

WEATHER

Fair and moderately warm. High 80.

The Daily Tar Heel

NEGATIVISM

The editor scorns it on page two.

OL. LVII, NO. 184

Complete (P) Wire Service

CHAPEL HILL, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1957

Offices in Graham Memorial

FOUR PAGES THIS ISSUE

Ken Lowry As Lead In Playmaker Production

Asse, played by Betty Jinnette, has difficulty restraining her adventurous son, Peer, played by Ken Lowry, in The Carolina Playmaker's production of "Peer Gynt" to be presented tonight, Saturday and Sunday nights in the Forest Theatre.

Long Resolution Withheld From Legislature Action

Umstead Park Censure Held By Committee

By CHARLIE SLOAN

The resolution censuring the policy of the Umstead State park will be held in committee, Jim Allford, committee chairman, said yesterday.

Tom Long submitted the resolution following the ejection of Leroy Frasier from the park two weeks ago. Frasier was the guest of the Cosmopolitan Club at their annual spring picnic.

"Though this student was participating in an international group which contained men and women of many races, creeds and colors, this request was made solely on the basis of his race," the resolution said.

The paper resolved that the members of the Student Legislature extend their apologies to the club and to Frasier.

Rudy Edwards, who voted to move the resolution out of committee, said "I hate to think the legislature is going to become a gutless organization, refusing to face responsibilities coming before it."

He also pointed out after the meeting that either way the legislature acted it would get unfavorable reaction. If the body passed the resolution it would hurt the Student Legislature in the eyes of the State Legislature. If it failed the move the body would "be hurt in the eyes of the students here."

Charlie Wilson, who voted in favor of holding the resolution

Student Legislators passed a resolution expressing "deep regret to both the Cosmopolitan Club and its guest, Leroy Frasier" last night at the regular legislature meeting.

An amendment struck from the bill a phrase saying the legislature does not feel a censure movement is "feasible or proper at this time."

Miss Julia Ann Crater asked the legislature if it felt the bill is "as strong" as the legislature wanted to make it.

Whit Whitfield told the group not to "bite the hand that feeds us." He reminded them that the University receives money from the State Legislature.

Tom Long had no comment on the group's action.

said the resolution was good but the after-effect "was what we were afraid of."

If the resolution reached the floor "it will raise a big stink," he said.

Wilson noted that the bill as Long wrote it is a good thing, but it won't be interpreted as it was written.

One of the questions that came up during the discussion, Wilson said, was "Do you think just because anybody is a student at the University he can break the policies of the State?"

Al Alphin suggested to the committee that Student Body President Sonny Evans write a letter to the Cosmopolitan Club apologizing for any embarrassment and in-

(See UMSTEAD, Page 3)

Playmaker's 'Peer Gynt' Opens Tonight On Campus

Peer Gynt, under the direction of Prof. Kai Jungensen of the Dramatic Art Dept., will be presented by the Carolina Playmakers in the Forest Theatre at 8:30 p.m. tonight.

The play will feature special music written and directed by Joel Chadabe, a music student here. It will be presented tomorrow and Sunday at the scheduled times, according to the announcement yesterday.

Playing Peer Gynt will be Ken Lowry of Troy, Ohio, a UNC senior majoring in English. Lowry has spent the past two summers working in summer stock, and has appeared in such Playmakers' productions as "The Rainmakers," which toured the South last year, "Seventeen," "Desire Under the Elms," and "Stranger in the Land."

Appearing as Asse, Peer's mother, is Miss Betty Jinnette of Goldsboro. A transfer student from Woman's College this year, she has acted in four of the five Playmaker productions so far this year.

Al Gordon of Greensboro will appear as the Button Moulder. Gordon is known locally for his characterizations in "Ondine," "A Midsummer-Night's Dream," "Seventeen," "Blood Wedding," "Desire Under the Elms," and other plays, and is a performer in the Cherokee symphonic drama, "Unto These Hills."

Solveig, Peer's faithful sweetheart, will be played by Mrs. Martha Fouse of Chapel Hill, who appeared in the Playmakers' "Showboat" and "Blood Wedding," and has presented several voice recitals. The Greenclad (Anitra) will be Miss Amanda Meiggs of Moyock, a former Woman's College student, who toured this year in "Androcles and the Lion" and danced in "Brigadoon." The Mountain King will be acted by David Small of Morehead City, maritime in "Showboat," "Seventeen" and "Brigadoon," and "Androcles and the Lion."

(See PLAYMAKERS, Page 3)

Best Frat To Get R. B. House Award

By PATSY MILLER

The R. B. House Award, to be presented annually to the outstanding fraternity on campus, will be sponsored for the first time this year by the Interfraternity Council, according to Bill Redding, IFC president.

The trophy will be presented at the last IFC meeting, May 13, by its namesake, Chancellor R. B. House. The award was named after Chancellor House for his service to fraternities since he has been here and will be presented by him as long as he lives.

"There has been a need for such an award, and it is hoped that it will become the most coveted award that a fraternity can receive," Redding stated.

The present trophy will be retired in eight years. Each annual winner will keep the trophy for one year, and the fraternity having won the most times will permanently keep the trophy after its retirement.

Since the award is to be permanent, a second trophy will follow the first one.

Permanent judges of the award are to be the assistant dean of student affairs, director of student activities and chairman of the faculty committee of fraternities and sororities.

The judges this year representing those positions will be Ray Jefferies, S. M. Magill and George Esser. Only the judges will know who the winner is.

The trophy is to be awarded on the basis of a point system in order of scholarship, campus representation, IFC participation, intramural participation, social activities and house appearance.

Scholarship, with a maximum of 30 points, will include total standing and points for improvement. Campus representation, with maximum of 22½ points, will include percentage participation in some extra-curricular activity outside the fraternity and major positions, such as student government or organizational offices.

IFC participation carries at maximum of 17½ points; intramural participation, maximum of 15 points; social activities, maximum of 10 points; house appearance, maximum of 5 points. House appearance will be judged by the sorority house-mothers.

Chamblee Has Senior Recital

Baritone James Chamblee presented a senior recital at Hill Hall last night which featured a program of numbers ranging from Old English, Schubert and Mendelssohn to arias from Hamlet and several American folk songs and Negro spirituals.

Chamblee is a music major here and a native of North Carolina (Raleigh). He has appeared as a soloist with the Men's Glee Club and with the University Chorus.

He has appeared in other performances of the Music Dept., including the operas The Magic Flute and Dido and Aeneas. On May 14, he will be one of the soloists appearing in the presentation of Act I of "Tales of Hoffman" which will be presented by the University Chorus.

Bunn Hearn Honored; State Beats UNC, 13-10

RALEIGH—(AP)—Bunn Hearn, who spent 27 years as baseball coach of the University of North Carolina was honored yesterday at a luncheon and a game last night between North Carolina and North Carolina State.

At the luncheon, W. D. Carmichael Jr., vice president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, told Hearn: "You may have lost a little of your steam, and maybe the curve ball doesn't break like it used to, but you've never lost a friend, Bunn."

Hearn, sitting serenely in his wheel chair, smiled at Carmichael. The luncheon was the first volley in a salute to Hearn who was connected with baseball for 50 years.

Hearn received the Will Wynne Award in ceremonies preceding the State-UNC game in his honor. Hearn heard a lot of nice things said about him at the luncheon from Raleigh Mayor Fred B. Wheeler; Willie Duke, president of the Raleigh Hot Stove League, sponsoring organization for Bunn Hearn Day; and Edward E. Hadcock, former mayor of Richmond, who was guest speaker.

State scored 12 runs in the first four innings last night and defeated the Tar Heels, 13-10.

'Angel Flight'

The AFROTC Angel Flight here announced the selection of eleven new "angels" who are soon to be initiated into the organization. The new members will acknowledge acceptance of these positions by attending a meeting Monday at 5 p.m., it was announced yesterday.

Selection was based on a point system measuring each candidate's poise, personality, interest and time, and leadership and responsibility.

Named to supplement the Angel Flight were: Misses Pat Anderson, Lucy Crossland, Alice Eller, Elizabeth Howell, Eve McClatchey, Nancy Milan, Jennie Margaret Meador, Mary Lewis Rountree, Nancy Jo Rush, Carolyn Whistler and Sarah Van Weyk.

Negro Elected

ATLANTA, (AP)—The president of a Negro university won reelection to the Atlanta Board of Education Wednesday, defeating a white opponent.

Dr. Rufus E. Clement, a 56-year-old Negro who heads Atlanta University, defeated Charlie Vaughn in the city primary 35,200 to 29,036.

Clement said his victory made it appear that the people of Atlanta "wanted to say to the world that race relations here remain good and that there is no tension between the two groups."

Clement has headed the university for 20 years. He was elected to the board of education four years ago over a member who had served for 16 years. He was the first Negro to serve on the board and the first Negro to qualify as a Democratic candidate in Atlanta since 1871.

World News

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Senate Appropriations committee voted yesterday against restoring any of the 58 million dollars cut by the House from the Post Office budget for the coming year.

In doing so, the full committee rejected the recommendation by a subcommittee that 32 million of the House cut be restored. Postmaster General Summerfield told the subcommittee Wednesday he would have to cut postal services again unless he gets the 58 millions and an additional 70 to 90 million dollars in the year starting July 1.

The White House yesterday asked the major television and radio networks for time for President Eisenhower to make two speeches in support of his spending budget and foreign aid program.

The first request was for time early next week, preferably Tuesday evening, Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said, for a talk "to the American people on the cost of their government."

Hagerly said he also had asked for time during the week of May 19 for another Eisenhower address.

State Accepts Two Portraits

RALEIGH—(AP)—The House and Senate yesterday set the stage for ceremonies May 23 when the state will accept portraits of two former governors.

Sen. Robert Morgan and Rep. B. T. Falls, both of Cleveland County, sponsored the joint resolution for acceptance of the portraits from the families of Clyde R. Hoey and O. Max Gardner. It was passed by both bodies.

Hoey and Gardner, also Cleveland County natives, carved out distinguished political careers in their lifetime.

The resolution set a joint House and Senate session for 8 p.m. on May 23 for acceptance of the portraits. The governor, the Supreme Court, the Council of State, the Tar Heel delegation in Congress, friends of the former governors and the public were invited to be present.

GM'S SLATE

Fencing Club, 7-11 p.m., Roland Parker 1, 2 and 3; Tri Delta, 9:30-11 p.m., Woodhouse Conference Room; Soc. 178, 12 a.m.-1 p.m., Rendezvous Room.

Order Of The Old Well Initiates 63 Students

The Order of the Old Well initiated 63 students into its honorary at 4 p.m. yesterday during ceremonies held in Gerrard Hall.

Luther Hodges, vice president of the Order, introduced Mr. Insko of the Episcopal Church here, who gave the invocation. Pres. Mebane Pritchett presented a brief speech and delivered the traditional charge to the Order.

This year's initiates then passed through another traditional portion of the ceremonies—the signing of the role. Forty-five of the total 63 initiates were listed as residents of North Carolina, according to information released yesterday.

Those introduced into the Order this year were: Miss Jean Jacquelyn Aldridge, Winston-Salem; James Paul Armstrong, High Point; Diana Dungan Ashley, Greenwood, Miss.; Esther M. Balentine, Winton; Martha Barber, Raleigh.

Eddie Covington Bass, Farmville; William Oscar Baun, Elizabeth City; James Tully Beatty, Charlotte; Ralph Luther Bentley, Moravian Falls; John Matthew Bilich, Aliquippa, Pa.

Gordon Rives Brown, Durham; James Kenneth Bryant, Elkin; Shirley Weaver Bumgardner, West Jefferson; Douglas David Cantrell, Seaford, Del.; Marcus Cicero Stephen Cherry, III, Mount Olive; David Marion Connor, Jr., Durham;

Lee Ann Curtis, Norfolk, Va.; Charles Reuben Daniel, Roanoke Rapids; Curtiss Wilson Daughtry, Smithfield; Elizabeth Hunter Dent, Spruce Pine; Eli Nachanson Evans, Durham; Carl Douglas Farmer, Pulaski, Va.

Gardner Patrick Henry Foley, Jr., Greensboro; Carolyn Greene, Durham; Edward Ulysses Hallford, (See OLD WELL, Page 3)

Honored Group Heading For Rostrum

Shown above is the distinguished party of featured members in the inauguration of William Clyde Friday as president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina in William Neal Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh Wednesday. A King-Sears photo—Bill King.