Often the news printed in a paper is unpleasant for the parties concerned because it shows a part of society or human error that people like to ignore. In a word," Sloan said, "a newspaper must stick to reality."

MISTAKEN
Sloan said Bass was "sadly mistaken if he thinks this reality will be given to him on the asking. Reporters often have to ferret out news and get their facts indirectly."

But reporter, nevertheless, must get the facts, Sloan said.

In stating his ideas about what a newspaper should be, Sloan said he would, if elected, give the students a "scrappy, frank newspaper based on facts as they are, not as people would like them to be."

NOT SENSATIONAL
He said in no way would this cause The Daily Tar Heel to be sensational.

"Any controversy that arises in The Daily Tar Heel," Sloan said, "will be stirred up on its own merits, not because (the paper) presented it as any kind of intellectual bait."

180 Ducats SP Announces Party Platform; Remain For KC Games

Arrangements have been made for the students who wish to go to Kansas City for the NCAA Basketball finals this weekend.

Student Body President Bob Young announced today that a Carolina Trailways bus or buses have been chartered for all those going to Kansas City, who do not have any other means of transportation or for those who wish to go in a group.

Everyone must sign up and pay the entire cost of the round-trip by Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. That is today!

The cost of the trip is as follows: tickets for the ball games, $8; and transportation costs will amount to $51 round-trip.

"I have checked every possible means of arranging for this trip, and this is the best possible method," stated Young.

The bus or buses will leave from the campus in the Morehead Planetarium parking lot, Thursday at 12:00 noon. It will return to Chapel Hill, leaving Kansas City

The allotment of 250 tickets, at $4 a piece, has dropped to 180 with the purchase of some 70 ducats yesterday. The remaining tickets are available at the Woolen Gym ticket office. The price is $4 per game.

at midnight Saturday and arriving in Chapel Hill by 7 a.m. Monday morning. "Students will miss only two full days of classes, Friday and Saturday," stated the student body president.

"The costs are at the least possible figure. It is imperative that we have as many students as possible at the games. Arrangements for class excuses can probably be made with the individual deans. Several of the cheerleaders are making the trip, and it should be a most enjoyable trip for all those who can go," stated Young.

Chancellor R. B. House commented, "I would like to commend the students who attended the games in Philadelphia and New York last week. Their conduct was exemplary of our fine Carolina traditions. The actions of the fans were comparable with the high sportsmanship displayed by the players. All Carolina students and players were in a rather tense situation, and all conducted themselves as true champions."

House went on to say, "I strongly urge all students who are in proper academic standing and who have the desire, to make the trip to Kansas City and help to push our Tar Heel basketball team over the top."

"Since 200 students at the most, could make the trip, I would suggest that all students who wish to make the trip check with their respective deans and make the necessary arrangements."

Hallford Expresses Hope For The 'Achievement Of New Successes'

By GRAHAM SNYDER

Pledging pursuit and accomplishment on many existing student problems of parking lots, student government, date tickets and Lenoir Hall working conditions, the Student Party last night announced its party platform for the coming year.

Approved unanimously by the party members, the 10 plank SP platform as read by party Chairman Sonny Hallford expresses hope for the "achievement of new successes over SP accomplishments of last year."

In regard to student government the party pledged separation of the investigation and prosecution powers from the judgment powers in the Judiciary Branch. Three planks of the platform addressed work on the parking problem, in regard to "more equal treatment of student parking violators, support of Student Government suggestions for obtaining funds for planned parking lots, and a belief that faculty and administrative personnel should pay parking fees for the planned parking lots."

Pledges to work for TV coverage of all sellout home basketball games and extension of date-ticket lowering for home football games were expressed in two planks.

Later working hours in the Monogram Club and Scuttlebut for fraternity and dormitory residents, and a stand on working conditions at Lenoir Hall in regard to effecting payment in cash on unused meal tickets were pledged by the party.

The final plank was addressed to the "importance of realizing establishment of a new student union here and the continued efforts toward the successful completion of a building program."

"This would then allow the Council to fulfill its function of hearing the case and making a decision based on the evidence. It would end dual responsibility . . . and . . . it would insure the fairest possible treatment of all Carolina students brought before the council."

"I am sure that any such proposal as this must face the valuable scrutiny of responsible student leadership . . . that when this leadership considers the plan . . . we can develop a better program of administering justice at Carolina."

For this reason, I, as a candidate for President of the Student Body, am especially aware of the necessity for maintaining the strongest possible campus judiciary if students are to effectively preserve the freedoms which they have gained by the evolution of student government at Carolina.

"As a former member of the Honor Council, I have been concerned for some time with the fact that our present judicial system makes the Honor Council judge, jury, investigator and prosecutor."

"While we have been fortunate in recent years especially capable members on the councils, the added burden of investigative work and the dual role of the council member who both prosecutes a case and sits in on its decisions have caused grave concern among people on campus who fear that such a system does not lead to the most effective administration of justice."

"To meet this problem, I suggest the establishment—under the Attorney General—of an investigative and prosecuting staff. These people, chosen under a merit system of appointment, would be at the disposal of the chairman of the council concerned."

"The chairman would give the case to the investigator, who would do the preliminary investigating and present the case before the court."

Charter Plane Available For Trip To Kansas

A plane will be available for charter for students interested in going to Kansas City this weekend, according to Jim Exum.

Exum said that the DC-3 of Piedmont Airlines is still able to be gotten for 24 students who wish to travel faster than car, bus or train.

The cost of the plane, round-trip to Kansas City, will be slightly over $2,400.00 and this will mean each student will have to pay $102.

"This is $50 cheaper than if you tried to go on a regular flight," stated Exum.

"There has not been any response to the first notice put in the paper and rapid action is needed if the plane is to be chartered," stated Exum.

Any persons interested in making this trip to Kansas City for the NCAA Basketball Finals Friday and Saturday are asked to contact Jim Exum at the Sigma Nu House this afternoon between 1 and 3 p.m.

The trip will be cancelled if the number of students desiring to go is not 24, reported the honor council chairman.
