Catlin Gives First Weil Talk Tonight

The first of three 1957 Weil Lectures on Citizenship will be delivered by Political Philosopher George Catlin at 8:30 tonight in Carroll Hall.

"The Struggle for the Minds of Men" is the topic for the first lecture by the professor of political science at McGill University in Montreal, Canada.

Catlin will speak tomorrow night on "Can We Co-Exist With Colonialism, Imperialism, Racism and Sovietism?" and on Saturday night on "The Commonwealth of Free Nations and Its Leaders." Both lectures will also be given at 8:30 in Carroll Hall.

The lectures, which originated at the University during the 1914-15 school year, were later endowed by the families of Sol Weil and Henry Weil of Goldsboro. The lecturers have ranged from William Howard Taft, who gave the first series, to Gen. Carlos Romulo, Philippine delegate to the United Nations, who spoke in 1956.

Prof. James Godfrey, of the UNC History Dept. is handling program arrangements as chairman of the Committee on Established Lectures for the University.

Winners Saluted By Young

Student Body President Bob Young, Wednesday congratulated all winning candidates in the election Tuesday.

Young said "There is indeed a challenge ahead for all of you. I am confident that each person will more than fulfill the obligations of his office in the months ahead."

He said he hoped the losing candidates would "retain their interest in student government and work in the capacity best suited for them in the coming year."

Young said there was a position of responsibility for "both the winning and losing candidates."

The outgoing president said further "I am very pleased with the results of the major student body races."

Young said he was sure the four student government winners — President Sonny Evans, Vice President Don Furtado, Secretary Miss Dot Pressly and Treasurer Bob Carter — would "successfully pick up the reins where we are leaving off at this time."

They certainly will be faced with problems, he said, "but none too large to be solved with the proper amount of interest and determination."

Young said "Next year can be successful for everyone — if everyone will cooperate to the fullest extent."

Ragsdale President, Not Carr

George Ragsdale was correctly named and verified president of the senior class yesterday in a 341 to 307 plurality over Paul Carr.

Carr had been erroneously reported as the winner of the senior class post on the basis of incomplete returns early Wednesday morning.

Ragsdale is a native of Raleigh and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He has been clerk of the Men's Honor Council this past year and was recently elected to the chairmanship of that organization.

Ragsdale won the presidency behind UP support. In his campaign statements, he indicated that if elected he would work closely with Jim Raugh, present senior class president, in his preparation for Senior Week and other activities concerning the senior class.

He said: "I believe that from him I can learn how to benefit next year's seniors in a newer and better way."

He further indicated that class officers have a "concrete and definite function to perform for the betterment and enjoyment of the members of their classes."

"I have counted him among my valued friends since our work together at Boys' State four years ago," Baum said, "and I have complete faith that he will give a good administration."

Baum said he was proud of the manner in which the UP waged its campaign. He said he believed every UP member would work hard with the SP administration "to promote a better and more beneficial government."

W. P. Mangum Award Contest On Wednesday

All persons interested in competition for the Willie P. Mangum award in oratory must submit their subjects to Dean Mackie's office by 4:30 p.m. Monday, it was announced yesterday.

Competition for the award will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Dialectic Senate Hall. All graduating seniors, including those graduating after summer school are eligible to compete, the announcement said.

The Mangum award is the oldest award presented at the University.

Walters told the IDC representatives that he intended to work for the betterment of more dormitory participation in campus activities.

The new Vice President of the IDC will be Bob Carter. In the secret ballot voting, Carter defeated Bill McGee for the position.

The elected Secretary will be Neil Bender. He won over his opponent, Jim Womble. A withdrawal by Don Eudy from the running for Treasurer, and no new nominations from the floor left Mike Hayes unopposed. Hayes was subsequently voted by acclamation for the office.

Frank Brown was elected Chairman of IDC Court over Craig Gibbons. Election of Clerk of IDC Court gave the office to Pat Leonard over Joel Dimmette.

The meeting, in addition to one of electing officers, was partly given over to award giving.

Preservation Of Unity Is Grail's Main Purpose

The Order of the Grail, second highest campus honorary society for men, was organized in the 1920's to eliminate friction between fraternity and non-fraternity men.

The Order takes 13 men into its ranks each year who have demonstrated outstanding leadership and exemplified unselfish service to the campus.

The following is a statement by Dean of Student Affairs Fred H. Weaver concerning the Order's purposes:

"The purpose of the Order of the Grail is to preserve unity in our student life. Recognizing that the aims of the University can best be served by a student body sensitive to the values which transcend differences of race, creed, background, and social station, the Order seeks to cultivate harmonious student relationships and democratic student life."

The Order was founded at a time when the student body was divided by antagonism between fraternity and non-fraternity men. The ideals of the University had been subordinated to conflict between the factions within the University.

"The founders of the Grail recognized the higher values of tolerance, unselfishness, modesty, and service. They undertook to afford a substitute motivation for strife by inspiration of example and the active expression of the lesson of the Holy Grail," Weaver said.

"The watchwords of the Grail are Friendship, Truth, Courage, and Service. Of these, Service is the foremost in the minds of the Knights of the Grail.

"The Order performs many services for the campus. It sponsors a series of dances on home football weekends, manages the sale of class rings, and composes, sells, and distributes graduation invitations."

"It regards itself as a trustee of the funds it realizes through these activities, and returns them to the campus through Grail Scholarships and through contributions to worthy causes," Weaver said.

"It also seeks out and recognizes contributions to campus unity and welfare that might otherwise go unnoticed. It stands ready to offer its help to any individual or group that needs its assistance—in the form of ideas, of financial aid, or physical labor—working always to "help the campus in every possible way in making it a better place in which to live and work," Weaver said.

"Modesty, self-effacement, and unostentatious service to the end of unity, the positive inspiration to character, principle, and integrity, through exemplary campus citizenship are the values which are necessary to the realization of the aims of the Order."
